PLANS MADE FOR INAUGURATION OF FRANK P. GRAHAM

Tentative Program for November 11 Is Announced by Chairman Pierson.

The probable program for President Frank P. Graham's inauguration on November 11 has been announced by W. W. Pierson, dean of the graduate school, and chairman of the faculty committee on this event. An academic procession from Graham Memorial to Memorial hall at 10:30 a. m. will open the exercises. This procession will arrive at Memorial hall in time for the moment of silence observed at 11:00 o'clock in conjunction with Armistice Day celebrations.

Governor to Preside

From 11:00 to 2:00 the actual inaugural ceremonies will take place with Governor O. Max Gardner presiding. At the close of this portion of the program, there will be a luncheon in Swain hall for the delegates and guests of the University. President and Miss Graham will give an informal reception in Graham Memorial at 4:00, and one hour following there will be an organ and glee club recital in the music building.

The day will close with an inaugural dinner to delegates, guests, and members of the faculty in Swain hall at 7:00 p. m.

Arrangement Committee

The faculty committee on the inauguration is composed of the following members: chairman, W. W. Pierson; dean of the graduate school; J. G. deR. Hamilton, professor of history; William deB. MacNider, of the medical school; Dr. George Howe, head of the Latin department; Albert Coates, professor of law; Edgar Wallace Knight, professor of education; A. S. Wheeler, professor of chemistry; W. C. Coker, Kenan professor of botany; Dr. C. S. Mangum, of the medical school; R. M. Grumman, director of the University extension division; C. T. Woollen, business manager of the University; and Dr. Louis Round Wilson, University librarian.

Heer Goes to Attend Atlanta Conference

Professor Clarence Heer, of the school of commerce, left last night for Atlanta, Georgia, where he will attend conferences of the National Tax Association, and the Southern Regional Council for Research in The Social Sciences. Professor Heer will address the National Tax Association on the subject, "Effective State Control of Local Expenditure."

The purpose of the meeting of the Southern Regional Council for Research in The Social Sciences is to map out a plan for cooperative research and taxation in the South.

Commerce Freshmen Meet With Carroll

The freshmen in the school of commerce met with Dean D. D. Carroll in 103 Bingham hall yesterday morning during the assembly period. Various problems confronting the students were discussed. Most of the period was devoted to a discussion of freshman courses, Dean Carroll advising the freshmen which courses to take the first year.

UNION FORUM TO BE CHOSEN SOON

Representatives to the Union Forum will be elected this week from all dormitories and by the women's association, and will hold their first quarterly meeting Wednesday night, October 21 in the union building. The Union Forum will be composed of about ninety members, with fraternal representation by the interfraternity council. A basis system of geographical representation, with one election for every thirty students, will affect every unit of the campus.

The immediate purpose of the Union Forum is to direct the policies of the new union building. Recommendations will be made possibly after each meeting of the Union Forum to the Union's Board of Directors. Three members will be elected from the Forum to the Board for this purpose.

MITCHELL SOCIETY HEARS DR. PLYLER

Physics Professor Reads Paper To Scientific Group Tuesday Evening.

A paper presented by Dr. E. K. Plyler of the physics department, "The Arrangement of Atoms in Certain Molecules," was the chief feature of the first meeting of the Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society which met Tuesday night in Phillips hall.

Dr. Plyler's paper was a brief resume of the work he had been doing on his leave of absence last year when he studied the infrared spectra at the University of Michigan. The research as a whole was devoted almost entirely to triatomic molecules.

He showed that carbon dioxide and nitrous oxide are formed by the three atoms being in a straight line. The atoms of water vapor were found to form an isosceles triangle with the two equal angles being 32 1-2 degrees. Those of sulphur dioxide were found to be an almost equilateral triangle.

Dr. Plyler concluded his talk by stating that in the near future results may be obtained on other molecules and that the results obtained by the infrared method could then be correlated with the general properties of the molecule.

Mrs. Mosher Speaks At Elon College

Mrs. E. R. Mosher, of the class of '25, who is president of the North Carolina division of the American Association of University Women, went to Elon college Tuesday, where she discussed with a group of women the possibility of organizing a local branch at Elon.

To become a member of the A. A. U. W. it is necessary that a woman be a graduate of a recognized university or college. The fact that there are several branches of this organization in North Carolina, is evidence that the number of university women has increased in this state.

DURHAM ALUMNI MEET

The Durham alumni observed Founder's Day Tuesday night by electing officers and entertaining members of the University. Dr. W. W. Coppridge, of Durham, was elected president of the organization. J. Maryon Saunders, alumni secretary, and football coaches Collins, Sapp, and Howard spoke before the group.

SENATE DOES NOT FAVOR COMMUNISM

The Dialectic Senate at its meeting Tuesday night discussed one bill, revised portions of the constitution, and initiated two new men into the society. The session was long and extremely lively.

Senator Fleming Jones, chairman of the constitution committee recommended that a number of articles in the constitution, now practically obsolete and useless, be abolished. The Senate found that these changes were no longer a necessary part of the constitution and ordered them stricken from the original body of rules. Revisions were made in several instances where additions were deemed practical.

Two applicants for membership in the society were initiated. These men were F. E. Howard and A. B. Joyner.

The sole bill coming up for discussion by the group was: Resolved: That communism does not offer permanent happiness or representative government. Present at the discussion of this bill were two visitors, Messrs. Zimmroch and Adams, local advocates of communistic theories, who were allowed the privilege of the floor. Much diversity of opinion on this subject was evinced in the heated debates by members of the Senate. Senators Medford and Fleming-Jones, opposed the communistic theories advanced by the visitors on the grounds that communism could not possibly be the panacea to create social equality and universal happiness.

The meeting was adjourned after the bill was passed by a unanimous vote, with the exception of two Senators registering as not voting.

LOCAL SOCIALISTS HOLD DISCUSSION

A large group of students assembled in Graham Memorial building Tuesday night to talk over socialism, communism, their differences and similarities.

The meeting was opened with a brief talk by Lawrence Flinn, president of the local unit, in which he told of the almost universally unfavorable attitude on the part of the average citizen towards communism.

Dr. E. E. Ericson, Dr. W. B. Sanders, and Lewis Carr contributed ideas to the discussion.

Soviet Russia was held up as an example or illustration of socialism. It was suggested that the large scale farming does not allow the individual initiative. There was a difference of opinion as to whether farming as carried on under the Russian experiment could be successful or not.

COTTON QUESTION DISCUSSED BY PHI

The Philanthropic Assembly convened Tuesday night at 7:15 o'clock with Speaker Hamilton H. Hobgood presiding. Discussion was confined to the question as to whether the legislature should enact a bill prohibiting the production of cotton in North Carolina. The bill read as follows: Resolved: That the Phi assembly go on record as opposing any limitation of cotton production in North Carolina.

The resolution evoked a heated discussion. Representatives Kornegay, Wilkenson, and Beam presented arguments against the proposal, while it was favored by Representatives Uzzell and McDuffie. Representatives Uzzell and Wilkenson engaged in a heated discussion of the constitutionality of the proposed enactment.

The meeting was adjourned while the house was engaged in a discussion of parliamentary rules. No vote was taken upon the question.

Several new members were presented for membership and a total of sixty-three attended the session.

Washington University Considering Division

The University of Washington may be turned into an upper and lower division college, termed a "University College," if the plan formulated by the educational research committee of that university should be adopted. If this plan is approved, it will be tried out by the college of liberal arts next year.

Under the proposed plan, lower division students, freshmen and sophomores, would be on a sort of probation. If their ability in their chosen college was proved, they would be allowed to continue in the upper college. If, however, they were unable to maintain good scholarship, they would be dismissed from the university. Should the trial in the liberal arts college be successful, the plan would be adopted by all the divisions of the university. The leaders of the university believe that it would be a test of whether or not the students really desired an education.

The authorities hope that this arrangement will make it possible for the students to have a closer contact with instructors.

Infirmiry List

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: John Daniel, B. R. Martinson, C. B. Williams, S. M. Pattershall, M. C. Tillman and Jack Dungan.

Roosevelt Leads All-Corners In Tar Heel Straw Balloting

Dedication of Union Building Postponed

At a joint session last Monday of the faculty and trustee committees on President Graham's inauguration, it was decided to postpone the dedication of Graham Memorial, originally scheduled for the same day as the presidential installation. A special committee will be appointed to select a new date for the dedication of the student union building.

The committee felt that the dedication of Graham Memorial was of sufficient importance to warrant a special day set aside for formal exercises. In addition to this, November 11 will be an intensely crowded day with the ceremonies and functions attached to President Graham's inauguration.

DORMITORY CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Smoker To Be Given in Each Dormitory This Week According to Plans.

The Carolina Dormitory Club, composed of the various dormitory presidents, met for the first time Tuesday night. This first meeting was for the purpose of electing officers and modifying the dormitory regulations now in effect.

William Medford, vice-president of the student body, is ex officio chairman of this organization; C. H. Atkins, of Graham dormitory, was elected secretary.

Dormitory Smokers

It was decided that each dormitory is to have a council consisting of a president, vice-president, and councilman for each floor. This council is authorized by the club to place any unruly tenant on "dormitory conduct probation" without calling him before the council. Violation of this probation will lead to a petition by the dormitory council to the student council for removal of the offender from the dormitory.

This dormitory council is to meet every two weeks. Each quarter it will sponsor a dormitory smoker. The first of these smokers will be held by each dormitory this week and the election of representatives to the student forum will take place.

Dormitory Rules

The Dormitory Club decided to change the regulations of last year regarding the time at which all unnecessary noise in the dormitory should cease. Last year this hour was set at 8:30; this year all unnecessary noise shall cease promptly at 8:00. This regulation is suspended on Saturdays.

There shall be no disorderly conduct such as yelling from one dormitory to another or pouring water from windows, at any time, it was decided. Students who yell at, or are otherwise discourteous to visitors, (Continued on page two)

Staff Meeting

The staff of The Daily Tar Heel is to be called in extraordinary session this afternoon promptly at 5:00 o'clock. All persons having to do with editorial writing, editing, or news gathering are to attend this particular emergency meeting.

REPUBLICANS GET WORST OF DEAL

Norman Thomas, Socialist Candidate, Able to Poll Only Half-Dozen.

VOTING CONTINUES TODAY

Franklin Delane Roosevelt, governor of New York, loomed as the white haired boy of Chapel Hill Democrats yesterday as scores of voters flocked to the Daily Tar Heel poll boxes for the presidential straw vote nominations. When the masses of ballots had been extracted from the poll boxes in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A. and the city rooms of the Daily Tar Heel, it appeared that possibly the 1932 campaign will see a solid south, or not a single cross-mark was found opposite the name of any Republican aspirant.

The Empire state executive held a lead of thirty-five over his nearest competitor, Owen D. Young, international financier. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray, governor of Oklahoma, whose recent exploits include the taming of the oil wells of that state, trailed Young by a few votes, while Governor Richie of Maryland, an avowed wet, was not far behind.

Thomas Gets a Few

Norman Thomas, presidential candidate in 1928 on the socialist ticket, was the only figure of prominence to obtain a look-in on either the socialist or communist ticket. His name was found written in on a half-dozen ballots.

The Great Unknown who shall occupy the blank space in the Republican party section still clung to his habitat, for no dark horse was written in on the rolls of the G. O. P. There was little indication of a recurrence of the "draft Coolidge" movement, though heated discussions on the issue were reported by Daily Tar Heel special under-cover operatives.

In an exclusive interview yesterday afternoon, Mayne Albright, president of the student union, declared that he was prepared to stump the state for his favorite, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

With similar manifestations coming from other campus leaders it is increasingly evident that "as the Tar Heel goes, so goes the nation," will be the byword as the nation's political leaders gather.

BENNETT CHOSEN FOR RELIEF WORK

C. E. Bennett, former city manager of Fort Pierce, Florida, now of the University electrical engineering department, has been appointed by the American Engineering Council one of the eight members of a committee to aid Florida unemployment.

The council, recommending public-spirited and able engineers to the state committee, is answering the call made by President Hoover's organization on employment for the aid and cooperation of the engineers of the country in its present crisis. The program developed by the council has been approved by the President's organization.

An emergency program for this winter and plans for permanently stabilizing employment will be the chief work of this committee.
