The Tar Heels and the Lions will cross gloves at State College, Pennsylvania, February 21. Reports indicate that Penn State has another strong contender for national college honors, and Carolina's season record indicates that the Tar Heels will be out to give the Lions a tough fight.

In the line of records Carolina has beaten South Carolina 5-2, V. M. I. 6-1, V. P. I. 6-1, and Virginia 4-3, while the latter team had previously beaten Florida, Southern champs of 1930, by 5-2. The Tar Heels have one more meet with Duke, scheduled for Durham February 17, but the Dukemen's checkered record for the year makes the Tar Heels favorites to carry a clean slate to Penn State.
