

Students About To Lose Class Privileges

DUKE PROFESSOR TO TELL OF TOUR THROUGH RUSSIA

Professor Hoover Gained First-Hand Knowledge of Conditions During a 10,000-Mile Travel.

The department of economics and commerce announces a lecture on Russia, tomorrow night by Professor Calvin B. Hoover, of the department of economics of Duke University.

Professor Hoover spent nine months in Russia under a special grant made by the Social Science Research Council. Before he went he took the trouble of learning the Russian language, so he was not only independent of interpreters, but also had access to data and official reports other than those published for propaganda purposes. Professor Hoover modestly disclaims having traveled "all over Russia," but his 10,000-mile travels took him from the arctic circle to the Trans-Siberian railway along the border of China. Since returning, Professor Hoover has contributed several articles to leading magazines, including the Economic Journal and Harpers, and has in press at the present time a book on Russia.

Professor Hoover promised some months ago to visit Chapel Hill for this lecture, but has been unable to find a suitable date heretofore because of speaking engagements at Princeton University. The Foreign Policy Association in New York, the Southern Economic Association in Atlanta, and elsewhere.

He will speak in the auditorium of Bingham hall (room 103).

EVERETT FAVORS SERVICE ROOMS

Students Sign Petition Supporting Retention of Dormitory Stores.

Students in Everett dormitory held a meeting last Monday night in the reception room of the dormitory. Discussion centered on the movement now being pushed by certain outside agencies to abolish all dormitory service rooms. This movement was heartily denounced by everybody present, and a petition was drawn up in which the students of Everett declared their desire for the retention of the dormitory store.

The petition read: "We, the undersigned, do hereby heartily endorse the movement to retain the Dormitory Service Rooms because of: first, the convenience of these Service Rooms to us in handling our laundry, pressing and dry-cleaning, and immediate supplies; second, the elimination of agents disturbing us during study hours.

The following officers were elected: president, A. W. Loving; athletic manager, M. G. Glin; councilmen, Lentz, Shapiro, Cohen, Morris, Roth, and Holder.

Noted Visitor

Miss Louise Pound, one of the most outstanding women professors in the country, was in Chapel Hill recently for a two-day visit with Prof. and Mrs. R. D. W. Connor. Miss Pound is a professor at the Nebraska U.

Noted Musician

IGNAZ PADEREWSKI

Internationally famous pianist and composer who is to appear at Duke University Thursday evening.

PADEREWSKI AT DUKE THURSDAY

Aged Pianist Is Celebrating Seventy-First Year Amid Ovations from Public.

Ignace Paderewski will appear at the Page auditorium at Duke University Thursday evening, January 8, and is expected to attract music lovers throughout the state.

Paderewski, who recently celebrated his seventy-first birthday, will give seventy-five concerts this season. He made his first visit to the United States thirty-nine years ago, and this represents the pianist's seventeenth tour of the United States. His actual debut occurred in 1887 at Vienna. In 1890 London hailed him as "the greatest pianist of the age" and the following year he took America by storm. He has returned here frequently since that time with the exception of the period during which he served his native country, Poland, first as ambassador to the United States and later as premier of Poland.

Paderewski has been accorded unparalleled ovations this season in New York, Boston, Washington, and other of the largest centers to which his engagements have been limited. The concert Thursday night will be the first appearance of the noted artist in this section in three years, and will be one of the few recitals to be given in the south on this tour which is expected to be his final for the United States.

The department of music here has had a block of tickets on sale since the opening of the winter quarter last week. Word has been received at the music department office that no tickets at any price are available in Durham, as the house has been completely sold out there.

All tickets must be purchased before noon Wednesday, at which time any tickets that have not been sold will be returned to Durham.

Former Student Dies

Elsie Grady, of Kenly and formerly a student in the University, died at her home Saturday, December 27. The cause of Miss Grady's death was blood poisoning caused from a boil on her face. She was taken ill on Christmas Eve and was sick only four days.

Miss Grady attended school here last year and the past summer, and was a member of the Chi Omega sorority.

CAROLINA ALMA MATERS

DEAR MOTHER CAROLINA

By Brent S. Drane

Ever in memory's treasure-cell,
Thy bell-tones, singing, dwell
Thrilling in overtones of thy love,
Our hearts, responding, lift and swell
Dear Mother, Carolina.

Strong as the throbbing life that fills
The oaks that crown thy hills,
Rhythm in harmony with thy own
Thy love within our hearts instills,
Dear Mother, Carolina.

Glad is thy spirit, forthright, free;
Thy will not seem, but be
Direct and neighborly, loyal, true,
To faith, our fathers dreamed for thee,
Dear Mother, Carolina.

Flaming since Freedom's dawn, thy light
Has guarded free men's right
New truth through reverent toil to win;
Shown patient, Truth's eternal might,
Dear Mother, Carolina.

To strong lives lightened in thy way
Long years their honor pay,
Grant strength of spirit attuned with thine
To us, thy sons, in this our day,
Dear Mother, Carolina.

FACULTY ACTIVE DURING HOLIDAYS

President Graham Heads List of Members Taking Prominent Part in Various Meetings.

A number of University faculty members attended meetings of American learned societies during the holidays, many of them taking prominent parts on the programs.

President Frank P. Graham addressed a gathering of University alumni in Charleston, S. C., and spoke at a meeting of the New England Society there.

Dr. Howard W. Odum, director of the Institute for Research in Social Science at the University, presided over the meeting of the American Sociological Society at Cleveland, Ohio, of which he is president.

Other members of the faculty attending meetings included Professor R. D. W. Connor, head of the department of history and government, who attended a meeting of the American Historical Association, and Professor H. S. Dyer, head of the music department, who attended a convention of the National Music Teachers Association in St. Louis, Mo.

Attending the meeting of the American Association of Law Schools which was held in Chicago, Ill., during the past week were Dean C. T. McCormick and Professors M. S. Breckenridge and F. B. McCall of the University Law School.

R. B. House, executive secretary of the University, and J. Maryon Saunders, alumni secretary, were the principal speakers at a banquet given by the Alumni Club of Reidsville. Mr. House also addressed a meeting of the alumni in Rocky Mount.

FIRST OF ORGAN SERIES DELAYED

Injury Prevents Performance by Musician from Elon College As Scheduled.

The opening of the guest organ series of concerts, which was scheduled for sometime this week, has been delayed on account of the injury to the artist who was to have performed, Professor C. James Velie, of Elon College. Word was received late last week that Professor Velie's hand had been injured and become infected. This injury necessitates a complete cessation of playing until the hand has healed.

Although there are several capable recitalists in the state who are ready to present concerts on limited notice, it appears best, in view of the performance of Paderewski in Durham on Thursday night, to postpone the event until February, when Professor George M. Thompson of the faculty of N. C. C. W. will perform. Professor Velie will present his guest series program at a date to be announced later.

Professor Nelson O. Kennedy of the music department will play the second of his vespers series on Sunday afternoon, January 18, at 4:45 P. M.

New Specimens

The Botanical department has just received, from the National Museum at Washington, a very valuable gift in the form of a large number of herbarium specimens of ferns.

While the largest number of these ferns are from tropical America, some are from the Northern part of the United States.

A Campus Calendar

Beginning with this issue, the Daily Tar Heel will publish a Campus Calendar—a tabulation of events of interest happening on and off the campus. Incidents relating to the University to which admission is not charged are to appear in this column.

This calendar will be run daily on page four—all announcements for which must be in not later than twelve o'clock the day preceding publication.

Deans Carroll And Hobbs Want To Revoke All Cuts

KOCH GIVES READING OF THE 'CAROL' IN NEW YORK

Frederick H. Koch, director of the Carolina Playmakers, gave two readings of Dickens' Christmas Carol at the Town Hall in New York recently. One of these readings was heard by a man who was present when Dickens read the Carol himself more than sixty years ago.

President Frank Graham of the University, who was in New York to attend a meeting of the University alumni, was present at one of these readings.

ODUM TO DIRECT CHICAGO EXHIBIT

Sociology Professor Selected by Two Committees to Serve as World Fair Executive.

Announcement has just been made that Dr. Howard W. Odum of this University has been appointed Director of Social Science Exhibits in the Century of Progress, World's Fair, to be held at Chicago in 1933.

Among other suggested plans is one providing for a comprehensive social science building alongside the temple of science, in which will be housed the exhibits of the natural sciences, sponsored by the American Association for the Advancement of Science and its committees and directed by Professor Henry Crew, head of the department of Physics at Northwestern University.

There were two committees charged with the selection of a director. One was a special committee appointed by the social science research council and ratified by the Century of Progress administration. This committee was composed of the Secretary of the Interior, Ray Lyman Wilbur; President F. B. Eilson, social science research council; President R. M. Hutchins, University of Chicago; President H. W. Chase, University of Illinois; President H. G. Moulton, of the Brookings Institution; and President Logan Paxon of the University of Wisconsin. The other was a local committee of whom were Dean Charles H. Judd, of the school of education; Professor Harry A. Millis, head of the department of economics; Professor Charles E. Merriam, head of the department of political science; Professor William F. Ogburn, of the department of sociology; Professor Donald Schlesinger, school of law.

It is understood that the acceptance of this position will not take Dr. Odum away from North Carolina except on leaves of absence granted for certain parts of the year, beginning with the winter quarter, 1931.

Dyer Returns From Music Conference

Dr. Harold S. Dyer, of the music department has returned from St. Louis where he was a delegate to the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfony. This organization met concurrently with the Music Teachers National Association and the National Association of Schools of Music, in the Statler Hotel, December 29, 30, 31.

NO CHANGE YET BUT IS EXPECTED

Reactionary Move Begun Last Spring When Privileges Were Curtailed.

The Undergraduate faculty of the University has under advisement the complete and absolute abolishing of whatever optional class attendance the various undergraduate schools now enjoy.

Since the final week of last quarter, the student body has heard rumors of conflicting nature in regard to attendance on classes. Since the opening of the winter quarter last week it has been generally understood that class attendance in both the A. B. school and the commerce school was no longer to be a matter of choice, but upon having "cut" one's classes more than twice one was liable to expulsion from the University. The status quo, however, remains the same as it has been since the undergraduate faculty moved last year to curtail the privileges enjoyed by the members of the junior and senior classes by restricting them only to those juniors and seniors who had made the honor roll for the quarter before.

Dean Carroll, who has been inimical to the system sponsored and fought for by former Dean Addison Hibbard, refused to see a Tar Heel reporter yesterday, but it is understood that he is

UNIVERSITY MEN ATTEND MEETINGS

Professors Present at Sociological and Economic Meets in Cleveland.

At Cleveland, Ohio convened recently two major organizations: The American Sociological Society and the American Economic Association, on December 29th, 30th, and 31st.

The University of North Carolina was well represented at both meetings. Rupert P. Vance, Professor Lee M. Brooks, Professor Roy N. Brown, Dr. Guy B. Johnson, Mr. Waller Wynne, Dr. and Mrs. Hugh P. Brinton, Miss Katharine Jocher, Miss Harriet L. Herring and Dr. Howard W. Odum, who at that time was president, attended the American Sociological Society. The American Economic Association was attended by Professor W. F. Fergar, Dr. Clarence Heer, and Dr. Mills from this University.

All the meetings of the former organization were at the Hotel Hollenden in Cleveland. Programs were devoted to history and trends in sociology, social research, statistics, the teaching of sociology, sociology and social work, the family, educational sociology, sociology or religion, the community, rural sociology, sociological psychiatry.

Headquarters for the latter organization was the Hotel Cleveland. Their meetings were well attended, and the conferences and speeches on the different phases of economics were very successful.
