HEEL PRINTS

hard opposition and have to go an extra round. If he learns to land his left with a greater degree of accuracy, he will give many of the best much trouble. Hugh Wilson, as usual, was able to take punishment. He landed several hard and shaking blows, but was unable to follow these up, and as a result lost the bout.

The first real test for the Tar Heel mitmen comes Friday night when the V. M. I. Cadets visit the Tin Can. There will be many stiff workouts this week preparing for these bouts, and some lively exchanging of blows should be seen when these two outfits meet.

THE NAVY SUCCEEDED IN sinking the Carolina matmen, but it was with great difficulty. At no time were the Tar Heels ahead of the Middies, but the bouts were all very close, we have learned. The students will not get an opportunity to see the matmen in action until Saturday, January 31, at which time the varsity and freshmen meet the V. P. I. teams.

THE GEORGIA BULLDOGS seem to be having things their way in conference basketball up to date, having taken six games and lost none. There are many other teams which are not defeated as yet, however. . . . Wallace Wade says that he does not expect to put out a wonder team over at Duke next year, and maybe not for two years. The development of young men is more important than going to Rose Bowl games, the famous coach was heard to say. . . . Tar Heel football fans will soon be going to the stadium to see what Collins and Cerney are doing this winter. Things should be getting lively down there by the middle of next week. . . . Duke seems to have gotten a habit of sinking the navy—football and now a basketball victory to their credit. . . . Nothing has yet developed concerning a successor to Rex Enright. Carolina isn't the only college with coaching problems either. Our brother institution must be going to do without a coach; they are taking a long time in signing one.

NAVY GRAPPLERS TOO STRONG FOR TAR HEEL TEAM

plenty of aggressiveness and fight. This bout was followed by Don Conklin's victory over Sharpe in the 145 pound division. This was another close bout in which the time advantage was slight. However, Conklin had Sharpe very close to a fall when the bout ended.

In the next bout Harry Tsumas lost by a fall to "Murph" Silverstein, Navy's undefeated 155 pounder, in another furious scrap that saw plenty of rough stuff. Both boys went at it hard from the beginning but at the end of three minutes and thirty seconds, Silverstein pinned the Tar Heel's shoulders to the mat with a bar and body hold.

In the 165 pound class bout

Coleman, said to be one of the greatest wrestlers ever at Navy, won by a fall over Percy Idol in five minutes and forty-two seconds. Idol, weakened by a cold which kept him from working out any last week, put up a game scrap, but finally went down before the superior strength of his opponent.

With the meet sewed up for the Navy and Carolina trailing by a score of 19 1-2 to 4 1-2, Marion Cowper and Fred Ferguson set to work to add eight more points to the Carolina total. Cowper won a decision over John Kirkpatrick in the 175 pound class and showed great skill doing it. Kirkpatrick fought in the unlimited class last year and made a good record, but he was no match for the veteran Tar Heel.

In the final match of the day, Fred Ferguson overcame a weight disadvantage of twenty pounds to win by a fall over Kane after nine minutes and twelve seconds of hard fighting. As in the other bouts, both men showed aggressiveness and skill, but Ferguson had the advantage all the way through.

Summary:

118 pound class. Styles (N) won over Usher with a time advantage of 2:15.

126 pound class. Captain Stallings (NC) and Theobald drew, Two extra periods.

135 pound class. Goodman (N) threw Albright with double bar in 7:03.

145 pound class. Conklin won over Sharpe with a time advantage of 2:30.

155 pound class. Silverstein (N) threw Tsumas in 3:30 with bar and body hold.

165 pound class. Coleman (N) threw Idol in 5:42 with bar and body hold.

175 pound class. Cowper (NC) won over Kirkpatrick with a time advantage of 3:46.

Unlimited class, Ferguson (NC) threw Kane in 9:12 with crotch and half nelson.
