

Carolina's Fast Mittmen Downs Duke's Blue Devils

Sheffield, Goodridge, Allen,
Davis And Warren Turn
In Wins.

EDWARDS K. O.'S VAUGHN

Koenig Loses To Carper By Decision; Sheffield Stars With Smashing Victory Over Saint Amand; Warren Gets Technical K. O.

Smashing their way to victories over Duke boxers, five Tar Heel pugns gave Carolina a 5-2 victory here last night before a packed Tin Can audience. With this victory the Tar Heels, 1929 Southern Conference boxing champions, kept their slate clean for the season.

Duke with its hard-hitting youngsters gave the Tar Heels a scare in the first fight when Edwards sent Evan Vaughn to the mat for the count in the second round. Vaughn who has been suffering with a cold looked good until one of Edward's blows put him out.

But this scare was short-lived for the Tar Heel pugns in almost methodical fashion won decisions over the Blue Devils in the next five fights. Sheffield, fighting Saint Armand, captain of the Blue Devils, gave a great exhibition. Rushing his opponent continually, the 135-pound Tar Heel boxer sent blow after blow into the Duke boy's face to win a clean-cut decision.

Following this fight Noah Goodridge, Captain Arch Allen, Obie Davis and John Warren turned in wins. Starnes, Duke wrestler and boxer, opposed Goodridge, but the splendid defense of the Tar Heel gave Carolina victory. Captain Allen had little trouble with Matheson. Toward the end of the fight Allen crashed his fists into the body and head of the Duke boxer with ease to get the decision.

Davis faced Millard Warren, brother of the Carolina fighter, in the 169 pound class. An extra round was necessary before Davis won the decision.

The second knock-out of the evening occurred when John Warren sent Don Hyatt, Duke football star, down in the second round. He was given a technical knockout.

Carper, former Duke captain, gained a decision over Koenig. The Blue Devil boxer has won most of his fights by the knock-out route, but Koenig proved too tough. The Tar Heel fought Carper on practically even terms throughout.

115-lb.—Edwards (D) defeated Vaughn by k. o.

125-lb.—Sheffield (C) defeated Saint Amand by decision.

135-lb.—Goodridge (C) defeated Starnes by decision.

145-lb.—Allen (C) defeated Matheson by decision.

165-lb.—Davis defeated Warren by decision (4 rounds).

175-lb.—Warren (C) defeated Hyatt by technical k. o.

Unlimited—Carper (D) defeated Koenig by decision.

The Millrose Athletic Association, in keeping with a custom of twenty-three years standing, has arranged another program of championship calibre for its renewal of the games at Madison Square Garden Saturday night. In this group of newcomers are listed Bob King, formerly of Stanford, Olympic high jump champion; Cy Leland, Texas Christian University, sprinter and halfback who holds the national junior 100-yard title; Leigh Miller, sprinter from Canada; Howard Kriss of the Cleveland A. ## SIDELIGHTS (Sports Editor)

THE INFLUX OF MANY northern students to Carolina has been accompanied by the arrival of many new sports. Fencing is perhaps the most recent one that has been introduced on the campus and, with several prominent meets in view, is well on its way to permanent establishment. The U. N. C. fencing team claims the Southern Conference title by virtue of last year's meets, and this year will defend it against many rival claimants to that throne.

ANOTHER northern sport has migrated south. The recent introduction of associated football, better known as soccer, to the Carolina campus brings another prominent sport of the north, down south. Although many of the high schools and prep schools of the state have soccer teams, there is at present no college in North Carolina that can boast of one.

THE LARGE NUMBER of northern students at Carolina seems to assure the success of this "enfant" into the Tar Heel sports world. Since its beginning several weeks ago the number of those interested has increased rapidly. The eleven men that play on each team makes it hard to gather up two teams to play every afternoon, but many games have been going on between several of the fraternities on the campus.

THE HIGH SCHOOL FIELD is at present headquarters of the soccer fans, and according to those playing there nearly afternoon "all are cordially invited to attend." The only equipment necessary is a soccer ball and two goals. According to one of the "soccerites" it won't be long before the intramural field will be lined off and goals fixed up for soccer. If so, there is hardly any doubt that all of the fields will be used continuously for soccer.

ALTHOUGH SOCCER is a fall sport up north, the participants say that winter is about the best time for it in the south. The hard winters of the north have prevented soccer at that time of the year up there, but the mild winter of Chapel Hill (in dry weather) makes this season of the year most appropriate in the "sunny southland."

SOCCER HAS ALREADY progressed so far that several informal matches are being arranged with several high school and prep school teams of the state. At present negotiations are being made with Blue Ridge and Winston-Salem high school. If these plans go through, it won't be long before the Tar Heels will have adopted another sport.

WE HAVE BEEN ASKED to add that all those interested in establishing soccer at U. N. C. may gain further information at the Tar Heel office.

Charlie Brown Fights To Draw In Greensboro

Charlie Brown, last year's captain of the University boxing team who fought Buster Newberry, Sumter, ten rounds to a draw in Greensboro Friday night, is visiting friends in Chapel Hill.

The Greensboro Daily News credited Brown with five of ten rounds, gave Newberry three and called the other two all square, but the official verdict of the referee named it a draw.

The Daily News seemed to think Charlie deserved something better than a draw, chiefly because of the aggressiveness he showed throughout the bout. In part here's what W. N. Cox of the Daily News says about the Charleston lad: "Brown, though outweighed, outstretched as to arm measurements and height, kept eternally after Newberry and gave the fans a run for their money."

"The Daily News score sheet shows five rounds for Brown, three for Newberry and two even. The first and seventh being all square, the second, eighth and ninth going to Newberry by a shade, and the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and tenth to Brown.

"CAVALIERS" TO MEET "TECH" IN STADIUM TODAY

Losers Of Last Week's Winter Football Games To Play At 4 O'Clock.

Today the football coaches send their proteges into the third fray of the winter football season when the mythical "Virginia" team plays "Georgia Tech" at 4 o'clock.

The losing teams of last week's games will face each other today while the winning teams will meet Saturday. "Tennessee" put the bug on "Georgia Tech" last Wednesday by a 6-0 score. As a result of the game, being played in a snowstorm, there was much fumbling and bad execution of plays. The same was characteristic of Saturday's game, so it was impossible to determine exactly who's who and what's what on the football field at present. In Wednesday's encounter Stuart Chandler, frosh back, appeared to be the main cog in the "Tennessee" lineup, while Nichols and Sharkey also showed up nicely.

Smith and McDade, the pair of big frosh tackles, were the boys who were smearing the plays of the "Virginia" team Saturday afternoon. And June Underwood of "Virginia," was giving the "Georgia" ends quite a workout. It looks as if the fight for tackle berths on the fall team will be between these three mentioned boys, but it has been rumored that such men as Oliver, Roach, Sharkey and Collins will make the favorites put up a fight.

Today, although the grounds will be rather wet, it is believed that the games will be well worth braving the mud and rain. The lineups of the teams will be somewhat the same as last week with only a few changes.

Probable lineups are as follows:

"Virginia"	"Georgia Tech"
Nelson	Nichols
	L. E.
Oliver	Sharkey
	L. T.
Crew	Blackwood
	L. G.
Greer	Allen
	C. T.
Dunavant	Fysal
	R. G.
Underwood	Collins
	R. T.
Allen	Parsley
	R. E.
Peacock	Wyrick
	Q. B.
Magner	Jackson
	R. H.
McNeil	Houston
	L. H.
Slusser	Suggs
	F. B.
