

Leonard Leads Vandy To 13 To 0 Victory

Johnny Branch Receives Greatest Ovation Ever Given On Nashville Field

Stands Pay Tribute to Field General as Injuries Cause His Removal From Game.

VANDY BACKS FEATURE

Leonard and Roberts Each Gain Over Seventy Yards; Close, Roberts Count Scores.

Depending mainly on a running attack, gaining 25 yards from scrimmage on runs, Vanderbilt University yesterday scored two touchdowns to defeat Carolina by a score of 13-0. The Vandy backs time and time again crashed through the Tar Heel line for gains, Captain Amos Leonard leading the attack until he was hurt and had to be removed in the third quarter.

Johnny Branch was held in check by the McGuginmen for the greater part of the game, but the little quarter got loose in the third quarter to return one of Fortune's punts for 54 yards. For the first time in his varsity career, Branch had to be taken out on account of injuries. He was hurt in the third period after making a beautiful pass to Slusser for a thirty-three yard gain.

Hodges and Underwood, Tar Heel tackles, several times went down under punts to stop the Vandy safety man in his tracks. Underwood was the only Carolinian to play the full time of the game. Philpot, who replaced McIver at guard for Carolina in the final quarter, also showed up well, going through the Vandy line once to throw Roberts, their great halfback, for a nine yard loss.

The Nashville gridders scored their first marker in the opening period. About the middle of the quarter, Slusser kicked out of bounds on his own 23-yard line. Leonard failed to gain on an attempted end run, but on the next play he gained two yards through center. An attempted pass from Leonard to Thomas was incomplete, but Leonard passed to Close, who went over for the touchdown. Beasley's kick for the extra point was good.

Vandy's other score came in the third quarter. Just before the quarter ended, Henderson, Vandy back, punted over Carolina's goal. Bill Croom gained five yards on an end run, but Thompson fumbled at the line of scrimmage, Vandy recovering the ball. Foster tried a pass to Hughes, but it was incomplete. Roberts then tore through the line to cross the goal. Henderson's kick for the extra point failed.

Carolina first got into scoring position on the last play of the third period. Branch passed to Slusser for a gain of 33 yards, putting the ball on Vandy's 25-yard line. The Tar Heel quarter was hurt on the play, but he remained in the game, taking the ball on the following play for an 18-yard run to end up on Vandy's seven-yard stripe. Again he was injured, and he was removed from the game. Sports writers and critics at the game said that he received the biggest hand ever accorded anyone in Nashville.

Peacock replaced Branch, and Lassiter advanced the ball to within five yards of the goal. Daniels failed to gain, and Lassiter then fumbled. Lassiter recovered his own fumble but it was the Commodores' ball on downs, shutting off the Heels' only chance to register a score.

DID YOU KNOW—

That in 1873 when Michigan challenged Cornell to a football game to be played in Cleveland, President White of Cornell said, "I will not permit thirty men to travel 400 miles merely to agitate a bag of wind?"

That Notre Dame made 145 substitutions in the grid game with Navy last year?

That when ping pong was first played in the '80's, the "net" was a high row of books placed in the center of the table, the bats were made from the covers of cigar boxes, and champagne corks were used as balls?

The hockey season makes its first appearance of the year on the N. C. C. W. campus Monday. The weaker sex's division of the University does not play inter-collegiate matches but hold intramural competition among the class teams.

Only four men on the Notre Dame varsity drew praise from Coach "Hunk" Anderson in Saturday's Rockne memorial game with the reserves. Because of the raggedness of the remaining members of the team, double work has been scheduled for this week.

Frank La Bourne, dark horse halfback, Mike Koken, halfback, Banas, fullback, Brancheau, right half, were the four men earning praise. Koken and Banas were both injured in the practice.

So eager were the students for the pool that, since no other funds were available, they agreed to pay an additional fee of one dollar a semester. This plan will pay for the pool in a period of three years. This wouldn't be a bad idea for Carolina students to adopt.

Although the superiority of the Commodores was plainly evident, Tar Heel fans will take solace in the fact that Carolina made a wonderful showing in holding Vanderbilt to two touchdowns.

A crowd estimated at 15,000 witnessed the game.

BRANCH PLAYS GREAT GAME

Johnny Branch, the most scintillating quarterback ever to romp on Carolina turf, played a great game as field general for the Blue and White. Branch's pass to Slusser placed Carolina in its first position to score, and again ran Fortune's punt back fifty-four yards, but again the Tar Heels failed to follow up their advantage. For the first time in his career as a Carolina football player Branch was injured to the extent that he had to be removed from the field. The stands paid tribute to the greatness of the versatile Carolina quarter by giving him the greatest ovation ever given on the Nashville field as he left the field of play.

Newest Sandwich Shop

Chapel Hill's newest sandwich shop was begun Thursday when the ground was broken between Berman's department store and the A. & P. grocery. The manager of the new shop will be George Coleman.

Coleman has been operating a small "dog wagon" on the site since last January. He had prior to that date, run a restaurant in Charlotte.

Department Meeting

The first meeting of the quarter of the history and government departments will take place Tuesday night of this week in room 313 of Saunders hall. Since this is the first meeting of the year, a chairman will be selected.

FLORIDA PROVES TOO STRONG FOR STATE COLLEGE

Gators Pile Up Score of 34-0 Over Wolfpack as Florida Running Attack Gains.

The Florida 'Gators unleashed a powerful running and passing attack in the final half, which, coupled with misplays on the part of the Technicians, gave them twenty-eight points and a 34-0 victory over the North Carolina State Wolfpack.

The first two quarters were marked by tight football on the part of both teams, a punting duel between Rogero, of Florida, and Greason of State predominated.

In the closing minutes of the second quarter, Florida opened up. Buck, flashy quarter, went around end for seventy-five yards and the first touchdown. State players completely surrounded the 'Gator star on the thirty-five yard line, but he pulled a Johnny Branch, wriggling in and out among the Wolfpack team, for the score. Buck ran the last forty-five yards with a clear field before him. The half ended with the score 6-0, although Coach Smith tried pass after pass in a vain attempt to score in the closing minutes of the second quarter.

In the third quarter the fireworks really started. Dellinger took Florida's kick-off and ran twenty-two yards. On the next play Anderson intercepted Wilson's pass on State's forty yard line. On the second play from scrimmage of the third quarter, Hughes ran off-tackle for a touchdown. Rogero kicked the goal.

Again in the same quarter, Hughes intercepted a pass on the fifty yard line and ran to the forty. Joe Hall made a "miracle catch" of a long pass from Rogero and ran for a touchdown. Rogero again made the extra point, but even then the slaughter wasn't ended. Don Wilson took Florida's kick-off back twenty yards. A pass, McQuage to Dellinger, placed the ball on the forty yard line. McQuage lost eight. After a

Rookies Feature Opening Games Of 1931 Series

Williams, Athletic Shortstop, and Martin, Cardinal Center-fielder, Perform Well.

Two rookies, playing in their first year of major league baseball and their first world series, have become the main cogs of their respective teams in the current series classic.

"Pepper" Martin, rookie centerfielder of the Cardinals, and "Dib" Williams, flashy short-fielder of the Philadelphia Athletics, have ably filled the shoes of world series veterans, to become the heroes of the first two games of the 1931 series. Martin has made St. Louis fans forget Taylor Douhit, while Joe Boley hasn't a chance in the hearts of Philadelphia fans.

Martin, a recruit of the Cardinal chain store system, leads the way to the batsmen with five hits in seven tries, two of which went for extra bases. Even the arm of Mickey Cochrane as one of the greatest catchers in the history of major league baseball, has not discouraged the base stealing activities of the speedy centergardener. In the first game "Chick" Hafey made a clean steal of third, only to be followed by Martin's clean pilfer of second in the conference this insult to the mighty arm of Cochrane. Notwithstanding all this Martin made three hits in four swings on the side.

In the second game the young Red Bird stole the show from "Wild Bill" Hallahan, scoring both the Cardinal runs, one on a perfectly executed squeeze play. To top all this and to the discomfiture of Cochrane, Martin made two clean steals.

"Dib" Williams, former Portland flash, stepped into the shoes of the aging Boley and fielded and batted like a veteran. In five official times at bat, Williams has connected for two hits and also gathered a pair of free tickets to the initial sack. Williams' fielding has also been way above par, handling three put outs and seven assists without a bobble.
