White Cross School Children Pay Visit To the University

A group of 35 children from the White Cross school in Orange county visited the University yesterday, accompanied by the principal of their school, Mrs. Mattox, and other teachers. The pupils were conducted on a pre-arranged tour of the campus by members of the University extension division.

They were shown major points of interest here, including the library, gymnasium, Playmakers theatre, the arboretum, Memorial hall being torn down, and other features. The tour was concluded at the stadium where the children witnessed a part of the football game between "Georgia" and "Tennessee."

It would perhaps be interesting to know that this was the first time that the majority of these pupils had ever visited the University, though living in the same county.

Circus Actor Fined For Alleged Assault

Dwight Bean, 28, circus trapeze performer who lives in Chapel Hill during the months when circuses hibernate, was the defendant in a trial at Chapel Hill Recorder's court Monday evening. He was charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

His victim was Eric Sparrow, son of Joe Sparrow, University employee, whom Bean accused of undue familiarity with Mrs. Bean.

Bean found the pair at the home of Mrs. Beulah Sykes in Carrboro, whereupon he was alleged to have assaulted Sparrow. After rendering his victim nearly unconscious, Bean was alleged to have "stomped on" Sparrow, then to have thrown him out of doors into the mud, whereupon he took his departure.

Witnesses failed to prove the use of anything in the nature of a deadly weapon save Bean's large fists, although Dr. E. A. Abernethy testified that some of the wounds he closed with a total of 15 stitches, were sharp cuts. A portion of Sparrow's ear, he said, seemed to have been cut off.

Attorney for Bean compromised the case with Prosecutor Sawyer, and the accused was given a four month's sentence on the road, and a fine of ten dollars and costs. The road sentence was suspended upon payment of physician and hospital fees and remuneration for loss of time to Sparrow.

GERMAN CLUB IS ALMOST SURE TO HAVE LOMBARDO

Officials Await Return of Duplicate Contract from Booking Offices.

Only the return of a duplicate contract from the Music Corporation of America is now necessary for the absolute surety that Guy Lombardo and his "Royal Canadians" will play for the final dances of the German Club to be held this spring.

In the returning of the original contract, the German Club officials added a clause to the effect that this would be Lombardo's first appearance in the state of North Carolina. A telegram was received which stated that this extra stipulation would be agreeable. The duplicate copy of the contract is now expected at any time.

Lombardo's band is classified as one of the best dance orchestras in the country, and it will doubtless add quite a bit of color to the naturally colorful final dances of the German Club.

Due to the conflict between the dates of the final dances and the dates for the beginning of the Carolina summer school, it will be necessary to have the dances in the Tin Can. Plans are now being made as to how the Tin Can will be divided and other details. It is expected that an unusually large crowd will attend these dances due to the presence of Lombardo and his orchestra, so the extra amount of space in the Tin Can may prove very valuable.

Guy Lombardo and His Royal Canadians are recognized as one of the most popular of all music dispensers in the country. They have long been favorites of the great radio audience, and their selections are recorded consistently by the Columbia Recording Company. Sought after all over the country, it will certainly be a feather in Carolina's social cap if this orchestra is secured. It would be Lombardo's first appearance in the south.

During Chase's Presidency University Has Become Leader Among Southern Institutions.

TO LEAVE FOR URBANA DURING COMING SUMMER

Illinois Ranks Among First Six Educational Institutions In United States; Chase Succeeds Dr. David Kinley.

(By R. W. Madry)

Announcement here last night of the resignation of Dr. Harry Woodburn Chase as president of the University to accept the presidency of the University of Illinois was greeted with expressions of keen regret in all quarters.

During the day rumors that Dr. Chase was planning to resign the presidency here gained general circulation over the campus. Dr. Chase could not be reached for a statement, having left for Hollins College where he is to deliver the Founder's Day address today. At his office Secretary R. B. House informed inquirers that any news regarding possible developments would have to come from Illinois.

Consequently last night's announcement did not take the town wholly by surprise. Many of the folks here were half way prepared for it. To people out in the state, however, it will be big news. Dr. Chase had closely guarded his negotiations with the Illinois officials, fearing that any premature announcement of his plans might result in misunderstanding both here and in Illinois. He was particularly fearful lest somebody get the impression that he was "playing" for a raise in salary.

It was learned yesterday that Dr. Chase had a tentative offer from the Illinois committee when he and Mrs. Chase left here two weeks ago to visit their campus. He was first approached by the committee last fall, and at the time he informed them that he was quite sure he would not be interested. In January they came back at him again with the request that he reconsider. Further negotiations led to his decision to visit the Illinois campus. He had not made up his mind at the time he went although he confessed to several close associates that he was strongly tempted.

Dr. Chase's letter of resignation did not reveal the salary involved in the Illinois offer, but it was learned that it represents a tremendous increase over the $10,000 he receives here, along with a liberal retiring allowance and other inducements. One report was that he is to get double his present salary.

His associates expressed the view last night, however, that the opportunity to work with an institution that occupies such a significant position in the future development of higher education in America was the chief factor in determining his decision.

The University of Illinois is one of the half-dozen largest institutions in America in student enrollment and faculty. It is said to represent one of the most
