

FOUR DANCES TO MAKE UP WEEK'S SOCIAL SCHEDULE

Juniors and Seniors To Stage Annual Affairs Tonight; Sigma Zeta and Grail Dances Tomorrow.

RUSS BOLIN TO PLAY

The first two dances of a full week-end of dances will be staged tonight by the juniors and seniors. A tea dance given by the juniors is to open the dance program at 6 o'clock in Bynum gymnasium. Russ Bolin and his Cotton Pickers, who will render the music for all the remainder of the dances this week-end, will also play for this dance.

Henry House, Herb Nelson and Jack Lindley will lead this dance, while the committee in charge will be composed of Artie Marpet, chairman, Will Yarborough, Tom Craig, Mayne Albright and Pat Patterson.

It is the plan of the dance committee that all students other than juniors who bring dates to the dance will be admitted free of charge. Stags, however, from any of these other classes will not be admitted.

Immediately following the juniors' dance, there will be a dance staged by the seniors from 9 to 1 in the gym. This dance, which is the first one given by this class this year, is to be a formal affair. Leaders for the senior dance will be Red Greene, Julian Fenner and Bob Merritt.

Other dances over the week-end will be a tea dance given by the Sigma Zeta local fraternity at the Carolina Inn on Saturday afternoon from 6 to 9. Following the fraternity dance, the last Order of the Grail dance is to be staged in Bynum gymnasium from 9 to 12. The regular admission fees are to be charged at this dance. Music is to be furnished by Russ Bolin and his Cotton Pickers.

Band To Give Second Benefit Show Sunday

There will be a benefit show at the Carolina Theatre Sunday afternoon for the University band. The program will begin at 2:30 o'clock, when the band will play a forty-five minute program. This will be followed with a picture, the title of which will be announced later in the Daily Tar Heel.

About a month ago the Carolina Theatre consented to put on a benefit show for the band. This performance was necessitated because the band needed financial support. About nine hundred people, mostly students, were present at this show, and the offering amounted to about $65. As this amount has not covered the need of this organization, it has been found necessary to ask the aid of the students and townspeople.

The band has given many concerts over the state during the year, and the expenses have been so great that additional help is needed from the outside.

ALPHA PSI DELTA HOLDS INITIATION

Meeting Held Wednesday In New West; 28 Members Attend.

The annual spring initiation of the Gamma chapter of Alpha Psi Delta, national psychological fraternity, was held Wednesday evening, May 14, in New West. The meeting was well attended, 28 members being present. The following were initiated: Mrs. L. M. Brooks, Dr. J. M. Valentine, G. A. Metz and J. W. Eaton.

The present officers of the local chapter are G. B. Dimmick, president; R. E. Hamill, vice-president; and H. N. DeWick, secretary-treasurer.

On the program for the evening was a talk by Dr. H. W. Crane, who has just returned from the meeting of the international congress on mental hygiene held in Washington, D. C. Dr. Crane spoke on impressions which he received at the convention.

After discussing the general nature of the congress, Dr. Crane brought out the fact that the leaders of the mental hygiene movement are psychiatrists who pay little, if any, attention to the vast amount of psychological data which should be of great value to them in this field. He noted that 123 of the formal papers presented at the Congress were delivered by medical men, while only 12 were presented by psychologists.

In a paper on "The Objective Character of Legal Intent" Dr. J. F. Dashiell, the second speaker on the program, brought out that in court cases where the "intention" of the accused must be established, the subjective aspect of the problem must be neglected since only the accused can introspect.

Following the initiation and program a banquet was served by a committee composed of H. N. DeWick, R. E. Hamill, and H. W. Crane. The tables and room were decorated in purple and gray, the fraternity colors.

GRAHAM SPEAKS AT INITIATION OF PHI BETA KAPPA

Compares Past and Present Attitudes Of Scholarship; 39 Candidates Received.

The annual initiation of the Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity, was held last night in the Episcopal parish house. Preceding the private ceremony, Professor Frank Graham of the history department gave an inspiring address in Gerrard hall to the members-elect and to the general public.

Gordon Gray, president of the organization, spoke briefly on the founding and purposes of Phi Beta Kappa. He then introduced Professor Graham, who opened his address by comparing the present attitude of scholarship with that of the old. "What is the value of scholarship?" asked Mr. Graham. "President Lowell of Harvard answered this by saying that practically all the people listed in Who's Who in America were noted for scholarship. The Presidents of the Bell Telephone Company and the General Electric Company found scholarship and a successful business career had a close correlation.

"The old tendency was to be ashamed to study, but that day has now passed. Scholarship goes hand in hand with other activities. Former graduates of the University who have achieved great distinction in later life came to college with the earnest attempt to study, and carefully regulated their time so as to achieve this end. Consistency in mastering one's studies usually reaps reward in our later careers. The buildings on this campus are primarily here for the attainment of scholarship.

"The main purpose of scholarship is not for personal glory but to give one a chance to give back to the world what he has drawn from it. There is a challenge to the men of Phi Beta Kappa to be the leaders of scholarship in the south, and the defenders of tolerance and independence."

Immediately following the address, Dr. T. J. Wilson, Jr., University registrar, read out a list of the new initiates in the order of their scholastic attainments, the candidates coming forward.

After the private initiation at the parish house, refreshments were served for the old and new members.

The following were initiated: Marion Romaine Alexander, Asheville; Thomas Hays Barker, Jr., Leakesville; Sterling Archie Barrett, Fayetteville; Clay Covington Bell, Rockingham; Robert Foster Dewey, Chicago, Ill.; Thomas Basil Douglas, High Point; William Dunn, Jr., New Bern; William Clyde Dunn, Kinston; Joseph Colin Eagles, Wilson; Sara Gilmore Falkener, Chapel Hill; Cleo Wade Goldston, Goldston; John Cameron Grainger, Wilmington; June Uriah Gunter, Jr., Sanford; Charles Patton Hayes, Asheville; Matthew George Henry, Chapel Hill; Frank Allen Jones, Cofield; Wallace Hamilton Kuralt, Springfield, Mass.; John Van Lindley, Greensboro; James Millard Little, Jr., Winston-Salem; Lawrence Fourshee London, Pittsboro;

HIGHS CLASH IN DIAMOND FINALS

Shelby Represents Western Division For Fourth Time While Hamlet Makes Initial Bid For State Title.

Shelby and Hamlet high schools clash on Emerson field here this afternoon at 3 o'clock for the 1930 high school championship of the state.

Shelby won its fourth western championship and the right to play in the finals by defeating Mount Airy 5-3. Hamlet triumphed over Morehead City 9-5 on Tuesday after Monday's game between the two teams had run 13 innings to a 1-1 tie.

The western and eastern champions to clash for the title this year are regarded as two of the strongest teams ever to come through the field and to the finals, and prospects are for a great contest that will be witnessed by a record crowd, including large delegations from both Hamlet and Shelby.

Shelby has won the title three times before, in 1924, 1925 and 1929, and has never come to the finals without taking the championship cup back to the west. Hamlet has been a strong contender for several seasons but has never reached the finals before.

ACTIVITIES MEN TO DECIDE FATE DAILY TAR HEEL

Committee Will Meet Tuesday At Banquet; Invitations To Be Mailed Persons Expected.

The student activities committee is to hold its first meeting in more than a year at a banquet to be served at the Carolina Inn next Tuesday at 6:30 o'clock.

The principal question to be discussed is the advisability and method of continuing the Daily Tar Heel. Any other propitious matters may be brought before the group.

The student activities committee has not met since January 20, 1929. At that time the question as to whether the student paper should become a daily was discussed. The committee drew up four plans to combine the Tar Heel and the Magazine and submitted them to the student body which endorsed the plan by an overwhelming majority.

The meeting Tuesday will be the first over which "Red" Greene will preside. The committee is of a flexible nature, its members being determined by the president of the student body. The current editors of the various publications, the student government officials, deans of the various colleges in the University, and other prominent campus officials are eligible to serve on the committee. "Red" Greene will send out invitations today.

Lorado Taft To Speak On Art Here Next Week

THREE LECTURES

Noted Character To Discuss Ancient and Contemporary Art.

HAS INTERESTING CAREER

Known As An Entertaining And Educative Lecturer; Talks To Be Illustrated.

Lorado Taft, noted sculptor, artist and author, will appear in the Methodist church three evenings next week, delivering a series of lectures on ancient and contemporary art. On Monday, May 19, he will choose for his subject "Classic Art." Tuesday it will be "Sculpture of the Renaissance." And as his final topic on Wednesday, he will talk on "Modern Sculpture."

Mr. Taft holds a high position in American and European art circles. For 35 years he has been connected with the Art Institute of Chicago. At the University of Chicago he has attained the honorary title of professor lecturer on the history of art. Also, he is a non-resident professor at the University of Illinois.

Prominent in all forms of artistic activity, he is a member of the National Academy of design, of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, and honorary member of the American Institute of Architects, and is one of the board of art advisors for the state of Illinois. Twice he has won national art awards, once at the Buffalo Exposition in 1901, and again at the St. Louis Exposition in 1904.

Born in the little midwestern town of Elmwood, Ill., in 1860, he began to display his artistic tendency at an early age by writing short stories and illustrating them himself. His desire to be a sculptor was first born in him at the age of 13, when he was permitted to assist a Belgian sculptor repair a set of damaged casts at the University of Illinois, of which institution he was later a graduate. Fascinated by the process of fitting the pieces together like a jig-saw puzzle, he determined to try his skill at modeling in clay. For this hobby he developed a great amount of enthusiasm and continued it throughout his college career.

After graduating from the regular curriculum at the University, the young artist decided to continue his study at the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris, where he enrolled as an independent student for five years. Returning to America, he opened up a studio in Chicago in 1886; there he has remained up to the present time.
