

COLLINS PATCHES LINE FOR GAME WITH WILDCATS

Emmett Strickland Shifted to Fill Shoes of Underwood; Varsity Shows Up Well.

Concluding their heavy work for Saturday's home game with Davidson with another scrimmage yesterday, the Tar Heels of Carolina stood last night to risk their unblemished Big Five slate in an important state titular game without the services of a regular tackle and one of their brightest line stars, June Underwood.

Trainer Chuck Quinlan said yesterday that Underwood's shoulder hadn't responded to treatment, that the big boy might possibly be used in a pinch, but that he probably wouldn't last but a few minutes, and then would blast his chances to play against Duke the next week.

His passing leaves the Tar Heels "on the spot" so to speak. Davidson has bowled aside all opposition since a disastrous opening game, and the Cats, always tough for Carolina, literally coasted through their 14-7 win over Citadel last week, saving all their strength for Carolina. Added to all this, Younger's Presbyterians are reported to be in top shape, and ready to shoot their bolt in an effort to upset the struggling and tired Tar Heels as they did last year 7-6.

An upset might be quite possible, but Carolina's showing in scrimmage yesterday indicated the Cats couldn't hope to turn the trick except after a great fight. Emmett Strickland, 77-inch, 195-pound sophomore was shifted from left to right tackle and going great, the others of the Tar Heel varsity were playing the harder for the knowledge that they're in the hole for the Davidson game, and the Blue and White looked to have lost none of its strength and power.

Strickland will hardly be expected to play the same steady and effective ball against Davidson that the more experienced and polished Underwood would have played, but it remains that the Tar Heels' spirit was at a peak in the last scrimmage yesterday, and also that the Tar Heels were wallowing reserve clubs all over the field when they had the offense and stopping reserve threats cold when they were on the defense.

The regular backfield of Ferebee, Croom, Slusser and Chandler, that has shown so much punch in the State and Tech game, and the rest of the line will be intact, and the wheel-horse Slusser will be in top shape to try to duplicate his long, sensational runs of the last two weeks.

Foreign Hopes High

Japanese Entries Strong in Broad Jump; Olympic Stadium at Los Angeles Is Completed.

With the completion of the Olympic stadium at Los Angeles American track and field enthusiasts find themselves absorbed in news of foreign hopes for the games. Disquieting news came from Tokyo the other day. United States entrants in the broad jump and in the hop, step and jump will have to be at the very top of their form if they are to triumph in the Olympic games at Los Angeles next year.

Chuhei Nambu became the second broad jumper to surpass twenty-six feet in setting a new world's record for the event in the Japanese national meet. Nambu bettered the mark made by Sylvio Cator of Haiti by hurling himself through the air a distance of 26 feet 8 1/2 inches.

COLLEGIANA

Columbia's varsity football team contains quite a few pugilists it seems. After the Columbia Spectator had published an editorial branding college football as a "semi-professional racket" and charging that members of the team had received money from the coaching staff, Captain Hewitt, MacDuffie, and Weinstock raided the office of the Spectator and threatened physical violence to Editor Harris and his two associates if another article concerning the football team is published.

Wonder what will happen if Captain Hewitt stars in a game, or maybe he doesn't like publicity.

"Buster" Mott's 97-yard run for a touchdown against N. Y. U. last Saturday is the longest run of the season so far, and probably the longest in the history of the New York stadium. A flying wedge formation paved the way for his remarkable sprint.

New York university and Fordham have definitely agreed to participate in a game for the benefit of charity. Neither have as yet selected opponents.

Initiating what is believed to be the first intramural activity of its kind, the intramural department of the University of Illinois will conduct a golf tournament in which both men and women may take part.

Three bankers, two engineers, two physicians, a rancher, a legislator, a lawyer, an author, and a jurist will gather around the White House table next Thursday night to talk things over with President Hoover. The gathering is a reunion of the 1894 football team of Leland Stanford, which coached by Walter Camp, trounced its traditional rival, California, and then, in one of the first big inter-sectional games, defeated the University of Chicago when defeating Alonzo Stagg's teams was a real feat. The man sitting at the head of that table handled the finances of the team, being to busy working his way through school to play.

The first charity football game between fraternities ever to be played at the University of Ohio will take place Saturday morning when Beta Theta Pi meets Phi Kappa Tau.

Football rule makers in their session in New York next month are certain to consider the abolishment of the "V" formation on kick-offs and may ban it altogether. This play, barred in scrimmage is permissible on the kick-off under the present rules. The reason given is the element of danger in its use. This "flying wedge" formation was one of the contributing causes in the death of Cadet Sherman of Army recently.

first Olympic championship by carrying off the laurels in the hop, step and jump, set a new universal record in his specialty. The new record is 51 feet 1 1/4 inches. A. W. Winter of Australia held the previous record. Not so long ago running broad jumps of more than 25 feet were comparatively infrequent, but such has been the advance in the sport that Hamm, Gourdin, Hubbard, Martin, Boyle, Barber, Gorden and Hill are now counted among those who have surpassed this figure, in addition to the two 26-foot jumpers Nambu and Cator.

WILDCAT COACH AND STAR

Pictured above are "Monk" Younger, veteran Davidson head coach, and Charlie Pearce, star halfback who does the punting for the Wildcats. Pearce has averaged 38.3 yards a try in Davidson's last two games. Furthermore, he is adept at placing his punts, and sending them out of bounds at advantageous points for Davidson.

SOUTHERN CROSS COUNTRY TEAMS WILL MEET HERE

Hill and Dale Squad Out to Return Crown to Carolina; Last Year's Winners Weak.

The eighth annual Southern Conference cross country run, November 21, which will be held in Chapel Hill for the third consecutive year, promises some very keen competition. V. M. I. winner of the championship last year will be defending its laurels under a severe handicap, having lost three members of its victorious team by graduation. V. P. I. and Florida, who finished second and third respectively behind V. M. I. will be strong contenders for the team trophy as their last year's teams are practically intact. Although the Florida harriers were decisively beaten by Carolina early in the season their formidableness should not be underestimated as their preparation was not equal to that of the Tar Heels.

The Carolina hill-and-dalers show indications that they will be fighting to regain the championship which was lost to V. M. I. Captain Jenson and Bob Hubbard have already beaten the time made by Smith, V. M. I. star, in winning the grueling race last year; and as the other men on the squad are improving rapidly the team may start another string of Conference championships. Until last year Carolina had won four consecutive Southern Conference cross-country meets, starting in 1926 at Athens, Georgia. Galen Elliott former Tar Heel distance star and holder of the University record in the mile run at 4:21.3, led the Carolina harriers to an overwhelming victory the following year at Chapel Hill. At Atlanta in 1928, Elliott repeated his achievement and the wearers of the Blue and White, sweeping aside all opposition, annexed their third straight Conference championship. Back at the Hill the next year the Tar Heels completed their string of triumphs by breasting the tape ahead of all opposition. Last year they won fourth position.

The outstanding men on basis of runs to date who are expected to compete in the Conference meet are: Jenson and Hubbard, Carolina; Bray and Miles, Duke; Ayers and Smith, Florida; Murphy and Campbell, Georgia Tech; Lauche and Clary, Virginia; J. Miles, V. P. I.; Plant, Auburn; Stout, Tenn.; Baumgardner, V. M. I., and Bernhardt, Georgia.

ZETA PSI WINS ITS SIXTH GAME 7 TO 0

K. A. Defeated by Lone Marker Scored in the Final Quarter of the Contest.

Scoring the only marker of the game during the last quarter, Zeta Psi won over Kappa Alpha 7 to 0. It was the last game of the season for Zeta Psi and was the sixth straight win.

Whitehead led both the defensive and offensive play of the winning team, he seemed to be the main cog in every play his team made, and he was equally good on the defense. Barber also starred for the winners, while McGill and Phipps were best for the losers.

Ruffin Wins

Making one score, while holding the opposition scoreless, Ruffin managed to eke out a narrow victory over Aycock 6 to 0. Mitchell led the attack for Ruffin while Wright seemed best on the defense. For Aycock Cox and Thompson starred both on the defense and offense.

Z. B. T. Loses

In a game which was handicapped because only enough men were present to make up teams, Kappa Sigma took a slow game from Z. B. T. 13 to 0. For the winners Eagles and Staples showed the best form, while Meyer and Strauss were best for the losers.

T. E. P. Wins Easy Game

Led by the running of Hirsch, T. E. P. ran wild in defeating Phi Alpha 26 to 6. Hirsch seemed always a constant ground gainer whenever the ball was placed in his hands. Cohen also starred for the winners, while Bessen's blocking and rushing of passers was the main opposition offered by the losers.

Few Forfeits

Phi Gamma Delta won its seventh game of the year when Sigma Phi Sigma forfeited to it. In the second forfeit of the day Lambda Chi Alpha won over Theta Chi.

SLUSSER CREEPS TO WITHIN NINE POINTS OF LEAD

While Kid Brewer was being held to one point by the Kentucky Wildcats, Rip Slusser was scoring his seventh touchdown of the year and climbing to within nine points of the Blue Devils' leading Big Five scorer. By running 85-yards against Georgia Tech for Carolina's first touchdown Saturday, Slusser ran his season's total to 42 points.

Skinny Pearce of Davidson and Dunc Wilson of Wake Forest who were tied with McQueen of Davidson and Cumiskey of State for third place last week, each added a touchdown to run their totals to 18 and continue their tie for third place. McQueen and Cumiskey both failed to score, and were forced to share fourth place honors with Bob Greason of State and Don King of Davidson.

Greason, an end, recovered a fumble behind the goal line for the second time this year to give the Wolfpack a 6-0 win over Mississippi A. & M., and King scored a touchdown and added two extra points against Citadel, which, added to four points after touchdown previously scored, gave him a total of 12 for the season.

Four men scored for the first time this year Saturday. Carolina furnished two in Stuart Chandler and Tom White, while Duke and Wake Forest each contributed another. Chandler tallied a touchdown and extra point, and White, Harton of Duke, and Brogden of Wake Forest each scored a six-pointer. Harton, a Duke lineman, intercepted a Kentucky pass and ran 50 yards to furnish the Blue Devils' margin of victory over the Wildcats, and Brogden raced 20 yards with a pass to score Wake Forest's first touchdown against Presbyterian college.

Saturday was a big day for North Carolina teams, four victories and a tie being the day's record. Carolina was held to a deadlock by Georgia Tech, but Wake Forest won over Presbyterian for the first time in six years by a score of 12-0, and Davidson took the measure of the Citadel 14-7 with Pearce and King leading the way.

It was up to State and Duke, however, to gain the biggest honors. The Wolfpack turned in its first Southern Conference win of the season when Stroupe blocked a Mississippi Aggie punt, and Greason fell on it over the goal line, and Duke nosed out the Wildcats of Kentucky 7-0 when Harton scored on an intercepted pass.

FALL WRESTLING TOURNAMENT TO OPEN WEDNESDAY

Notices for the annual intramural wrestling tournament, which will begin on November 18, have been sent to the dormitory and fraternity managers. The schedule is being arranged so that the tournament will be over before Thanksgiving in order to keep it from conflicting with the boxing tourney which takes place later in this quarter.

Everyone is eligible to enter the tournament except those that have taken part in a varsity or freshman wrestling match. Before being fully entered, however, each person must have at least five regular workouts under the supervision of the wrestling coaches. The coaches will be at the Tin Can each afternoon, and entrants in the tournament will find the coaches willing to assist them in preparing for the matches.

The tournament will be divided into weight classes, so that no one will have to fight a bigger man than himself. All points scored by contestants will be credited toward the Grail Cup, and also will be credited to the team which they represent. In addition to this, the intramural department is giving gold medals to the winners in each weight division.

Anyone interested in taking part in the tournament should see the manager of his dormitory or fraternity at once.

They couldn't keep him away from that gorgeous Cuban lass. Once he had held the black-eyed Senorita in his arms, he could never forget her!
