

Football Carnival To Feature Veteran-Rookie Tilt Saturday

Twenty Gold Medals To Be Awarded To Best Players In Each Department Of Play; Fetzer Coaching Monograms.

FORMER STARS JUDGES

A special feature of Saturday's Monogram-Rookie game, closing Carolina's winter grid work, will be the Winter Football Carnival Contests, which Carolina's Notre-Dame trained coaches are inaugurating in Tar Heelia this year.

The Tar Heel gridgers, monogram and rookie, will vie in this final feature battle for honors in offensive and defensive play, blocking, passing, receiving, punting, place-kicking, drop-kicking, and other departments of play.

Tar Heel grid stars of other years will act as judges, and on the basis of play in this final game, 20 gold medals will be awarded the men superior in each department of play.

All of which seems to mean that the Tar Heel gridgers will be giving their best in this final Monogram-Rookie battle.

Coach Collins and assistants will name the three best men at each particular function in trials this week, and these men will be competing on Saturday for final honors.

The 15 medals for best offensive end, tackle, guard and center play; for best defensive end, tackle, guard and center play; for best ball carrier; for best blocking halfback; for best offensive quarterback play; and for best defensive fullback, halfback and quarterback will all be awarded on the basis of play in Saturday's game.

The medals for best passing, receiving, punting, drop-kicking and place-kicking will be decided in contests between halves.

Coach Fetzer is drilling the Monogram squad this week, Coach Collins the Rookie squad, and from all indications Saturday should hold in store for Tar Heel grid followers a great battle.

Zeta Psi Team Wins

The well-balanced Zeta Psi fencing team, one of the favorites in the present intramural fencing tournament, overwhelmed the Sigma Phi Sigma team Monday afternoon by a score of 7-2. Cooper and Pratt of Zeta Psi, two tall, active fencers, swept through the opposition with three victories each and no losses. Dike and Todd of Sigma Phi Sigma each succeeded in winning one bout. Valk scored the seventh point for Zeta Psi. A large crowd was present to watch the fencing.

Lineup:

Sigma Phi Sigma	W. L.
Dike	1 2
Todd	1 2
Brunjes	0 1
Walfred (sub.)	0 2

Zeta Psi	W. L.
Valk	1 2
Cooper	3 0
Pratt	3 0

Sports Staff Notice

An important meeting of the Daily Tar Heel sports staff will be held in the Tar Heel office at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Complete rearrangements of beats is made necessary by the withdrawal of several reporters from the staff. This necessitates the attendance of every member of the sports staff. This will be the last meeting of the staff until after the holidays. Reporters not attending this meeting will be dropped from the staff.

Duke Loses 31-24

Atlanta, Ga., March 4.—The University of Alabama defeated Duke University here tonight by the score of 31-24, thereby winning the Southern Conference basketball title. Alabama held the lead throughout the game.

INTEREST SHOWN IN INDOOR MEET

Enthusiasm Has Become Widespread Over South; Track Luminaries To Compete.

Widespread interest all over the south is being evidenced in connection with the coming indoor track meet, to be held in the Tin Can Saturday, March 8. The project has grown from the stage of an invitation meet into an accredited southern conference indoor track event, which compares with the basketball tournament in Atlanta, the boxing tournament in Charlottesville, and the wrestling tournament at V. M. I.

This will be the first meet of the kind ever held at the University. Unusually long straight-aways will aid the three hundred contestants in their attempts to lower southern intercollegiate time records. Saw dust pits for the pole-vaulters and high-jumpers complete the equipment which reproduce as nearly as possible the favorable conditions of an outdoor meet.

In addition to the ten colleges and universities entered in the intercollegiate events, there will be a large number of athletes from high schools and preparatory schools of both North Carolina and Virginia.

Several stars are attracting the focus of public attention upon their respective events. Hamm, of Georgia Tech, holder of the world record in the broad jump, and also holder of the southern intercollegiate record for the 220-yard dash, is the individual star of the meet.

Among the freshman entries, Lauck of Virginia and Jensen of North Carolina are expected to provide one of the most interesting races in their three-quarter mile contest, having finished first and second respectively in this event at the Virginia indoor meet.

Officials include J. V. Mulligan, a nationally known starter; W. A. Alexander, head football coach at Georgia Tech, as referee; and other notable figures in southern athletics. The University loud-speaker with a special announcer will enable the spectators to follow more easily the different events.

Coaches Shifting Football Players

The Tar Heel football coaches, looking at the 1930 season, have begun already to convert men from one position to another. Major changes so far are the shifting of Hodges and Redding, freshman centers, to tackle, where both men have been showing well, and shifting of Davis from guard to end, where the fast youngster has shown real class. All three men will be seen in Saturday's final winter battle here between the Rookies and Monograms.

Dr. Prouty Returns

Dr. W. F. Prouty of the Geological department here has just returned from a three day trip to the Conoway Dam region in Pennsylvania. While there he inspected some mineral deposits in that vicinity.

In the Readers' Opinions column of this paper is a letter replying to our column in the Thursday issue. The letter is signed by a gentleman calling himself "Carolina" and we believe that it calls for reply.

In the first place, we beg to assure the gentleman that our statement of the existing situation between football and the winter sports is correct. We have no desire to misrepresent the facts involved, nor have we any possible reason for doing so.

In the second place, this question is not only one of concern to the coaches—it is a matter that every student has a right to know about and to take interest in. As a student in this University and as an individual interested in the development of every sport at Carolina, we feel that, in presenting the facts to the student body, we are absolutely within our rights.

If "Carolina" will read the Thursday column he will see that, while we admitted that football is Carolina's most important sport, we emphatically denied that its importance was so great that the other sports must give way before it. We do not think that any Carolina team is so unimportant that those who wish to participate in it may be denied the right on account of the desires of another man.

The next criticism made by the author of the letter is that as far as he knows, there is no very good football player on either the basketball or wrestling team. He wishes to know why the coach should wish to bother with them. Presumably, it is because he is interested only in the development of the football team, no matter if it is at the expense of the winter sports. And, as for the good football players, which Mr. Carolina knows nothing about, we beg to point out that the wrestling team lost its best heavyweight to the football team, and that in addition to being a good wrestler, Mr. Thompson is a good football player.

In closing his letter "Carolina" accuses us of getting all hot and bothered over something that doesn't amount to much. Again we beg to differ with the gentleman and assure him that, in our opinion, this thing amounts to a great deal. We maintain that every Carolina sport is important and that no coach has the right to hurt the success of somebody else's team by robbing him of his material. And that is what it amounts to when a man is coerced from one team to another, in spite of the fact that the latter is no longer in season. We are not denying the right of the football coach to hold winter practice. We are only denying his right to inveigle those men who are useful in some other sport into taking part in it. As far as the other football players are concerned we say "go ahead."

The only way that Carolina is ever going to amount to anything in the field of sports as a whole is not by the development of one team, but by the development of the teams in every field. The only way that these teams can be properly developed is by the cooperation of all the coaches. And this column is interested in obtaining that cooperation chiefly because we want to see Carolina well represented in every sport, rather than in one, and because we want to see every team get at least an even break in the distribution of material.

CHARLOTTE AND DURHAM TO MEET IN TITLE CLASH

High Schools Meet Tonight In Tin Can For Class A State Championship; Spencer-Trenton Meet For Class B Title Follows.

Two undefeated quints, Charlotte high representing the West, and Durham high carrying the Eastern colors, will meet here tonight for the class A basketball title of North Carolina. The feature battle is to be played in the Tin Can at 8 o'clock.

It will be the first half of a doubleheader, which will also include a battle between Trenton, Eastern winners, and Spencer from the West, for the North Carolina class B title, to begin at 9 o'clock.

Charlotte high, led by Aitken and McCrachen, ended a straight line of 12 victories in the Western conference, with Saturday night's 17-13 win from Asheville high. Asheville, finishing with 10 wins to 2 losses, had defeated every team in the West but Charlotte, and led the Wildcats 11-10 at the third turn, but could not match Charlotte's great final quarter comeback.

Durham High, led by the big football star and forward Edwards, and by Holloway, a guard and former captain, showed great power in winning the Eastern title from Raleigh, 20-12.

In the class B race, Trenton took a nip and tuck 27-22 game from Lumberton for the honor of representing the East, while Spencer defeated Welcome in Salisbury last night for the Western title.

An interesting sidelight of the battle will be that Durham high teams have won the state title in 1916, 1918, 1925, 1926, and 1927, while Charlotte high teams have been several times in the finals but have not won a title.

The probable lineup: Charlotte High Durham High Aitken Tilley Bell Edwards Alexander Harris Villas Holloway McCachren Hockfield

Golf Notice

Coach Kenfield requests a meeting of all student golfers in the Emerson stadium during chapel period this morning.

Co-Eds Play Last Game Here Tonight

The battling Carolina Co-eds play their last home game of the season in Bynum gymnasium tonight at 7:30 o'clock, meeting Cobb Memorial high school.

The game will be a return engagement between the two teams and the co-eds will be hoping to avenge a previous 32-11 loss to the Cobb team.

The visiting team, which is coached by Miss Mary Blackwell, is one of the outstanding sextets of central North Carolina.

The Cobb tossers, champions of their county for eight consecutive years, have won 15 of 17 games this season, and scored 576 points to all opponents' 305.

Neighbors and L. Gatewood, forwards; T. Gatewood, center, and Millner, guard, are playing their fourth year together and will probably start for Cobb, with Sykes and Jones as the other guards.

Louise Thacker, who scored 17 points in the last game, will be at center for the co-eds, with Lee and Johnson, forwards, and Currie, Curry and Hill, guards.

Betas Defeat Ruffin

Beta Theta Pi No. 1 and Ruffin, two hitherto undefeated teams, met in a fencing bout yesterday afternoon with the Betas coming out on top after a hectic and well fought match. The fencing of both teams was far better than that displayed in their first matches. Fenker of Beta Theta Pi showed up best, winning two bouts and allowing Potter to complete his last match. Silver and Aycock of Ruffin and Brown of the Betas all showed a fine brand of fencing, each winning two and losing one.

ALL-UNIVERSITY TEAM PICKED BY DAILY TAR HEEL

Men Selected Solely On Merit Of Playing Exhibited During Winter Football Games.

Following up its policy of selecting all-state, all-intramural, and all-everything teams, the Daily Tar Heel announces its selections for the all-University winter football team. It is to be plainly understood that these positions are filled without regard to any past performances of the players, but are chosen solely on the merit of the playing exhibited in the winter practice games. The number of games participated in is taken into consideration in making the choices, and a player who has played a consistently good game during the entire series of scrimmages is given preference over the man who pulls a brilliant performance in one or two games and is mediocre in the others.

"Georgia," the eleven which finished the winter practice schedule without a loss, placed the number of men on the all-University teams, with four on the first team and three on the second. "Virginia," which did not function as well as a team and finished last in the winter football race, came next with
