

FAMOUS ARTISTS TO PLAY BEST IN WORLD OF MUSIC

Personnel of Minneapolis Orchestra Will Present Program Of Exceptional Merit.

Some of the world's greatest music, rendered by one of the greatest organizations of its kind in the world, will be played when the Minneapolis symphony appears in Page auditorium, Duke university, at 8:15 o'clock tonight.

This is indicated by the program to be played and also by the fact freely acknowledged by the entire critical fraternity of New York that the Minneapolis symphony, under its new leader, Eugene Ormandy, is even surpassing the usual wonderfully fine performances which it has given during the past twenty-six years.

The program to be played by the orchestra includes selections from Bach, Schubert, Weinberger, Dukas, and Richard Strauss. One number that will find universal response is Symphony No. 8, in B minor, "The Unfinished," by Schubert. The program will open with Bach's Brandenburg concerto. The second part of the program will include the Polka and Fugue, from "Schwanda" by Weinberger; Scherzo, "The Sorcerer's Apprentice" by Dukas; "Till Eulenspiegel's Merry Pranks," by Richard Strauss.

All of these numbers are to be directed by Mr. Ormandy who is hailed everywhere as one of the most talented of the younger conductors in America. Himself a violinist of distinction and a former pupil of Jenő Hubay, another noted Hungarian violinist, Ormandy has a background of international scope. Before being snapped up by the Minneapolis orchestra, he was guest conductor of the Philadelphia symphony orchestra and connected with a large broadcasting system, attaining nation wide recognition. Since the present tour of Minneapolis symphony orchestra, Mr. Ormandy has spent several hours daily in arranging the details of each performance.

Much could be written of the outstanding players in the orchestra, some of whom have been members of orchestras in several foreign countries. Twenty-one nationalities are represented in the orchestra's personnel, and each performer is an accomplished artist.

MONTGOMERY GETS LEAD IN 'LOVERS COURAGEOUS'

Robert Montgomery has the leading male role in Frederick Lonsdale's play, "Lovers Courageous," running today at the Carolina.

In the production Montgomery as a happy-go-lucky Englishman whose ambition is to be a playwright, is constantly in trouble with his narrow-minded father who wants to make a postmaster of his son.

Madge Evans has the leading feminine role and prominent parts are played by Roland Young, who last scored in "The Guardsman," Frederick Kerr, Reginald Owen and Beryl Mercer.

Music Discussion

Professor T. Smith McCorkle will devote the hour of his 12:00 o'clock class today to a discussion of the Minneapolis symphony orchestra and the program which it will present at Duke university tonight. The class meets in the choral room of the music building. The public has the opportunity to hear the lecture, if they so desire.

FAMOUS ORCHESTRA ON DUKE CONCERT SERIES TONIGHT

Pictured above is the eighty-four piece Minneapolis symphony orchestra which will play in Page auditorium, Duke university, tonight at 8:15, as the last number of the Duke entertainment course. Eugene Ormandy, conductor and violin virtuoso, is considered one of the world's great musical directors.

World News Bulletins

Chinese-Japs Continue Fighting

Chinese and Japanese forces continued their battle yesterday in the Chapei section of Shanghai. A shell burst in the international settlement, burning several houses. Shells and aerial bombs caused other fires in Chapei. A report states that the Chinese forces have trapped two squadrons of the Japanese. Japanese officials denied that their naval commander in Shanghai had committed suicide.

Japs Partly Accept Pact

The Japanese government, in a note to the American, British, and French ambassadors yesterday agreed to cease hostilities at Shanghai if it is assured that the Chinese will "immediately and completely cease their menacing and disturbing activities." Japan barred Manchuria from consideration in the peace pact advocated by the foreign powers. Rumors are current that the French government is supporting Japan's stand.

Hoover Appoints Mills

Ogden Mills, under-secretary of the treasury, was formally named yesterday by President Hoover to be secretary of the treasury, succeeding Andrew Mellon, now ambassador to England.

Two Representatives Die

Representatives Percy Quin of Mississippi and Samuel Rutherford of Georgia died yesterday within an hour of each other. Quin had been ill for over a month. Rutherford dropped dead at his hotel.

Papal Palace Threatened

The ancient papal palace in Vatican City, in Italy, was pictured yesterday by the former chief engineer of Pope Pius to be slowly moving westward under the impact of an earthslide in Vatican City.

American Wins Race

Jack Shay, Dartmouth sophomore, yesterday won the 500 meter ice skate race in the winter Olympic games at Lake Placid, New York. Contestants from twelve nations are represented at the games.

Thousands Leave Santiago

Dad Contributes

I just place myself in the position of those parents who want to give their boys a college education and have to take them out of school until the depression now existing is over.

My idea is that if every father of a student at U. N. C., who can afford it, would contribute to the fund it would help keep another less fortunate boy at school until times change.

THE TAR HEEL ought to start such a movement.

With love to you from Mother,

DAD.

"Give me Lucky Strike every time"

THEY'RE DOTTY ABOUT DOTTY Dorothy Mackaill's great-great something-or-other was Bobby Burns, the famous Scotch poet, and she's as popular in Hollywood as golf—'nother Scotch import. Her favorite pet is a Brazilian monkey. You see the monk in the new FIRST NATIONAL PICTURE, "SAFE IN HELL." Dorothy has smoked LUCKIES for six years, and not a cent was paid for her statement, so we're making a sweeping bow and saying, "Thanks, Dorothy Mackaill."

"My throat is all important to me. No harsh irritants for yours truly. Give me LUCKY STRIKE every time. And pat yourself on the back for your new Cellophane wrapper with that tab which makes the package so easy to open."
