

FORENSIC SQUAD IN TRYOUTS FOR WINTER DEBATES

Capitalism and Governmental Control of Industry Are Questions for Coming Meets.

At its meeting Thursday evening the debate squad had try outs for the debates with New York university and Western Reserve. The subject which will be used for the New York debate, is that "socialism has more to offer the public than capitalism."

Among those who are trying out for the debate, the following spoke on the negative, which the University will advocate and uphold in the New York engagement: Dan Lacy, D. B. Morgan, Edwin Lanier, William Eddleman, John Wilkinson, and McBride Fleming-Jones.

Speaking in opposition to capitalism were George Donnenbaum, J. W. Slaughter, B. C. Proctor, Fred C. Wardlaw, Don Seawell, and Charles D. Wardlaw. The University debaters will oppose capitalism in the debate with Western Reserve.

These tryouts will be continued at the meeting next Thursday at which time several constructive talks will be delivered with a five minute limit. The room will then be divided and members of each side will be cross examined.

Debates Scheduled

Professor W. A. Olsen announced yesterday debates with Asbury college, March 1, on "Modern advertising"; with the University of Pittsburgh, March 30, on the Pi Kappa Delta question; with Western Reserve, March 31, on the general subject of capitalism; with Tennessee, April 4 or 5, Pi Kappa Delta question preferred; with New York university, April 6, on the question, that socialism has more to offer the public than capitalism; with Georgia Tech, (Continued on last page)

ATTEMPTS MADE TO CREATE LOCAL FUND COMMITTEE

Graham, Albright, and Council Lead in Effort to Raise Emergency Loans.

A community committee for the student loan funds is being formed by President Frank Graham, Mayne Albright, and Mayor Zeb Council for the purpose of getting 100 per cent local participation in raising an emergency student loan fund. The personnel of the committee will be announced in a few days.

The educational careers of several hundred students and the balance of the University budget is at stake. While the necessary $100,000 emergency fund cannot possibly be raised locally, a considerable portion of this amount certainly can be obtained from nearby sources.

A committee already at work to secure help elsewhere feels that a demonstration of concern and effort here where conditions are best known is a necessary beginning to securing aid from alumni and citizens outside Chapel Hill.

Law Exams Start Today

The first semester examinations for law school students will begin today and last until Saturday, January 30.

Lectures Cancelled

Wilson and Dashiell Speak at Supper Meeting of Sigma Xi Tuesday Evening.

At a supper meeting of Sigma Xi, honorary scientific fraternity, Tuesday evening in Graham Memorial, it was announced that Dr. Felix d'Herelle of the Yale university medical school had accepted an invitation to deliver the Sigma Xi lectures this year, but due to the condition of the University's budget, the University was forced to withdraw the usual subsidy for the series, and in face of the salary cut, the members of the organization felt it would be unwise to have the lectures this year.

Dr. H. V. Wilson of the zoology department made a few remarks concerning the meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, which took place in New Orleans, and Dr. J. F. Dashiell, head of the psychology department, gave an illustrated talk on "Modern Trends in Psychological Research."

THIRTY POSITIONS OPEN ON STAFFS OF CAMPUS DAILY

Tryouts Tomorrow at 5:00; Louis Graves Will Speak to Entire Group at 7:00.

Aspirants for reportorial and editorial work on the Daily Tar Heel will be given a chance to tryout for the paper at a special meeting tomorrow afternoon at 5:00 o'clock in the publication's office in Graham Memorial. There are ten vacancies on the reportorial staff, eight positions open on the editorial board; six each on the feature and foreign news boards.

Upperclassmen are particularly urged to tryout for the staff. For three quarters' efficient work on the Daily Tar Heel, attractive charms will be awarded, and recognition will be given in the Yackety Yack. Valuable journalistic experience may be gained by consistent application on the paper. Loyalty is a prerequisite for a successful career on the Daily Tar Heel staff, but aside from routine technical matters, the writer is left to his own responsibility in following up the duties assigned him, and in aiding the paper to place itself among the leading journals of campus opinion.

The entire editorial staff will meet at 7:00 o'clock, at which time Louis Graves, editor of the Chapel Hill Weekly, will offer some constructive criticism towards improving the quality of the paper.

REMINGTON SPEAKS AT PARISH HOUSE SUPPER

Bishop W. P. Remington, of the eastern Oregon diocese of the Episcopal church, spoke to a group of thirty University students at a supper last night in the parish house. Reverend Alfred S. Lawrence, rector of the Chapel of the Cross, introduced the speaker, recalling Bishop Remington's first visit here two years ago. The bishop talked informally on "The Teachings of Christ as Applied to Our Everyday Life," citing numerous examples of how one's apparent modernity parallels in many ways the lessons taught by Jesus, and that one's ability to define life is augmented by the nearness of spiritual contacts.

CHARLOTTE PLAY GROUP TAKES UP WORKS OF GREEN

Koch Makes Address on Program Devoted to Carolina Playwright.

Professor Frederick H. Koch addressed a meeting of the members of the Little theatre of Charlotte last night in Charlotte on the "Life and Works of Paul Green." The "Paul Green Evening" was devoted entirely to the native North Carolinian's success in the realm of the drama.

Finis, one of Green's early works written in collaboration with his sister, Erma, was presented by the workshop committee of the Little theatre group. The performance was conducted by members who were former Playmakers. The part of the stubborn Harnett county tenant farmer, Ed Robinson, was acted by John Harden, who had that role when the Playmakers presented the same play on tour. Lily, wife of Ed, was played by Penelope Alexander; and the landlord, Jim Cooper, was taken by Dr. Burke Fox.

Walter Spearman, director; Anne Melick and Phoebe Harding, in charge of properties; Margaret Jones, prompter; and Allen Heath, stage manager, were all once connected with the Playmakers.

DAVIS POSTPONES PRESENTATION OF 'A DOLL'S HOUSE'

Playmakers Need Extra Week for Rehearsals of Drama by Ibsen.

Due to several complications the Carolina Playmakers have found it necessary to postpone the production of A Doll's House for a week. This makes the date fall the first week-end in February.

The Playmakers selected Henrik Ibsen's famous play for winter production immediately after Christmas and held tryouts for the cast. It was then that the tentative date was fixed for January 28, 29, and 30. Plans were complicated however by rehearsals for the Twelfth Night Revels, and rehearsals for A Doll's House got under way slowly. Only this week was Director Davis able to locate suitable persons for the children's parts.

At present the work is going forward steadily, and with no further interruptions, Davis hopes to be able to offer a finished production on the nights of February 4, 5, and 6.

Magazine Deadline

The deadline for the next Carolina Magazine copy will be Tuesday.

Dances Planned

Two Fraternity Organizations Will Sponsor May Frolic and Winter Festival.

Plans for the third May Frolic are well underway and though no orchestra has been chosen as yet, it has been decided that the dance will take place in the Tin Can May 5 and 6. The May Frolic is an annual affair sponsored by D. K. E., Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Nu, Sigma Chi, S. A. E., Kappa Sigma, and Zeta Psi.

The dates for the Winter Festival have also been announced by the sponsors, A. T. O., Phi Delta Theta, Pi Kappa Alpha, Phi Gamma Delta, and Pi Kappa Phi. It will be given February 26 and 27 in Bynum gymnasium as last year when the first Festival was given. The organization was formerly known as the Spring Festival, but since the German club regulations would only permit two large dances in the spring quarter, it has been moved up to the winter quarter and rechristened. No orchestra has been selected as yet.

STUDENT HELP IN LIBRARY MAY BE REDUCED BY CUT

University Working Out Plans To Avoid Curtailing Number of Assistants.

The facts that a specific fund exists for student assistants to the library staff and that if this fund is cut off by further budget reductions the library would be forced to drop these assistants were revealed yesterday in the investigation of the current rumor that students working in the library would lose their positions.

This information was revealed by a member of the library staff who pointed out the specific fund, and the necessity of dropping students if this fund is withdrawn at the end of the month. This would result in quite a substantial reduction of the library's service to the University as the building would not be kept open except for a small part of the day.

Working on Plans

The administration of the University is working out plans to meet the situation in the best manner possible, and the services of this part of the staff will not be curtailed except under absolute necessity.

The need for these assistants is revealed in the fact that one assistant hands out and restacks fifty-seven books an hour, while other members of the staff work five or six hours a day.

Charles T. Woollen, business manager of the University, stated that the fund for assistants was not separate from the library appropriation, and would suffer in accordance with the cut made by the tax commission.

TWO DANCES FEATURE WEEK-END FESTIVITIES

The first dance of the winter quarter took place last night, when the Woman's association entertained in the lounge of Graham Memorial from 10:00 until 1:00 o'clock. Jack Baxter and his Carolina Tar Heels furnished music.

The order of the Grail will stage a dance tonight in Bynum gymnasium with Jack Baxter again playing. Stag tickets are on sale at Pritchard-Lloyd's and at the Book Exchange, and only a limited number will be sold.

LOAN FUND GROUP WILL CONVENE TO DISCUSS REPORTS

Business of Meeting Will Include Plans for Activities During 1932.

The annual meeting of the Alumni Loyalty Fund council will take place January 30 at 2:30 in the president's office as part of the program of the General Alumni Assembly. The chief business of the meeting, which will be presided over by Allen J. Barwick, chairman of the council, will include reports for the past year and plans for the fund's activities during 1932.

To Attempt Loan Increase

The principal objective of the Alumni Loyalty Fund which will be discussed at this time will be the methods of increasing the University student loan fund. It is also possible that the council will undertake a project this year in the form of a survey of the number of out-of-state students enrolled in the University as compared with the amount of North Carolina students in other colleges and universities all over the country. This survey will include the number of non-state students in other North Carolina educational institutions such as Duke, Davidson, and Wake Forest.

The purpose of this project, as outlined by Felix A. Grisette, director of the Alumni Loyalty Fund, is to determine whether the balance of out-of-state students in the University is favorable to the taxpayer. The theory has been advanced by prominent North Carolinians that the state is over-burdened by the financing of the students from other states. The Alumni Loyalty Fund will attempt to investigate this question impartially.

TROUPE OF IRISH PLAYERS BILLED FOR APPEARANCE

Lennox Robinson Will Lead Company Here on Student Entertainment Series.

The widely known Irish Players are scheduled to appear in Memorial hall, Monday, March 21, as the next number on the Student Entertainment series. The plays to be presented have not yet been selected.

Lennox Robinson, famous dramatist whose directing made the Irish Players popular at the Abbey theatre in Dublin, will accompany the troupe. This is the first American tour of the Irish Players since their appearance in this country in 1913-14.

The repertoire consists of: John Ferguson by St. John Ervine, The Plough and the Stars by Sean O'Casey, The New Gossoon by George Sheils, The Far-Off Hills by Lennox Robinson, Professor Tim by George Sheils, Autumn Fire by T. C. Murray, The Playboy of the Western World by J. M. Synge, and The Whitehead Boy by Lennox Robinson. One-act plays included are Kathleen ni Houlihan by William B. Yeates, The Rising of the Moon by Lady Gregory, Riders to the Sea by J. M. Synge, and Hyacinth Halvey by Lady Gregory.

KNOW YOUR UNIVERSITY

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In the same vein in which a survey of University courses was presented before the holidays, the Daily Tar Heel continues with this issue a comprehensive summary of campus institutions with the idea of causing every citizen of the University to become better acquainted with the policies and systems of operation of his service organizations.)

STUDENT ENTERTAINMENT COMMITTEE

The Student Entertainment Committee is supposedly composed of five faculty advisors and six student members. Its student membership is at present made up of only five men because the school of commerce only appointed one person to serve on the board rather than its quota of two.

The committee was begun at the instigation of Dean Addison Hibbard, now dean of the liberal arts school at Northwestern, and formerly dean of the A. B. school at the University, for the purpose of affording the students an opportunity to see and hear artists of America and the world. Were it not for such an institution, the possibility of such entertainment would be slim since a community the size of Chapel Hill would not be able to attract the artists which are available under the present system.

Membership

Faculty membership is composed of the head of the music department, Dr. Harold S. Dyer; the head of dramatic work at the University, Professor F. H. Koch; Dr. J. P. Harland, authority on ancient beauty and culture; and the deans of the A. B. and commerce schools, A. W. Hobbs, and D. D. Carroll, respectively. It was thought that by including the first named men on the committee, a better choice of attractions could be made, since these men are authorities in their field.

Students of the liberal arts school, the school of commerce, and of the school of education pay a dollar fee each quarter, which entitles them to attend all the programs offered by the committee. The school of commerce joined the two original schools this fall by a vote of the commerce students taken last spring.

Student members of the committee are chosen by the deans of the three schools participating in the endeavor, two men being appointed by each dean. It was thought best to appoint the men rather than have them elected by a student poll, since in this way, campus politics would not enter into the affair. However, student opinion should be considered more than it is at present, and the students should concern themselves more in an enterprise which is related to themselves and their pocket-books.

Finances

Up until the last two years the University gave a thousand dollars a year to the committee, but because of the present precarious financial condition of the school this policy has been discontinued, and the student entertainment fee is the only source of income with which the work is carried on.

It is the purpose of the committee to select each spring the attractions which are to be presented the following year. In former years it was the privilege of the students of the three schools concerned to vote and show their preference for certain artists and programs. However, the students took such small advantage of the poll it was abandoned as a means of selection, and the choice is at present left entirely to the committee. The group gathers at other times throughout the year to take care of other problems and expenses which arise.

Billing Difficult

It is planned to have two entertainments each quarter, but difficulties arise in getting the programs wanted when wanted. Suggestions as to other programs than those planned would be welcomed and would receive due consideration.
