

Bryan Grant Defeats Ed Yeomans In Tennis Match

Atlanta Star Defeats Varsity
Player 6-2, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3;
Meets Hines Tomorrow.

Bryan Grant of Atlanta defeated Ed Yeomans of Washington, D. C., 6-2, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3, here yesterday afternoon in the semi-finals of the University tennis tournament. This victory gives Grant the right to meet Wilmer Hines in the finals Thursday.

Grant, who holds the Southern men's title, played a brilliant defensive game throughout the match, and his consistent returning of Yeomans' fore- and back-hand drives drew repeated applause from the gallery. Jumping into the lead by winning Yeomans' first serve, the Atlanta youngster retained his advantage and was never in much danger of being overtaken.

Although rather weak on his service, Grant more than offset this handicap by his ability to return Yeomans' most difficult strokes, chopping them back until Yeomans made a misplacement. In the four sets Grant served a total of twelve double faults, as against six for his opponent, and at the same time failing to score a single service ace. Yeomans was not especially dangerous on his serve, but his placement was accurate and on three occasions he was able to serve aces.

The playing was close during the entire match, with only one love game. Grant held Yeomans pointless in the fifth game of the first set, during the latter's serve. Yeomans played an offensive game most of the time, with Grant chopping, lobbing and volleying them back with commendable persistence. The play was reminiscent of that engaged in last spring in the state intercollegiate finals between Yeomans and Grady Frank, diminutive Duke star. But Yeomans failed to break through Grant's defense as he did Frank's and as a result took the short end of the count. Yeomans pulled in his wild strokes and by close, conservative play was able to take the third set 7-5. The rest of the match was easily Grant's.

Wilmer Hines, whom Grant plays in the finals Thursday, is a player of swift serves and skill at the net. Hines, who hails from Columbia, S. C., won the southern amateur title last year and ranked fifth in the national junior lists before he passed the junior age limit. Both Hines and Grant are freshmen.

Sports Editor Of Atlanta Journal Lauds Tar Heels

The North Carolina Tar Heels have just come in for a nice piece of praise from Morgan Blake, sports editor of the Atlanta Journal.

Commenting on the Tar Heels' showing in general and the Georgia disaster, Blake wrote in his column, in part:

"North Carolina has looked like a million dollars in every game except the Georgia battle, and they faltered only in the fourth quarter of this contest.

"The writer believes that North Carolina, playing in top form, might be able to beat either Tulane or Tennessee. It seems, somehow or other, that fate played a strange prank on this great club, which may be the strongest team in Dixie."

Blake also paid a splendid tribute to the Tar Heel attitude after their defeat. He said:

"They took the defeat with splendid sportsmanship, made no alibis, and proceeded to carry on brilliantly against other opponents."

D. K. E. DEFEATS PI KAPPA PHIS

Meet Betas In Finals For Fraternity League Championship; Chatham Is Star of Game.

In the semi-finals of the fraternity league D. K. E. won from Pi Kappa Phi 13-0. This score does not represent the real difference in strength of the two teams as the Dekes presented a constant, powerful attack and a strong defense, while the attack of the Pi Kappa Phis was extremely erratic.

D. K. E. threatened early in the first quarter, carrying the ball inside the 15 yard line, but at this point the Pi Kaps braced and the ball went over on downs. They were held for downs on the 12 yard line and the Dekes got the ball again on a poor punt. A long pass, Chatham to Dunn, put the ball on the eight yard line as the quarter ended. On the first play of the second quarter Chatham ran the ball across. His attempt to kick goal failed by inches.

Pi Kappa Phi began a drive after kick-off which was ended when Chatham intercepted a pass on his own 15 yard line. His pass to Dunn was good for 40 yards, but Pi Kappa Phi took revenge by intercepting another as the half ended.

The second half was marked by the number of intercepted passes by both teams with D. K. E. having a slight advantage over their opponents. Late in the third quarter McAllister intercepted a pass and was finally downed on the 15 yard line. Chatham passed to Lineberger for the touchdown. Chatham kicked goal. Little of interest occurred in the fourth quarter with Deke fighting to hold their lead and Pi Kappa Phi making a desperate attempt to score. The game ended with the ball in the possession of the Dekes on their own 40 yard line.

The play of Chatham, Gray and McAllister was outstanding for the Dekes, while Williams and Glenn were best for the Pi Kappa Phis.

The Dekes, by virtue of their victory in this game, will meet the Betas today to decide the championship of the fraternity league.

Four Good Reserves

Theron Brown

George Thompson

"Red" Parsley

Ellis Crew

During the past few games these Tar Heels have proved themselves of varsity calibre. George Thompson has been a valuable tackle while substituting for Koenig. Theron Brown has proven himself an able pass receiver. Ellis Crew has helped Captain Farris take good care of left Guard. Red Parsley has been looking very good at left end here of late.

BACKS GET HARD WORK YESTERDAY

Three Backfields Used By Coaches In Hard Drill; Magner and Wyrick Work.

Thinking in terms of the heavy lines of Virginia and Duke, the Tar Heel coaches concentrated attention yesterday on drilling their shifty stable of backs in new tricks at side-stepping, hip hoving, and last but not least, blocking.

It was the first day's work after the Davidson game, and there was plenty of it. Coach Cerney drilled the backs, while Coach Collins worked the linemen in another sector of the field on taking out opposing linemen, bucking, and so on.

Pete Wyrick, veteran quarter, was back on the full-time, hard-work list. Jim Magner, of eight-year fame, had to be content again with only a light workout. Both have about recovered from injuries.

A new backfield combination appeared in the practice yesterday which puts together four of the flashiest stars in the Tar Heel camp and which might become permanent. Johnny Branch, the sophomore broken field ace, was quarterback, with Jimmy Maus, stellar passer, at left half; Chuck Erickson, broken field ace, at right half; and Henry House, hard driving plunger, at full.

Pete Wyrick was quarterback for the veteran outfit of Ward and Nash, halfbacks, and Spaulding, fullback. A third backfield showed Jimmy Moore, quarter; George Houston and Redfern, alternating at left half; Rip Slusser, right half; and Pap Harden, fullback.

The blocking looked good on the whole, but quite ragged in spots, and the Tar Heel mentors probably will be stressing this item on the training menu for the seven days left before the Virginia game.

Rip Slusser gave promise in the day's punting drill of taking over that duty for the Tar Heels. The stellar sophomore was getting long and high spirals down the field for an average of more than 40 yards.

Intramural Games

Zeta Psi won from Sigma Alpha Epsilon 7 to 0. Manly won over Ruffin 6 to 0. New Dorms won from Mangum 18 to 0. Sigma Nu won from Sigma Phi Sigma 1 to 0. Beta Theta Pi won from Phi Delta Theta 7 to 0.

Epsilon Phi Delta announces the initiation of the following members: E. R. Hamer, Beverly Moore, Clyde Dunn, T. B. Rector and Lawrence Hammond.

Membership in the Boy Scouts lost 10,000 last year.

WITH eight games scratched from the 1929 schedule and only one of those lost the Tar Heels easily outclass other members of the Big Five. In addition to their probable receipt of the state title, the varsity is by no means entirely out of Southern Conference running.

TULANE and Tennessee are at present the leaders in the S. I. C., but they still have other games to play. Tulane plays its last conference game of the season with L. S. U. Sports writers predict a Tulane victory, but upsets are still in style. Tennessee has two conference games left on the schedule, and wins are predicted for the Vols over both South Carolina and Kentucky, but a slip in either game would cause a new deal.

CAROLINA is given the margin over both Virginia and Duke in her last two conference games. Although Duke has a clean slate in the S. I. C. and it is possible, but not probable, that she may finish the season with a 1,000 per cent average in the southern conference. Even if this should be the case it would not give the Blue Devils a very strong claim for a share in the title of the conference due to the small number of conference games played by the Durham aggregation.

THE Tar Heels will rest until the annual Turkey Day classic with Virginia. Perhaps this "rest" may show some good scrimmages between the varsity and the Tar Babies, and give onlookers a chance to size up next year's prospects from the frosh.

WAKE FOREST and Duke will settle their arguments when they meet in Durham this Saturday. The Demon Deacons are hoped to succumb to the wiles of the Blue Devils. The

A Correction

The Tar Heel wishes to correct an error in yesterday's write-up of the freshman game with Maryland. Abrams scored the first Carolina touchdown, and not McNeil, as was stated.

Deacons tamed the Wildcats but lost to the Wolfpack. The Wildcats clawed the Wolfpack for a victory, and which two games are to be taken in forecasting this game. Wake Forest is conceded as having a chance to win, but not much more.

TENNIS at U. N. C. has some brilliant prospects for the coming season. The varsity has a good team, but the freshman team will be almost unbeatable. The semi-finals of the tennis tournament was between Grant and Yeomans, one of the varsity outstanding members, and showed the rank of this frosh with the varsity. Wilmer Hines, another freshman, plays the winner of the semi-finals in the finals. Other prominent freshman players are: Abels, Barnett, and Wright.

REPORTS FROM THE BOX-RING show that another Southern Champion team is in the making. Led by Captain Archie Allen, Light Weight Southern Title holder, the mitmen are mixing things up in preparation for another hard season.

THE SOUTHERN CONFERENCE CROSS COUNTRY MEET to be held in Chapel Hill this Saturday will bring the news spotlight to Chapel Hill in spite of the absence of football games here. In the meet this Saturday, some of the most outstanding Cross Country and distance runners in the South will compete. Young, of Georgia, and Barkley, of Carolina are expected to lead the field.

THE CAKE RACE this Friday will be one of the largest that has ever been held at Carolina. The number of entries so far has set a new Cake Race attendance record and no doubt several Cake Race records will be approached in the coming event.

Yesterday Wake Forest and P. C. played a tie game 0 - 0.
