

PLAYMAKERS TO PRESENT FIFTH BILL OF SEASON

Program Of Four One-Act Plays To Be Given In Little Theatre Thursday, Friday, And Saturday Nights.

The Carolina Playmakers will present their fifth program of the season, a bill of four new one-act plays, Thursday evening at 8:30 in the Playmaker theatre. The performance will be repeated Friday and Saturday.

The plays to be presented are: For Auntie's Sake, a college comedy by John Patric; Hollyhocks, a New England folk-play by Joseph Fox; Suspended Animation, a comedy by Kent Creuser; and Death Valley Scotty, a California folk-play by Milton Wood.

All of these are "first plays." The authors have developed material gathered from localities with which they are familiar. Joe Fox, the author of Hollyhocks, comes from Massachusetts. Milton Wood, who bases his play Death Valley Scotty on a California legend, comes from that state. Kent Creuser's play deals with the difficulties of a student in the playwriting course here at the University, in which course he is enrolled himself. John Patric's play is centered about the efforts of a college boy to "make a hit" with a co-ed.

Writing for the play program, Professor Frederick Koch says regarding For Auntie's Sake, "The incident seems suspiciously autobiographic, although the author insists that the character of the charming, but not too intelligent, co-ed is none of his acquaintance." Of Hollyhocks he says, "It is an authentic play of New England village-folk. But for her relentless Puritan conscience, Millie's lot would still be cast with the hollyhocks of her country garden. But the specter of divorce was unrelenting. As Grannie says, 'It is not a question of money or of what the village-folk would say, but of what's right and what's wrong'."

Of Suspended Animation Professor Koch says in writing for the program, "Here is a true episode in the frenzied struggle of the student in English 31 in writing his first play. The author vouches for the reality of the scene . . . his own room . . . and the 'bull session,' from 6:30 one evening to 8 o'clock the next morning out of which the idea came. The characters are enacted by the actual participants in the original 'bull session.' The sandwiches were good, the coffee hot, and the conversation spirited. But the idea of Suspended Animation did not come to the author until the ghastly hour of 5 o'clock in the morning."

The scene of Death Valley Scotty is laid in the famous California desert. Professor Koch states, "The author, Milton Wood, vividly records for us his own impressions of that mysterious figure who has been there so long that the oldest prospector of the region can only say of him: 'Scotty was thar when I come'."

Casts for the plays follow: For Auntie's Sake—Penelope Brown, Lottie Frances Mays, and Fred Barrett, John Patric.

Hollyhocks—Elizabeth Foster, Irene Fussler, Millie, Nettina Strobach; Paul, Bobby

Many People Attend John Efrid Recital

Last night John Efrid, sophomore at the University, appeared before a large audience of Chapel Hill residents in a piano recital at Person hall.

The well received program was the second presented here by Mr. Efrid since attending the University. Representing the best of piano music, it was divided into two parts.

Comprising the first division was the Preludio with Fuga in B Flat Major and Fifth French Suite by Bach; Impromptu in A Flat Major by Schubert; and Valsek by Mokrejs.

In the second division Mr. Egrd began with Novelette in F by Schumann and then Prelude in G Sharp Minor by Rachmaninoff, finishing the well planned program with four famous Etudes and the Valse in E Minor by Chopin.

The music department hopes to stimulate interest in student programs, and a concert such as that of last night is encouraging toward this enterprise.

Bibliography Posted For Use Of Debaters

According to information secured from the secretary of the debate council, the bibliography on "Resolved: That the chain store system in its present form is detrimental" has been posted in the reserve room of the library. It is also posted on the bulletin board on the second floor of Murphey hall.

The question of the chain store is the one which will be used in the Carolina-Northwestern debate of April 15. The debate squad will hold the first discussion of this question Thursday night. Dr. Taylor will deliver a lecture on the subject.

All students who expect to compete for a berth on the team must be present at the meeting Thursday night.

Math Seminar Today

M. A. Hill, instructor in mathematics, will present the second of two papers on the Correlation Theory at the meeting of the mathematics seminar this afternoon.

The paper Mr. Hill will present this afternoon is "The Normal Frequency Method," one of the two methods of the correlation theory.

Freshman engineering students will not attend the usual Wednesday noon meeting today because no speaker has been obtained to continue the series of orientation and motivation talks that have been given weekly during the past quarter.

Davis To Give Talk To Wm. Cain Society

C. R. Davis of New York, a senior in the school of engineering, will speak on "The Westchester County Park System" at the meeting of the William Cain student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers tomorrow evening at 7:30 in Phillips hall.

The lecture to be given by Mr. Davis is one of a series of three illustrated talks that have been prepared by the national office of the A. S. C. E. for presentation by students at the meetings of the student branches of the organization.

In the lecture Mr. Davis will tell about the development of the park system of Westchester county, New York. This park system contains over 448 square miles lying between the Hudson river and Long Island sound. Within the area in which the parks are located lie the cities of White Plains, Yonkers, Mount Vernon and New Rochelle.

The meeting Thursday evening is the last meeting of the William Cain society this quarter. At this time the question of an open house for the school of engineering may be taken up.

Whites Feature Court

An unexciting session of Chapel Hill Recorder's Court Monday morning was characterized by the fact that for the second time since the establishment of the institution nearly a year ago, there were no charges against negroes.

J. M. Davis, 22, white, charged with having passed a worthless check for $4.80 on April 20, 1928, upon Sol Lipman, pleaded "not guilty," claiming that he gave the check to Lipman with the proviso that it was not to be cashed immediately.

Judge Hinshaw believed, however, that Davis was guilty. "Two months at hard labor on the county roads," he said to Davis, who looked up in great alarm. "Sentence to be suspended upon payment of the check and casts of the case."

Davis was willing to pay the check, but balked at "the casts," preferring to take chances with the mercies of a higher court. He gave notice of appeal.

Senior Notice

H. A. Bargeon, representative of the S. H. Kress and Company, will be in Chapel Hill this morning to interview seniors who are interested in making a connection with this organization. Any men who would like to talk with Mr. Bargeon concerning employment are invited to get in touch at once with Henry Johnston at 204 South building.

Chase Signs Cablegram To Naval Parley

Dr. Chase, retiring University president, was among the 1200 signers of the cablegram sent to the American delegates at the Naval Conference in London urging "reduction and not merely limitation of armaments." The cablegram reminded the American representatives of the Kellogg-Briand Peace Pact and of President Hoover's statement in his Armistice Day address in which he stated that America was ready to reduce its armaments when the European nations were ready to do so.

The cablegram was prepared and the signatures of 1200 prominent men and women from all parts of the United States secured within 72 hours. The colossal undertaking was directed by Raymond B. Fosdick, Professor James T. Shotwell of Columbia University, James G. McDonald, director of the Foreign Policy Association, and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt.

Other prominent signers from this state were Josephus Daniels, President W. P. Few of Duke University, President F. P. Gaines of Wake Forest, Howard Rondthaler, president of Salem College, S. B. Turrentine, president of Greensboro College, and R. P. Binsford, president of Guilford College.

Two Young Men Held For Alleged Theft

William Roberts, 18, and Denzil King, 19, who claim Durham as their residence, together with Paul Prince, 25, a traveling salesman, appeared before the local Recorder's Court Monday morning to answer a charge of larceny of a suitcase containing clothing worth $100, from Tommy's Tavern on the Durham road during the course of a dance late in February.

Roberts and King claimed to have found the suitcase by the roadside. They were walking toward Durham, they said, and were picked up by Prince, driving his car, to whom they told their story of finding the case. The contents were divided between the three.

No probable cause was found in the case of Prince, there having been no evidence of his participation in the theft, nor of guilty knowledge. Roberts and King, however, each posted bond of $300 to insure their appearance at the March term of the Hillsboro court, to which they were bound over.

Group To Report On Suggested Persons For President At Call Meeting Of Full Board.

CHASE IS VOTED DEGREE

University Trustees Hold Meeting In Raleigh With Eighty-One Of Hundred Members Present; Congratulates Illinois.

(By Will Yarborough)

With the largest number of members to attend a meeting since Dr. H. W. Chase was elected president eleven years ago, the board of trustees of the University met in Raleigh yesterday morning to consider the selection of a man to succeed Dr. Chase. Eighty-one of the one hundred members were on hand for the meeting. The appointment of a committee to consider the field of possible successors was the major action taken at the two-hour session yesterday morning.

The board met in the Hall of the House of Representatives with Governor Max Gardner, ex-officio chairman, presiding, at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. It was decided to follow the procedure adopted when a successor to Edward Kidder Graham was elected: the selection of a committee to consider the fitness of those suggested for the presidency. Alexander H. Graham of Hillsboro, Judge John J. Parker of Charlotte, Leslie Weil of Goldsboro, Charles Whedbee of Hertford and Stahle Linn of Salisbury were named on this committee. It will not nominate or select a man but will only report on the fitness of persons suggested at a call meeting of the full board later. It is said that this meeting will likely occur sometime in April.

Resolutions of regret over the resignation of Dr. Chase will be drawn up by a committee composed of Judge Francis D. Winston of Hertford, Walter Murphy of Salisbury, Judge J. Crawford Biggs of Raleigh, Josephus Daniels of Raleigh, and U. S. Representative C. A. Jonas of Lincolnton.

Other action of the board consisted of voting unanimously to confer the degree of Doctor of Laws on Dr. Chase. Governor Gardner was instructed on motion by Josephus Daniels, editor of the News and Observer, to wire the University of Illinois congratulations on securing Dr. Chase as president and an expression of regret that he is to leave the state.

The list of possibilities has steadily grown since the announcement of Dr. Chase's resignation as president. Professors Frank Graham and R. D. W. Connor were prominent among those first suggested. However, Mr. Graham in a letter to the Governor asked that his name be withheld from consideration. Others mentioned prominently in Raleigh yesterday were Chief Justice W. P. Stacy of the State Supreme Court, Associate Justice W. J. Broden of Durham, Dr. Ben R. Lacy, Dean Addison Hibbard and Dr. Archibald Henderson.

It has not been learned whether the faculty will make a recommendation or not. Up to the present student sentiment has not crystallized in favor of any particular person.
