

WRESTLING TEAM EXPECTS TO HAVE SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Only Two Regulars Lost From Last Year; Quinlan Calls for Heavyweight Aspirants.

According to advance information, the 1929 varsity wrestling team shows every indication of having a successful season.

The candidates for this season show some unusually good prospects. Stallings, 115 pound weight, should show up well before the end of the season. Woodard, captain this year, is making a fine showing in the 125 pound weight. Both of these boys have a fine chance for all-southern honors. Other weights include Zealy and Albright, 135 pounds, and Tsumas, G. Saunders and Spell on the freshman teams last year and the year before, in the 145 pound weight. Higdon, Moore and Whitener are doing good work in the 155 pound weight and should come through this season in fine style. Cowper has been out for football but will enter the 165 weight after Christmas.

There are a number of good prospects from the freshman team last year and before the 1929 season has closed several are expected to show up well.

The weakest positions now are the heavy weights. Every year this weight seems to be the hardest to fill due to the few candidates who come out. Peyton Abbott, assistant to Coach Quinlan, who is in charge at present, urges all candidates for heavier weights particularly to come out. Former experience is not necessary and every one is given an equal chance to show what he can do. Before a meet every one is given an opportunity to try out. There are good chances in the heavy weight for those who wish to come out and work.

The varsity has a hard schedule ahead of them, and meets the strong Penn State team about the middle of the season. Other matches are with State, Duke, Davidson, V. M. I., V. P. I., Washington and Lee and Virginia.

A Southern Conference meet is assured for this year and the Carolina team has a good chance at the championship.

If the team shows up well in the coming matches, they may be eligible in the national inter-collegiate championship meet at Philadelphia in March.

Gym Track Meet

A track meet similar to the one held Wednesday was staged yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock on Emerson field. The participants in the second meet were members of gym classes meeting Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. Probably due to the intense cold the results were not up to yesterday's standards, none of the records being broken and only two being tied.

L. W. Whitehead, running the 50-yard dash in 6 seconds, equalled the time of Ellis Dudley, winner Wednesday; and J. T. Griffith tied T. L. Glascock's 120-foot javelin throw.

Whitehead was also the fastest man in the hurdles, running the distance in 8 1-5 seconds. Griffith and R. B. Riddle each threw the discus 72 feet for a tie for first place. In the broad jump R. W. Johnston carried off the honors by jumping 17 feet 6 inches; and three men, D. M. Sewell, R. B. Brock and R. W. Johnston, tied for first place in the high jump, each with jumps of 4 feet 9 inches.

The Wigwe and Masque will hold an initiation this evening, Friday the 13th, at 7:15 o'clock in Gerrard hall. All members, both active and inactive, are urged to be present.

Art Marpet

Artie Marpet was one of the best defensive guards in the state last year. This is his second year on the varsity.

COACH ROWE HAS FOUR LETTERMEN

Southern Champion Boxers Have Big Gaps to Fill; Captain Allen, Sheffield, Goodridge, and Warren Back.

With a southern crown to defend, a North Carolina boxing squad of 35, that shows four lettermen back from last year's champions, is driving away in daily practice to carry on the fine Tar Heel ring record.

Preliminary announcement of a schedule lists eight hard meets, one an intersectional test with an outstanding eastern university.

Coach Crayton Rowe has three big gaps in his lineup, and is striving hard to whip his squad into fair shape before the holidays.

Captain Archie Allen, a southern champion last year, is back to take care of the 145 pound weight.

Harry Sheffield, Noah Goodridge and John Warren, all of whom had fine records and went far in last year's tournament, are back to fill the 125, 135 and 175 pound berths.

Evan Vaughn and Obie Davis were due to return for the 115 and 160 pound berths and give the Tar Heels a veteran team except for the heavy berth.

Both boys dropped out of college at the last minute, and now Coach Rowe has three big vacancies.

Bill Koenig, football star, who boxed his freshman year, is coming out for the heavyweight post, but so far there isn't an outstanding bantam in the camp.

Avery, Smathers and Rosenfeldt are all showing well in the 160 pound class; but it looks as if the Tar Heels will have to go quite a while before finding a bantam who could match the speedy, hard-hitting Vaughn.

A number of other candidates are showing no little promise in the daily practice session and bid fair to give the veterans some keen competition for their posts.

Hoke Webb, who boxed in several meets last year, is one of these, in the 145 pound class.

Several up from last year's fine freshman team are also looking good—Jack Farris, 145 pounds, and Cohen, Gray and Gatlin in the featherweight class, being outstanding.

Bernard Shaw says he might be willing to write an original movie plot for three billion dollars. It seems quite reasonable, since the outlay so far for the plot now in use has been about as much.—Detroit News.

THE CAMPUS FOOTBALL TITLE has finally been settled and the next intramural production will probably be the basketball league. No definite date has yet been announced for the opening of the basketball league, but it is expected that the intramural association will open up court activities early in the second quarter. Several of the dormitories and fraternities have already been working out and it is expected that a large number of teams will enter the league. More interest was taken in the football league this year than usual and there is every indication that such will be the case in basketball. None of the teams went through the basketball season last year without a defeat, and it is hardly likely that any will be undefeated in the coming season.

TRACK OFFICIALS REPORT that interest in the cinder path is picking up and that a larger number of candidates than usual are expected to turn out for winter practice in the Tin Can and on the track. Vernon Cowper is assisting Coaches Fetzer and Ranson this year, and will probably give special attention to the pole vaulters and broad jumpers. It is a difficult task to fill Cowper's place in the pole vault this year. Last year he broke several University records and the Tar Heels came out first in the pole vault in every meet last season. Carolina will probably show more strength in the sprints this year than in any other portion of track. Ken Gay, last year's sprint star, and Charlie Farmer, one of the fastest freshmen in the south last year, will compose one of the strongest sprint teams in the south. Gay secured a place in the Southern Conference meet last year, and Farmer was the most outstanding freshman sprinter in the south.

A BASKETBALL CAPTAIN has not been selected for this season, the plan being to have Coach Ashmore select a leader before each game. The co-eds, however, have started activities by electing Ida Currie to lead their aggregation this year. Dave Nims succeeds Johnnie Henderson as captain of track this year, and Jimmy Maus takes Nap Lufty's chair in baseball. Ed Yeomans will lead the tennis team this year, while Archie Allen is captain of boxing. Strud Nash was recently elected to captain the 1930 football team.

DEAN PAULSEN WAS true to his word and Wednesday night the Betas feasted at his home. Dean Paulsen has been one of the most ardent supporters of the University teams and has especially boosted the intramural athletic association. This reward to the winners of the campus football title was merely another way of showing his interest in the intramural teams. The winning of the campus title by Beta Theta Pi made the second time within the past two years that a fraternity has won this title.

THE BASKETBALL SCHEDULE for pre-season games will probably be against as strong or stronger teams than during the season's games. Some Y. M. C. A.'s with which these games are scheduled should have some of the strongest teams in the south as many former college stars are playing with them. The Durham Y. M. C. A. team,

Billie Brown

Billy Brown will be one of the mainstays of the Carolina team this year. In spite of his position as guard, he was one of the highest scorers on the squad last year.

GRANTLAND RICE LAUDS TAR HEELS

Lack of publicity may have quite a lot to do with the rating a football team gets alongside other teams in the country. The fact that a college or university happens to be near a center of publicity can make a lot of difference. Grantland Rice, in his column in the New York Herald-Tribune Tuesday, December 10, classed Carolina and Colgate as two teams which failed to get one-third of the credit due them. This, Mr. Rice said, was because of several reasons: one, that both dropped an early season game and thus were eliminated from title aspirations, and another reason was lack of publicity.

The word of Grantland Rice carries considerable weight in football circles, and his complimentary comment on Carolina's season showing is not to be overlooked. In part, he said concerning Colgate and Carolina: "Up through November they had each lost one game. Both had run up big scores against good teams. For example: North Carolina beat Maryland 43 to 0. Colgate beat Brown 32 to 0. At the finish of the season North Carolina and Colgate would have been ready to go against almost any team in the country and provide one of the busiest afternoons of the year. Both teams were big, fast and well coached. Yet they dipped back of the main skyline because Colgate lost an early game to Wisconsin and North Carolina fell before Georgia. Together they scored over 600 points against less than 70 for the opposition, which is pretty fair evidence they were playing quite a bit of football here and there. Neither happens to be close to any large center of publicity and this can make a lot of difference. But if football is played for publicity it might as well be canned. Colgate and North Carolina seemed to be pretty well satisfied with what they did on the field—not in the papers—which is one of the few outbreaks of sanity the late season has shown."

for example, is mainly composed of former Carolina and Duke athletes. Rufus Hackney and Henry Satterfield, two of Carolina's most outstanding players last year, will probably hold down their old positions on the Durham quintet.

Carolina 41 Greensboro Y 10

Last night the Carolina varsity basketball team overwhelmed Greensboro Y. M. C. A. 41-10 in the Tin Can. At the half-way point the Tar Heels were leading by a small margin, but soon after the beginning of the second period the University team hit its stride and ran wild. Much of Carolina's superiority was in the guards, Marpet and Brown. Coach Ashmore used his substitutes freely throughout the game.

Tonight the Tar Heels close their pre-holiday schedule with Durham's Y. M. C. A. in the Tin Can.
