

Unopposed Nominations Elect Six Officers

LAW ASSOCIATION TO PETITION FOR RENOVATED DORM

Lawyers Seek to Convert Carr Building Into Professional Club.

At a special meeting of the Law School Association yesterday during chapel period a petition was circulated which is to be presented to the President and the University administration requesting the setting aside of Carr building for the use and occupancy of the members of the Law School.

Extensive renovations begun on Carr March 15 will continue until about June 15 when the building will again be ready for occupants. The building is undergoing a complete overhauling both externally and internally. The outside of the building is being cleaned and loose bricks are being replaced.

The interior of the building will be changed so that there will be a few more rooms, thirty in all. The plumbing system of the dormitory is being repaired and in some places replaced. New windowpanes and new tiles on the roof are being installed.

It is the purpose of the Law school members to make a sort of club out of the building. J. A. Williams, after having seen the University authorities, passed around two papers. One was the petition asking the officials of the University for permission to use the building exclusively for the men in the Law school, and another paper which was a contract stating that the undersigned agreed to occupy rooms in Carr building if it were made the exclusive residence of the members of the

(Continued on last page)

RUSSELL IS MADE FACULTY MEMBER

Prominent Author Joins English Department as Visiting Lecturer.

Phillips Russell has been made a member of the University faculty in the capacity of a visiting lecturer and teacher in the English department. He is not to carry on regular classes but his meetings will be made in the nature of informal conferences. Practice in composition will be included in his course.

His forbears for several generations have all been connected with this institution in the capacity of professors. Both his great grandfather, James Phillips, and his grandfather, Charles Phillips, were teachers here. He himself graduated from this University in 1904.

Following his graduation he entered the field of newspaper work for a while in Charlotte. He also served on several of the New York newspapers and later was a member of the staff of the London Express. Among his other accomplishments he numbers three biographies, several novels and numerous sketches.

It is hoped that those students who are interested in writing either professionally or merely for its own sake, will attend these conferences. Russell will be glad to encourage and stimulate all such students in their literary endeavors.

Kedroff Quartet

Kedroff Quartet To Be Fifth Of Entertainment Offerings

The Kedroff Quartet composed of the Kedroff Brothers N. N. and C. N., who sing baritone and basso respectively, I. K. Denisoff, first tenor, and T. F. Kasakoff, second tenor will be the performers on the fifth offering of the entertainment committee to be presented in Memorial hall Tuesday night at eight-thirty.

The program will be divided into three parts, the first part to be made up of the songs written by Russian composers. The second group will be composed of Russian folk songs, the third will be art songs, and the fourth and final part will be made up of songs by non-Russian composers.

Of great fame in their native country, having toured Europe many times prior to the World War, and with a brilliant record of a quarter of a century's work as the best exponent of Russian folk and church music, the Quartet left Russia in 1923. Since that time they have toured Germany, Holland, France, Belgium, Switzerland, Spain, Portugal, England, Ireland, and Scotland, and have sung in the presence of King George of England, the Queens of Spain and Belgium, and the President of France.

In May, 1927, in Paris, the Quartet celebrated its 30th anniversary. The decorations which the artists wear on the concert platform are those presented to them by the French government. On January 7, 1928, the Quartet made its American debut and on October 3, 1928, opened its second season appearing in Carnegie hall,

Agitation Against Dorm Stores Dies

The commotion, started when a bill to abolish the dormitory stores, supported by the Chapel Hill merchants, Raleigh merchants, the North Carolina Merchants Association, and the Southern Retail Furniture Association, was presented to the state legislature, has become practically nil at the present.

The matter now rests in the hands of President-elect Frank P. Graham, who will consider and make a report on it. It has been agreed that this question be settled between the store managers and Chapel merchants, and not in the legislature. A recent statement said the feeling between merchants and store managers was friendly at present.

New York. In three seasons before the American public, filling over 190 concert engagements, the Kedroff Quartet has won a triumph which rivals their conquest of the music world of Europe. Their fourth American season will extend from October 20, 1930, to March 25, 1931.

Few nations can claim such wealth and beauty in folk music as Russia, and it was the beauty of this music and the idea of assembling and popularizing these melodies that inspired the organization of the Kedroff Quartet. Professor N. N. Kedroff has spent years in research work and in collecting and harmonizing these treasures of the Slavic race, keeping intact their original style and spirit. The great majority of Russian songs in the extensive repertoire of the quartet are harmonized by this great musician and authority on Russian folk music.

Edward Moore, in reviewing their Chicago debut at Orchestra hall, wrote in The Chicago Tribune, "They call themselves the Kedroff Quartet—only that and nothing more—but they are the most extraordinary four men who ever blended voices in the direction of the audience." And Herman Devries, in The Chicago American, summarized his praise in the following terms: "These men are indescribable. Musicians of the first rank, tone artists, virtuosos of shading, masters of dynamics, creators of charm and atmosphere; simplicity, pathos, delicious humor, the latter aplenty, and always modest, delightfully informal and engaging."

LEWIS AND WOLFE MEET ON VOYAGE

One of the literary minded alumni of the University, Thomas Wolfe, whose first novel, Look Homeward, Angel, achieved a great success, is now finishing his second book. The scene of this book, October Fair, is laid in North Carolina and is to be published by Scribner's, probably next fall.

The novelist had the good fortune to return from Europe on the same boat with Sinclair Lewis. Lewis invited Wolfe to have dinner with him and the two talked over many things, literary and otherwise.

Wolfe has decided to settle down now after bumming around the world for several years. He has hinted vaguely of coming back to this state to live.

VISITING DRAMA STUDENTS ENJOY VARIED PROGRAM

Activities of Second Day of Festival Open With Address by Professor Koch.

Professor Frederick H. Koch opened the morning program of the eighth annual festival of the Carolina Dramatic Association yesterday at ten o'clock with an address on the subject of "Our Local Theatres." Following Professor Koch's address, conferences of directors and students were held for an hour beginning at ten-fifteen. Mrs. T. R. Everett, of Seaboard, spoke on "County Dramatics," and Mrs. Herbert Bluethenthal, of Wilmington, discussed as her topic, "Community and the Theatre." "The Amateur and the Professional Stage," was the subject discussed by W. K. Morgan, of Asheville. "Dramatics from the High School Student's Viewpoint" was the subject upon which delegates from Charlotte, Garner, Fayetteville, and Morganton spoke.

At eleven-fifteen Harry Davis, director of The Town Theatre in Columbia, S. C., delivered an address on "Town and Theatre." The make-up contest was conducted by Samuel Selden at eleven-thirty, and Lynn Riggs, Oklahoma playwright, closed the morning's program with an address in which he spoke of his adventures in playwriting.

In the afternoon at two-thirty the preliminary contest of the eastern city high schools was held. The Drums of Oude, written by Austin Strong was presented by the Charles L. Coon high school, of Wilson, and Booth Tarkington's play, The

CAROLINA PRESS PLANS SIX BOOKS

Releases for Next Quarter Will Include Addison Hibbard's New Volume.

Six books are scheduled to be released from the University press this quarter, besides Addison Hibbard's Stories of the South, which came off Thursday, March 26.

The Family in the Present Social Order, by Ruth Lindquist, will be ready April 18. It is a study of the needs of American families and is written with the cooperation of the American Home Economics Association. On the same date will appear The Plight of Cigarette Tobacco, by T. J. Wooster, Jr., of the University sociology department, being an account of the economic condition of the tobacco farmers of the southeast, who produce tobacco mainly used in cigarettes.

H. R. Huse, of the foreign language department, has written a text supplement entitled The Psychology of Foreign Language Study which summarizes the present state of experimental knowledge, pedagogical doctrines, and aims and methods. It will be ready April 25.

A detailed account of the diplomatic relations with sufficient emphasis on commercial, naval, and military aspects to explain significant diplomatic phenomena will be included in Ray

(Continued on last page)

Albright And Speight At Head Of Candidate List

ARCHIBALD HENDERSON SPEAKS AT COLUMBIA

Dr. Archibald Henderson, professor of mathematics, has just returned from a week's visit to New York, where he delivered a series of lectures.

Dr. Henderson spoke on the subject of "Art and Fame of O. Henry" before the Institute of Arts and Sciences at Columbia University Monday night, March 22. The following evening he lectured to the Town Hall club of New York City on "Einstein, Enigma of Genius."

GREAT INTEREST BEING SHOWN IN COMING DEBATES

Over Two Hundred High Schools Enrolled for Annual Triangular Contest.

Great interest is being shown by high schools scattered throughout all sections of the state in the forthcoming contest of the North Carolina High School Debating Union, it was stated today by Secretary E. R. Rankin.

Nine hundred and twelve high school debaters, representing 228 member schools of the High School Debating Union, located in 87 counties, are now making final preparations for the statewide triangular debates, which will be held on April 3.

The query which will be discussed at all member high schools in the nineteenth annual debating contest on Friday evening is: "Resolved, that the United States should grant immediate independence to the Philippines." The youthful speakers in the high schools have put forth a great effort in their study and general preparation for the forensic events.

The high schools which win both sides in their triangular debates will send their teams to Chapel Hill on April 16 and 17 to take part in the final contest for the Aycock Memorial Cup, the handsome trophy which has been donated to the High School Debating Union by the intercollegiate debaters of the University of North Carolina.

The triangles which have been arranged for the state-wide debating contest were announced today as follows:

Raleigh, Durham, and Fayetteville; Greensboro, High Point, and Winston-Salem; Greenville, Washington, and New Bern; Hamlet, Laurinburg, and Rockingham; Salisbury, Lexington, and Statesville; Gas-

(Continued on last page)

PLANS COMPLETE FOR SOPH DANCE

Plans have finally been completed for the Sophomore Hop which is to be given in the gymnasium on May 1. Jelly Leftwich and His Orchestra will be secured to play for the occasion.

Leaders of the dance who were elected at the last class smoker are: Dave Henry, president of the class, leader; John Sparks Griffin, first assistant, with Miss Lois Meacham, of Charlotte; and T. Ben Campen, second assistant.

VICE-PRESIDENT'S OFFICE CREATED

Presidential Candidates Will Express Platforms at Chapel Period Monday.

At the meeting of the student body in Gerrard hall Friday morning during chapel period the candidates for the various campus offices were formally nominated. Due to the lack of time Red Greene, president of the student body and presiding officer of the meeting, was obliged to place a limit on the length of the nominating speeches.

Nominations for campus offices exclusively were made at this meeting as the different classes nominated candidates for their respective offices Thursday night.

Mayne Albright and Bill Speight were the nominees for the most important office on the campus, the presidency of the student body. These candidates are scheduled to speak before the students in Memorial hall Monday morning during chapel period. It is probable that the men will state their platforms at that time and make known their plans in the event of their election.

It was voted by the assembly that an entirely new office, that of vice-president of the student body, should be created. This was done in order to promote efficiency in the management of the student government operations. Nominees for this newly-formed office were Slim Medford and Clyde Shreve.

Jack Dungan and J. C. Williams were nominated as the candidates for the editorship of the Daily Tar Heel.

For editor of the Yackety Yack Holmes "Chink" Davis was the sole nominee, thus being automatically elected to the position.

Pete Gilchrist and Gil Pearson were named as the candidates for editor of the Buccaneer. For editor of the Carolina Magazine D. C. "Spec" McClure and Phil Liskin were nominated.

The nominees for the presidency of the Y. M. C. A. were Pardner James and Harry Finch, and for the vice-presidency Lee Greer was the only nominee and thus elected. For secretary John Manning and James Kurfees were nominated and Frank Hawley was named for treasurer.

Jim Baley, Cecil Carmichael, Carlyle Rutledge, and Red Merritt were nominated for the debate council.

For Senior member of the Publications Union Board, McBryde Fleming-Jones and Ben Neville were nominated, while Charles Rose, for junior member, and Don Shoemaker, for member-at-large, were the sole nominees for their positions and were duly elected.

The nominees for the president of the Athletic Association were Theron Brown and Paul Edwards, with Harry Hodges and Ellis Fysal for vice-president. Addie Hazelwood was nominated and elected to the position of chief cheer-leader.

The day of election which was set by the student council at

(Continued on last page)