

Carolina Cagers Defeat W. And L. Generals, 27-19

White Phantoms Count Twelfth Victory of Season as Generals Drop Listless Tilt.

EDWARDS LEADS SCORERS

Freshmen Win Preliminary Over Darlington Prep of Georgia 45-10.

Led by Paul Edwards, veteran center who scored five field goals and two foul shots for twelve points, the Carolina White Phantoms counted their twelfth victory of the season in fifteen starts as they defeated the Generals of Washington and Lee by a 27-19 score.

Edwards and Weathers countered to start the Tar Heels on the way to victory from the start. With the score 6-1, Jarrett sank a field goal to give the Generals their first action toss of the game. The Tar Heels sank three action tosses and one foul shot in quick succession to lead the Washington and Lee five 13-7 at the half.

Although rough, the game held little interest because of slow play, especially noticeable after the Maryland game of Friday night. Edwards, with twelve points, and Hines, with six points, led the Carolina attack while the floor-play of McCachren was outstanding.

The Generals' attack was led by Sawyers with six points. Mosovich gathered five points to take second place honors.

Freshmen Win, 45-10

Carolina's freshman quintet easily defeated Darlington Prep of Georgia in a loosely played contest, 45-10. The Tar Babies led 21-8 at the end of the first half. In the second period the visitors failed to count a single action toss.

The play of Kaveny, who gathered ten points, was outstanding for the Tar Babies.

Northwestern President Seeks "Child Wonders"

President Walter D. Scott of Northwestern university has sent a letter to the leading high schools of the state of Illinois asking them to aid him in an endeavor to search out the leading "child wonders."

According to President Scott, six youths between thirteen and fifteen years of age will be admitted to the university and provided a special course to offer the correct stimulus for carrying them on. It is planned that these precocious youths should live together in a suitable environment with every opportunity for intellectual advancement. President Scott defined a "precocious" youth as one who had an I.Q. of more than 130 or had attained anything that puts him ahead of his age.

Of the two Siamese twins playing in "Freaks," the one on the left professes to like Bob Montgomery the best.

From The Bench

By Thomas H. Broughton

Carolina's White Phantoms lived up to their names Friday night, and Kentucky leads the Southern Conference loop with a perfect record. The play of Carolina's guards was at times sensational. Ronkin, Maryland's all-southern forward, was held to three field goals, at least two of which were of the long shot variety, by Captain Tom Alexander. Which reminds us that Coach Shepard is going to have a hard time finding a guard of Alexander's calibre for next year's quintet.

The Tar Heel cagers will close their 1932 season against North Carolina State here Tuesday night. The result of the game will not affect the final standing of either team, but it will definitely decide the guard berths on the all-state basketball team for 1932. Right now Alexander and McCachren of Carolina, and Rose of State have the guard berths practically sewed up between them, and Tuesday's game will decide the first team line-up.

The annual Southern Conference basketball tournament gets underway in Atlanta next week. After their defeat of Maryland, the White Phantoms will enter the tourney co-favorites with the Kentucky Wildcats, undefeated this season, and the Old Liners. Friday night's game proved to the south that the North Carolina five will have to be reckoned with in the tournament.

Chick Hafey, Cardinal outfielder, won his race with Bill Terry of the Giants for the holdout championship of the major leagues when New York officials announced yesterday that the star first sacker had signed a contract for 1932. The salary was not made public, but it is our guess that Terry had the better end of the argument. First basemen of Terry's class are not easy to find.

Comparative scores received another upset Friday night when North Carolina State defeated the Washington and Lee cagers decisively after the Generals had beaten Duke, 21-12. Previously the Devils had defeated State on two occasions. Moral—Don't bet on comparative scores.

VARSIITY TEAMS FACE HARD WEEK

Winter Sport Season Closes With Southern Conference Tournaments Which Begin Friday.

Carolina teams will face one of the busiest weeks of the season this week, with both Southern Conference boxing and basketball tournaments scheduled for the latter part of the week.

Monday night the varsity wrestlers meet Brooklyn Poly in New York City in the final match of the Northern trip. Wednesday night the matmen close their 1932 season against the Davidson varsity and freshmen in the Wildcats' lair. While the team as a whole hasn't made a very good record, Percy Idol and Captain Harry Tsumas are claimants to the Southern Conference championship in their respective weights. Neither have been defeated this season.

Basketball

Carolina's White Phantoms meet North Carolina State here Tuesday night in their final game of the pre-tournament season. The Red Terrors defeated the Tar Heels in the Frank Thompson Memorial gymnasium in Raleigh in an early season game, and after their decisive defeat of Washington and Lee Friday night, the final outcome of the game is uncertain.

Thursday afternoon the Tar Heel cagers will leave for Atlanta for the Southern Conference tournament which opens Friday.

Returning home after their match with Navy last night the Tar Heel boxers will begin a week of strenuous preparation for the annual Conference tournament which will take place in Charlottesville, Virginia, Friday and Saturday. Although defeated by Penn State and V. M. I., the Tar Heels, who placed third in the tournament last season, will enter among the favored few. Levinson, 129 pounder, and Williams, 119 pounder, are among the outstanding entries in their respective divisions, and will carry Carolina hopes in the tournament.

Ruffin Takes Lead In Dormitory League As Season Nears Close

Four Clubs, T. E. P., Sigma Nu, Beta Theta Pi, and S. A. E. Keep Clean Records in Fraternity Division of Intramural Basketball Race as Final Week Approaches.

Ruffin took an undisputed lead in the dormitory league of the intramural basketball race as a result of Manly's win over Best House and Old East's win over the Question Marks. This left the leaders the only undefeated team, although the race may end in six way ties for if the Question Marks defeat Ruffin Monday, Ruffin, the Question Marks, Swain Hall, Best House, Manly, and Grimes will each have only one defeat.

In the fraternity loop, four clubs, T. E. P., Sigma Nu, the Betas, and S. A. E. went without defeats this week but the lead will be narrowed down to one, as T. E. P. will meet Sigma Nu Monday and if S. A. E. and the Betas are still undefeated Thursday, they will meet each other, the winner to meet the winner of the T. E. P.-Sigma Nu contest Friday to decide the fraternity championship.

Scoring Lead

As a result of a 60 to 8 win, Sigma Nu increased their scoring lead over Kappa Alpha twenty-eight points. The former had a total of 277 points, while the latter had 240. No other frat team has reached the two hundred mark yet. In the dormitory league Best house still held a wide margin in scoring. The leader had 347 points and was followed by the Ramblers, Old East, and Manly with 284, 238, and 202 points respectively.

The team and individual scoring records were both broken during the week. Old East got eighty-one points to top Best House's record of eighty in club scoring. In individual scoring Weathers, of Ruffin got thirty-two points to break the record of thirty made by Everett of Kappa Alpha. Weather's high score was tied by Fox of Old East in Friday's contests.

The feature battle of the week was the one in which Old East handed the Question Marks their first setback in two years. The game went to an extra period at which time the winners tallied four markers to the Question Marks' two. The next best game was on the same day and was the contest in which Manly handed Best House their first defeat of the year.

COLLEAGUES PAY HIGH TRIBUTE TO EDWIN GREENLAW

(Continued from first page) ods, free from pedantry and devoid of charlatanism, and his power, as Professor Howell phrased it, to "bring literature to life."

Dr. Taylor presented a forceful estimate of Dr. Greenlaw as a scholar, a subject on which he was especially qualified to speak, since he shared with Dr. Greenlaw a keen interest in Milton and is an outstanding authority on the subject.

Dr. Pierson dealt with Dr. Greenlaw's activities as administrator and executive. He reviewed Greenlaw's monumental work of reorganization of the graduate school, his subsequent and ceaseless efforts in the cause of raising standards and fostering research, calling attention to the fact that he was occupied not only with the application of regulations, but in the early years, with their formulation.

While praising Dr. Greenlaw as administrator, Dean Pierson stated that it was as executive that he attained highest distinction, pronouncing him an educational statesman. He quoted Dr. Greenlaw's conception of the graduate school of the University, expressed in 1921 and widely quoted in the press of the country, that the school should become "a great laboratory in which experimental work should be done for the benefit of the state as a public enterprise and for the benefit of private economic and business organizations."

Golden Fleece Favors Abolition Of College Initiation Horseplay

Believing that the use of horseplay, particularly that involving corporal punishment, in initiation ceremonies, is in no way compatible with university life, is conducive neither to dignity nor impressiveness of ritual and is detrimental to the spirit of the organization—Golden Fleece, having first rid its own ceremonies of such practices, calls upon all other social and honorary organizations to consider the abolition of any and all horseplay in their initiation ceremonies. ORANGE TEAM IS VICTOR IN THIRD WINTER CONTEST

Behringer Scores Only Touchdown of Game as Blues Are Defeated, 6-0.

Scoring the only touchdown of the game early in the first quarter, the Orange team won from the Blues, 6-0, in the third game of winter football here yesterday. The team, which was formerly the Blue squad, recorded its first victory of the winter season as the other group had taken the former encounters.

The Orange kicked off to open the battle. After two line plays failed the Blues kicked, the ball going to the Orange in mid field. On the second play Jackson shot a thirty yard pass to Frankel who was downed on the Blues' twenty-yard marker. Behringer then took the ball and twisted through the entire Blue team for a touchdown. A placekick for extra point failed.

The Blues held a seven to five lead in first downs although both teams gained about the same amount of ground. The Blues first downs came from the running of Croom, the passing of Phipps and Croom, and the receiving of Woolen and Phipps. Most of the gains registered by the Orange came from off-tackle runs with Behringer doing the ball carrying.

The losers threatened to score twice. The first time came when Lassiter intercepted an Orange pass but was tackled from behind as he was breaking into the clear. The other threat came in the last few minutes of the contest. With the ball on their own thirty yard line Croom threw a twenty yard pass to Phipps who was tackled on the Orange thirty-five yard marker. Woolen then caught two passes for a first down and Phipps made another on a line buck. The Orange then held for three downs after which the game ended.

In the Orange line the work of Daniels was the feature, while Barclay and Strickland also starred. For the Blues Lassiter was a tower of strength backing up the line on defense and the play of Philpot and Smith was best in the forward wall.

The game was conducted under the new rules. The main differences were that the teams punted on kickoff instead of the usual placekick and the careful play of the linemen on defense.

The lineups:

Orange	pos.	Blues
Frankel	le	Walkey
Tatum	lt	Hodges
Barclay	lg	Philpot
Daniels	c	McIver
Oliverio	rg	Newcombe
Strickland	rt	Smith
Manly	re	Allen
Jackson	qb	Woolen
Burnett	lh	Phipps
Behringer	rh	Croom
Shaffer	fb	Lassiter
