

Hitting Of Martin Gives Cardinals 5-1 Victory Over White Elephants

Rookie Centerfielder Gets Homer And Two Singles to Tie Series Records for Total Hits.

SIMMONS TOPS ATHLETICS

Simmons Gets Double and Two Singles to Lead A's; Scores Only Run for Mackmen.

By Thomas H. Broughton

Three ringing hits off the bat of the irrepressible "Pepper" Martin, one a round tripper with Frisch on base, accounted for four of five runs and gave the St. Louis Cardinals a three to two advantage in games, making it necessary for the series to go the full seven games for the Athletics to win the series. The final score was 5-1.

"Wild Bill" Hallahan scattered the Mackmen's nine hits, but most of the credit goes to the Cardinals' star rookie center-gardener, young "Pepper" Martin. The first time up Martin, shifted to the clean-up position because of his terrific hitting, flied out to leftfield, but High scored on the play, to give St. Louis its first run of the game. In the fourth inning Martin reached first by out running a short bunt down the first base line. In the sixth frame Frisch doubled to open the inning. Martin followed with a long home run into the upper deck of the left field bleachers. In his final trip to the plate, in the eighth, Martin singled between second and first, scoring Watkins. Mickey Cochrane's strong arm reached out and Martin was caught stealing second. It was the first time in the series that Martin had been caught stealing.

Martin tied the record for hits in a world series, set by Joe Jackson in 1909, his single in the eighth making twelve. In eighteen trips to the plate Martin has hit safely twelve times for the terrific average of .666.

The Athletics' lone run came in the seventh. Simmons followed Cochrane's fly to Frisch with his third hit of the day, a single to left. Foxx followed with a single through the box. Simmons scored on Miller's grounder to High, for the Athletics' only run of the game.

Simmons, with two singles and a double in four trips to the plate, and Foxx, with two singles and a walk in four attempts, led the Athletic attack. Martin, with a homer and two singles, and Frisch with a double and a single in four attempts, led the Red Birds. Bottomley and Wilson also gathered a brace of singles.

The Athletics threatened in the fifth, but brilliant support by "Sunny Jim" Bottomley averted the rally. Simmons singled through the pitcher's box. Foxx walked. Miller in an attempted sacrifice popped up to Bottomley. Bottomley ran in to within twelve feet of home to take the attempted bunt. Bottomley followed that up with a beautiful catch of a foul out in right, after a long run. Hallahan struck out Williams to end the inning.

"Wild Bill" was the victim of hard luck. Foxx and Simmons both hit the Cardinal ace with hard smashes through the box, Simmons' liner striking him on the leg and bounding into left field, while Foxx's drive caught him in the shoulder and bounded into right.

Adams started at third for the Cards but caught a "charley horse" going to first on his single in the opening frame.

There will be no game today, the teams being en route to St. Louis, where the series will be resumed Friday. If the Cardinals win one more game they will

High Spots Of The Series

By TOM WALKER

The Cardinals are certainly giving the St. Louis fans a treat in coming to the home roost with a three-two edge over the A's. Hallahan was hit rather hard, but the hits didn't mean much due to the fine support the rest of the Cards gave him.

This little hunk of all that is necessary in a baseball player, "Pepper" Martin, should be mentioned for All-Something-or-Other. He got a home run into the left field bleachers yesterday to bat in his third and fourth runs for the day, and his single in the eighth, his twelfth hit of the series, tied the all-time series hitting record set by Joe Jackson in seven games of the 1909 series.

"Sparky" Adams, Cardinal third baseman, led off the first inning with a single, but his charley-horse is still troubling him and he retired in favor of Andy High, who ran for him and scored the first run for the winners.

The Athletic batsmen apparently have an extreme dislike for Hallahan. In the fifth Simmons hit a hard ball which caught the Card pitcher on the leg. Foxx hit Hallahan's shoulder in the seventh to get his first hit of the day.

"Dib" Williams, Philadelphia shortstop, fumbled Hallahan's hard drive twice, but still had time to throw Bill out at first for the final out in the second inning.

Martin had the A's all tied up in a knot in the fourth. He bunted down the first base line, and ran it out. Hoyt threw eight times to first attempting to catch "Pepper," but the little man was too fast.

Hallahan showed the fans why he has the nickname "Wild Bill" by throwing a ball up against the screen behind home in the seventh. However, Bill issued only one walk, that going to Foxx to run the Philadelphia first baseman's string of walks to six for the series.

In the fourth, old Max Bishop turned in a beautiful catch of Wilson's low drive. The aged veteran stooped to catch the ball, and without getting up he threw to Foxx to make a double play.

A double play in the second by the Cardinal infield ruined the first chance to score that the A's had. Simmons had doubled, Foxx was out, and Simmons thought that he had time to go home on Bishop's grounder to Gelbert at short. Gelbert, not looking at Simmons, threw Miller out at first, and Bottomley tossed in to Wilson to catch Simmons.

"Sunny Jim" Bottomley certainly shone at first. He ran fifty yards out to the right in the fourth to snag Bishop's long foul, and with none out and two

Intramurals

Sigma Phi Sigma Overwhelmed
In the only game that was not close, Delta Kappa Epsilon walked over Sigma Phi Sigma to the tune of 44 to 0.

After the opening whistle the outcome was never in doubt. D. K. E. started the scoring at once and continued to score throughout the game. Lineberger with three touchdowns to his credit was high scorer of the game while Craig who scored twice was second high. Gold, for the winners, played a nice game.

Kappa Alpha Loses Close Game
Griffith was the only man that was able to score in a nip and tuck battle between Sigma Nu and Kappa Alpha. Although Kappa Alpha made the most first downs, Sigma Nu was able to score once to take the game 7 to 0.

Both teams seemed capable of taking the ball to the zero line but, aside from the one score, neither had the punch to make a tally.

Old West Victorious
In the most exciting game of the afternoon Old West took a hard fought game from Graham 6 to 0. The lone score came after a long pass had been thrown from Poole to Gunter who crossed the touchdown line.

Graham stopped many efforts made by Old West to score. In the closing minutes Old West twice took the ball to the three yard line only to lose it.

Another Close Game
Scoring twice in the last half, Grimes downed Old East 13 to 0. The ball changed hands many times during the game with neither team showing much offensive power.

Nisbet and Watson were best for the winners while Fox played well for Old East.

Intramural Schedule
THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8
4:00 p. m.: 1. Lewis vs New Dorms.

5:00 p. m.: 1. Kappa Sigma vs Sigma Chi; 2. Lambda Chi Alpha vs Sigma Alpha Epsilon; 3. Manly vs Mangum.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 9
4:00 p. m.: 1. Phi Delta Theta vs. Pi Kappa Alpha.

5:00 p. m.: 1. Best House vs Steele; 2. Phi Gamma Delta vs Phi Sigma Kappa; 3. Phi Alpha vs Pi Kappa Phi.

on in the fifth, he ran up to within twenty feet of the plate to catch Miller's attempted bunt, which turned out to be a little pop-up. Jim then went back toward the stands to get Dykes' foul to make two unassisted put-outs for that inning.

The leading hitters for the series are Martin, with a percentage of .666, and Foxx, who is batting .429.

Pep Meeting

A pep meeting for the team just before it leaves for Florida will take place this evening at 6:20 in front of Swain hall.

PHIPPS DOES MUCH BETTER

Team Will Leave Tonight for Struggle With Florida at Gainesville Saturday.

In an effort to iron out the most glaring errors that were evident in the Vanderbilt game last Saturday, Coach Collins ran his charges through a spirited scrimmage yesterday which lasted for an hour and a half. In this scrimmage both the varsity scrubs and the freshman teams offered opposition in the form of Florida plays.

After the usual limbering up exercises and a short signal drill, the varsity played on the defense against the scrubs who were using the Florida attack. Though this team could not execute the lateral pass in anywhere near the perfection the Gainesville team is reputed, it was evident that this form of attack will cause the Tar Heels no little worry. The same team that started the Vanderbilt was running as the first, and, although they looked good in this defensive drill they were sore-

FLORIDA 'GATORS OUTWEIGH HEELS

Gator Line Averages 187 Pounds to Carolina's 180; Backs Lighter by 170 to 160.

When Carolina meets Florida at Gainesville Saturday, the Tar Heels will find themselves outweighed for the third time this season. Carolina's starting backs will average about 160 pounds, while the linemen will probably average 180. On the other hand, Florida presented a 187-pound line and a 170-pound backfield against State.

One of the chief reasons for the low average of the Carolina line is that the Tar Heels have at left guard Henry ("Butch") McIver, weighing only 164 pounds. McIver is one of the lightest linemen in the Conference, but despite this he ranks near the top in ability. His slashing brand of play on defensive and his aggressiveness on offense made him one of the big noises in Carolina's 37-0 victory over Wake Forest. Last week against the heavy Vanderbilt forwards McIver was again
