

Carolina Quint To Open Big Five Season Tonight

Blue and White Quint to Make Big Five Debut Tonight With Wildcats in Charlotte.

Carolina's flying five will make its Big Five debut of the 1932 season tonight in Charlotte with the Davidson Wildcats as their first foe.

In their opening games the Tar Heels have displayed a fast, smooth, scoring combination that, although one regular was on the bench with injuries, came through to take decisive victories over Guilford and the Raleigh Y.

With McCachren, captain and star guard of last year's state championship freshman, quint, back in shape the Tar Heels will present their full strength for the first time this season, while the Wildcats are still in an experimental condition.

Coach Red Laird still has to select a first string combination from the fifteen players on the Davidson squad. In Captain Mathis and Wagner, Coach Laird has two stellar guards, but thus far his forwards and center have been giving trouble. His best combination thus far shows Martin and Peabody or Holland, forwards; Bernard, center; and Captain Mathis and Wagner, guards. And in all probability this will be his starting quintet.

The game, which will be played on the Central High court in Charlotte, will give the Queen City fans a chance to see two home town boys in action, Captain Alexander and McCachren both hailing from Charlotte.

Tonight's game will be eagerly watched by fans of the state in an effort to get a line on the Big Five championship chances of the Tar Heels, proclaimed by many as the dark horses of the state loop. With three regulars back and Coach Shepard inaugurating a new system, doubt has been expressed as to the probability of the Tar Heels finishing in the select circle, but after Wednesday night's exhibition by Weathers, who has one of the best eyes for the basket seen in this section in many a day, the Blue and White quint is conceded an excellent chance to go places.

The probable line-up for Carolina will be Weathers and Hines, forwards; Edwards, center; and Captain Alexander and McCachren, guards; Chandler, Henry, Barber, Jones, Lineberger, Brandt, Collet, and Phipps are slated to see action before the game is over.

For Davidson the starting five will probably be Martin and Peabody, forwards; Bernard, center; Captain Mathis and Wagner, guards.

With Contemporaries

(Continued from page two) titles as they are today. According to all the theories upon which this narrowly utilitarian conception of education is based, the world should be overflowing with prosperity. Yet it is overflowing with nothing of the kind. The reason is not far to seek. A "useful" education, taken by itself, may be almost useless.

The unlimited production of material goods is only one factor in a satisfactory system of society. Knowledge of how to handle that production and how to make all the economic and political adjustments required by our complex modern world is also essential. The establishment of decent human relationships and the removal of all sense of social injustices are equally important. An education that takes no heed of these, but concentrates exclusively on technical efficiency, is therefore wanting in essential things.—Christian Science Monitor.

TAR HEELS WILL MEET BALTIMORE

Fencers Will Meet University of Baltimore Tonight in Opening Match of Season.

The Carolina fencing team will open the 1932 season tonight with a meet with the University of Baltimore fencers. The meet will take place in the Tin Can at 8:00 o'clock.

The visitors are expected to give the Tar Heels, Southern champions in 1931, plenty of trouble. The Baltimore team is under the direction of Professor Paul Kaiss, who has been one of the leaders in establishing fencing as intercollegiate sport in this country.

The Blue and White team will present the same lineup as last year's combination with the exception of Captain Hendlin, who did not return to school. The members of the squad have been working out in the Tin Can daily for the past two months and are in excellent shape for their opening match.

Among the teams to be met this season are: Virginia, V. M. L., William and Mary, Georgia Tech, South Carolina, St. Johns, Rutgers, and LaFayette.

Carolina's first team is composed of Digby Wardlaw, Fred Wardlaw, and Chapen Litten, with Weisner, Cromartie, Bolton, and Molarsky as alternates.

STUDENTS VOICE ANTI-ARMS PLEA BY STRAW VOTE

(Continued from first page) little difference in the returns. The extremes are revealed in a theological seminary where no student opposed disarmament, and forty-five per cent favored total disarmament by example; and a New England college where eighty per cent opposed the United States taking the initiative in disarmament. There is little sectional difference.

Questions on Poll

The questions in the poll and the results were as follows:

(1) If all nations join in military and naval establishments intended for use against each other, how much disarmament would you favor? (Check approximate figure desired.)

8005 voted for 100 per cent reduction; 13,914 for reductions from twenty-five to seventy-five per cent, and 1878 voted for no reduction.

(2) Do you favor the American delegation to the General Disarmament Conference taking the initiative in calling upon all nations to join us in reducing armaments?

Yes, 17,785; No, 3288.

(3) Do you favor our setting an example for other nations by reducing our expenditures on armaments?

Yes, 15,284; No, 8501; 100 per cent, 3407; twenty-five to seventy-five percent, 9138; none 8501 (not all voted by percentages).

(4) Do you favor American adherence to the World Court upon the basis of the Root Protocols?

Yes, 12,848; No, 4548.

(5) Do you favor compulsory military training in colleges?

Yes, 3720; No, 16,030.

(6) Do you favor dropping military training in colleges?

Yes, 7292; No, 11,704.

(7) Have you had military training?

Yes, 3766. (The total number is probably larger, as not all colleges included this question.)

FROSH WIN OVER DURHAM QUINTET

Dameron's Team Holds Lead Over Central High From Start of Game.

The Carolina freshman basketball team bested the Durham high school quintet last night only after a hard fought game by the score of 33-28.

Both teams played a good defensive game in the first half and the score at the end of the first two periods was 15-12, with the Tar Babies holding the edge. At the end of the quarter Coach Dameron sent in a new five and the boys more than held their own with the schoolboys.

The starting teams took the floor at the beginning of the half. Zaizer and Payntar of the frosh contingent figured in some nice floor play, netting the ball at opportune moments and keeping the Carolina team in the lead.

In the final period the Bulldogs put on a belated rally and pulled up to within a point of the freshmen. Tilley, who was high scorer with 10 points, played a bang-up game for Durham throughout and kept his team in the running. Zaizer was high man for Carolina, scoring six points from the floor and one via a free throw.

The Council, believing that an intelligent student opinion could "... through its effects on public opinion ... influence the American delegation to the Conference," planned and carried through the nation-wide student disarmament poll.

Students of U. N. C. will be given an opportunity to vote on the same questions next Friday and Saturday.

GADSDEN SEEKS ARMY-NAVY TILT FOR QUAKER CITY

Confident that an Army-Navy football game will be arranged next fall, Philadelphia civic leaders early this week moved to have it played there.

Phillip S. Gadsden, president of the Chamber of Commerce, telegraphed forty Pennsylvania congressmen asking them to use their influence in behalf of the Quaker City, as the battle ground. This line of agitation was backed by a chamber committee headed by W. Van C. Brandt and Colonel Herbert B. Hayden, alumni of Annapolis and West Point, respectively.

At the same time, a second committee called upon Major J. Hampton after his inauguration to list his support. Members of the Philadelphia alumni associations of both academies and the hotel men have united in the campaign.

mittee in charge of dance, names of chaperones, two members of the executive committee of the German Club the organization wishes to invite, and the name of the door keeper. When this is approved, the permission is granted, and the dance conducted under the rules of the German Club, some of which have been taken over from the former faculty rules.

Probations

If the dance is not up to the standards of the German Club or if the provisions for obtaining permission are not fully complied with, the organization is subject to suspension. Likewise, the committee of the organization meeting with the German Club executive committee following the dance makes a report on the conduct of the dance. Cases of disorderly conduct are presented at this time. The person under accusation is allowed to defend himself later and, if found guilty, is suspended from dancing. Only in extreme cases have these accusations been carried to the student council.

The German Club has jurisdiction over the material conduct of the dance, but tries to limit its activity in this regard to aiding the dance's success. To avoid overcrowding, it sometimes limits the number of invitations or in other ways attempts to better the affair.

Membership

By constitution, the German Club is limited to three hundred members, but there are no other restrictions to membership. The dues of the club are $10.00 a year, the initiation fee is $10.00, and the fee for each set of dances runs about $5.00.

It is estimated that about $17,000.00 is spent annually for actual dances at Chapel Hill while a much greater sum is spent incidental to the affairs. The chief item of expense is the orchestra as competition among different groups for the best dance is considered to result from the best band. Decorations contribute another large expense. The present trend is to economize in expenses for dances.

MATMEN TO MEET DEVILS MONDAY

Three Letter Men Are Back to Form Nucleus of Tar Heel Wrestling Team.

Coach Chuck Quinlan has been busy lately putting his wrestling squad through a strenuous workout in order to have them in the pink of condition when they meet the Blue Devils from Duke university Monday in the Tin Can.

The following men will represent Carolina: Hussey, Lawson, or Matheson, 115 pounds; Bennett, 125 pounds; Woodward, captain of Carolina's 1930 grapplers, 135 pounds; Deveraux, 135 pounds; Hiller, 145 pounds; Captain Tsumas 155 pounds; Effland, 165 pounds; Auman, 175 pounds; and Idol, unlimited.

There are only three letter men back on the squad this year: Woodward, Captain Tsumas, and Idol. Effland, captain of last year's freshman team, shows promising ability in the 165 pound division.

Last year Carolina defeated Duke university's wrestling squad by an overwhelming score of 26 to 8. However, since the Tar Heels have lost five letter men this year, Monday's battle will find both teams rather evenly matched. Add Warren, an old Tar Heel product of the mat, is now coaching the 1932 Blue Devils.

Upon being asked for a statement concerning the wrestling meet with Duke, Coach Quinlan said, "Due to scarcity of time, my boys are not in the best of shape; but I do expect them to give a good account of themselves. I am looking forward to see what the new candidates will do under pressure in their initial meet with Duke."

Minnesota to Meet Pitt

Minnesota will play football with the University of Pittsburgh in 1933 and 1934 under a home and home arrangement, Fritz Crisler, Gopher athletic director, announced early this week.

The first game will be played at Minneapolis October 21. The 1934 date at Pittsburgh has not been set. The institutions recently scheduled home and home basketball games for the next two seasons.

Wisconsin President Scores Politicians

Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, believes that the rulers of the nations of the world should abandon their political ties and "rescue us from threatened chaos."

"If Premier Laval should rid himself of his fears of the French electorate and boldly tell them what must be done, and if Mr. Hoover should rid himself of his fears of not being elected for a second term and do the things which he knows should be done, rather than the expedient political thing, the chances are it might be a jolt that would bring sanity back to the world," President Frank upholds.

All truth is an achievement. If you would have truth at its full value, go win it.—Munger.

ATHLETIC BOARD APPOINTS HOBBS INTO COMMITTEE

Southern Conference Rules and Standards Raised by Directors at Tulane Meeting.

The Southern Conference at its regular meeting last month at the University of Tulane appointed a committee to consider the appointment of a commissioner for the conference. Dean A. W. Hobbs of the University's college of liberal arts was appointed to this committee along with H. C. Byrd of Maryland, chairman, Dean Slagle, Florida, and J. F. Brousdard of Louisiana.

The athletic commissioner will be an innovation in southern athletic circles, although it has been used for some time in mid-western athletic groups such as the big ten. The commissioner is an active part of the Pacific coast inter-collegiate sport circles.

The proposal to consider the employment of a commissioner for the southern conference was one of the several measures adopted by the conference as the result of suggestion by the president's committee.

At the time of the meeting there was on foot a movement to form a new conference in the south to be composed of Kentucky, Florida, Vanderbilt, Tulane, Auburn, Georgia, and Georgia Tech. The University was at first included in this group but dropped out in order not to drop several of its most ancient and important rivals, not included in the group. This movement as interpreted by several sports editors who were present at the meeting as arousing a feeling of resentment which led to the adoption of several measures expected to raise the conference standards.

A proposal to raise the academic standards for athletes in the conference was also adopted. A student must pass at least three-fourths of his preceding year's work and three-fifths the year in which he is playing.
