Many Girls Will Attend Dances This Week-end With Ted Black Playing.

One of the most brilliant set of dances during the winter ouarter, the annual winter festival, under the sponsorship of the Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Gamma Delta, Pi Rappa Alpha, and Pi Kappa Phi fraternities, will usher in the fraternity dance season at the University this week-end.

Arrangements for two evening dances, Friday and Saturday and a dansant, Saturday afternoon, have been made by a committee of the fraternities' representatives, headed by Mosely Fonvielle, of Wilmington. a member of Phi Delta Theta, as chairman, and Jones Pollard, of Durham, Alpha Tau Omega, as secretary and treasnrer.

Other members of the committee are: Tad McLaughlin of Mercersburg, Pa., Phi Delta Theta: Tom Webb of Fayetteville, A. T. O.; Bill Bliss of Orlando, Fla., and Stokes Adderton of Lexington, Phi Gamma Delta; Ward Thompson and George Little of Elizabeth City, Pi Kappa Alpha; and Pitt Davis of Roanoke, Va., and George Phillips of Washington, Pi Kappa Phi. As the scene of the festival Bynum gymnasium will be converted into a brilliant ballroom, the color motif to be carried out in red and white festoon paper. Ted Black and his Victor recording orchestra have been secured to furnish the music. Besides being regular performers over the NBC radio chain, Black and his orchestra have played engagements at the Little Club in New Orleans, the Hotel Presidente in Havana, the Paris Blue Room in Paris, the British Embassy in Paris, and Salzman's restaurant in New York. sity facing the world at this time," asserted Dr. J. J. Van Der Leeuw in Gerrard hall last night, under the auspices of the National Student Federation. "If war should come it would mean the destruction in a short time of all our achievements." In reference to world tribunals and contracts, he stated that treaties mean nothing unless they provide a police force which would squell belligerent nations.

Speaking Sunday night the lecturer told an audience of students and faculty that man must win back mainly through education the life he has lost with the developments of the machine age. "Man has become so engrossed by the form world that his world of life has become vague and shut off from the sense of values which tells him what is good and worthwhile," stated the speaker. The age of machinery has not given man a higher civilization, but a higher material comfort. Instead of Houston man appropriating leisure al-
