

FRESHMEN WILL FORM FRIENDSHIP COUNCIL TONIGHT

President Graham and Pardon James Are Among Speakers to Address Gathering.

The year's program of the freshman friendship council gets under way with the organization banquet in the basement of the Methodist church tonight at 6:30, at which time officers for the group are to be elected and plans made for the coming year's work.

Billy Arthur, cheerleader, will open the meeting with a series of yells, to be followed by an address of welcome by Graham McLeod, last year's president of the freshman group. The toastmaster will then introduce campus leaders who will attend the banquet as guests.

The chief speakers on the program are F. M. "Pardon" James, president of the Y. M. C. A., who will talk on the general work of the association, and President Frank Graham, whose subject has not been announced.

To Elect Officers
Officers for the year will be elected, and the year's plans briefly mapped out. The first regular meeting of the new council will then take place, Monday night at 7:15 in the parlor of the Y. M. C. A. building. The sophomore and junior-senior cabinets will meet on the second floor at the same time, with the second year men occupying the east committee room and the two upper classmen the western one.

Anyone who has not been previously connected with the association, and who desires to do Y work will be given a chance to connect himself with the organization at the Monday night meeting.

By the present cabinet system a Hi-Y man is brought into
(Continued on page two)

FRESHMEN RALLY IN PEP MEETING

Billy Arthur Leads New Men in Initial Cheer Practice of the Year.

The first pep meeting of the season was held Wednesday night in Memorial hall to train the incoming students in the cheers and songs of the University. The assembly of freshmen did not equal the total number registered at the University, but the spirit of those who did attend was excellent and evidenced the fact that the freshmen have absorbed the Carolina spirit and will be loyal supporters of the big Blue and White teams.

Head cheerleader Billy Arthur was on hand with his assistants, MacBride and Hunt. The new men did well under their tutelage and before the meeting had dissembled, were familiar with the entire repertoire of yells. Tryouts for freshman cheerleaders were held in Memorial hall Tuesday afternoon, and the contestants were allowed to demonstrate the wind velocity of fresh leaders before their classmates.

Arthur gave the freshmen a few rules that pep meetings usually adhere to. He promised to have athletes and coaches present at the next get together. According to custom the meeting ended with the singing of the University anthem.

HUGE PEP RALLY PLANNED TONIGHT

Old Carolina Spirit to be Present on Eve of Wake Forest Game.

A rousing send-off for the Wake Forest game Saturday afternoon will be accorded Chuck Collins' Tar Heel team tonight at 9:00 o'clock when freshmen and upperclassmen gather at Memorial hall for the year's first big pep meeting. With the band and possibly members of the team present, cheerleaders will endeavor to instill loyalty into the hearts of the student body on the eve of the first gridiron encounter of the year.

Under the direction of Cheerleader Billy Arthur, Carolina's renowned "yard of fun," an impressive program is being planned to provide one of the peppiest gatherings of its kind ever staged on the Hill.

In a communication to the Daily Tar Heel last night, Arthur urged that every member of the student body be present to give the team the support due it.

Promoters of the meeting were endeavoring to secure General Albert Cox, prominent Raleigh alumnus of the University as chief speaker. If he cannot be obtained, efforts will be made to enlist the loyalty of some speaker of equal repute. Music and other forms of entertainment with talks by some member of the coaching staff will top off the assembly.

Arthur is acting-chief cheerleader in the absence of Ed Hazlewood, elected by the student body last year, who did not return to the University this fall.

KANE'S TRIAL PUT OFF FOR A WEEK

Due to the illness of Mrs. W. C. Graham, mother of the deceased, the trial of Professor Elisha Kent Kane, III, for the murder of his wife has been postponed for a week. The postponement was announced by Magistrate Joseph E. Dixon, who is to conduct the initial hearing, after having received through the Commonwealth's attorney, Roland D. Cocke, a certificate from the Graham family physician forbidding Mrs. Graham to leave her bed.

The thirteen witnesses summoned by the prosecution were released under $300 bond, all except one having already testified in the coroner's inquest. No witnesses had been called by the defense. The trial will be scheduled to open Wednesday, September 30.

Interest in the case has stirred the section of Virginia around Hampton ever since the tragedy of September 11, growing to nation-wide prominence and being featured daily in New York tabloids. The interest in this community has been particularly keen, due to the three years sojourn of Professor Kane at the University in the Spanish department.

New Economics Instructor

E. H. Anderson has been appointed instructor in economics for the present year, taking the place of Assistant Professor J. G. Evans, who is on leave of absence. Mr. Anderson formerly taught at The Citadel, South Carolina, and Ouachita College, Arkadelphia, Arkansas.

Editors of University Publications

Pictured above are three of the Carolina seniors who have been selected by the student body last spring to edit the campus publications. From left to right are: Holmes Davis, editor of the Yucky Yack; Jack Dungan, editor of the Daily Tar Heel; and Pete Gilchrist, editor of the Buccaneer. The Daily Tar Heel was unable to obtain a cut of Spec McClure, editor of the Carolina Magazine.

FOUR ADDITIONS TO ENGINEERING SCHOOL FACULTY

One Associate and Three Instructors Take Places of Men Leaving University.

Four new instructors have joined the school of engineering this fall. These men take the places of instructors on leave of absence or who have left the University.

Claudius E. Bennett, E.E., who has been with foreign power companies in Mexico and Spain, instructor at the University of Florida and city manager of Pierce, Florida, is acting associate professor of engineering.

T. P. Noe, Jr., who received his master of science degree in 1930 and who has been with the American Bridge Company, has returned as instructor of civil engineering.

Taking the place of G. Wallace Smith, who is now on leave of absence, is C. E. Feltner, an instructor in the year of 1928-29. Since then, Mr. Feltner has been in aircraft design and construction work.

Colin Carmichael, graduate of Glasgow University, comes here as instructor in mechanical engineering. He has been engaged in the manufacture of marine engines with firms in Great Britain and the United States.

Lecture Will Open Playmakers' Season

The opening event of the Playmakers' season will take place at the Playmaker theatre at 7:30, Monday, September 28. It will be an illustrated lecture by Professor F. H. Koch, giving the history of the Playmakers.

A hundred stereopticon slides which will supply the illustrations will be scenes of the Playmakers' tours and from their various productions. Most of the scenes will be from plays written by students from this University, as well as some of those in Koch's summer courses in Columbia University and the University of Southern California.

Following the lecture Professor Koch will see those students interested in the drama, and will discuss with them the plays to be given this coming season.

Stadium Curtain

A large green burlap curtain, to be completed at the Playmakers' studio today, will drape the east fence of Kenan stadium tomorrow to conceal the game from non-paying fans.

WORK OF DI AND PHI EXPLAINED IN CHAPEL MEETING

Hamilton Hobgood and Jack Dungan Make Talks to Freshmen on Literary Societies.

Henry Johnston, Jr., assistant dean of students presided at freshman chapel yesterday morning when Hamilton Hobgood and Jack Dungan, presidents of the Philanthropic Assembly and the Dialectic Senate, respectively, spoke on the history and purpose of the two organizations.

The meeting opened with the singing of "Hark the Sound," after which Reverend Alfred S. Lawrence of the Episcopal church read the scripture and led in prayer. Johnston then introduced Hobgood as speaker for the Phi Assembly.

The representative for the Assembly stated that the constitution for the organization was framed in 1725, and at that time every student was a member. In 1919, according to the speaker, the assembly was modeled after the North Carolina House of Representatives and since then has conducted its meetings accordingly. Famous men of North Carolina and other states were mentioned who during their student days at Carolina were members of the organization. The speaker cited Reverend
(Continued on page two)

Northwestern A.B. School Requires C

A streamer in the Daily Northwestern announces the fact that Dean Addison Hibbard has raised the standards of the liberal arts school so that all freshmen and sophomores are required to maintain an average of C or better to remain in the university. Hibbard was dean of the liberal arts school at this University until about two years ago when he went to Northwestern.

It is thought that this plan will improve the caliber of the students in the junior and senior years as they will have had to average C, or better, to advance that far in standing. Both the faculty and the student leaders there favor the move as a progressive one in college methods.

Accounting Appointments

L. J. Felton, J. S. Morrison, and S. I. Shapiro, of the class of '32, have been appointed assistants in the general accounting laboratory of the school of commerce by Dean D. D. Carroll.

RUSHING SEASON TO BEGIN TODAY

Fraternities and Freshmen Are Warned to Observe Carefully Rules Made by Council.

Beginning this afternoon at 2:00 p. m. those members of the freshman class receiving invitations from fraternities will enter the first round of the current rushing season by paying visits to the various houses. Each freshman should not fail to visit every house from which he has received an invitation as this part of the rushing program is required of all recipients of bids. Failure to pay at least one visit to each fraternity extending an invitation will automatically render the guilty freshman ineligible to join any social fraternity for the term of one year.

For the first two days, today and Saturday, the rushing will be confined to the fraternity houses. New men can call only between the hours of from 2:00 p. m. and 12:00 midnight today and 7:00 p. m. to 12:00 midnight Saturday. It is important to note that the football game tomorrow afternoon is covered by the period of silence and that there is to be absolutely no association or communication between freshmen and fraternity men. The Interfraternity Council's ruling on this point is very strict.

Sunday Rushing Starts

Rushing will begin in earnest Sunday when fraternities are allowed to make as many dates with freshmen as desired. During the first two days, however, there are to be no more than two dates made on the part of any fraternity with any one freshman. This is in order to allow the freshman to make dates with every one of the lodges in which he is interested.

The printed invitations were handed in to the dean of students Wednesday afternoon at 6:00 p. m. and have been delivered to all the freshmen except
(Continued on page two)

EXTENSION STAFF WILL MEET HERE

There will be a meeting of the extension division teaching staff at the office of Director R. M. Grumman's in the South building today and tomorrow morning. About ten members of the staff are expected to be here.

This meeting is being held primarily to lay plans for the classes and schedules that will be followed this year. At present, Director Grumman intends to have thirty centers of these classes spread over the state. These classes are expected to get underway next week.

Building Division Does Repair Work

Throughout the summer the buildings department has done quite a bit of repair work on the various campus buildings, especially on Carr dormitory, which has been re-plastered and new tables with book racks built for the law students who occupy Carr.

Recently the department has been building tables and flat-topped oak desks for the office and committee rooms of the new Graham Memorial. It has also completed several combination inlaid checker and card tables and three ping-pong tables to be placed in the game room of the union building some time before the opening which is scheduled November 11.

HOME OF LIBRARY SCHOOL WILL BE COMPLETED SOON

Sixth and Seventh Levels of Library Stacks to be Given for Use of New Division.

Quarters for the new school of library science are rapidly approaching completion on top of the book stack in the University library building. Construction began late in August when the structural steel for an additional floor of book shelves was added to the sixth floor of the stack.

In planning the library, additional shelving space was provided for, above the top floor of the book stack. Sufficient space was left above this level for three tiers of shelves. Provision has now been made for one floor of shelves above the present top floor behind the circulation desk. On top of this new floor a concrete floor has been laid which will carry a classroom, laboratory, and offices for the school of library science. These quarters will occupy space later to be used for two floors of shelving.

The construction of these quarters is so designed as to make possible the economical introduction of a book stack in this space when the library requires it. About five years of expansion has been allowed for by the present arrangements.

The library school expects to occupy its new quarters early in October. Entrance to the school will be from the third floor of the building. Classes are being held at present in the seminar rooms on the third floor.

DRAMATIC GROUP PLANS TRYOUTS

Playmakers Begin Preparations to Produce Maxwell Anderson's 'Saturday's Children.'

Tryouts for Saturday's Children, the Playmakers' first production of the season, will take place at the theatre 4:30 and 7:30, Tuesday, September 29. This play, which had a year's run on Broadway, was written by Maxwell Anderson. The play was picked as one of the ten best in 1926 by Burns Mantle, the New York critic, and was mentioned strongly for the Pulitzer Prize of that year.

Maxwell Anderson, the author of What Price Glory? (in collaboration with Laurence Stallings) and the popular Theatre Guild success of the past season, Elizabeth, the Queen, was one of the charter members of the Dakota Playmakers, at the University of North Dakota. This organization, similar to our own Playmakers, was also founded by Professor F. H. Koch. Saturday's Children, as the title suggests is a comedy about some people who have to work for a living. The production is scheduled to run on October 22, 23, and 24.

Anyone is eligible for the tryouts, whether a member of the Playmakers or not.

Infirmary List

The following list of students have been confined in the University infirmary for the past two days: N. G. Blackman, Walter N. Terry, Jr., Robert Alred, Ralph Morgan, T. W. Bremen, and J. F. Plummer.