

WINTER GRIDIRON PRACTICE STARTS NEXT WEDNESDAY

Equipment Will Be Issued From Emerson Field Monday And Tuesday.

Equipment for winter football practice will be issued Monday and Tuesday of next week from the store room at Emerson field and practice will officially start Wednesday afternoon, according to information received from the offices of the department of athletics yesterday afternoon.

Plans are being made to take care of the usually large number of students who answer the call for the winter training. In the past one hundred and more have answered the call, and it is likely that this number will be equalled this year if not exceeded.

Director of athletics, R. A. Fetzer, recently made a statement to the press calling every member of the student body to take part in some form of competitive games, and it is believed that this will prove itself a stimulus to the support that is given athletics in general.

Coach Bill Cerney announced that definite plans for carrying out the winter football program have not as yet been definitely formulated. The officials are waiting to determine the number of men on the squad before settling down to a definite policy.

During the past two winters, the squad has been divided into four squads, and each of these groups has been given the name of one of Carolina's outstanding opponents. Two games were played each week in Kenan Stadium, one on Wednesday and one on Saturday. The team winning the largest percentage of games during this series of contests was given a suitable award.

Attendance at these intrasquad games have been largely attended, and many students are hoping that the coaches will see fit to continue their former policy.

Lengthy drills on the fundamentals of the game will take up most of the first half of the season, and it is likely that great emphasis will be laid on blocking and interference running since this defect was evident in the attack of the Tar Heel football team last fall.

TIGER MATMEN DEFEAT RUTGERS

Princeton, N. J., Jan. 14.—The Princeton wrestlers scored four falls and one time advantage to defeat Rutgers, 23-15, here this afternoon. Rutgers got falls in the 145 and 155-pound classes and a default in the 118.

Capt Colmore, in the 126-pound event, furnished the principal thrill of the meet by defeating Kusanobu with a half-nelson in 3 minutes and 50 seconds.

In the 165, 175 and unlimited events, Rutgers was clearly outclassed. Royster, Billings and Rutherford scored falls in their respective classes to give the Tiger victory.

Editor's Note: The decisive victory of the Princeton team over Rutgers follows the defeat handed them by Carolina's star matmen last Saturday.

Frosh Matmen To Fight Today

Barium Springs Team Comes Here This Afternoon; Exhibition Bouts Carded.

While the varsity is meeting Navy, the freshman grapplers, under the direction of Coach Peyton Abbott, will have their hands full when they battle the strong Barium Springs Orphanage team. Coach Abbott has a likely-looking bunch that is expected to give a good account of itself against a team that has already won over the Davidson Wildkittens and Oak Ridge.

The meet will be held at the Tin Can at four o'clock and will be followed by exhibition bouts between reserves of the two teams. These exhibition bouts, however, will not be counted in the team score.

FRESHMAN FIVE PLAYS TONIGHT

Walkertown High School Scheduled for Game With Tar Heel Yearlings at Eight.

Coach Bo Shephard had his first two teams out in the Tin Can yesterday afternoon for a final workout before their second game of the season which is to be played tonight, against the Walkertown High School. The Tar Babies started their season against Randolph-Macon and they were beaten by a close score. They played this game after only two practices and showed their raggedness. Since that time the squad has gotten over its first awkwardness and a team has been rounded together that should put on a good exhibition of basketball tonight. Coach Shephard has taken over the duties since the departure of Coach Enright for Georgia, and although he intends to stress the fundamentals of the game as most important, he has ordered his men to go out and win ball games.

The first five men, composed of Minor, center; Fisher and Weathers, forwards; Jones and McCachern, have been working together all this week and they run a little smoother every day. Coach Shephard has given them a few plays and these have been practiced over and over again to insure a smooth attack tonight. Jones and McCachern are both two very steady guards. They are aggressive and hard to be fooled. They both will bear watching tonight. Coach Shephard is lucky to have two such dependable men around which to build a team. Weathers and Fisher continue to work well at the forward position. Weathers still displays an unerring ability to ring crisp shots; while Fisher, although he is not as aggressive a player as Weathers, is steady and has a dead eye on shots from the fifteen foot mark. Minor, the lanky center from Charlotte, is improving with practice and should solve the coach's pivot problem without any difficulty.

Students of Montana State College went on a strike for five days because of the new regulation requiring girls to be in their dormitories by eleven o'clock instead of 2:30 as formerly.—Furman Hornet.

The Deke's gathered the same total, but their points came by virtue of their third place in the intramural tag football league and 100 points gathered in the intramural boxing tournament by virtue of Holderness' winning of the welterweight championship. New Dorms finished out the first five with 111 points, gathering eighty-five through its runner-up position in the dormitory tag football race, one point in the intramural cross country race, and twenty-five points gathered in the intramural boxing tournament.

five again this year. The Beta's, winners of the intramural cup last year, led the field with 192.5 points at the end of the fall quarter, seventeen and one-half more points than the total gathered by this year's leading A. Tar Heels Win Bout By 5 To 2

Levinson, Goodridge, Davis, and Jackson Win on Decisions; Warren Gets Forfeit

The Tar Heel boxing team copped the meet from the South Carolina Gamecocks last night by a 5-2 score. The Gamecocks won the featherweight and lighthouseweight fights on decisions, while Levinson, Captain Goodridge, Jackson, and Davis took their fights on decisions. John Warren, heavyweight, won by a forfeit.

A complete story of the bouts will appear in the Sunday morning paper.

GRAPPLERS READY TO MEET MIDDIES

Tar Heel Team Takes Final Workout at Annapolis Preparing for Bouts Today.

Coach Chuck Quinlan's grapplers will face their second opponents of the season today in the strong Navy team at Annapolis, Maryland. The Tar Heels left here after a short practice session Thursday and worked out again at Annapolis yesterday in order to limber up for this afternoon's battle.

Captain Fred Stallings in the 125 pound class and Fred Ferguson in the unlimited division, Carolina's only winners against Navy last year will again be in togs and are being depended on to furnish valuable points.

Mayne Albright and Harry Tsumas, who led the attack against Princeton last week, are again expected to make a creditable showing. With the exception of Percy Idol who has a cold, the team is in much better condition than last Saturday.

WAKE FOREST IS CARDED TO MEET TAR HEEL QUINT

Deacons Come Here Tuesday Night for Game; V. P. I. Vs. Carolina Friday.

The Tar Heel basketball quintet faces only two teams next week, and both of these come to the Tin Can. Wake Forest is carded for a game on Tuesday night, and the V. P. I. Gobblers will meet the Tar Heels Friday. The University Band will be at the game Tuesday night to play before the contest starts as well as during the half. This will be the first appearance of the band this quarter.

Wake Forest up until the present time has not shown any marked strength, having already dropped two games to Big Five teams. Joyner, Earp, Webb, Edwards, Gardner, Captain Mills, and Broughton are the mainstays on the Deacon team, and with much practice, it is likely that they will present a strong aggregation when they visit the Tin Can Tuesday night. Little is known of the strength of the V. P. I. basketball team at present. The Gobblers were of average strength last year, but did not have a leading aggregation.

Since the South Carolina game last week, Coach Ashmore has kept the basketball team busy in trying to iron out the rough spots which appeared in the series of seven games. Scrimmages have been held almost daily, and work on following up shots and foul goals have taken up a large part of the cagers time.

Coach Ashmore seems pleased with the showing of the team so far this season.
