

Campus Nominations Will Be Held In Gerrard Today

First Day Of Balloting Shows Non-Drinkers Favor Repeal Or Modification Of Dry Law

Less Than Sixth Voting So Far Indicate That They Use Intoxicants; Editor Urges Students To Participate In Poll

CLOSES WEDNESDAY NOON

Sentiment in regard to the prohibition law on the campus following the first day's balloting favors either modification or repeal of the 18th amendment with a majority of those voting the first day voting as total abstainers. The voting yesterday was light; however, the Tar Heel is expecting a heavier vote today and tomorrow. The balloting closes Wednesday afternoon. All students are urged by Glenn Holder, editor of the Tar Heel, to vote.

In the balloting yesterday less than a sixth of the voters expressed themselves as being in favor of enforcement of the prohibition laws. Despite the fact that the non-drinkers numbered more than half of the voters a majority of those favored repeal of the 18th amendment.

The repealers and the non-drinkers numbered exactly the same, while practically all of those voting as occasional drinkers favored modification of the laws.

Until Wednesday afternoon a ballot box will be maintained in the Y lobby for the voters. The three questions are whether the voter does not drink, drinks occasionally or does not drink at all; while the voting on the 18th amendment is the same as that in the Literary Digest; i. e., enforcement, modification or repeal of the 18th amendment. Ballots will be printed in today's and tomorrow's issues of the Tar Heel.

The local student branch of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers is composed of a group of chemical engineering students who have become affiliated with the national organization. The group meets twice a month, once for business and once for the presentation of a program. During the spring quarter the institute hopes to be able to have several prominent chemical engineers address them at their meetings.

All chemical engineering students are eligible for membership in the institute, and the officers of the local branch request that all students taking this course attend the meeting this evening.

The question of disarmament is an important one in national and international affairs at the present time, and one which has been debated very extensively of late. ### THREE NUMBERS ON SPRING CARD

Entertainment Committee Completes Program for Quarter; Helen Pugh Here on April 7.

The Student Entertainment Program for this year has three more numbers, the recitals by Helen Pugh, on April 7, and the Cincinnati Chamber Orchestra, on May 10, respectively, and the series of lectures to be given by Lorado Taft, on May 19, 20, and 21.

Helen Pugh is a young musical genius of this state. Since babyhood her talent has been recognized by great musicians such as Walter Damrosch and Saph Hofman. It is only recently, however, that she has begun to appear regularly before the public. At every appearance she has received unusually favorable press notices, considering her youth. Miss Pugh lives in Asheville and has received the greater part of her training in that town.

The second program for the quarter will be given by the Cincinnati Chamber Orchestra. This group of musicians under the direction of Walter Herrmann, is recognized to be one of the best orchestras in America. They have had numerous engagements all over the country.

Lorado Taft, who will give three lectures on the evenings of May 19, 20, and 21, is one of the great sculptors of the day. He is an easy and fluent speaker who never fails to interest his audiences. His lectures are interesting as well as educational.

Mr. Taft has been connected with the Art Institute of Chicago for 35 years. He holds the title of Professional Lecturer on the History of Art at the University of Chicago, and is a non-resident professor of art at the University of Illinois. In addition, he is a member of the National Academy of Design, and of the American Academy of Arts and Letters.

The best known of Mr. Taft's works are "The Solitude of the Soul," located in the Art Institute of Chicago, "The Blind," which was inspired by Maeterlinck's drama by that name, and "The Fountain of the Great Lakes," which is in Grant Park in Chicago.

Mr. Taft has written two books, "The History of American Sculpture," published in 1904, and "Modern Tendencies in Sculpture," which came out in 1924.

Three Grail Dances

Treasurer "Red" Greene Announces Inauguration of New Ticket System.

In keeping with its usual policy in the past, the Order of the Grail will give three dances during the spring quarter. The dates for these entertainments have been set for April 12, April 26, and May 17. Since several other organizations are entertaining on these same week-ends, it appears that the spring quarter will again be the outstanding social season of the academic year.

"Red" Greene, treasurer of the Grail, has announced that a new system of selling tickets will be inaugurated on the occasion of the first of this series. A desk for ticket sales will be placed in the lobby of the "Y" on the Friday preceding the dances. Tickets may be purchased there anytime during the day. This system will do away with the unpleasant necessity of standing in line for tickets at the rear of the gymnasium before every dance.

Fires Extinguished

The Chapel Hill fire department was called out at 8:05 Monday morning to extinguish a fire at the home of Mrs. S. M. Pickard on McAuley street. The blaze was extinguished with destruction of but a few shingles on the roof.
