

Tar Heels Now Working For Game With State's Wolfpack

Saturday's Contest Second "Big Five" Game For Both Teams; Has Bearing On Conference Race.

With the N. C. State game to figure in both state and southern title races, the Tar Heels were all set to begin a hard week of preparations for Saturday's reception to the sister state institution.

The Tar Heels will be pointing hard to that game. For one thing, to avenge a 19-6 loss in 1927 and a 6-6 tie last year. For another, to maintain their place at the head of the state title race and in the forefront of the Southern Conference chase.

Both teams have clean Big Five slates, each having registered a victory over Wake Forest. Both will be fighting also for Southern aspirations, for the Tar Heels strengthened their position with Saturday's smashing 38-13 defeat of V. P. I. while Georgia's Bulldogs were going down in defeat at the hands of Florida, already defeated by Georgia Tech, whom the Tar Heels beat 18-7.

North Carolina has a more impressive season record than the Wolfpack, but supporters who recall how hard the Wolves always fight against the Tar Heels, are thinking there will be another hard, close game.

The Tar Heels came through the Gobbler clash in fairly good shape, and according to Trainer Chuck Quinlan, should be in better shape Saturday than they have been lately, barring injuries this week, of course.

Captain Ray Farris and Ellis Fysal, guards, and Pap Harden, fullback, were the only casualties in the Gobbler tilt, and Trainer Quinlan says a couple of days' rest should fix them up for Saturday.

Pete Wyrick and Henry House, veteran quarterback and fullback, returned to the lineup against V. P. I. after two and three-week layoffs with injuries and should be in better shape against State.

In addition, Bill Koenig, regular left tackle; Julian Fenner, regular right end, and Herb Nelson, reserve end, all out of the V. P. I. game, are due to be back in shape to lend strength to the Blue and White line against the Wolfpack.

COLLINS GIVES TAR HEELS REST

Injured Football Men Expected To Be Ready For Game Saturday With State.

Faced with the problem of keeping his charges in the top of condition for the second half of the schedule, Coach Chuck Collins Monday ordered a day of rest for the entire Tar Heel squad.

Worn by the strain of the contests of the last three weeks and torn by minor injuries, the team accepted the holiday with thanks. Captain Ray Farris and Ellis Fysal, guards; George Thompson, tackle; and Pap Harden, fullback, were added to the ailing list after the struggle with V. P. I. Saturday.

The remainder of the squad, excepting Julian Fenner, Herb Nelson, and Bill Koenig, who were on the list for the V. P. I. game, carefully nursed sore muscles and pulled ligaments. Trainer Chuck Quinlan expressed the opinion that all would be in shape for the Wolfpack battle Saturday.

The porch and columns which were on the south side of Gerard hall were removed in 1901.

The longest lived animal is the tortoise, some living to be 200 years old.

Win Over Gobblers Shows Offensive Power of Carolina

Carolina's victory over V. P. I. Saturday showed that Coach Collins has developed one of the most powerful offensive teams in the south. Incidentally the 38 to 13 defeat suffered by the cadets was the worst suffered by a cadet team in the last twenty years. The Carolina victory is made more impressive by the fact that the strong Pennsylvania team was able to score only 12 points against the Gobblers.

This season has seen the Tar Heels run up more large scores than any other team in North Carolina has done in several years. To date the opponents have scored only 39 points in five games, averaging a little less than eight points each game. On the other hand the Tar Heels have amassed a total of 159 points, averaging almost thirty two per game. However, despite their tendency to run up large scores, the 1929 Tar Heels have not equalled the 65 to 0 victory scored by last year's team, 48 points being the high score for this fall.

Saturday seemed to be a special day for high scoring. In addition to the 38 points scored by Carolina, Villanova scored 53 against Washington and Lee. ran up 40 points against N. C. State, the undefeated Tennessee eleven amassed 39 points against Washington and Lee. Perhaps the most outstanding scoring performance of the day was furnished by Ringle of Gallaudet who scored nine touchdowns and kicked five extra points for a total of 59 points in the game against Shenandoah.

Tennis Team In Pinehurst Tourney

The University of North Carolina tennis team went to Pinehurst Monday to attend the fall tennis tournament there. Coach Kenfield entered five men: Hines, Yeomans, Merritt, Graham and Al Brown. They motored down Monday morning.

Bryan Grant was unable to make the trip because of his studies. He would probably have been seeded number one on the strength of his southern championship title.

The tournament going on here has been discontinued until the team returns.

The team is expected to make a very good showing. All the boys were showing exceptional form in practice matches here Saturday and Sunday.

NOVICE MEET WINNERS TO RECEIVE RIBBONS

Stamped ribbons are to be presented to the winners of each event in the novice track meet to be held Thursday afternoon, according to Vernon Cowper, assistant track coach. Blue ribbons will be given to the first men in each event, red to the second entrees, and yellow to third.

Much interest is expected to be centered about this meet, the management of which has been undertaken by the Intramural Athletic association. The Intramural association is stirring up interest in the meet among the various dormitories and fraternities, and invitations have been extended to all of these organizations to enter teams.

More than forty candidates have already signified their intentions of competing and the track coaches have asked that all those intending to enter report at once.

LEADS

Picked Up Here and There by Will Yarborough

Naturally we start at home, so:—

"The team of a hundred backs" flashed back into action this afternoon and the University of North Carolina wiped out some of last week's disaster with a surprisingly large margin of victory over V. P. I.—38 to 13."

Yesterday morning after everyone had talked about the game and read the various comments of the newspapers, the papers carried the post-mortems as usual. The Carolina coaches expressed concern over the possibility of over-confidence in the Tar Heel camp. Despite the four touchdown margin of victory over V. P. I. there is little room for too much confidence among the Carolina football men. The Techmen had an off day. Carolina's passing game was clicking. Things were going right. No room for "over-confidence" now.

Close by is Duke University. The Durham Herald-Sun carried the following account:—

"Villanova, Pa., A great Villanova team, undefeated since early in the 1927 season, beat a crippled Duke eleven 58 to 12 this afternoon with 10,000 persons looking on."

The Blue Devils have fared badly in their inter-sectional contests. In their only games with a southern team they showed power. After Boston they began their southern campaign in earnest. With the return of several injured veterans Duke is expected to get going right.

State took a long trip Saturday. The results evidently weren't worth the trip. Again we refer to the Associated Press' account:—

"East Lansing, Mich.—(AP)—Opening up a dizzying offense, Michigan State college's football team humbled North Carolina State here this afternoon 40 to 6."

The two remaining members of the "Big Five" clashed in Greensboro. Wake Forest did an about-face and whipped the Cats 6-0.

"Greensboro.—(AP)—Wake Forest brought Davidson up short this afternoon before 5,000 in the Memorial stadium by a score of 6 to 0. Mills swept around left end in the opening quarter for the only core of the game."

Taking a defeat from the Deacons will make the Cats much tougher to beat in the future. Davidson usually scraps harder against big teams than against those of its own size. Carolina, Duke, and State have trouble in store for them.

The announcement of the score of the Georgia-Florida game gave the students at the V. P. I. contest a big "kick". The "lead" is also taken from the Associated Press:—

"Jacksonville, Fla.—(AP)—The Florida Alligators crawled out of the Everglades today to check the wild dash of the trouble making Georgia Bulldogs with a smashing 18 to 6 victory."

We expected Florida to win. But we didn't expect it enough to say so with enthusiasm. In some paper we read that Georgia left too much in the Yale and Carolina games.

Two or three clippings caught our eye and so again we resort to the A. P.

"New Orleans.—(AP)—With a fast running attack combined with some exceptional passing, the Tulane university Greenies today crushed the powerful Georgia Tech eleven, 20 to 14, both of the Tech touchdowns coming in the final period."

"Roanoke, Va., Oct. 26.—(AP)—Tennessee's Volunteers passed and plunged here this afternoon to maintain their southern conference supremacy and defeat the Washington and Lee generals, 39 to 0."

"Cheek Field, Danville, Ky., Oct. 26.—As "Topsy" said in "Gold Diggers of Broadway," "use your imagination."

TAR BABIES SHOW GOOD TEAMWORK

Coach Enright Confident of Victorious Future for Yearlings; Next Game With Maryland Frosh.

With their next scheduled game with the Maryland freshmen at College Park only three weeks off, the Tar Babies are working hard on both defense and offense with the determination to return from their first foreign invasion this year victorious.

Since the frosh were defeated by the Duke Blue Imps in their last game by the narrow margin of eight to seven many changes and improvements have taken place which Coach Rex Enright believes it to a decided advantage.

Recently in scrimmages with the varsity the Tar Babies have shown a smoother running team than at any other time this year. Nearly everyone on the squad has been given a chance to show his ability. Quite frequently the frosh offense has broken through the varsity line for nice gains and also have checked the varsity offense in a creditable manner. A number of new prospects have been discovered and it is almost certain they will see action in the coming game.

In the Southern Conference the freshman football schedule is not allowed to contain more than five games. In Pennsylvania only two games are allowed the freshmen and in the Western Conference the freshmen are merely for the use of the varsity in scrimmage.

The freshmen team is generally considered to be a training ground for the varsity and so far this year the freshmen have been using the rival team's plays for use in scrimmage against the varsity. Because of this the frosh have had little time to develop much style of their own. In spite of this there is every indication for another win over Maryland this year.

In the fall of 1869 freshmen in the A. B. school studied Latin, Greek, Mathematics, and Rhetoricals.

TEAM HAS PLAYED HALF OF SCHEDULE

The football squad, having played just half of its 10-game schedule, now faces five more tough games with North Carolina and Southern Conference rivals.

Four of the five games figure in the Southern Conference race, in which the Tar Heels have three victories out of four starts, and three of them bear on the final ranking for the state title, in which Carolina to date has a clean slate.

The first hurdle in the Tar Heels' path is the Wolfpack of State, which is to invade Kenan Stadium Saturday of this week. Then comes South Carolina, Davidson, Virginia and Duke in succession.

Two of the five remaining games are carded for the stadium, one the annual Turkey Day Classic with Virginia on November 28. South Carolina, Davidson, and Duke will all be played away from home, November 9, November 16, and December 7, respectively.

The success of the season depends largely on these five games, and victories in all five would mean the state championship, a ranking in the first division of the Southern Conference, and maybe a Conference title since the Tar Heels have dropped but one game and the titular chase is getting generally mixed up. Much depends on what Tennessee will do from now on.

As mid-season is passed, Carolina and State both hold clean slates in Big Five tilts, both having won from Wake Forest. Duke has not begun its series with North Carolina opponents yet.

Mechanical Engineers Will Meet Thursday

A meeting of all mechanical engineering students is to be held at 214 Phillips hall at 7:15 Thursday night. The purpose of this meeting is to organize a society the aim of which is to petition a chapter of the American Mechanical Engineers as soon as a sufficient membership is attained.

All students interested are urged to be present.

VARSITY - FROSH HARRIERS READY FOR N. C. STATE

Annual Dual Meet Between Tar Heels and Techs To Be Held Between Halves of Game Saturday.

Carolina's varsity and freshman harriers are practicing in earnest in preparation for their dual meet with the varsity and freshman cross country teams of N. C. State college next Saturday afternoon. This meet will be run off between the halves of the State-U. N. C. football game and is expected to attract much attention, as both schools have good teams.

Coach Dale Ranson, Carolina mentor, has announced that his teams have been working hard the last two weeks and are confident of defeating the best State may have to offer.

According to the State college "Technician," Coach Alex Redfern is also giving him teams strenuous workouts in preparation for the meet Saturday. Redfern's hopes for a varsity victory are banked on Johnson, Pearcy and Brock. Troutman is outstanding among the freshman runners.

The meet next Saturday is expected to give Coach Ranson a line on what competition may be expected from State in the Southern Conference meet November 23.

Intramural Games

Results of yesterday's Intramural games were as follows: Zeta Psi won from Theta Chi 7 to 0; Steele won from Manly 6 to 0; Carr won from "J" on a forfeit; Old West and "F" tied 6 to 6, but Old West made eight first downs to "F's" six, thereby receiving credit for a win.
