BILLY MCKEE IS MADE PRESIDENT OF FOREIGN CLUB

Epsilon Phi Delta Will Help
Sponsor Banquet With Thomas As Guest.

At the regular meeting of the Epsilon Phi Delta Cosmopolitan Club in the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night at 10:30, Billy McKee was elected president of the organization for the coming year. He succeeds Beverly Moore.

The meeting was called primarily to elect officers and to make plans for the spring initiation. Other officers who were chosen were Larry Spitzer, vice-president, Bob Barnett, secretary, and Ted Baroody, treasurer.

Banquet Planned

The club decided to join with the Amphoterthen club, and the International Relations Club in sponsoring a banquet to be given Monday night at six o'clock in the Carolina Inn, Norman Thomas, former Socialist candidate for the presidency, who will be attending the Human Relations Institute, is to be the main speaker for the evening.

The Duke cosmopolitan club extended an invitation to the Carolina chapter to attend a barbecue supper to take place next Friday evening. Several members of the local chapter will attend the supper.

The initiation for the spring quarter has been definitely set for Monday night week. Seven men are to be taken in at this time.

Dean Taylor Unable To Attend Institute

Dean C. C. Taylor, of the graduate school of State college, was injured in an auto wreck Thursday afternoon near Burlington. He is now in the Burlington hospital and has had to have several stitches taken in his head.

This accident will keep Dr. Taylor from taking part in the Human Relations Institute as had been planned. He was to speak in the Baptist church tomorrow morning. As yet no one has been named to substitute for him.

Dean Taylor is the second man who was invited to the Institute, and who will be unable to attend because of accidents. Fletcher Brockman was seriously injured in an auto wreck in New York City several weeks ago.

Gardens On View

Several town residents of the village who will open their gardens to the public during the next two weeks are: Mrs. Charles S. Mangum, May 2 from 9:00 to 12:00 and May 3 from 3:00 to 6:00; Mrs. Louis Graves, May 2 from 9:00 to 12:00 and May 3 from 10:00 to 1:00 and from 2:30 to 6:00; Mrs. H. R. Totten, Mrs. N. B. Adams, and Mrs. A. A. Klutz every day for the next ten days. Two springs will be on exhibit: Mrs. E. C. Branson's down the slope off Hillsboro street, and Mrs. Karl Fussler's opposite the Peacock home on Tenney circle.

Infirmary List

Those confined to the infirmary yesterday were: Carlton E. Wilder, Joseph V. Randolph, Raymond Cohen, Ida Currie, Norman E. Wells, Herman Vinson, Lauchlin W. McKinnon, and Charles F. Crum.

Formal Program For Institute Ready Soon

The formal printed program for the Human Relations Institute is now on the press.

The eight-page pamphlet carries a cut of the new Memorial hall on the front cover and an analysis of the Institute subject matter. Inside there is a history and explanation of the Institute, and a complete hour by hour program of procedure. There is also a page devoted to exhibits, and a list of acknowledgments. The back cover outlines the organization, and the list of committees which have worked for the meetings.

LUXURY TAX BILL IS PASSED AFTER SECOND READING

Goes Through By 64 to 41 Vote
Despite Stand of House
Insurgents.

The House had a busy day Thursday when the luxury tax amendment bill was passed on second reading and the gas tax amendment cut in addition to enacting the Moss, Norman, and Etheridge bill levying a flat minimum for automobile licenses.

At the outset of the meeting the house began to fight over the luxury tax bill. Legislator Erwin proposed an amendment to refer the luxury tax to popular vote in 1932, but Connor jumped up to say that the issue before the house was a conference report and that an amendment to it would be a virtual rejection. Brooks of Durham opposed the idea of the bill being written by a small number of men. He was asked if he would vote for it if he were allowed to add an amendment. He agreed to do this.

House insurgents and holdouts still maintained their stand but the standpatters held to what they had and put the report through by a vote of sixty-four ayes and forty-one no's on its second reading. The Forsyth delegation, which cooperated to put the general sales tax through a few weeks ago stood solidly opposed to the luxury amendment.

A new revenue saver was also passed putting a flat tax on certain types of automobiles and fifty-five cents per hundred weight on all others. The senate was in favor of a sixty cents tax but there were too many automobile owners and dealers in the house to pass.

The question that promises to stir up the biggest fight is the gas tax exemption cut. The eastern fishermen, farmers, boat operators, saw mill owners, western miners, and the consumers of gasoline for purposes outside the roads have taken hundreds of thousands from the road bill which is to raise revenue for the whole state and county system. It was argued that most of these enterprises profit directly or indirectly by roads leading to their establishments. Two bills were presented to the roads committee. The first cutting all exemption was rejected; the other cutting fifty per cent was accepted.

Post Office Painted

The interior of the postoffice has just been painted, and after Postmaster Herndon has received bids for exterior painting, work will be begun on the outside.

DEBATERS MEET N.C.C.W. TONIGHT

Speight and F. Wardlaw Represent
Carolina In Split Meet
In Gerrard.

The local end of the dual debate between the North Carolina College for Women and the University will take place in Gerrard hall tonight at 8:30. The query to be discussed is Resolved: That the several states should enact legislation calling for unemployment insurance. The Tar Heel representatives are Bill Speight and Fred Wardlaw.

This is a split team meet with a member of each school on each side. A team composed of Clyde Shreve and Digby Wardlaw debated in Greensboro last night, Shreve supporting the affirmative and Wardlaw the negative.

The debate tonight will end the home season as only one meet remains on the schedule and that a radio debate with the University of Virginia on May 19, which will be broadcast from Richmond. The Carolina team will support the affirmative of the question Resolved: That talking movies in this country during the next ten years will promote the general welfare more than they will retard it. Men will tryout for this meet May 7.

PURDUE'S CENTER IS STIMULUS TO DEMOCRACY IN EDUCATION

Building Backed By a Student Assessment of Four Dollars and Housing All Campus Activities Develops True
University Spirit.

(The following is an article reprinted through the courtesy of the DAILY PRINCETONIAN and DAILY NEBRASKAN describing the purposes, financing, and success of university centers, or their equivalents, at various universities throughout the country.)

Purdue's student union building, financed largely through the efforts of students, is, in the words of a booklet on the building, "a home for the whole Purdue family."

Its financial backing was organized primarily on a plan which in 1910 resulted in the construction of a memorial gymnasium. Each of the university's graduating classes before that time was accustomed to giving $5 per year to the construction fund. The 1911 class planned a suitable gate for Purdue's athletic field but when the class of 1912 conceived the idea of a union building the original $5 assessment was diverted to the student union fund. The total continued to grow slowly until after the war when an intensive campaign among students, alumni and friends augmented the total to $883,000 and actual construction took place from June of 1921 until the dedication in 1924.

Although not entirely completed the building already houses all campus activities as a memorial to Purdue students who lost their lives in the World War. According to Purdue University officials, the memorial union develops a true University spirit, stimulates the proper social side of education, improves the standard of social activities among students and democratizes the undergraduates by giving them a chance to come together on a common ground at a meeting place. Likewise, the building affords a reception place for guests of the university and provides a gathering place for returning alumni.

Assembly hall, in the center of the first floor, accommodates 350 couples for dancing, 450 or more persons for banquets and any gathering of not more than 900 people. Two reception rooms which adjoin this main hall, one for men and one for women, are used for conferences and committee meetings by practically all student organizations. Separate smaller banquet rooms are provided for club dinners, which average more than two each week.

The general lounge, where men and women students may meet to talk or pass time is the most generally used room in the building. It is also used by couples at dances on Saturday evenings, while in general it provides a place where students and alumni may sit and read before a large cozy fire-place, magazines and newspapers being there free of charge. The union cafeteria, which takes care of 341 persons at a time, serves nearly 1,000 luncheons at rush hours, with student board priced at $4.50 a week.

All students are entitled to use the building, with registration cards the same as certified memberships. Also, all alumni and friends of the university who have pledged and paid up to date a life membership of $100, payable in five installments of $20 each are members. All other persons who have any connection with the university are entitled to use the union building upon payment of $4 per semester.

FLEMING-JONES HEADS DEBATERS

Elected President of Debate
Council at Thursday Night
Meeting.

At a meeting of the debate council on Thursday night, McBride Fleming-Jones was elected president of the council and W. A. Olsen was chosen executive secretary.

Fleming-Jones has received two monographs for debating and has already served one year on the council. He will succeed W. W. Speight, a law student, under whose administration more debates have been held than in any single year before this time.

W. A. Olsen is an assistant professor of English and an instructor in public speaking. He follows Mr. George McKie, who had served in the position of executive secretary for several years. The council concluded with a rising vote of thanks to Mr. McKie for his splendid service.

At the debate squad meeting a few minutes later, L. M. Brooks, of the sociology department, gave a short speech on talking movies, in preparation for the radio debate with the University of Virginia on May 19 and will be the last debate of the season.

Special Institute Luncheon Saturday

Next Saturday afternoon there will be a special luncheon in the Carolina Inn for the section of the Human Relations Institute dealing with international relations. Professor James T. Shotwell of Columbia, and Professor Harold J. Laski, of London university are to be the honor guests. Josephus Daniels, editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, has been asked to be the toastmaster for the occasion.

Another special event next week is the banquet sponsored by Epsilon Phi Delta, Amphoterthen, and the International Relations Club Monday evening with Norman Thomas as guest.

ANNUAL BANQUET STAGED BY GRAIL FOR NEW INITIATES

The annual informal banquet of the Order of the Grail took place last night in the Carolina Inn at 6:15 o'clock. The affair was in honor of the members who were admitted to the society on Thursday night of this week.

John Slater, president of the Grail, acted as toastmaster during the affair, at which there were approximately forty people. Among the new members are President Frank Graham, who was unable to attend the banquet due to his being out of town on official business; Dean F. F. Bradshaw and Coach Bob Fetzner. Both Mr. Bradshaw and Mr. Fetzner spoke briefly. Remarks were also made by the new members and members of the senior class who were attending a Grail banquet for the last time.

Fraternity members initiated are: John Manning, Archie Davis, Henry Conner, Charles Rose, Ed French, Red Gilbreath, and Sam Breen.

The new non-fraternity members are: Percy Idol, Red Hamlet, Phil Alston, Graham Trott, Bobbie Mason, and Lee Greer.

There will also be an informal dance tonight from 9:00 to 12:00 in the gymnasium given by the Grail in honor of the new initiates. Jelly Leftwich and his orchestra will play for the occasion. This will be the second of the three dances to be sponsored this quarter by the Grail.

City Elections

The candidates for office in the city election to take place here, May 5, from 8:00 in the morning till sunset are: for mayor; Zeb Council; for four-year councilmen: R. D. W. Connor, P. L. Burch, Brodie Thompson, Eugene Andrews, J. T. ("Bull") Durham, and E. J. Woodhouse; for two-year councilmen, R. M. Trimble and H. A. Whitfield. C. P. Hinshaw for judge of the recorder's court is opposed by L. J. Phipps. Since no candidate has announced himself against Zeb Council, it is certain that he will be the next mayor of Chapel Hill.

STUDENTS ON PROBATION

Of the twenty-six students in the school of liberal arts on academic probation during the past quarter, not one was dropped at midterm this spring for failure to check his work. Seventeen of these students checked all their courses, and none of the rest received two "X's".

The liberal arts school requires that a student pass at least four courses in two quarters of residence and at least five for three quarters.

NATION MOURNS DEATH OF NOTED UNIVERSITY HEAD

Statesmen, Educators, and Persons in All Walks of Life Join
In Expressing Grief.

At 11:00 o'clock this morning one of the leading educators of the South and of the nation will be laid to rest. Statesmen, educators, and men prominent in all walks of life will attend the funeral of Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, late president of the University of Virginia who died of apoplexy Wednesday evening.

Hundreds of telegrams and messages of condolence were received from persons scattered throughout the United States. Statesmen and business men joined with the educators and personal friends in expressing their grief at the death of the man under whom the University of Virginia has grown to more than five times the size it was when he became its head.

All activities of the university were suspended, including athletic contests scheduled for teams away on trips.

Eight students in the university will serve as active pall bearers. They are: Harry F. Flippin, Fenton Gentry, Jack S. McLihenny, Robert L. Rainey, John K. Sloan, C. Alfonso Smith, Jr., Williamson W. Fuller, 2nd, and William T. Thomas.

Among the messages received yesterday was one from Chancellor Elmer Ellsworth Brown of New York University, who telegraphed that flags were flying at half mast over that institution as a token of respect to Dr. Alderman.

Others who were among the first to send their condolences were: Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Dr. Harry W. Chase, whose induction into the presidency of the University of Illinois, Dr. Alderman was on his way to attend at the time of his death; President Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia University; John D. Rockefeller, Jr.; Michael MacWhite, minister of the Irish Free State to the United States; Bishop William T. Manning, of New York; United States Senators Copeland of New York; Fess of Ohio; and Swanson and Glass of Virginia; and Josephus Daniels, secretary of (Continued on last page)

SOPHOMORE HOP ATTRACTS MANY

The annual Sophomore Hop took place last night in Bynum gymnasium between 9 and 1 o'clock. Approximately 350 bids were given out for the dance for which Jelly Leftwich and his orchestra furnished the music.

The leaders of the dance were: Dave Henry and Elizabeth Nunn; Sparks Griffin and Lois Mecham; and Ben Campen and Miss Jones.

The dance was strictly formal, and the gymnasium was decorated suitably to fit the occasion. The music of Jelly Leftwich and his band was up to their usual good standard and class was in its prime as it glided over the smooth floor.

There were, of course, at the function, the usual number of "crashers" who somehow always succeed in getting into these supposedly strictly class functions. The usual crowd gathered around the gymnasium to listen to the music and some even climbed to the rear window sills to catch a glimpse of the dancers.
