

Boxing Tourney Closes With Seven Champions Crowned; Two Knockouts

Intramural Fighters Show Plenty of Scrap to Keep 600 Fans on Edge.

MANY DECISIONS CLOSE

The annual intramural boxing tournament was brought to a colorful close Wednesday night before a crowd of more than 600 fight fans, who, on many occasions after they had broken into lusty cheers, were asked by the referee to be quiet. All the fighters put up a scrappy battle and as a result many decisions were close.

The finals opened with two fast-stepping bantam-weights. Pete Ivey of Mangum, using a hard left blow and a one, two punch to good advantage, was on the offense most of the fight, while his opponent Bob Bush, although able to defend himself in a good manner, was unable to get in many hard punches. Ivey held only a slight advantage, however, during the first two rounds, but in the third he drove his opponent into the ropes and was given a technical knockout after fifty seconds of the round had passed.

The featherweight division followed with Baxter Mowery of Best House taking a close decision from John Crawford an independent after an extra round had to be fought. Both men were wild and frequently swung long haymakers. The first three rounds were fast with both on even terms, but in the fourth Mowery rushed in fast and landed a haymaker which gave Crawford a shaking. After this, both looked tired and the round ended with the battlers clinched.

Harley Shuford, S. A. E. entrant punched out a three-round decision over Wardlaw of Beta in the lightweight class. Both men were good boxers and drove hard punches in each other's faces in rapid succession during the first two rounds. During the third the winner took the offense and held the advantage throughout the round.

In the welterweight division, Lee Berke representing Lewis was successful in dethroning Bill Battley of Delta Sigma Phi, was last year's winner. Battley packed a terrific punch in his left and Berke had an equally hard blow in his right. As a result both men fought in a cautious manner and stayed well away from each other. Berke was a little faster on his feet than the loser, and held a slight advantage throughout the fight.

The best fight of the night was that in which Sam Gidinansky, Lewis entry, won over Louis Finklestein of Everett in the middleweight title match. Neither contestant thought about protection and rushed each other around the ring shooting rights and lefts into the other's face and body all the first round and most of the second. Just before the second round ended the winner drove his opponent into the ropes and then to the floor. In the third the winner started where he left off and was given a technical knockout before the round was forty-five seconds old.

In the light heavyweight class George Barclay of Phi Gam received a decision over Simp Efland, Best House man. Barclay, carrying a hard punch in both fists, held a slight edge in every round, but because of the loser's scrappy fight and fast finish he received a long cheer from the stands.

June Underwood, star football player, representing Best House, won a decision by a large margin over Cerruths of Graham in the heavyweight department. The winner looked like

SEVENTEEN GAME CARD FOR STATE

North Carolina State's basketball team will open their regular season with Atlantic Christian college, December 18, at Raleigh, it was announced by Dr. R. R. Sermon, athletic director at State.

This is the only regular game scheduled before Christmas, although some practice contests have been arranged with Y. M. C. A. quintets of Charlotte and Greensboro.

Seventeen matches have already been scheduled with a few more still pending. The schedule follows:

- Dec. 18—Atlantic Christian college at Raleigh.
- Jan. 8—William and Mary at Raleigh.
- Jan. 13—Furman at Raleigh.
- Jan. 16—V. P. I. at Raleigh.
- Jan. 19—Wake Forest at Raleigh.
- Jan. 23—Duke at Durham.
- Jan. 26—North Carolina at Raleigh.
- Feb. 1—V. M. I. at Lexington, Virginia.
- Feb. 2—Washington and Lee at Lexington, Virginia.
- Feb. 3—Virginia at Charlottesville, Virginia.
- Feb. 4—V. P. I. at Blacksburg, Virginia.
- Feb. 10—Davidson at Raleigh.
- Feb. 13—Wake Forest at Raleigh.
- Feb. 16—Duke at Raleigh.
- Feb. 19—Washington and Lee at Raleigh.
- Feb. 20—V. M. I. at Raleigh.
- Feb. 23—North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

HICKMAN AND McEVER TO PLAY FOR CHARITY

Two of Tennessee's football stars, Herbert Hickman, guard, and Gene McEver, halfback, will be members of the east squad to play the west in the annual benefit game for the Shriner's hospital for crippled children at San Francisco New Year's Day.

Their acceptances were received by Andy Kerr, Colgate coach, who is assembling the east eleven. Kerr rates Hickman as the best guard he has seen since Jack Cannon of Notre Dame. McEver, he said is one of the season's finest backfield men.

Along with the pair, Art Schiebel, 215-pound Colgate, tackle, also joined Kerr's team.

Yale Has 150 Pound Team

Twenty-five members of Yale university's 150 pound football squad received minor letters this year. This is the third year of competition for the light squad, which has proved quite successful, giving the players too light to make the varsity a chance to play intercollegiate football. The team played Harvard and Princeton this year.

JUNIORS AND SENIORS IN EDUCATION SCHOOL

Juniors and seniors in the school of education are especially urged to register Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of next week as the first and second year men have the remainder of the week set aside as the period during which time they shall register.

a wild beast as he always came toward his opponent in a crouched manner with both fists working. It was Underwood's fight throughout with Cerruths forced to retreat on the defense most of the time.

Best House was named team winner as a result of two wins and a runner-up position in the finals.

TAR HEEL TRACK TEAM SCHEDULES TEN MEET CARD

Two Intersectional Meets With Navy and Penn State Head Spring Program.

With the announcement of the Carolina spring track schedule, the Tar Heel runners face one of the most difficult seasons of recent years. The campaign opens April 2 at Chapel Hill, with the Georgia Tech contingent offering the opposition. One week later the track team entrains for Atlanta to participate in the Tech relays.

April 16, the representatives of Carolina will meet the Navy, at Annapolis. The Navy is a newcomer on the Tar Heel schedule this year, but the teams met in a triangular meet with Maryland in 1925, at the Academy. The track team of the University of Virginia will entertain the Tar Heels at Charlottesville on the 18, two days after the meet with the Tars. The Cavaliers have a formidable outfit, finishing second in the Southern Conference at Birmingham last spring, and being strengthened by some promising freshmen.

N. C. State's aggregation will visit the Hill April 23, and on the 28, the Duke track team will act as hosts to the Carolina forces. The Penn relays, April 30, at Philadelphia, which attracts the outstanding track and field men of the country, is the next engagement on the busy schedule of the Tar Heels.

Last spring Brody Arnold and Raymond Ruble participated in the pole vault at the Penn classic and gave a good account of themselves. Ruble received second prize in his specialty while Arnold was nosed out of the money.

May 7, the state championships will bring the state schools together. This meet formerly took place in Greensboro but this year may be run off at Chapel Hill. Penn State travels to the Hill on May 14th and bodes no good to the Carolina trackmen. Last season the Lions bested the U. N. C. team by a narrow margin, being one of the two teams to accomplish that feat in the past decade. In this meet Minor Barkley, Carolina runner, rose to the heights and conquered Rikers, I. C. A. A. A. two-mile champion, by two yards in the mile run.

The Southern Conference meet is scheduled to be run off May 21 and 22. The place will be decided upon at the conference meeting December 18 at New Orleans. The Conference Indoor Games will be held in Chapel Hill March 5.

Carolina won the conference championship in 1930, after being runners-up the year before. Last spring the team brought up fourth in the team standings, which was the poorest showing in recent years. The conference indoor games went to the Blue and White by a wide margin and next season the Carolina tracksters will be trying to re-establish their lost prestige in the outdoor competition.

- The 1932 track schedule:
- April 2—Georgia Tech at Chapel Hill.
 - April 9—Tech Relays at Atlanta.
 - April 16—Navy at Annapolis.
 - April 18—Virginia at Charlottesville.
 - April 23—N. C. State at Chapel Hill.
 - April 28—Duke at Durham.
 - April 30—Penn Relays at Philadelphia.
 - May 7—N. C. State Championship, possibly at Chapel Hill.
 - May 14—Penn State at Chapel Hill.
 - May 20-21—Southern Conference, to be decided.

GRIMES GOES TO WRIGLEY'S TEAM

Hero of World Series Traded for Hack Wilson and Bud Teachout.

The hot stove league swung into action Wednesday when rumors of a trade between the world champion St. Louis Cardinals and the Chicago Cubs became a reality.

The baseball world was startled by the news that Burleigh Grimes, veteran spit-ball hurler, had been traded to the Wrigley forces for Hack Wilson, Chicago's bad boy, and Bud Teachout, a young lefthander, in a straight deal in which no cash was involved.

In sending Wilson "up the river," Manager Hornsby fulfilled the ultimatum of his boss, William Wrigley, that "Wilson must go." As soon as the pudgy outfielder became the property of the Red Birds, he was placed on the market by Owner Sam Breadon in an effort to negotiate a trade with either Brooklyn or Cincinnati.

Grimes will be serving his seventh major league team, having seen service with Brooklyn, New York, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Chicago in the National League and Detroit in the junior circuit.

DUKE FACES HARD COURT SCHEDULE

With only one regular and two subs back from last year's squad, Duke basketball prospects were not overly bright as the Blue Devils started cage practice in earnest Monday. The other nineteen candidates are men with no varsity experience.

Johnny Shaw, guard, is the lone regular from last year who is back. George Rogers and Joe Croson have finished three years of playing, Don Robertshaw and Bert Hill were knocked off the list by scholastic regulations, and Ted Capelli and Nels Colley did not return to school.

The Devils face a schedule of twenty-two games, leaving on a three-game northern trip in little over a week. Eleven Southern Conference games are also scheduled, the team closing with Maryland on February 20 in Durham.

S. A. E. WILL PLAY AYCOCK FOR TITLE

Teams Will Meet in Championship Playoff This Afternoon at 4:00 O'clock.

S. A. E. yesterday won the right to play Aycock in the finals of the ping-pong tourney being held in the game room of Graham Memorial by virtue of its victories over Pi K. A. and Sigma Nu.

Bryan Grant of S. A. E. proved himself master of R. D. MacMillan of Pi K. A. by taking the first match of the afternoon 6-2. In the second match, however, Gwyn Harper found the going more difficult, but defeated Bob Woerner 6-3. This bout was one of the best that has been played in the tournament.

The Sigma Nu-S. A. E. hook-up proved to be a regular nip and tuck battle. Harper played excellent ping-pong to win from Lenoir Wright 6-1. Bryan Grant almost staged a comeback in his tussle with Morris Long, but finally took the set, 6-4.

The final match between Harper and Long was exciting to witness, since it decided which team was to go to the finals. Both contestants played almost perfectly, with neither gaining an advantage in the early games. With the count 5-3 in his favor, Harper took the last game to clinch the match.

S. A. E. will meet Aycock this afternoon at 4:00 to decide the title.

CAROLINA BOXERS SCHEDULE HEAVY MEETS FOR 1932

Matches With Penn State, Virginia, and Navy Feature Card Arranged.

An exceptional boxing schedule for 1932 has been arranged for the Tar Heel ringmen. Some of the strongest teams of the Southern Conference, and two of the highest raters in the east, will come into contact with the University fighters.

Duke will come to Chapel Hill January 19 to attempt to get revenge for the beating they took last year. V. P. I. and V. M. I., both beaten last season by the score of 6-1, will also attempt to retaliate. The Virginia clash, which last year attracted 4,000 people, is looked forward to with greatest interest, for although they were defeated last year, they have developed a great team and will give good competition. Penn State, the only team to defeat the Tar Heels last year, and recognized as one of the leaders in the east, will journey in Chapel Hill, February 13. Navy, whose scrappers have always had the reputation of being great fighters, will be last on the schedule before the Southern Conference, and will furnish the Carolina ringmen with sufficient opposition. The Southern Conference classic will be decided at the Conference meeting this month.

Church Social Tonight

A church social will be given tonight at 7:30 by the Baptist church of Chapel Hill. All students are especially invited to be present for an exceptional program has been planned by the committee.
