

White Phantoms To Meet Duke Tonight In Deciding Tilt Of State Cage Race

Both Teams Have Won Five and Lost One in Big Five; Freshmen in Preliminary Tilt.

Tonight's tilt between the White Phantoms of North Carolina and the Blue Devils of Duke university will in all probability definitely settle the current Big Five cage championship. Up to date both teams have won five games and lost one.

Reservations have been made for the largest crowd of the winter sport season in recent years. In past years the Devils have had little trouble with Big Five teams, but this year the Tar Heels have potentially one of their strongest teams and a capacity crowd is expected to fill the Frank Thompson Memorial gymnasium of Duke to see the Big Five cage champion crowned.

In an early season game the Tar Heels defeated the Devils by the one-sided score of 37-20 on the home court of the Phantoms. Tonight's game, however, will be played on the Duke court and in past years Duke has been hard to beat on their own court.

Both Carolina and Duke were hard put to turn in victories over Davidson and Wake Forest respectively. The Heels led the Wildcats by two points in each half, while Duke was outplayed in the second half by the Deacons.

However, Duke-Carolina tilts are traditionally hard-fought and comparative scores are always subject to upsets, although the Tar Heels hold a slight edge in pre-game dope.

Tonight's game will see six of the first ten high scorers in action. Hines, Carolina forward, is leading the state scorers with 119 points. Weathers of Carolina, Alpert of Duke, J. Thompson of Duke, and Alexander and Edwards of Carolina follow closely.

Coach Bo Shepard completely upset the dope bucket Thursday night against Davidson by starting the second team and much to everyone's surprise the reserves held a two-point lead over the Presbyterians at the end of the first half. There is a possibility that the Carolina mentor may start his reserves against the Devils, but such a move is doubtful against a team of the caliber of the Blue Devils.

Freshmen in Preliminary

In a preliminary to the varsity encounter the Tar Babies will meet the Duke Blue Imps. Earlier in the season the Tar Babies defeated the Duke yearlings 22-19, and are expected to carry off the decision tonight.

Carolina's starting lineup will probably be Kaveny and Aitken, forwards; Glace, center; and Captain Jacobs and Zaiser, guards.

From The Bench

By Thomas H. Broughton

On a basis of Thursday night's game with Davidson Coach Shepard has two combinations of equal strength. During the first half of the game the Tar Heel mentor used his reserve combination against the Wildcats and to everyone's surprise the second stringers put up a good scrap and at the half way mark held a two-point lead over the Presbyterians.

The work of Brandt, sophomore center, was especially noticeable. With Edwards graduating the White Phantoms are going to be greatly in need of a capable center. Of course his work was not that of a finished performer, but with a year's experience behind him he should develop into an excellent center. Then, too, there is Glace coming up from the yearling quintet and the first-year center is improving rapidly.

Perhaps the feature of the Davidson game was the shooting of Wilmer Hines at forward. Hines, who is leading the North State scorers with 119 points, gathered a total of ten points in the final five minutes of the game to set a record of some sort.

Rick Ferrell, St. Louis Browns catcher from this state, is the latest addition to the ranks of baseball holdouts. If the present situation keeps up President Hoover will have to appoint a commission of some sort to confer with major league magnates in salaries for 1932. Every club in the two major leagues has had more contracts declared unsatisfactory this year than has been usual in recent years. They seem to be finding out that ball players have to eat also.

Right in the Ferrell family they seem to be having a great deal of trouble over 1932 contracts. With the training season starting next month, only Wes, of the entire ball playing part of Ferrells, has affixed his signature to a contract. Perhaps Will Rogers can add this function to his humor commission.

GERMAN PRAISES HITLER'S POLICY

"Although Germany is in many ways divided externally and internally, it is absolutely unified in a feeling of national dignity," states Dr. Eugen Kuehneman of the University of Breslau, Germany in an interview with the Harvard Crimson.

"Adolph Hitler is a man who exemplifies this feeling," he continued emphatically. "There is not the slightest feeling among the German people of enmity against the allies as such, but the great majority of them feel that Germany was treated with great injustice by the Treaty of Versailles.

"If Hitler should get into power," Dr. Kuehneman said, "he will make a definite stand on reparations, but will acknowledge private debts. He is perhaps the one man best able to prevent communism."

TAR BABIES WILL MEET OAK RIDGE CADETS TONIGHT

Frosh Will Encounter the Boxers That Defeated Duke Yearlings 7 to 0.

The Carolina frosh boxers will meet one of the strongest prep school boxing teams in the state when they take on Oak Ridge tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Tin Can.

The Cadets have not been defeated in a match this year, and Thursday night they downed the Duke yearlings 7 to 0, four of the bouts being won by technical knockouts. The feature bouts of the night should be in the 160 and 145 pound classes. Gidinansky of Carolina and Shoup of Oak Ridge, both without a defeat, are the boys who will battle to a finish in the middleweight division. If Berke is in condition another first-rater should be in the welterweight department when the Tar Heel meets Stockton, another cadet with a perfect record.

Norment Quarries, hard punching featherweight, will be fighting to keep his slate clean and will meet Prouty, Oak Ridge ace. In the 115 pound class Pete Ivey will be trying hard to get back in the win column after two straight losses, when Gersack of Oak Ridge faces him.

If Berke does not start Coach Allen will use Bendigo who has not fared so well as a lightweight. The other fights will find in the heavyweight Ray, freshman football star who will be attempting to get his third win, facing Hurt, who got a one round knockout against Eastlake of Duke; Jenkins, Tar Baby opposite Hill in the 175 pound class; and McDonald of Carolina battling Welton in the lightweight division.

Tulane Has Strong Bid For Track Title

The Tulane track team, last year's outdoor champions, will make a strong bid this year for the indoor title. Last season at the Indoor Conference meet Tulane placed seventh, but at the end of the season they won the outdoor championship. Virginia placed second, Alabama, third, and North Carolina, fourth.

The majority of Tulane's stellar track men are also football stars and this probably accounts for their fast ball teams. DeColigny, crack hurdler and weight man. Zimmerman, national junior pole vault champ and also southern conference champ, are two of the Green Wave's best point winners. Miller, former national interscholastic quarter mile champ, who finished third in the indoor meet and third in the outdoor meet and Lefty Haynes, Tulane end, are other pole vaulters of note from New Orleans.

Baseball Practice

According to an announcement by Head Coach Bunn Hearn, varsity baseball practice will begin Monday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. Varsity and freshman candidates are asked to report at Emerson field. In case of inclement weather battery practice only will be held in the Tin Can.

Capacity Crowd Expected For Penn State-Carolina Matches

RAMBLERS LOSE TO SWAIN HALL

Delta Sigma Phi Beats Chi Psi; Phi Gams Are Downed by Phi Sigma Kappa.

Coming from behind in the final minute of play Swain Hall eked out a win over the Ramblers 34 to 33. Swain took the lead in the opening minutes, but a rally on the part of the losers just before the half tied things up. The play of the second half was nip and tuck until the final three minutes at which time the Ramblers took a 34 to 31 lead. With one minute to go McRae of Swain hall dropped in a long shot and a few seconds later repeated the action to give his club their one point margin. The all-around play of McRae and the shooting of Thomas for the losers were outstanding, the latter leading the scoring with thirteen points.

Delta Sigs Win

Delta Sigma Phi made a last quarter rally to down Chi Psi 21 to 17. The winners trailed the losers throughout the first half and most of the third period, but in the final quarter the Delta Sigs, led by Mauney, put on a scoring spree which gave them their margin. Both teams fought hard but missed many easy shots. Mauney had a long lead in scoring with ten points.

Phi Gams Lose

Led by Mitchell, Phi Sigma Kappa easily triumphed over the Phi Gams 24 to 10. The contest was very loosely played and both teams committed many errors. The winners held a 16 to 0 lead at the half, but the play in the second and third periods was on more even terms. Mitchell with thirteen points was by far the outstanding man on the floor, while Barclay led the Phi Gam attack.

Two Forfeits

S. A. E. won their fifth game in five starts when they were given a forfeit over Phi Alpha. Pi Kappa Phi forfeited to Phi Kappa Sigma in the second forfeit of the afternoon.

CAMEL QUARTER HOUR TO MAKE VAUDEVILLE TOUR

Box office drawing power of radio's big names will be given a thorough test when the Camel quarter hour goes on an extensive vaudeville tour of mid-western and eastern cities, opening in St. Louis February 19. Morton Downey, Tony Wons and the orchestra under Jacques Renard will all be included in the stage invasion.

During the twelve-week trip of the program will be broadcast regularly from CBS stations in the various cities. Eight weeks of work have been definitely scheduled, calling for stage appearances in RKO theatres in St. Louis, Cincinnati, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Albany, Boston and Buffalo. Other cities which probably will see the act are Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Washington and Baltimore.

Lon Chaney's fan mail is still enormous. It is all from foreign countries and the writers ask when he is going to play in another picture.

Williams on Sick List as Tar Heels Ring Down Curtain on 1932 Season Tonight.

PROBABLE LINEUPS

|            |     |          |
|------------|-----|----------|
| Penn State | Wt. | Carolina |
| Stoop (C)  | 115 | Glover   |
| Napoleon   | 125 | Levinson |
| McAndrews  | 135 | Raymer   |
| Lewis      | 145 | Lumpkin  |
| Gritsavage | 155 | Hudson   |
| Polack     | 165 | Brown    |
| Slusser    | 175 | Wilson   |

Carolina's varsity boxers will ring down the curtain on their 1932 home season in the Tin Can at 8:30 o'clock tonight against Leo Houck's strong Penn State Lions, former eastern intercollegiate champions, and the Tar Heel freshmen will face the Oak Ridge Cadets at 7:30 in their only contest of the year outside of Southern Conference circles.

Penn State will present one intercollegiate champion and a former title holder tonight in Al Lewis and Captain Dave Stoop. Lewis holds the welterweight crown while Stoop was king of the bantamweights two years ago. Last year Stoop fought as a featherweight and was defeated in the finals of the tournament. Two years ago, Stoop defeated Harry Sheffield, Carolina 125-pounder, by a knockout in the second round and last year won a close decision over Marty Levinson.

The other veteran in the Lion lineup is Johnny McAndrews who last year lost a hard fought battle to Captain Noah Goodridge.

The Tar Heels will be without the services of Jimmy Williams, clever bantam, tonight, and his place will be filled by Cliff Glover, star member of last year's freshman squad. Williams has been on the sick list with a bad cold since his four-round knockout over Sowers of Virginia last week.

Paul Hudson, inactive since the Duke bouts early in the season, will probably return to the ring tonight to oppose Ed Gritsavage, hard hitting Penn State 155-pounder. Peyton Brown will probably be brought down to 165 pounds to meet Ed Polack, another newcomer to the Penn State lineup.

GIRL ARRESTED IN YALE DORMITORY

Yale authorities have disciplined eleven students in connection with the arrest of Edith Nasella of Philadelphia girl who has been living in one of the college dormitories for the past several days. The girl was committed to the House of the Good Shepard as one in "danger of falling into the habits of vice."

LUCKY STRIKE HOUR WILL FEATURE COLLEGE DANCES

The University of Oregon has been selected to furnish the music for one of Lucky Strike's tri-weekly broadcast of big social events of the leading schools in this country. The sponsors of the Lucky Strike dance hour, which is a nationwide hook-up, are launching this new scheme whereby such affairs as interfraternity balls, junior and senior proms, and military balls will be broadcast during the program. Since the inauguration of this plan, it has been receiving widespread attention by musical organizations.

VARSITY MATMEN BEGIN WORK FOR NORTHERN MEETS

Tar Heels to Meet Army and Brooklyn Poly on Final Trip Of the 1932 Season.

The Carolina varsity wrestling team is beginning a routine of vigorous training and calisthenics under the supervision of Coach "Chuck" Quinlan in preparation for their coming meets with Army at West Point and Brooklyn Poly in New York on February 20 and 22 respectively.

The Cadets boost an unusually strong team consisting of an entirely veteran squad. The soldiers have not tasted defeat this season, registering victories over Pennsylvania, Franklin and Marshall, and Rutgers.

Coach Quinlan has not as yet selected his 165 pounder. Efland, Greer, and Spell are competing for the berth, but Spell, is one upon Efland and Greer in that he has already had two years of experience on the varsity squad.

After encountering Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute in New York on February 22, the squad will return to Chapel Hill where they will round out their season's activities by taking on the Davidson Wildcats at home on February 24.

The probable lineup for the Army match: Hussey, 118 pounds; Matheson, 125 pounds; Woodward, 135 pounds; Hiller or Allison, 145 pounds; Captain Tsumas, 155 pounds; Efland, Greer, or Spell, 165 pounds; Idol, 175 pounds; and Auman, unlimited.

AIR TRAVEL WILL CHANGE COLLEGES

"In aviation we will see the next big step forward when the general public loses fear of flying and begins to buy planes," says G. M. Bellanca, president of the Bellanca Aircraft Corporation, in an interview with the Princetonian.

"Colleges, will be greatly changed by the popularization of air travel. Students of the near future will fly their planes with as little thought as you drive your car. Every university will have its school of aeronautics, if it professes to be at all in keeping with the times.

"Just think of the possibilities of week ends when every university has its own airport. Air travel is not limited by roads or tracks; the air is everywhere, and people will cover at least three times the distance that they do now by automobile."

WALTER HUSTON HEADS CAST OF TODAY'S SHOW

Walter Huston, who won praise for his performance in "The Criminal Code," heads the cast in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Beast of the City," today's feature at the Carolina theatre.

Huston has the role of the police chief who is balked at every step in his efforts to clean up the corruption of his city. Opposite him is Jean Harlow, who plays the part of the tool of the 'head' gangster. The role of the latter is taken by the well-known character actor, Jean Hersholt. Wallace Ford, plays the detective.

The way clamorous minorities are calling for billions in relief appropriations, they must think Congress meets on Capital Hill.
