

EXCELL ROZZELLE TRANSFERRED TO ANOTHER CHURCH

Methodist Pastor Has Occupied
Pulpit for Four Years;
Goes to Lenoir.

According to appointments made by Bishop Edwin Mouzon at the meeting of the western conference of the Methodist Episcopal church at Asheville, Sunday, Reverend C. Excell Rozzelle, pastor of the University Methodist church for the past four years, has received the pastorate of the Methodist church at Lenoir. Reverend Albea Godbold, formerly minister at Greensboro, will probably take charge of the church here.

Educated at Trinity

Rozzelle came to the University church from the First Methodist church at Charlotte. He was educated at Trinity college and received his first charge of the Methodist conference after graduate work at Emory university. Following an attack of tuberculosis, he taught school in Mount Holly, and then re-entered the ministry at Charlotte. He will leave next week for his duties in Lenoir.

Reverend Albea Godbold, who is expected to be appointed to the University church when the eastern conference of the church meets today, is now pastor at Greenville. A Mississippian by birth, he has been a member of the Texas conference.

In regard to his departure, Reverend Rozzelle said, "I regret exceedingly to leave Chapel Hill, the University, and my many friends. I consider my four years here the most delightful of my life."

REST OF TRAVEL MOVIE WILL BE SHOWN TONIGHT

Chemistry Department Will Continue "Through Oil Lands of Europe and Africa."

Tonight at 7:30 in Venable hall, the picture which was begun last Wednesday, "Through Oil Lands of Europe and Africa," will be concluded. The scenes in this picture are laid, for the most part, in Greece and Africa. The first reels of the picture showed interesting shots of the Acropolis at Athens and life in Greece. This week the scenes are in Africa. Pictures of Egypt are shown including the tombs of the caliphs, the women of Egypt spinning and weaving silk, the Sahara desert, the Sphinx, and an Egyptian wedding procession. Pictures of the valley of Kings and the entrance to King Tut-ank-amen's tomb will be shown. Different oil wells and the means of transporting the oil in parts of Africa will make up the scientific part of the picture.

There will be no showing on the Wednesday night before Thanksgiving, but miscellaneous films will be shown December 2. There will be one reel on the glass industry, one on the oxygen industry, a reel showing the stages of development in handwriting, and a reel that was exhibited last year and is returned because of its popularity. The name of this reel is "The Man at the Throttle." As might be discerned from the title, this is a railroad picture.

C. Excell Rozzelle

Rev. C. E. Rozzelle, pastor of the local Methodist church for four years, has been transferred to the Lenoir church.

MUSIC INSTITUTE OFFERS CONCERT THIS AFTERNOON

Laboratory Program, First of Its Kind, Will Be Given By Stringfield

The Institute of Folk Music, the first of its kind in the country, is planning in the course of the year to give five laboratory concerts. The first of these concerts is being offered this afternoon at 4:00 in the Hill music auditorium.

A laboratory concert consists of short programs of well known selections and other numbers which will be judged by the institute. As far as record goes this is the first laboratory concert ever offered.

Lamar Stringfield has charge of the work and those selections which are considered worthy will receive recommendation for publication. The object is to give an individuality music to American composers by encouraging the use of folk music as a basis of art music.

Graham Will Attend Service in Memory Of Edwin Alderman

President Frank P. Graham, Dr. M. C. S. Noble, and Dr. Archibald Henderson left Chapel Hill by motor yesterday en route to the University of Virginia to attend the exercises today, commemorating the life of Dr. Edwin A. Alderman who was the first president of that university. The speaker for the exercises will be John Huston Finley, editor of the New York Times.

Drive Organized

Community Club Will Begin Annual Sale of Christmas Seals December 1.

The members of the community club of Chapel Hill have announced that a canvass of the town for the sale of Christmas seals will begin the first of next month and continue through Christmas.

The money collected from these seals goes partly for preventing the disease locally and part goes to the state to help maintain sanitoriums, public nurses, and clinics for the examination and treatment of tuberculosis patients.

Infirmary List

R. E. Parks, Mary Bunn, Joe Hackett, and Edna Stroude were patients in the University infirmary yesterday.

Harvard Dean Foresees Decline Of College Fraternity System

Thinks Majority of American Universities Will Discontinue Greek Letter Organizations and Follow Present House Plan Used at Harvard.

That the fraternity system will soon be replaced in the majority of colleges by a house system similar to that in use at Harvard university, was the belief of Dr. George Chase in an interview with the Daily Tar Heel. Dr. Chase qualified his statement by saying that those institutions in which fraternities were functioning properly and whose enrollment remained in three digits would be slow in establishing this house plan.

House Plan

In describing the plan, the Harvard graduate school dean stated that each dormitory was equipped with its own dining room which had a capacity of approximately 250, sufficient to accommodate all the dormitory occupants. Each house was supervised by a proctor who had complete charge of actions of his dormitory students, and who was responsible to a faculty committee for keeping order in his house. Likewise he acted as somewhat of an advisor to the students in regard to their courses and academic work.

"Because of the contacts which students are able to make with each other when all are eating together," the dean continued, "this house plan has the same social advantages as the fraternity houses, yet at the same time is considerably cheaper."

Advantages

Dr. Chase was of the opinion that the greatest advantage of this house plan was that it divided the larger institutions into several smaller ones, thus combining all better points of the smaller colleges with those of larger schools. It was his point that the only important advantage of a small college was the close associations formed among the students. "This advantage is likewise secured in larger institutions by this house plan," he stated further.

"The house plan has not long been used at Harvard, but during the short time of its existence there it has shown itself much more suitable for larger institutions than the fraternity system," he concluded.

CHANGES WILL BE MADE IN ANNUAL

Holmes Davis, editor of the Yachety Yack, has announced that several changes will be made in this year's issue of the annual. The new book will revert to the standard size, which was used in 1930, instead of the enlarged form which was used last year. Each page will be inclosed with a border. Fraternity men will have individual pictures in the annual, rather than a group picture of the chapter.

Pictures of seniors and juniors have been coming in slowly, and it is urged that they be sent in as soon as possible. The deadline for all senior pictures is December 15, and for juniors, December 1. Pictures that have not been received by these dates will be omitted from this issue. Fraternity men are asked to have their pictures taken and turned in to the Yachety Yack office by January 15.

English Composition Removals Announced

The fall examinations for the removal of conditions on English composition will be given, Friday, December 4, at 4:00 p.m. in 201 Murphey. Students who desire to remove their conditions by this examination should be present at that time or should make special arrangements with the department for examinations at some other time.

Individual notices will not be sent out to persons having conditions this fall. One part of the examination will be a theme prepared in advance on subjects provided by the English department. Those desiring to take the examination can get a list of approved topics from the English department office, Saunders, 104.

Sigma Nu Installation

The Duke chapter of Sigma Nu will have their installation banquet Saturday following the Carolina-Duke game. They will have the North Carolina chapter as their guests.

Serge Jaroff

Serge Jaroff is the leader of the Don Cossack Russian male chorus which appears tonight in Memorial hall as the second number of the entertainment series.

CAMPAIGN TALKS GIVEN BY EIGHT FROSH NOMINEES

Blount, Gardner, Plaster, H. Williamson, Drane, Bolton, E. Williamson, Cox Speak.

Eight candidates for freshman offices opened their political campaigns yesterday in assembly. Mayne Albright, acting as chairman, introduced each speaker who gave a short two minute talk.

In the opening address given by Ralph Gardner, a nominee for the freshman presidency, an amusing anecdote was told about the word "propaganda." Gardner concluded his address by stating he wished to see his campaign as free from propaganda as possible. The other candidate for president, Bob Blount, stated that the ideal of the freshman class should be individual loyalty on the part of each member.

The vice-president nominee spoke next, Carl Plaster urging the freshmen to vote for the best qualified men, while Harry Williamson expressed the hope that a spirit of enthusiasm and friendship might be carried out through his election.

Bob Drane, secretary nominee, in his address reviewed briefly the platform of his party. His opponent, Bob Bolton, pledged his support to the best interests of his class if elected.

Stating that the depression would make the treasury job position very appropriate for the winner, Albert Cox, Jr., and Ed Williamson concluded the freshman meeting.

Radio Speeches Upon Campus Activities Will Not Be Made Until Spring Quarter.

The fifteen minute radio talks, which were given last year from WPTF in Raleigh, will not be continued this year until the spring quarter.

These talks were made by student leaders to inform the public about the life on the University campus, various activities in the Y. M. C. A., the student government, the publications and other organizations conducted by members of the student body.

Delta Tau Delta Banquet

The Duke chapter of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity will be hosts to the North Carolina chapter at a banquet, Saturday following the Carolina-Duke game.

COSSACK CHORUS WILL APPEAR IN CONCERT TONIGHT

Russian Male Organization Is Brought to Campus by Student Entertainment Committee.

Tonight at 8:30 in Memorial hall, the Don Cossack male chorus led by Serge Jaroff will render many Russian songs. The thirty-six men in this chorus all served in the imperial army of Russia. When this company was captured and imprisoned, in the Balkans, they began singing together to keep up their spirits. Upon their release they formed a choir for the Russian Orthodox church in Bulgaria.

In 1923 they began a series of concerts in Vienna, and their rise from then on was momentous. They have given concerts in most of the capitals of Europe and have sung to capacity crowds in Berlin, Paris, and London. Although their tours have included the continent, the British Isles, and Australia, this is their first tour of America.

"Their interpretations are things of surpassing beauty and skill," comments the New York World-Telegram of their concert at Carnegie hall, where they began their second season in America.

The group travels on Nansen passports, issued by the League of Nations to persons claiming no nationality. These sons of the steppes refuse to claim Russia in her present state as their country.

The chorus tonight is giving a program including folk songs, melancholy songs from the Siberian Taiga, joyful songs from the Ukraine, and Kuban songs of heroes and their deeds.

MANGET SPEAKS TO CABINETS ON VOLUNTEER WORK

Freshman Friendship Council Will Sponsor "Speak Week" On Campus Soon.

Elizabeth Manget, president of the state volunteer student association, and a student at Duke university, spoke to each of the Y cabinets at their meeting Monday evening, on the quadrennial convention of student volunteers which convenes in Buffalo in December.

To be intelligent the speaker stated, citizens of the earth necessarily have to exchange ideas. In the convention delegates will be divided into small groups, with some known authority to direct discussion. The feature of the entire conference will be a pageant depicting the struggle of the world against destructive forces.

President James appointed two members of the junior-senior cabinet, Jim Kenan and Bill McKee, to serve on the state cabinet which meets every other month, and will convene at Duke next month for their second meeting of the year.

At the meeting of the freshman friendship council a favorable vote was given to support a "Speak Week" on the campus in order that a permanent spirit of friendliness may be inspired among Carolina students. Jack Pool, president of the council selected Blucher Ehringhaus and Ed Martin to serve on a committee to plan for such a week.

Reporters Note

The following reporters are suspended from the Daily Tar Heel staff unless they report to Bill McKee this afternoon at 2:00 with their notebooks for corrections: Fathman, Hanks, Rosenthal, and Ivey.
