

Two Girls Severely Injured By Car On Franklin Street

Car Driven By Edward Fann
Of Chapel Hill; No Charges
Made Against Driver.

A co-ed and her visitor were severely injured at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night when they were struck by an automobile driven by Edward Fann, as they were crossing the main street in front of the Carolina theatre. A second co-ed narrowly escaped injury when she jumped ahead of her companions as the automobile bore down on them.

The injured girls, Miss Elizabeth Grant, junior, Wilmington, and Miss Thyra Black, Greensboro, were crossing from the north to the south side of the street when they were struck by the automobile traveling west on the main street. Miss Rosy Lazarus, freshman, Sanford, barely managed to move from the path of the car.

Witnesses rushed the two girls to the infirmary in a passing automobile. Examination by Dr. Eric A. Abernathy, University physician, disclosed that they were suffering from painful body lacerations and injuries. Miss Grant sustained a sprained left ankle while her visitor suffered a sprained right ankle. X-ray examinations will be made today to determine the extent of the injuries.

Fann, who is an employee of the building department was arrested immediately after the accident. He told police that the three girls stepped from behind a parked automobile and that because they separated he was unable to swerve to either side. No charge has been preferred against him. He was a student in the University two years ago.

Y Cabinets To Meet Tomorrow Night 7:15

The three Y cabinets will hold their usual weekly meetings tomorrow night at the Y at 7:15.

The program of the sophomore cabinet will consist of a general discussion of the subjects brought up by speakers during the past month. These speakers were Prof. E. R. Mosher, Prof. H. D. Meyer and Dr. A. Herbert Gray. There will also be a short business discussion. Since the sophomore group has charge of the vespers for this year, it intends to create more interest in them than has been shown in the past.

In the freshman council there will be a discussion, left over from last meeting, on the subject of "What is the Student Y Program." It has been planned to get a special speaker to speak to the council on the subject of the "Bible."

There will also be an important meeting of the junior-senior cabinet. All members are especially requested to be present.

Phi Initiations

The Phi assembly will hold its second annual initiation of new members next Tuesday night, November 12, at 7:15 o'clock. All men to whom have been extended the rights of the floor and who have not been formally initiated are requested to be present to receive their formal initiation. All men who desire admission to the Phi assembly and have not as yet attended a regular meeting are also requested to apply for admission at this time. After the new men have been admitted, the assembly will discuss bills on its calendar.

Regular Staff Meet

The regular meeting of the Tar Heel editorial staff and reporters will be held at 7:00 o'clock tonight at the office in the Alumni building. All members are expected to be present unless previously excused.

STUDENTS PREFER CAVALIER SPIRIT

Writer Says Change Is Taking Place In Attitude Of College
Men Towards Life.

"In my six months' tour of colleges and universities," writes Vachel Lindsay in the November College Humor, "I noted among the students and young professors a tide that is rising, the Cavalier spirit in a 1929-1930 form.

"Our younglings believe in the divine right of splendor, neither the splendor of kings nor of Babbitts, but the splendor of their own sense of design, the divine right to choose and put on their own pageants, to give Maypole dances and elect their own queen of the May.

"They believe in freedom in choice of religion more than any other one group of citizens of the United States, and a typical committee for a Washington's birthday celebration of distinction and even grandeur may be a Catholic, a Christian Scientist, a Jew, a Unitarian and a kid from Chicago still ballyhooing about Ingersoll watches and Robert G. Ingersoll. But they work in harmony and friendship to the end of achieving this new splendor, which challenges and destroys the Babbitts, who are their own blood fathers.

"And they hate above all the caste system, temporarily created by Babbitt, which puts the business man above the artist in every field of life. Their form of Americanism would put the born artist above the whole business system of America and keep him there, with his heel on the neck of Babbitt, whatever the blood or stock or race or family history of the artist. If that is a caste system, they have indeed a caste system.

"They are not Cavaliers in sense in which Cavaliers of old England fought Cromwell and Milton. Quite the contrary. If a Cromwell or Milton should appear, they would follow him and sing with him to the death. They hate the little cowards and will follow the bold and gallant spirits wherever they find them.

"And they are brilliant, dashing, decorative, always on horseback in imagination, and in that sense they are Cavaliers."

What's Happening

TODAY

4:30 p. m.—The regular Sunday afternoon tea at the parish house of the Episcopal church.

7:00 p. m.—Meeting of the editorial staff of the Daily Tar Heel in Alumni building.

8:30 p. m.—The Playmaker theatre, reading by Elmer Hall.

MONDAY

10:30 a. m.—All freshmen in the school of commerce will meet with Dean Carroll in Bingham hall.

COLONEL PRATT TO SPEAK HERE ARMISTICE DAY

Two Performances of "The Soul of France" To Be Given
At Carolina Theatre Today;
Benefit War Veterans.

Col. Joseph Hyde Pratt, who was colonel of the 105th Engineers in the 30th Division, will deliver the Armistice Day address here tomorrow.

He will speak in Gerrard hall at 10:30 o'clock. The ceremonies have been arranged by a joint committee of the University faculty and the American Legion post. Dr. John M. Booker is chairman of this committee.

Chaplain Lawrence will deliver the invocation. Before Colonel Pratt's address, Addison Hibbard will read the roll of the University's war dead, and Paul Robertson, commander of the post, will read the roll of the war dead of the village of Chapel Hill. The University band will play "America" and "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Immediately before 11 o'clock taps will be sounded on the bugle, and exactly at 11 the assemblage will maintain silence for one minute.

The celebration in Chapel Hill will begin Sunday with a presentation of a movie, "The Soul of France," at the Carolina theatre for the benefit of disabled World War veterans in the hospital at Oteen—one performance at 3:30 in the afternoon and another at 8:30 in the evening.

The play is being put on by the American Legion post with the cooperation of E. Carrington Smith, manager of the Carolina theatre. Mr. Smith obtained the rights to the film and is donating the use of the house. No admission fee will be charged; the contribution to the disabled veterans will be in the form of a free-will offering.

Before the afternoon performance Rev. A. S. Lawrence, state-chaplain of the Legion as well as chaplain of the post here, will conduct a brief memorial service and will make a few minutes talk about the activities and purposes of the Legion. He will lay particular stress upon the work the Legion is doing for the relief of disabled veterans and their families.

Stallings Is Very Enthusiastic Over Playmakers Performance

Author Of "What Price Glory" Expresses His Opinion On Production Of Loretto Carroll Bailey's
Mill Village Tragedy.

(By Milt Wood)

"Damn it. This is what I call the real American theatre. You get a fine dinner, by God, then you are taken to a good play, and served coffee and sandwiches afterward. And it doesn't cost you a damn cent."

The author of "What Price Glory," "The Big Parade" and "The Cock Eyed World" was speaking. And in typical "What Price Glory" terms, Laurence Stallings commented on his evening at Chapel Hill Friday night he attended a dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Nash, a performance of "Job's Kinfolks" at the Playmaker theatre, and afterward joined in a reception in the Green Room.

In this characteristic manner, Mr. Stallings echoed the senti-

LIBRARY HAS TWO FAMOUS VISITORS

Dugald Niven and John Fedeler
Come Here To Study Library Organization.

The University library had two distinguished visitors last Friday—Dugald Niven, librarian of the public library of Bulawayo, Southern Rhodesia, Africa, and John H. Fedeler, superintendent of the New York public library building.

Mr. Dugald came to the United States for the purpose of studying the organization and administration of libraries, his visit being made possible through a grant from the Carnegie Corporation of New York. He spent the day with Dr. Wilson, University librarian, discussing the present status of libraries in the southern states.

Mr. Niven stated that the main problem of the libraries in Southern Africa is the same as the problem of the libraries in the southern states, in that service has to be provided for the two races. This problem is very expensive if it is met as it should be. A double system of service costs twice the amount of money that just one library service costs.

Mr. Niven is particularly interested in the establishment of library workers. The University library is a pioneer in teaching library work in that it started its extension department years ago.

Mr. Fedeler only spent about three hours at the library. Mr. Fedeler's main interest lies in the book conveyor, a unique feature of the library. He inspected the conveyor with the view of the installation of a similar one at the New York library.

There is not another book conveyor in the United States like the one at the University library, although several are under construction at various libraries. This conveyor has attracted librarians from many distant points, and has given the University library much publicity. Mr. Fedeler was very much surprised with the appearance of the building, but when he arrived at the head of the main stairway on the second floor he was heard to gasp in amazement at the sight of the circulation desk in the circulation room, and the spacious reading room opposite the circulation room.

Twenty Thousand Watch Tar Heels Win 'Battle Of Carolinas' By 40-0

Chapel Notice
Chapel will be held for Freshmen in the School of Commerce on Monday morning in Bingham Hall.

FRATERNITY TO GIVE SERIES OF MUSIC PROGRAMS

Local Alpha Rho Chapter To Sponsor Performances; First Program In December.

The local Alpha Rho chapter of the national music fraternity, Phi Mu Alpha, announces a series of Sunday evening music programs, to begin in December and continue through the remainder of the school year. One program will be given each month. R. A. Hovis, is president of the local chapter and made this announcement Saturday at the conclusion of the first meeting of the year, held last Monday night at the music building.

These Sunday evening programs will be offered in a variety of ways. Students who are members of the fraternity will give programs. Other music students on the campus will be invited to appear. Faculty members of the music department have agreed to give lecture recitals from time to time. Guest musicians from other towns in the state will be invited to give programs. Some of the evenings will be devoted to music appreciation study.

These Sunday night programs are to be open meetings to which the public will be invited. It is the method that the Alpha Rho chapter chooses for its efforts this year to promote particularly American music and American musicians—the idea that is one of the main purposes of the national organization.

Detailed announcement of the first program and date will be made in about two weeks.

University Band

The University band will go to Durham Monday afternoon to participate in the Armistice day parade, sponsored by the American Legion post of Durham. The band goes at the invitation of the Durham post, and will remain for supper at seven o'clock as guests of the Legion. Sixty-two men will make the trip, in two busses that will be sent over by the manager for the parade. The band will also take part in the campus Armistice day program to be held in Gerrard hall Monday morning at 10:30.

SLADE IS SPEAKER AT SPANISH CLUB MEETING

Friday night the November meeting of the Spanish club was held in the parish house of the Episcopal church at 7:30 p. m., with an unusually large number of members present.

Mr. J. J. Slade, Jr., was the principal speaker of the evening, giving a very interesting talk on Los Tarascon de Michoacan.

Mr. Slade discussed the influence of this aboriginal tribe upon Mexican civilization, and its present status, illustrating his talk with a number of pictures.

Gamecocks' Costly Fumbles
Turned Into Three Touchdowns.

HALF ENDS 20 - 0

North Carolina Troubled By
Laval's Tricks In First Period,
But Gamecock's never Threaten Rest Of Game.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 9.—Brushing aside a deceptive Gamecock offensive, the University of North Carolina rolled up 40 points in straight sweeps through Palmetto territory to smother the University of South Carolina here today before 20,000 homecomers, practically clinching the Carolina and South Atlantic titles.

Their backs stopped dead in their tracks and their passes knocked down, the Tar Heels almost succumbed to the tricky Gamecock attack in the first quarter. A surprised Carolina line allowed Gamecock backs, loosed by deceiving fake plays, to sift through for long gains. The North Carolina score in this quarter resulted from a South Carolina fumble.

Returning with renewed vigor in the second quarter, the Gamecocks staved off a second touchdown three times. The fourth march through their territory found a weakening defense unable to stand off the determined

(Continued on page three)

ESPERANTO CLUB TO BE ORGANIZED

Group To Study International Language; Grammar Can Be Learned In Hour.

A club for the study of Esperanto, the international language, will be organized, and will meet next Tuesday at 5:00 o'clock in the Y for the first time. It will be under the direction of Dr. E. C. Metzenthin of the Department of Germanic Languages, a recognized authority on Esperanto.

The idea of the formation of the club grew out of a discussion of Esperanto at a meeting last week of Amphotothen, at which Dr. Metzenthin explained the need and purpose of the new language. The current widespread movement toward world peace demands a language which can be understood by all nations, which is simple and easy to learn, and which will do away with the unnecessary elements which are present in all modern languages.

Esperanto, Dr. Metzenthin declared, fills such a need. The entire grammar can be learned within an hour, and conversational ease follows with a few lessons. The language is built on common-sense methods, and is the result of prolonged study by a group of international experts.

An international Esperanto Congress meets every year, and there is a strong organization in the United States, with headquarters in New York and Chicago. A successful movement is on foot to introduce Esperanto into American schools and colleges. If sufficient interest is aroused on the campus here, an effort will be made to have Esperanto included in the curriculum next year as a regular course carrying credit.

(Continued on last page)