

Tar Heel Gridders Face Tech At Atlanta Today

Carolina Favorite to Win Battle at Grant Field; Alexander Predicts Tech Victory.

Carolina will be facing its sixth Southern Conference football team in succession when the Tar Heels meet the Yellow Jackets of Georgia Tech on Grant field, Atlanta, this afternoon, and if history means anything, there will be plenty of action when these two teams, both of whom have taken plenty of jolts this season, lock horns.

Coach Bill Alexander of Tech freely predicts a win for his team in spite of the fact that six men are on the injured list, but Tar Heel supporters who saw the Carolina first stringers run wild in the first quarter against State last Saturday are unwilling to concede the Georgians anything. The Carolina backfield looked better than at any other time this year last week, and if the line functions against Tech as it has all season, the Tornado will have its hands full holding Slusser, Croom, and the rest of Coach Collins' ball carrying stars.

Carolina will probably present the same team that started against State with Walker and Brown, ends; Hodges and Underwood, tackles; McIver and Fysal, guards; Gilbreath, center; Ferebee, quarter, Croom and Slusser, halfbacks; and Chandler, fullback.

Carolina and Tech have each won one game and lost three to Conference opponents this year, and will be fighting to get out of the second division. At present they are tied for seventeenth place with a percentage of .250.

Willis Tennis Victor

The fall intramural tennis tournament was brought to a successful close during the past week. Both the singles and the doubles tournament were won by dormitory entrants over fraternity teams.

In the singles tournament, E. C. Willis, representing Lewis dormitory, won a decisive victory over W. N. Dixon, the Pi Kappa Phi entrant. Willis seemed to have had an easy time throughout the tournament, as he downed every opponent by a safe margin.

The final match in the doubles tournament was just the opposite of the singles tournament. The doubles went the full distance of five sets, and it was only after a long and hard fought battle before the winners could be named. Baley and Huskins, of New Dorms, finally emerged victorious over Minor and Waterhouse, who represented the S. A. E. fraternity.

After the matches, the winners were presented with medals donated by the intramural department.

TROJAN WAR FLAG STOLEN

For the third time in the history of the University of Southern California at Los Angeles' existence, the Trojan war flag has been stolen. The banner was abducted during a football rally before the California game. Apparently no one saw the deed, for, in spite of the frantic efforts of the student body, no clue has been discovered concerning the emblem. The Squires, a sophomore honorary group, entrusted with the care of the war flag, received the blame for allowing the theft to occur.

Sport Is Sideline For Green Wave Football Leader

Jerry Dalrymple, All-American End Last Year, Was "Hobo" Before Entering Tulane.

A "hobo" is leading the undefeated Tulane university Green Wave this fall.

For that's what Jerry Dalrymple, All-American end, admits he is. And he laughs as he tells how he "grew up" from a grimy-handed and blackfaced oiler on an excavating machine to the position of positions at Tulane.

Three years ago he hadn't a thought in his mind of entering college. He was bothered only by the thought of getting a job on a ship and working his way around the world when Dr. Ed McGhee discovered him working in a Hammond, Louisiana, strawberry field. He had worked his way from Little Rock, Arkansas, his home, to Hammond through various jobs—oiler of a machine, laborer in a box factory, night engineer in an ice plant, and general all-around worker. Between towns he hitch-hiked, hoping to get to New Orleans where he wanted to catch on with some steamship.

Dalrymple's physique and sparkling youth impressed Dr. McGhee. He approached the boy with the question: "Ever play football?"

"Some—all-state one year," was the indifferent reply.

It doesn't really matter what the doctor said to that, but late in September, 1927, Jerry Dalrymple, slickened up and with a new job to help along, was registered as a Tulane student.

The rest is not only Tulane history, but Southern Conference football history. Dalrymple developed into one of the greatest players in Tulane's three decades of football competition. He's a great end, a type of player who manages to get into every play. And he's also an inspirational captain for the undefeated Green Wave.

Charity Contests

Southern Conference football teams have full authority to proceed in arranging post-season charity games. Professor C. L. Hare of Auburn, president of the Conference, by the action he took a few days ago, obviated the necessity of a vote by Conference members.

"I took the bull by the horns," Professor Hare declared, "and after announcing that Conference teams might engage in post-season contests for charity, I wired the faculty chairman of my action. Indications point to all Conference members cooperating in the movement."

Carolina was one of the first to notify Professor Hare of its willingness to meet any member of the Southern Conference. The wonder team of 1929, has already offered to reorganize itself and play any team in the south for charity.

Looks as though a lot of summer vacations are going to last through the winter.—Dunbar's Weekly (Phoenix, Ariz.)

"Civilization is under construction," says an editorial. Many of us have noticed that we proceed at our own risk.—Life.

TENNIS TEAM TO PLAY FRESHMEN

Meet Is Scheduled Tuesday as Warm-up for the Virginia Match Thanksgiving.

In preparation for the annual tennis meet with the University of Virginia, the only net match scheduled for this fall, to be staged the day before Thanksgiving, the Carolina 1931-32 edition racquet wielders will "scrimmage" an impromptu freshman net team in a handicap tournament, next Tuesday, November 10.

Bryan Grant, former national clay court tennis champion and four times winner of the southern title; Wilmer Hines, holder of numerous southern titles; and Lenoir Wright, runner-up to the southern champion last summer; all members of last year's national champion Carolina tennis team, will see action in the handicap tournament. Grant will be paired with Harvey Harris, winner of the annual fall freshman tournament, in the feature match of the meet. Hines will play "Ricky" Willis, finalist in the frosh tourney, while Wright will cross racquets with Walter Levetan, Massachusetts state junior champion.

Luke Abels, No. 7 on last year's varsity squad, will be rated No. 4 in the tourney and will oppose Laurence Jones, state high school champion. Dave Morgan and John Dillard will be the varsity's No. 5 and No. 6 men, respectively. The last two men to represent the frosh will be selected Monday afternoon by special elimination play. The following men, who made a good showing in the freshman tourney, are asked to report to Coach Kenfield at the tennis courts Monday afternoon: Paul S. Jones, Robert Sutton, Fred Dossensbach, R. W. Weesner, Robert Lovill, Jimmy Cope, and Fred Shulman.

Fifteen points will be given the freshman player in every game of each singles match, fifteen points to the freshman team in every game of the double tilts. Although the handicap is not a large one, Coach Kenfield said he believed that the number of points allotted the frosh players would be enough to assure some real competition and a number of interesting matches.

"Sonny" Graham, captain of last year's undefeated net team, is not practicing tennis this fall and will not participate in either the handicap tourney or the Virginia meet. Harley Shuford, star freshman player last year, is on the shelf with a sprained ankle and will not see action in the matches Tuesday.

A total of nine matches, six singles and three doubles, will be played. Grant and Wright will play No. 1 doubles for the varsity. Hines and Abels will be rated No. 2, while Morgan and Dillard will compose the third team. Harris and Levetan will be matched against Grant and Wright. The second and third freshman doubles combinations will be determined Monday.

To western eyes it seems strange that China and Japan should fall to fighting over a railroad. In this enlightened country, owning a railroad is the worst thing that could happen to anybody except striking oil.—The New Yorker.

Anyway, a lot of us will soon be on our feet again—our shoes have about worn out.—Thomas-ton Times.

CANDIDATE FOR ALL-SOUTHERN

Ellis Fysal (pictured above) will be a big contender for All-Southern guard this year. Fysal is the only regular left from the 1929 grid team. Carolina's right guard has been playing a bang-up game and together with June Underwood, right tackle, has been a tower of strength in the Tar Heel line.

STEELE, SIGMA CHI MURAL WINNERS

Only Two Games Played Yesterday; Question Marks and Mangum Forfeit.

In a close game in which the extra point was the margin of victory, Manly emerged the winner over Steele, 7 to 6.

Manly scored first when Laws caught a pass thrown by Kaveny early in the first half. The Steele marker came late in the game when Peacock produced the only long run that was made for Steele all afternoon. He crossed the goal line with no one near him. Kaveny was the individual star of the contest, his all-around play being the feature of the winners' attack and while on the defense, he was a bother to the losers throughout the game. For Steele Peacock and Griffin starred.

Sigma Chi Loses
Led by the defensive and offensive play of Odum, Phi Kappa Sigma won a decisive victory over Sigma Chi 19 to 0.

Odum seemed, always in the way of the ball when thrown by the Sigma Chi players, and on many occasions intercepted passes. Twice he got loose for touchdowns on intercepted passes. The winners scored in each of the first three quarters, while Sigma Chi made very few threats during the contest. For the winners, aside from Odum, Wilmer played the best game. Newbold was the biggest opposition offered by the losers.

Two Forfeits
The Best House won their seventh straight game in seven starts when the Question Marks forfeited a game the two teams were scheduled to play yesterday.

Mangum received a forfeit from Lewis this afternoon.

Two Games Postponed
Because of a mixed schedule, the game between Graham and New Dorms and also the game between Phi Sigma Kappa and S. A. E. was postponed until a later date.

FOOTBALL GAME FEATURES SPORT PROGRAM TODAY

Oak Ridge-Frosh Game Starts at 1:00 O'clock; Cross Country Team Meets Duke.

Cross country meets, varsity and freshman, with Duke, a freshman football game with the strong Oak Ridge Cadets, and a grid-graph report of the Carolina-Georgia Tech game in Atlanta will give Carolina sportgoers a heavy program today.

The freshman game with Oak Ridge, which held State's frosh to a slightly lower margin than the Tar Babies, will be played in Kenan stadium at 1:00 o'clock, so as not to conflict with the grid-graph reports from Atlanta, which will begin coming into Memorial hall at 3:00 o'clock. The two cross country runs will finish between the halves of the freshman game, so visitors to Chapel Hill can make all three events for the afternoon.

The Carolina cross country team beat Florida in one preceding meet, but will have tough competition from Duke, which beat Davidson, with Bray, Miles, and Bradsher showing real speed and endurance. Groover is still out with a bad foot, but Carolina can run Mark Jones and Bob Hubbard, who tied for first against Florida; Captain Clarence Jensen and McRae, who tied for third; and Sullivan, who was fifth, with the other two men to be picked from the ranks of Cordle, Pratt, and Henson.

Another good meet is expected between the Carolina frosh, who finished seven men ahead of the nearest Guilford freshman in their last meet, and Duke's frosh, who beat Davidson's first-year team easily. Williamson, cake race winner, Waldrop, Haywood, Curlee, Eskola, Litten, and Goldman will probably carry Tar Baby colors.

The Tar Baby gridders will be playing their second game of the year, and will be striving for a comeback. State's Wolfcubs beat them 25-6, but it was the Tar Babies' first game, and the coaches used sixty players in an effort to get a line on their strength. Schaffer, Behringer, Ogburn, Jackson, and Martin

HALF SOLES
GOOD	BETTER	BEST
65c	75c	$1.00
Lacock's Shoe Shop

Your Fellow Students Wear Hose
Take orders for their requirements in Hosiery. Make that extra cash you need this season. Wonderful opportunity. Write
Fashion Hosiery Company
Box 715, High Point, N. C.

Have Your Printing Done at
The Orange Printshop
If You Want the Best in Service and Quality
Phone 3781

GRID-GRAPH CAROLINA vs. GEORGIA TECH
Play by Play Account Direct From Field in Atlanta
Admission 25c
MEMORIAL HALL 3:00 P. M.
The Grid-Graph Will Follow the Freshman Game