

Basketball Team To Meet Wake Forest Here Tonight

Second Contest With Deacons Scheduled For Tin Can At 8:30 O'clock.

FROSH VS. BABY DEACONS
Team To Continue Offensive Play Started In Games Last Week.

The Tar Heel basketball team in its last three games may have set a new record for losing games by close margins—three games lost with the difference in Tar Heel points and opponents' points standing at 4. The 37-36 loss to Duke on Saturday night capped the climax. Powerful State and Loyola quints had previously beaten the Tar Heels by 28-26 and 26-25.

Supporters were sad, of course, but at that the Tar Heels looked good in defeat. Their champions think they showed the greatest offensive power of the season in those three games and think likewise that the underdog Tar Heels will be due for a late-season comeback.

They are looking forward even to the Wake Forest game tonight at 8:30 in the Tin Can as the turning point.

FRESHMEN TACKLE DEACONS TONIGHT

With their second loss to the Duke Blue Imps still hanging over their heads, the Tar Baby quintet ended practice for the return game with the Wake Forest Baby Deacons tonight in the Tin Can. Earlier in the season, the Tar Babies were defeated by the Baby Deacons 34-24, and they will be out to avenge that earlier defeat. With the game on their home floor, the Tar Babies should be the favorites to reverse the result of last month's game.

Lineberger, Carolina's versatile guard, who cracked his wrist on the recent Virginia trip should be ready to play tonight, but it is very doubtful if he will start. "Pinky" Connor, who has substituted for Lineberger, has been going great guns lately, starting in every game since the Virginia trip, and will probably start tonight.

This week the Tar Babies have three of their toughest contests, playing the Wake Forest frosh tonight, V. P. I. freshmen Friday night, and the Washington and Lee freshmen Saturday night. In every one of these games, the Tar Babies will be out to avenge former defeats.

The probable lineup for tonight's game: Connor and Henry (guards); Beale (center); and Dunn and Hines (forwards).

After a two-day rest the Tar Babies again encounter the freshmen five from Virginia Polytechnic Institute. The V. P. I. quintet hammered out a victory over the Carolina Frosh when the latter made an unfruitful march through the "Sore Backs."

Saturday night finds the first-year Carolinians facing Washington and Lee freshmen. This game, which is the first meeting of the two teams, will be played in the Tin Can.

Fire Alarm

An alarm of fire, turned in at the local fire department shortly after noon Sunday, proved to be a false alarm occasioned by a smoky oil stove on Rosemary lane.

Local High Splits With Roxboro Teams

Chapel Hill high school split a double-header with Roxboro here Friday night, the boys winning 29-15 and the girls losing 23-19. Both teams showed considerable form, especially the boys, who displayed unusual scoring power in putting down the Roxboro quint.

Lawrence, Chapel Hill center, showed up best in the boys' game and led the scoring with 12 markers. Council, Reynolds and Williams also played a good game, while Gentry and Longer starred for the visitors.

In the girls' game Leigh of Chapel Hill played a good offensive game and led her teammates with eight tallies, while Jones, Roxboro forward, was high scorer of both sides with 11 points. The score stood 19-all in the last minute of play, but a pair of technical fouls and a field goal by Oliver accounted for the four point margin at the close.

Lineup for girls' game:
Roxboro (23) Chapel Hill (19)
Oliver (11) Leigh (8)

R. F. Jones (12) Taylor (7)
L. F. Stephens Durham (4)
C. Newton Mann
C. G. Fulcher Fowler
R. G. Long Jordan
L. G.

Substitutions: Chapel Hill—Andrews. Referee: Knight.

Lineup for boys' game:
Chapel Hill (29) Roxboro (15)
Prouty (4) Longer (5)

R. F. Council (8) James (1)
L. F. Lawrence (12) Gentry (5)

This Week

The last week of intramural basketball got under way yesterday with the Chi Psi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Tau Epsilon Phi and Kappa Alpha teams winning their games. Since examinations are only three weeks distant, it has been decided to end the regular schedule this week, leaving next week for playoffs and postponed games.

Old East and Aycock have not yet lost a game, and unless the unexpected happens this week there will be a dispute to be settled in the dormitory league. Both teams have won nine games and lost none to date.

Unless Phi Kappa Sigma can defeat the Phi Gams or Theta Kappa Nu down the Dekes, there will probably be a fast game to be played-off in the fraternity race. The Dekes were reported as having lost a game by forfeit, but intramural officials announce that it was only a postponed game.

Last Week

Several teams were put out of the running for honors during last week's play. Steele of the dormitories and Sigma Nu of the fraternities failed to continue past performances and lost one game each.

The Sigma Epsilons entered the league last week and won the only game which they have played. The Manly boys improved their standing by adding two games to the win column.

Scoring

Sigma Nu is leading the entire campus for scoring honors with a total of 301 points for and 98 against. Steele holds the high scoring honors for the dormitories with a total of 255 points for and 87 against. Other teams which boast high scoring honors are Old East with 207 points, Aycock with 188, Tau Epsilon Phi with 174, D. K. E. with 168 and Manly with 166. These are the only teams having scored more than 150 points during the first five weeks.

Teams And Players

Several teams have been playing with the idea that a good offense is the best defense. These scores will prove it. Steele won a game this week by 64-20. In four of their games the Sigma Nus have scored between 40 and 64 points. Manly has won several games by very large margins also.

That 55 to 1 score takes the cake for extremes. The Grimes boys should have brought down the janitor to help them.

Pierre Campbell, Chi Psi forward, scored 15 points in a game recently. Fourteen of them were long shots. That boy is death.

Hinton of Old West seems to be a consistently high scorer. Maybe he keeps in condition getting up for eight-thirties.

A remark attributed to Nap Lufty, referee, is going the rounds. It seems that famed Dormitory "I" was playing a game and Referee Lufty, calling the captain over to get the lineup, added—"spell the names, too." Which wasn't bad at all, considering that he had only a very short pencil to write with.

Larry Johnson was finding the basket very regularly in a recent game, scoring a total of 32 points.

The Zeta Beta Tau and Delta Tau Delta basketball teams forfeited their game yesterday, neither team appearing.

VIRGINIA WINS INDOOR MEETS

Carolina Fourth In Annual Games; Farmer, Bagby, And Barkley Score.

Virginia won the varsity and freshman meets in the sixth annual indoor track invitation games Saturday night, with William and Mary second in both divisions. Final scores in the varsity meet were Virginia 23, William and Mary 16, Washington and Lee 13, Maryland 13, North Carolina 12, Duke 9, Wake Forest 2. Woodberry Forest won the preparatory school division and Eastern High of Washington won the high school division.

Farmer and Bagby, each with five points, and Barkley with two points accounted for the Tar Heel score. Bagby placed first in the high jump. Farmer was second in the 50-yard dash and third in the 440-yard run. Barkley captured the other two points with a third in the 880-yard run. Jensen, the only freshman entry for the University, placed second in the mile run, and third in the 880 for five points.

The University mile relay team was to have run Maryland in a match relay, but Maryland forfeited the event in order to catch a train. Gold medals were awarded in this event. Summaries of the events in which the University participated, with the exception of the high jump, follow:

Varsity 50-yard dash—won by Scott, William and Mary; second, Farmer, North Carolina; third, Quinn, Maryland; fourth, Kinsey, Wake Forest. Varsity 440-yard run—won by Shephard, Washington and Lee; second, Ramsburg, Maryland; third, Farmer, North Carolina; fourth, Kinsey, Wake Forest. Varsity 880-yard run—won by Johnson, William and Mary; second, Lindsey, Maryland; third, Barkley, North Carolina; fourth, Broderich, Washington and Lee.

Freshman 880-yard run—won by Lauck, Virginia; second, Carry, Virginia; third, Jensen, North Carolina; fourth, Cary, Virginia. Freshman mile run—won by Lauck, Virginia; second, Jensen, North Carolina; third, Perry, Virginia; fourth, Bray, Duke.

First place winners in other events follow: Shot put—varsity, Day, Virginia; freshman, Bentley, Virginia; prep school, Coles, Episcopal; high school, Mullis, Charlotte. 880-yard run—prep school, White, Episcopal; high school, Reichman, Tech, Washington. 440-yard run—freshman, Uldrich, William and Mary; prep school, Wright, Woodberry; high school, Swope, Eastern, Washington. Mile run—varsity, Johnson, William and Mary; prep school, Bowman, Augusta; high school, tie between C. Miles and F. Miles, Eastern High. 50-yard dash—freshman, McKeown, W. and M.; prep school, Gwinn, Woodberry; high school, McChesney, Hyattsville, Md. 50-yard low hurdles—freshman, Eister, Virginia; prep school, Payne, Woodberry; high school, Everett, Eastern. Varsity 50-yard high hurdles—Flippin, Virginia.

Harper Injured

"PUNY" HARPER U.N.C. CENTER

Facing one of the hardest weeks of play of their 1930 schedule, the Tar Heel basketball team will probably be playing this week without the service of their center and defensive star "Puny" Harper.

Harper, injured in the 36-37 loss of Duke Saturday night, was about on crutches yesterday, but is definitely out of the Wake Forest game here tonight.

The loss may not be so keenly felt there. The Tar Heels had a 48-19 margin over the Deacons in a previous meeting. Harper's absence will only make things even and give prospects of a close, hard game.

T. E. P. Beats Sigma Chi

Tau Epsilon Phi trounced Sigma Chi yesterday afternoon 34 to 10. Good, steady passing featured the play of the winning team. Despite the uneven score, the game was fast and interesting.

Hirsh was high-point man for T. E. P. with 16 points. Cohen and Felshin also did some accurate shooting for the winners, scoring together a total of 16 points. Jarrat led the Sigma Chi team in scoring.

T. E. P. (34) Sigma Chi (10)
Cohen (9) Barkley (1)
R. F. Eiserberg Jarrat (4)
L. F. Felshin (7) Hunter (3)
C. Eisner (2) Perkins
R. G. Hirsh (16) Shuford (2)
L. G. Substitution for T. E. P.—Breen.

Fencing Notice

"Hinkey" Hendlin, fencing director, announces that in view of the basketball game between Carolina and Wake Forest tonight he will meet the dormitory and fraternity representatives tonight after the game instead of at the hour announced in last week's Tar Heel. The following groups are to meet him in 313 Old East: Grimes, Manly, and Ruffin dormitories; and Sigma Phi Sigma, Lambda Chi Alpha, Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Chi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Nu and Theta Chi fraternities.

Pikas Beat Phi Deltas

The Pikas more than doubled the score on the Phi Delta Thetas yesterday, 30-12. Pika did most of its scoring in the last half. Up to then the game was close. Worman took individual honors with 13 points.

The lineup:
Pi K. A. (30) P. D. T. (12)
Lowrance (5) Gill (2)
Worman (13) Fonville (2)
Patterson (6) Eubank (5)
Clark (4) Daniels
Ashcraft (2) Koonce (3)
Substitutions: Pi Kappa Alpha: Williams, Brody.

Send the Tar Heel home!
