Victorious over the White Phantoms in their last two meetings, the Red Terrors of North Carolina State will close the Big Five basketball season against Carolina here tonight in the Tin Can. The varsity tilt will start at 8:30 o'clock, preceded by a freshman game at 7:30 o'clock.

Early in the season the Tar Heels lost by a close 19-18 score, after they had taken the lead at the end of the first half. In their final meeting last year the State cagers rang up a 23-20 decision over the Blue and White team in one of the fastest games ever played in the Frank Thompson memorial gymnasium in Raleigh.

The game tonight, although having no bearing on the Big Five standings, promises a battle between rival guards, Captain Alexander and McCachren of Carolina and Captain Rose of State, for all-state honors. All three have starred in their respective team's games to date, Alexander and Rose being among the state's leading scorers, while the floor-play of McCachren has featured every game this season.

On the basis of comparative scores the Tar Heels reign supreme after their victories over Washington and Lee and Maryland, while the Terrors have dropped two games to the Blue Devils to the Phantoms' one loss and one win over Duke.

Thursday afternoon the Tar Heel cagers will leave for Atlanta where they will meet Tennessee in the opening round of the annual Southern Conference tournament. A win over the Volunteers will give the Carolina quint the right to meet the winner of the Tulane-Kentucky battle. After Kentucky's loss to Vanderbilt and the Carolina win over Maryland the pre-tournament dope gives the Tar Heels an even break with the Wildcat five, runner-up to Maryland for the southern title last year.

Wisconsin Students Seeking Delegates On Athletic Council

Six campus boards at the University of Wisconsin have joined in a campaign to secure increased student representation on the athletic council.

Each board is to present a petition to the faculty, asking that an extra student be permitted to sit on the council. This student is to be chosen by the presidents of the respective boards.

Under the present organization, only one student is on the council, whereas there are six faculty members and three alumni. This representative is the president of the athletic board, which has already recommended the plan to secure more power for the students.

Guy Thompson, president of the American Bar Association, will make the first address of the series February 28, and then will follow other speeches by outstanding figures in the world of law.

From The Bench

By Thomas H. Broughton

Carolina's cagers will know their fate in the Conference tourney by Saturday at the latest. A win over Tennessee, which shouldn't be much trouble for Coach Shepard's outfit, will give the Tar Heels the right to meet the winner of the Kentucky-Tulane game in the second round of the tournament. If the Phantoms get by their first two games the rest of the way should be easy pickings until the final game of the tourney, which in all probability will be with Maryland. They've done it once so they should be able to best Maryland a second time.

First call for varsity baseball candidates went out last week, which reminds us that Carolina has excellent prospects of winning their second Tri-State title in a row. With Longest, Edwards, Shields, Griffiths, Hinton, and... rookies from last year's frosh pitching staff, Coach Bunn Hearn should have little trouble with his mound staff.

The infield may present a problem, however. Powell and Dunlap are back from last year's inner cordon, but Ferebee's ineligibility and the loss of Wyrick by graduation leaves a gap around the keystone sack. Johnny Phipps, sophomore shortstop, will be counted on to fill one position, but the second sack presents a problem.

The backstop position will be filled by Matheson of last year's yearling nine, and if necessary Peacock may be brought in from centerfield. Croom and Peacock form the nucleus of one of the best outfields in the league.

FENCING TOURNEY OPENS TOMORROW

Twenty-Six Men Are on List For Matches in Intramural Contest.

The intramural fencing tournament will open tomorrow afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in the Tin Can with twenty-six men on the list. There is a great amount of interest shown this year and the competition promises to be keen. Appropriate medals will be given the winners of the tourney and points won will count toward the Grail intramural cup. Herb Brown, Ed Egan, F. C. Litten, and Dick Molarsky are favored to be among the top contenders for the intramural title.

The following men will fence at 4:00 o'clock: Egan, bye; Valk vs. Sehon; Molarsky, bye; Taubnick vs. Penn; Rice vs. Goldjaden; Bolton vs. Barclay. At 4:15 o'clock: Weesner, bye; F. E. Culvern vs. Duncan; Litten, bye; J. H. Lynch vs. Hargreaves; Pratt, bye; Crowell vs. R. M. Culvern; Stanley vs. F. Wilson.

At 4:30 o'clock Harrison will fence Abernethy and at 5:00 o'clock Pitkin draws a bye and will fence the winner of the Brown-Green match.

Although the University of North Carolina cagers saw their chances for the state title fade during the past week's play, they regained some of their glory with decisive wins over Maryland and Washington and Lee. It was a peculiar week for the Blue Devils who clinched the state cage title, but lost to both Maryland and Washington and Lee.

Canadian Students Are Protesting Cut

Students at the University of British Columbia are carrying on a vigorous province-wide campaign to organize public opinion against the proposed reduction in the government's appropriations grant. A student's publicity bureau is promulgating literature stating the student's side of the case.

The fees at the university have been increased so that the students are paying higher than in any other provincial institution in Canada. In addition the appropriations were cut twenty-five per cent last year and the proposed cut would make the total reductions in two years fifty-seven per cent.

WRESTLING TEAM TIES ARMY WHEN IDOL GETS FALL

Captain Tsumas, Hussey, and Hiller Win Bouts in Close Match.

With the University of North Carolina trailing the Army wrestling team 16 to 11, and only one bout to go, Percy Idol, southern conference champion, saved the day by throwing Spengler, crack Cadet matmen, and tied the score 16-all at West Point Saturday.

In the most exciting bout of the meet, Captain Harry Tsumas pinned Williams of Army with a double arm lock in less than a minute.

Hussey and Hiller also registered wins by time advantages. The former took a decision over Downing after two extra periods, while the latter defeated Speizer by a time advantage of 3:58.

NAVY WINS OVER CAROLINA BOXERS

Levinson and Brown Win Decisions in 5-2 Loss Saturday Evening.

Carolina showed its best form this season at Annapolis Saturday evening, but Navy's eastern intercollegiate champions took hair-line decisions in five of the seven bouts to edge out the victory after their hardest meet of the 1932 season. There were no knock downs in any of the bouts.

Marty Levinson, featherweight, and Peyton Brown, lightweight, turned in the Tar Heel victories after brilliant performances against Dolan and Powell respectively. Both won by good margins and had their bouts well in hand all the way. Levinson hammered Dolan about the body with both hands and shot his right to the head with consistency, while Brown took his bout by outslugging Powell at long range and pounding him thoroughly on the in-fighting. Brown, too, won by a comfortable margin and was never behind after the first few blows.

Jimmy Williams lost his second bout of the year to Wright, veteran Navy bantam, in a fight that saw the lead shift first to one battler and then the other. Wright had a slight edge the last round and earned the verdict after what was perhaps the finest bout on the program.

Levinson tied the count with his win over Dolan, but Fritz Raymer lost a hard fought contest to Nauman and the Middies were again in the lead. Raymer gave his opponent plenty to worry about but tired in the third round sufficiently for Nauman to eke out the decision.

The closest scrap of the night saw Kenna take a decision from Nat Lumpkin in three rounds. Both boys opened fast and continued the same pace throughout with Kenna finishing a little stronger than the Tar Heel. Lumpkin scored repeatedly with a left hook to the head and a hard right, but Kenna retaliated with a straight right to head and body and used a left jab to advantage. Lumpkin had a slight edge until the last thirty seconds of the final round when Kenna landed a pair of hard rights that furnished the margin of victory.

Jim Wadsworth met McNaughton in the middleweight bout and had a little the best of it during the first two rounds, but the Tar Heel came back strong in the final canto to lose (Continued on next page)

SIGMA NUS AND RUFFIN DEFEATED FOR FIRST TIME

Six Teams Tied for Lead in Dormitory League; T. E. P. Finalist.

Scoring eight points before their opponents got started, T. E. P. took a fast game from Sigma Nu 26 to 18. It was T. E. P.'s sixth win in six starts and will send them to the finals in the fraternity league. Sigma Nu suffered its first defeat of the season. Long of the losers led the scoring with eleven points, while Eisner was close behind with ten.

Extra Period Battle
Getting four field goals in an extra period the Basketeers downed Old West 30 to 26. The contest was close and as the final whistle blew the score was 22-all.

Ruffin Loses First
Coming from behind in the last half the Question Marks gave Ruffin its first defeat of the year 32-29, leaving the dormitory league in a six cornered tie. Ruffin held the lead throughout the first half. Bariam, substiting for Question Marks, was by far the star of the game.

Best House kept its good record taking a 41-15 victory from Graham. Stuart and Adair led the attack, scoring twelve and fourteen points respectively.

Close Game
Coming from behind in the last half Zeta Psi triumphed over Sigma Phi Sigma 22-18. The losers scored eight points before Zeta Psi was able to get a basket.

Led by Williams and McRae Swain Hall downed Lawyers 37-14. Both teams guarded closely throughout and the winners got most of their points on long shots.

Heavy Scoring
Manly playing listlessly and slowly downed New Dorms 43-13. New Dorms held Manly to a low score throughout the first half. Kestler was the star of the game and scored twelve points for the winners.

With Forrest getting eighteen points and Tucker sixteen, Phi Delta Theta took an easy win from Phi Kappa Sigma 49-11.

S. A. E., Phi Alpha, and Z. B. T. won forfeits over Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Sigma Kappa, and Sigma Zeta.
