

Five Track Stars Chosen For Millrose Competition

Farmer, Gay, Barkley, Garrett, And Weil To Compose Relay Team.

GAY AND FARMER IN DASH

Annual Games To Be Held Tomorrow Night In Madison Square Garden In New York.

Final selection of the mile relay team to represent the University in the Millrose games at Madison Square Garden Saturday night has been made and the team accompanied by Coach Fetzer will leave this afternoon at 4:00 o'clock for New York. Those making the trip are Charlie Farmer, Ken Gay, Minor Barkley, Dick Garrett, and Lionel Weil.

The relay team will be composed of Farmer, Barkley, Gay, and either Garrett or Weil, depending upon the condition of the two just before the meet. A fifth man is necessary because the nature of the event carries an obligation to compete, and the incapacity of one of a four man team would mar the event for the other relay teams.

It is probable that the order in which the men will run will be Gay first, Garrett or Weil second, Barkley third, and Farmer anchor. The team will have as opposition Rutgers, Lafayette, and the College of the City of New York. Charlie Farmer and Ken Gay are entered in the 50 yard handicap race, and will be opposed by some of the best sprinters in the country.

Captain Dave Nims will be unable to make the trip because of a cold from which he has not sufficiently recovered. His loss will be keenly felt as he usually runs the quarter around 52, and was showing up well before he contracted a cold. Other members of the team are in unusually good condition, considering the fact that the inclement weather for the past several days has interfered with the training program.

Country Club To Have Golf Match On Next Saturday

The golf committee of the Chapel Hill Country Golf Club will start a golf tournament, if the weather continues good and the course will permit, for the benefit of non-members of the town and the students. Any one may enter the tournament and contest for the prizes. If the weather permits the players will begin to tee off Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from tee No. 1 situated near the club house and play twelve holes or twice around the six-hole course. It is planned to start the players in foursomes, three non-members and one member of the club.

The requirements are that the play will be conducted according to the rules of the club with one exception, that the winter rule to improve the lie of the ball will be allowed, otherwise the rules on the score card will govern the play; each player must present a green's ticket to start, which can be bought at the Book Exchange, Students' Supply Store or at the club house. The varsity golf players will each be booked with a handicap, it will be based upon their average score by their coach and the tournament committee will, when the scores are turned in, add the handicap to their net score and the total will constitute the score. Otherwise it will be a non-handicap event.

The prizes to be offered are: 1st, Spaulding sweater (upon the condition that the winner uses a spaulding ball); 2nd, choice of a driver or Brassie; 3rd, one iron club; 4th, one dozen golf balls; 5th, golf stockings.

Leave your name at the Book Exchange if it is your intention to enter the tournament.

NO BATH WITHOUT BATH SALTS FOR ALICE WHITE

About the most embarrassing position imaginable for a bashful young girl would be to take a bath with a lot of men around.

Alice White lays no claim to being a blushing type. She did object strenuously, however, when she had to take a shower and bath for scenes in "Playing Around," her latest First National and Vitaphone picture, which opens today at the Carolina theatre. But it wasn't because men were watching!

Alice wouldn't crawl into the tub, even for a movie, without having bath salts in the water. So when the assistant director informed her the company was ready for the scene, she made him run out to the nearest drug store and buy her favorite brand of bath salts.

A film star's life is so much in the bright light of publicity that she doesn't mind taking a little shower in front of men on the set, according to Miss White. However, Mervyn Leroy, the director, arranged the set so that only the "mike" could peek while some of Alice was hidden from the gaze of the camera by the shower bath curtain.

"Playing Around" is one of the blonde-haired, brown-eyed star's most sensational dramas. Miss White is seen as a "Sheba" type of girl who believes in having a good time with men until she finds the man she can love. Chester Morris and William Bakewell are the boy friends who have a prominent part in her life. The cast includes Richard Carlyle, Marion Byron, Maurice Black, Lionel Belmore, Shep Camp and others. The story is an adaptation of Vina Delmar's "Sheba."

SIDELIGHTS

(Sports Editor)

WINTER FOOTBALL is now well under way with three games scratched from the winter's schedule. "Tennessee" and "Georgia" are at present leading the winter league with one win and one loss. Their defeat by "Tennessee" in the league's curtain raiser was a complete upset of the dope, but "Tech" recovered to defeat the "Virginia" eleven 18 to 0 in their next game. In the second game of the league Georgia downed Virginia 6 to 0 for their only win. The standings in the league follow:

Team	W	L	PCT.
Tennessee	1	0	1.000
Georgia	1	0	1.000
Georgia Tech	1	1	.500
Virginia	0	2	.000

MANY OF THE SPORTS

writers of the state have already begun sizing up the strength of the 1930 Tar Heels on the gridiron. Because of the conditions under which the first games were played, it is hard to choose correctly any stars. The first game was played in the snow, the second in snow-slush, and the last in snow-soup.

MANY LAST SEASON subs have been showing up well in the games played. Bob Blackwood, Ellis Fysal and Ellis Crew are the most outstanding guards that have seen action, while Parsley, Tabb and Nelson have been showing up well on the ends. June Underwood and Bill McDade have been the mainstays of their respective teams in tackle positions.

BOB BLACKWOOD, although ineligible last season, will probably be one of the strongest contenders for the guard position he held in 1928. He was one of the stalwarts of the Carolina forward wall of that year and much is expected of him in the 1930 season. Ellis Fysal, who played at guard opposite Captain Farris, has been one of the most outstanding linemen so far during the winter practice. Fysal was chosen by many for a position on the all-state eleven last season and missed by only a narrow margin receiving the student selection for that honor. Ellis Crew was Captain Farris' main substitute last year and his showing so far in winter practice makes him a strong bet for Captain Farris' old position. Parsley and Tabb have been the main reason for the small gains that have been made by that route in recent games, and Nelson has been showing his usual good form in that position. June Underwood was unable to play last season, but has been showing up well in the winter practice. He will probably be a strong contender for a tackle berth next season, along with Big Bill McDade, prominent freshman tackle.

THE TAR HEEL backfield has so many men that the 1930 edition of the Tar Heels will have little worry in that department. Captain-elect Nash, Magner, Slusser, Branch, Wyrick, Jackson, Houston, McAllister and House are a few of the backfield men left from former years, while McNeill, Chandler, Peacock and Lassiter are prominent freshmen.

Co-Eds To Play

The co-ed basketball team will travel to Fayetteville tonight to engage the Fayetteville high school girls on their own court.

There are more Methodists among the University students than any other denomination, totaling 684 in number.

To Enter Millrose Meet

Lower photo shows a sextet of the Tar Heel speedsters, four of whom will be selected to carry the Carolina colors in the select mile-relay of the Millrose Games. The relay team will race in competition with Lafayette, Rutgers, and New York City College teams.

BOXERS TO MEET VIRGINIA MITMEN TOMORROW NIGHT

Coach Rowe Takes Team To Charlottesville With Clean Slate For The Season.

The University boxers, victors by 5-2 over Duke on Tuesday night, are arduously training for another strenuous meet with Virginia at Charlottesville on Saturday night.

The Southern Conference championship Tar Heels have mowed down four opponents by scores of 5-2, 5-2, 4-3 and 5-2. In the third meet, with V. M. I., six substitutes were used.

Virginia, long the Tar Heels' toughest opponent for Southern honors, has another strong team this year. Carolina must pass this hurdle for another title.

The team showed great form in its unexpected 5-2 margin of victory over Duke. Minor colds were harassing several of the men, especially Evan Vaughan, bantamweight who sustained a knockout, but every man came through in fine style.

Noah Goodridge, Captain Archie Allen, Obie Davis and John Warren, Carolina's four regulars who fight the 135, 145, 160 and light heavy in order, continued their straight line of victories for the season.

Once more, Coach Crayton Rowe is hoping to put Carolina's best in the ring in the Virginia meet.

Sheffield, 125-pounder, Goodridge, Allen, Davis and Warren are practically certain of their posts. Vaughan, bantam, who was a great little fighter last year, has failed to live up to expectations this season, and a substitute may be seen at his post. Bill Koenig, heavyweight, who was slightly outpointed by a lighter, faster Duke man in the last meet, will probably get the call again.

In the school-year of 1878-1879 the percentage of North Carolina students at the University was 97.5 per cent. For the year 1928-1929 the percentage was 82.2 per cent.

There are more sons of farmers in attendance at the University than of followers of any other trade or profession.

NOTRE DAME TO RECEIVE ERSKINE GRIDIRON TROPHY AT CAGE GAME SATURDAY

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 6.—The Albert Russell Erskine Trophy, emblematic of the national football championship as determined by 250 sports writers, will be presented to Notre Dame, 1929 winner, at the Pittsburgh-Notre Dame basketball game in this city on Saturday night.

Avery Brundage, of Chicago, president of the Amateur Athletic Union and a member of the Erskine Award Committee, will make the presentation. Tom Lieb, assistant football coach at Notre Dame, will accept the trophy for the team due to the absence of Coach Rockne who is recuperating in Florida.

The Erskine Trophy, a silver cup beautifully engraved and standing approximately two feet in height, will remain in the possession of Notre Dame until early in 1931 when it will pass to the team selected as 1930 champion. In the event one school wins the title three consecutive years, the cup will become its permanent property.

In addition to the trophy, a Studebaker President Eight is awarded the coach of the team. Presentation of the car for 1929 championship honors was made to Rockne in Miami on January 18th.

Irvin S. Cobb Will Speak Tonight In Gerrard Hall

tended the University of Georgia, and also Dartmouth. In 1922 he was appointed a Major in the Officers' Reserve Corps.

Besides being prominent in the newspaper and magazine world, Mr. Cobb has won distinction for himself as an author of books. In 1922 he won the first prize for the O. Henry award for the best short story published in that year. As an author he has written many books. Some of his best are: "Some United States," "Ladies and Gentlemen," "Goin' on Fourteen," "Roughing It de Luxe," "Irvin Cobb at His Best," "Chivalry Peak," "All Aboard," "Speaking of Operations," "Cobb's Anatomy," and "Red Liquor." Besides all these he has written many magazine serial stories.

At present Mr. Cobb, probably the most distinguished short story writer in America, is a contributor to magazines and to the larger newspaper syndicates. He also holds the honorary degree of LL.D. It is hoped that a large number of students as well as townspeople and faculty members will seize the opportunity of hearing him tonight.

LOCAL HIGH TEAM TO MEET STEM AT LITTLE TIN CAN

Chapel Hill High will play Stem high school tonight at 7:30 in the little Tin Can. This is expected to be a good game, since the local team has been showing up well in recent contests.

College Women Will Convene At Charlotte

Mrs. Harvey W. Harmer, director of the South Atlantic section of the A. A. U. W., will be the special speaker at the luncheon which will follow immediately after the business session and which will mark the formal closing of the meeting.

The banquet on Friday night will be held at the Hotel Charlotte, but Saturday's session and luncheon will be at the Woman's Club.

The state officers are: Mrs. E. R. Mosher, Chapel Hill, president; Mrs. F. O. Clarkson, Charlotte, vice-president; Miss Sara Rowe, Durham, secretary; Mrs. W. T. Powell, High Point, treasurer; Mrs. W. D. Hampton of Charlotte is in charge of local arrangements.
