

SIX CAROLINA TEAMS TO BE IN ACTION TOMORROW NIGHT

Boxing And Basketball Teams Meet Florida And Duke Away; Wrestlers Are Hosts To State

'Gators Have One of Strongest Boxing Teams in Southern Conference.

CAGERS SEEKING REVENGE

Meet With State Will Be Second Big Five Contest; Frosh To Box and Wrestle Oak Ridge.

Carolina will send representatives into three fields of sport tomorrow night when basketball, wrestling and boxing teams see action. The Tar Babies will also be represented in these sports but in only one case do they meet the same school as the varsity. The preliminary game at Duke Saturday night will be the only engagement that the Tar Babies will have at the same school with the varsity.

The basketball team will attempt to revenge itself for the 36-14 defeat handed it by the Blue Devils last Saturday week in the Tin Can. Comparative scores of the two teams do not indicate that the Blue Devils have such a large margin of victory over the varsity, although they do show an unfavorable margin.

The Southern Conference championship boxers will endeavor to add to their string of victories when they meet the Florida mitmen in Gainesville. The Florida aggregation is reported as having another strong team to put up against the Tar Heels this year. Last year the 'Gators were one of the strongest contenders for the conference crown and a close match is anticipated by Coach Rowe.

The wrestlers will have their second Big Five meet of the week tomorrow night when they meet the N. C. State matmen in the Tin Can. The Tar Heels have just returned from a victory over the Davidson Wildcats by a 14-12 count and another close match is expected when they meet State.

The Tar Babies will send a team against the Blue Imps as a preliminary to the Carolina-Duke tilt in the Bull City. The Carolina frosh lost on February 1 to the Duke frosh quintet by a 36-19 score, and will be out for revenge when they meet tomorrow night.

Both the freshman wrestlers and boxers will send teams against the Oak Ridge Cadets tomorrow night when they meet in the Tin Can. This is the only meet for the frosh mat and mitmen for this week.

Blackwood Stars

Theta Kappa Nu and Sigma Epsilon had a royal battle in the Tin Can yesterday afternoon. Sigma Epsilon came out on top with the score 31 to 23. The close guarding and fast playing of both teams characterized the game.

Blackwood starred for the winners with 15 points to his credit. Johnston and Midgett were the boys that piled up the markers for the losers, having 10 points each.

- Lineup:
- Sig. Ep. (31) Th. K. N. (23)
  - Blackwood (15) C. Culpepper
  - R. F.
  - Goodwin (2) Wall (3)
  - L. F.
  - Lawrence (2) Henry
  - C.
  - Lohr (4) Johnston (10)
  - R. G.
  - Sparks (8) Midgett (10)
  - L. G.

Tough Boxer

John Warren, light-heavy, brother of Add Warren, and one of the big bets in the boxing bout with Florida in Gainesville Saturday.

GEORGIA TEAMS MEET SATURDAY IN GRID CONTEST

'Georgia' Has Great Backs In Branch and Nash; 'Tech' Strong in Line.

The old figurative clash of irresistible force and immovable object may be duplicated in Saturday's Tar Heel winter practice football game, scheduled for Kenan stadium at 2 o'clock.

"Georgia" and "Georgia Tech," winners in last week's games, are to be the opponents. "Georgia" is slated for the role of irresistible force. The stellar varsity backs, Branch and Nash, and the stout freshman Croom have made the "Georgia" backfield an irresistible force in two games previously played. House, veteran, broke his arm yesterday and will be out during the remainder of winter practice.

"Georgia Tech" is thought by many to have the strongest line of any of the winter practice teams, and will have the role of immovable object in this interesting battle.

Blackwood and Fysal, letter guards, with a strong freshman, Allen, constitute a real bulwark at center. Sharkey and Collins, tackles, and Nichols, end, all giants, were among the most outstanding of last year's freshman line crop. "Red" Parsley, letter end, rounds out a great line.

The teams will be holding their first battle of the regular six-week schedule, to make the game all the more interesting. "Georgia Tech" has its own backfield strength, and will likewise expect to make things hot for "Georgia" in a ball-carrying way.

The "Jackets" showed their offensive power with a crushing 18-0 win from "Virginia" last week, in which the outstanding stars were Bill Suggs, 190-pound fullback, and Chuck Erickson, sprinting halfback, who is never down until pinned flat.

When Chicago established its cotton exchange, it made Houston the delivery point. New York and New Orleans followed and the Houston-Galveston market quickly became the world's greatest.

Wherein We Disagree—

Condemnation of the spirit exhibited here at the recent Carolina-Duke basketball game by Herbert O'Keef, columnist and sports editor of the Duke Chronicle, shows that either O'Keef is undertaking his periodical attack against everything existing here or he is attempting to inveigle the Tar Heel columnists into a controversy.

Observers of the actions of student spectators know that there was nothing in the booing and hissing at the Duke game indicating feeling against the visiting team. The same might have happened had Carolina been playing Davidson, State, Wake Forest, or any other team. At the time of the hissing Carolina was behind and the students thought that the referee's decisions favored Duke. There is nothing in such actions to commend. We, along with editor Holder, deplore it. But for O'Keef to wave the red flag and say that Duke doesn't feel like lowering itself to such a plane demonstrates only prejudice against Carolina on his part. Caustic remarks in his column last year irritated us slightly. Claims of the sport department there last spring that Duke was justly entitled to several championships held at that time by Carolina amused us.

O'Keef's remark that the spirit shown by the student body here at the Duke game was the rottenest he had ever been forced to witness is sheer nonsense. Let him hark back to the boxing bouts last winter.

Do not misunderstand us. We are offering no defense of the students' actions in hissing the referee's decisions, but we merely attempt to correct impressions which readers may gain from reading O'Keef's column.

This is re-opening what may be an old sore with the Chronicle's columnist, but we happen to be acquainted with certain tendencies of the Wilmington boy to exaggerate.

And Another Thing—

In the editorial response to O'Keef's column the remarks of a "staunch supporter of University teams" stated that Carolina basketball teams were unpopular in Atlanta. We aren't going into the testimonial business, but we venture to say that Tar Heel teams are as popular in Atlanta as any other, excepting Tech. We have always been received enthusiastically down there. Followers of the team think that these receptions are evidences of the popularity our teams enjoy in Atlanta.

House Is Injured In Practice Game

A special attraction was presented to a stadium entirely empty of spectators yesterday afternoon when the members of the monogram club and the members of the squad without letters, staged a prologue to the annual game played for the benefit of the Monogram Club, which is to be played in March. The scrimmage, which lasted for thirty minutes, was due largely to the fact that the members of the Monogram Club were at the stadium in uniform for the purpose of having a picture taken.

About two minutes prior to the closing whistle, Henry House, while making a beautiful end run, was thrown suddenly to the ground and was carried from the field with a broken arm. This was the only serious casualty of the game.

BOXING TEAM IS LACKING BANTAM IN FLORIDA MEET

Team in Good Shape on Eve of Bouts With Powerful Southern Team; 12 Men Make Trip.

(By E. B. Shemwell)

With a squad of 12 men picked to make the trip to Florida, the Tar Heel varsity boxing team had a vigorous workout yesterday afternoon in the Tin Can.

Captain Archie Allen looked unusually good in the ring, and knocked his sparring partners around in a way that looked bad for Florida and South Carolina. After four fast rounds in the ring, Captain Allen worked out with the bags for a few minutes that showed his condition, which might be pronounced perfect.

Goodridge looked as good as ever in the ring, and showed rare form. Hoke Webb worked several fast rounds, and showed the large number of spectators that Coach Rowe has no shortage of first-class reserves. His overhand right looked especially dangerous, and his left was good too.

Another prospect for next year's team who showed up well was Tom Parsons. Parsons was a good freshman fighter last year, but this year has been unable to come out on account of a knee injury. Yesterday he worked out a fast round, and looked good.

Little Harry Sheffield, the little flyweight with the big fists, was looking like a million, and is apt to do things down in the land of sunshine. Sheffield has lost only one fight this year, a close decision to Washington and Lee. He lost a judges' decision after having floored his man three times.

Add Warren was on the job working out the heavies, and is expecting to get them in prime shape.

Coach Crayton Rowe took the following 12 men with him: Sheffield and Cohen in the 125-pound division; Goodridge and Farris, 135 pounds; Captain Allen and Webb in the 145 class; Davis, 126 pounds; Warren, 175 pounds; Koenig, unlimited, and Smathers, Avery and Rosenfeldt in the heavier weights. The team left last night and will fight Florida Saturday night and the South Carolina Gamecocks Monday.

Reformers in Boston are working through the state legislature to outlaw the professional boxing game.

Athletic Council Votes to Recognize Sport Following Interest in Novice Meet.

HENDLIN IS DIRECTOR

A new sport was yesterday added to the University's intramural calendar—fencing.

Addition of the new sport was formally accomplished by favorable vote of the athletic council at its last meeting, following the wide expression of interest in the recent novice tournament.

Hinkey Hendlin, national amateur champion last year, now a student in the University, has been appointed director, and will advise and interview every man interested.

Appropriations have been made for equipment, and plans are being rushed to push the new sport to the fore as quickly as possible. Fencing quintets are to be formed from dormitories and fraternities to participate in a regular schedule of meets. Additional men from any groups will be divided into other teams, so that every man interested will get a chance to participate.

Director Hendlin has urged that every student interested in fencing, either in organizing his fraternity or dormitory quint, or in participating independently, see him, from Monday to Friday of next week, at 313 Old East, according to the following schedule:

Monday, 9 p. m.—Aycock, Lewis, Graham and Everett.

Monday, 10 p. m.—Sigma Epsilon, Zeta Beta Tau, Kappa Psi, Phi Alpha, Theta Kappa Nu, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Kappa Delta.

Tuesday, 9 p. m.—Grimes, Mangum, Manly and Ruffin.

Tuesday, 10 p. m.—Sigma Phi Sigma, Lambda Chi Alpha, Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Chi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Nu and Theta Chi.

Wednesday, 9 p. m.—Steele, Old East, Old West and Carr.

Wednesday, 10 p. m.—S. A. E., D. K. E., Phi Gamma Delta, Zeta Psi, Phi Delta Chi, S. P. E., and A. T. O.

Thursday, 9 p. m.—New Dorms, Graduate Club, Best House and any independent groups.

Thursday, 10 p. m.—Delta Sigma Phi, Chi Phi, Tau Epsilon Phi, Phi Kappa Sigma, Chi Psi, Phi Sigma Kappa, Theta Phi, Sigma Delta and any other fraternities.

Varsity Wrestlers Down Davidson 14-12

In a close and hotly contested match, the Tar Heel matmen downed Davidson by the score 14-12 in the Davidson gym Wednesday. The outstanding match of the night was the exciting scrap in which Stallings, undefeated Tar Heel 125-pounder, threw his man in 3 minutes, 25 seconds. Ferguson, Carolina 175-pounder, lost his first fight of the season when he lost a close time decision to Warren of Davidson. Cowper won his fight with Christenburg, Davidson 165-pound man, in a thrilling extra period match.

In the 125-pound division, Bell of Carolina, lost a close time decision to Cowan, while Albright, Tar Heel 135-pounder, beat Brown of Davidson on time. Tsumas of Carolina won a time decision over Thad Brock, Davidson's all-state end, while Houghton lost by time to Bud Raker, another Wildcat grid star.

TEAM TO CHANGE ATTACK FOR CAGE GAME WITH DUKE

To Launch Counter-Offensive Against High Scoring Blue Devil Quintet; Showed Scoring Power Against Loyola.

The Tar Heel basketball team is planning to turn the tables and launch a counter-offensive against the fast Duke quint when the two teams hold their second meeting of the year in Durham Saturday night.

The Tar Heels, without a veteran forward, played mostly defensive ball in the first Duke game. Duke won, by the unexpected margin of 35-14.

Coach Jim Ashmore now is planning new tactics for Saturday night's contest, which is slated to start at 8:30 o'clock. And those who have followed the Tar Heels closely think the sensational 14-point rally against the strong Loyola quint Wednesday night may be a strong sign that that will be precisely what the Tar Heels will do against Duke.

That 14-point rally, which in nine minutes brought the Tar Heels from the short end of a 22-11 count to the long end of a 25-22 count, was the first great offensive drive the Tar Heels have shown all season. Supporters are hoping it gave them confidence, and will start them on the offensive after the fast Duke club, matching Duke's speed and drive with speed and drive of their own.

Neiman and Greene, forwards, shared honors in that drive with Harper, regular center, and Marpet and Brown, regular guards.

This combination, pairing the fastest floormen of the Tar Heel forwards, will undoubtedly be seen in action against Duke, although Sandy Dameron, defensive star, may get the call at one forward in place of Greene.
