

FLOWER SHOW IS GIVEN BY WOMAN'S CLUB IN TIN CAN

Brilliant and Elaborate Display Of Spring Flowers Is Put On By Ladies.

PRIZES ARE AWARDED

Many persons from this village and also from out of town attended the flower show put on by the Woman's Club yesterday in the Tin Can. Much interest was shown in this annual occasion, and generous contributions were made. Special prizes were given by various business concerns of the town and also from outside.

Along the sides of the Can the cut flowers were arranged in beautiful display. The seats of the Can served as a system of benches affording an unobstructed view of the flowers. Among the flowers in these exhibits were porch boxes of ferns, window boxes and vases containing all colors and species of anemone, cowslip, ragged robin, pyrethrum, violets, valeriana, tulips, primrose, pansies, phlox, poppies, verbena, and many others.

On the opposite side of the building were displayed bush and climbing roses, weigela, narcissus, lupin, sweet william, ferns and cactus. Near the rear on both sides were floor landscapes made very realistic by artificial lakes and stone walls.

At the extreme back a formal garden was erected with stone birdbaths and flower pots made from stone by hand. The furnishings for this garden were furnished by local and out-of-town firms.

The center of the hall contained plants from the University department of botany. The most of these were tropical plants, such as the rubber plant of India, crown of thorns from Madagascar, palms, cactus, coconuts, tangerine, banana and others.

A part of the space was taken up by exhibits of luncheon and formal dinner sets. These were decorated with colored candles and flowers to match the different colored candles.

On the walls were hung living flowers in picture frames to give the effect of still life pictures.

A special feature of the exhibit was a collection of antiques and restorations by the buildings department. This was composed of old relics of furniture repaired and made over by the buildings department. The old pieces were gathered from various homes in Chapel Hill.

Another interesting feature was the table landscapes arranged by different persons in the vicinity. The midget golf company contributed a very realistic reproduction of a lake in the depths of a thick forest. Dr. W. C. Coker gave two displays of homes and gardens, and the Kiwanis club also contributed a table landscape. Of several from the Chapel Hill grammar school the most interesting was a conception of the Zinderneuf Fort as described in Beau Geste.

Arrested for Theft

Joe Strowd was arrested very early Tuesday morning at his home. This colored person had been under suspicion of stealing for quite some time, but no arrest had been made.

Seniors To Meet

The final smoker of the senior class will be a banquet sponsored by members of the executive committee and the class president in Swain hall at 9:00 o'clock Monday night.

Such business as final arrangements for the senior dance, which will be held May 16, the selection of senior regalia, and plans for commencement will be transacted.

The speaker has not been definitely selected.

"RED" GREENE, President.

THREE FINES FOR TEN ROUNDS OF CHICKEN FIGHTING

Recorder's Court Listens To Usual Number of Volstead Cases.

A ten-round feature bout on an excellent card of chicken fights was unceremoniously interrupted Easter Monday when officers snapped handcuffs on the wrists of J. L. Poole, H. L. Weaver and E. F. Killian, all white, and promoters of the show. Poole and Killian were fined $5 dollars each for fostering feathered-fowl fights, and Weaver was $10 poorer when he walked out of the court room.

Steadman Adkins failed to direct his car down the street in the shortest distance between two points, and was consequently arrested for driving while under the influence of whiskey. Adkins was unable to appear in court, however, due to the fact that he was crowned on the head with a rock thrown by one Horace Jones. The case was postponed.

The sensitive noses of officers Blake and Wright detected an intoxicating odor issuing from the hip-pocket of Elmo Taylor. Taylor was invited to attend court session next Monday.

Charles Farrington, Eugene Cotton and McKenley Stone celebrated the commencement exercises of a public school with possession of whiskey, public drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Their three-fold dissipation resulted in suspended sentences and a bill for one-third of the court costs.

Joe Black is serving six months on the roads merely because inquisitive policemen found six pints of Orange county corn in his overcoat pocket.

W. G. Fields convinced the judge that he was not guilty of giving a worthless check to the Model Market.

Lewis Austin, colored, starting out on an early career at a watch racketeer, was apprehended for swiping a timepiece from Floyd Austin. As Lewis is only 15 years of age, he was ordered to appear in juvenile court Monday. His charge is more serious now, as the watch has stopped running since the theft.

Honor Candidates

According to an announcement by the registrar, the following students are the ranking candidates for election to Phi Beta Kappa with their scholastic averages: J. C. Eagles 97.29; T. H. Barker, Jr., 96.69; H. C. Thomas, 96.57; R. A. Parsley, 95.90; C. P. Hayes, 95.52; Sarah Faulkner, 95.50; and W. C. Dunn, 95.12.

Dances Attracting Beautiful Young Women

The bevy of beauties pictured above are representative of the numerous members of the fair sex who will invade Chapel Hill during the week-end to participate in a set of three dances, which promise to surpass in glamour all previous social activities of the quarter.

FACULTY TO GIVE DRAMA TONIGHT

"Thorns and Orange Blossoms" Is Romantic Conception Of Life.

Under the direction of Wilbur Daniel Steele and Paul Green, a group of University faculty members and townspeople will give a benefit performance of Bertha M. Clay's celebrated melodrama of the 1880's, "Thorns and Orange Blossoms," in the Playmaker theatre tonight and tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

Howard Mumford Jones, whose portrayal of Joe Morgan, the drunkard, in "Ten Nights in a Bar-Room," stands as one of the greatest triumphs in the history of the drama in Chapel Hill, will have the role of the villainous Carstone.

The troupe organized by Green and Steele is called "The Imperial Stock Company."

Music and novelties—ranging from "Over the Waves Waltz" and "Home Sweet Home" down to "Four Little Blackberries" and "Don't Swat Yer Mother, It's Mean"—will be given between acts and will add much to the sentimentality.

The production of this play in Chapel Hill is similar to what is being done by Christopher Morley in Hoboken, N. J., where he has been presenting "The Black Crook," and other plays, and also to what is being done in London. "Thorns and Orange Blossoms" is a very sophisticated melodrama of the English nobility of the 1880's, and was very popular at that time.

Those in the cast include Howard Mumford Jones, Harry K. Russell, W. D. MacMillan, Cornelia Love, R. B. House, Frances Stratton, Russell Potter, George McKie, W. A. Olsen and Jesse McCoy.

DEBATING TEAM GOES TO BOSTON

The University debating team leaves today for Boston for the contest with Boston University on Sunday. Those who will represent Sunday. Representing Carolina are J. M. Bailey, G. P. Carr and John Wilkinson. The Tar Heel debaters will uphold the negative side of the question, "Resolved, That the nations of the world should adopt some plan of complete disarmament of all forces, except those which are needed for police purposes." This will be a return debate with the Boston University team they having been entertained here on April 19. At that time our debaters supported the affirmative side of the disarmament question and won. It was a very hotly contested debate and the first that the Boston forensic artists lost this year.

PARKER HONORED BY KAPPA ALPHA

Junius Parker, an alumnus of the University and of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity, was entertained by the local chapter at an informal luncheon at the Carolina Inn Wednesday.

In addition to the guest of honor, the following were present: Dr. E. W. Knight, professor of Education, J. de R. Hamilton, Jr., president of the local chapter, William Lindsay, Arthur Little, Jack Ward, Frank Howell, Billy Trotter, Gene Wells, Steve Millender, Ed Mann, Hugh Lobdell, Bill Taylor, Alfred Hamilton, Bill Oliver, Henry Redding, Wriston Carpenter, John Herbert, Sam Peace, Sam Cromartie. Mr. Parker spoke briefly of the days when he was a student at Carolina, comparing collegiate life of 1889 with that of the present day.

GOLDEN FLEECE TO TAP TUESDAY

Ten Men To Be Honored at Solemn Ceremony in Methodist Church.

The speaker for the annual tapping ceremonies of the Order of the Golden Fleece will be Dr. Harry Woodburn Chase, president of the University, according to an announcement by Fleece officials.

The tapping is set for Tuesday, May 6th, and will take place in the Methodist church, which it is hoped will be large enough to accommodate the crowds which annually turn out for the affair.

President Chase's Fleece address will be one of his last appearances as head of the University. This fact, added to the interest of the campus in the selection of men for membership in the Order, and the picturesque character of the ceremony, will make the tapping this year one of the most interesting in the history of the Fleece.

The speaker last year was Governor O. Max Gardner. At the conclusion of his address, Governor Gardner was tapped for membership in the Order. President Chase is himself an honorary member of the Golden Fleece.

Following a period of intense interest and speculation last year ten men were picked. These men were tapped in Memorial hall by gowned and hooded figures who stalked up and down the aisles, suddenly pouncing one by one upon the men selected. The active members of the order, assisted by the Fleece men tapped in other years who are still on the campus, will make the selection of men to be elected this year.

MAY FROLIC OF SIX FRATS WILL BEGIN TONIGHT

Three Dances Will Be Given Tonight To Start Off Colorful Week-End.

"13" CLUB TO GIVE FORMAL

Three dances are to feature the dance program for tonight, the first night of a big week-end of dances. The three dances are the "13" club dance at the Carolina Inn from 6 to 9, the first dance of the May Frolics in the Bynum gymnasium from 9 to 1, and the annual spring dance of the local Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity at the Washington Duke hotel from 10 to 2.

The first dance of the May Frolic, which is being staged by six of the fraternities on the Hill, will probably be the main number on the program. Each of the six fraternities have invited from 20 to 30 girls to the dances, and a large crowd is expected by the committee.

This first May Frolic dance is to be given in the Bynum gymnasium, and the music for the occasion is to be rendered by the Florida Rhythm Ramblers. This orchestra is composed of negroes and is returning from a winter's engagement at the Tampa Yacht Club.

The gymnasium will be decorated as a seaside cabaret in a foreign port. The orchestra will be dressed in sailor costumes and will play from the end of a weather-beaten wharf, while the walls of the hall are to be covered with oriental trophies.

Art Sickles, representing the Sigma Chi fraternity, is chairman of the dance committee, and is assisted by representatives from the five other fraternities giving the dance. The entire committee is composed of Marion Follin, Beta Theta Pi; Moseley Fonville, Phi Delta Theta; Dail Holderness, D. K. E.; Willis Henderson, Sigma Nu; Charles Lee Smith, Zeta Psi; and Art Sickles, Sigma Chi, chairman.

Another dance which will be given tonight is the Sigma Phi Sigma dance in the Washington Duke hotel from 10 to 2. Preceding this dance there will be a banquet given by Carl Griggs, adopted son of President and Mrs. Chase, to the Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity.

Music for this dance will be played by Jelly Leftwich and his orchestra.

The third dance of the afternoon is to be a twilight dance staged at the Carolina Inn by the local "13" club. This dance is to be given from 6 to 9 o'clock and will be strictly formal.

As has been customary in the past, this dance is to be given by the newly elected members of the club. It is to be the first social affair given by the club this year. Alex Mendenhall and his Carolina Tar Heels are to render music for the occasion.

Chauncey Royster, chairman of the "13" dance committee, says that numerous bids have been mailed out and a large number of girls is expected for the occasion. Other members on the committee are: Bert Haywood, president of the club, and Tom Shelton, secretary and treasurer.

The newly-elected members of the "13" club in whose honor the dance is being given are: Bill Draper, Beta Theta Pi; Ted
