

JERSEY CITY TO OPEN 1932 CARD OF CAROLINA NINE

Davidson First on Intercollegiate Schedule as Tar Heels Seek To Retain Tri-State Lead.

The Carolina baseball team will open its 1932 season with a practice game with the Jersey City club of the International League here Thursday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock. The Tar Heels will open their regular college schedule playing their annual Easter Monday classic with Davidson at Winston-Salem next Monday.

Coach Bunn Hearn announced the addition of the Jersey City game today, and coincident therewith, Smoky Ferebee, injured in football last fall, came back to college to begin his fight for the shortstop post he filled so creditably last spring.

The Tar Heels, foregoing spring holidays, drove away at hard practice all last week, but the speedy, clever little Ferebee, who has a particular knack for stretching triples into homers, was not among those present.

His return bolsters infield strength considerably. Coach Hearn had considerable likely looking material already, but it may be a tough job to pick the right combination. Another thing, some of the boys who have been going best afield in practice games, Willie Powell at third and Vergil Weathers at second, for instance, haven't been hitting as well as second-stringers like Cecil Adair and Norman McCaskill.

Paul Dunlap looks like a fixture at first again. Dunlap hit .407 last year and was the big gun of the Carolina attack. The big fight is at shortstop. John Phipps and George Brandt, two sophomores, both looked good at that post last week, and now the regular Ferebee is back.

John Peacock, a regular shifted from centerfield, is holding an edge in the race for receiver, but Matheson, up from the frosh, and Dick Pattisall, reserve last year, are giving him a tough run. The outfielders are all hustling, too. The lettermen, Bill Croom and Tom Blythe, are holding a slight edge, but Bill Dixon, Anthony DeRose, Clyde McKinney, and F. H. Hornaday are pushing them close. Dixon is a good all-around man and DeRose is a good fielder if he picks up a bit at the bat.

Among the pitchers, Captain Cecil Longest, George Hinton, and Jim Shields, three of the four veterans of last year's Tri-State championship team, are all going good in practice games.

Coach Bill Cerney requests that all freshman baseball candidates report at the freshman field this afternoon at 3:30. Equipment will not be issued for a few days.

Plans for Organization Of State Symphony Laid At Meeting Here

Discussion as to the practicality of the venture preceded the definite business of the meeting, which included an explanation of the New York Philharmonic orchestra and was culminated by the motion bringing about the definite formation of the symphony.

Those who spoke in favor of the plan included Struthers Burt, Southern Pines poet; Tyre Taylor of Raleigh, executive secretary to the Governor and chairman of the North Carolina ten-year plan; Cora Cox Lucas, Greensboro, a board member of the National Federation of Musical Clubs of America; Mrs. Eugene Davis of Charlotte, president of the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs; Dr. Harold S. Dyer and Hugo Giduz, both of Chapel Hill; and Mrs. J. M. Hobgood, president of the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs.

Musicians will be drawn from three classes; the professional, amateur, and student ranks. Already fifty-six have signified their intent to join. Preceded by two practice demonstrations, one of which will be offered in Chapel Hill, the regular summer concert season will be inaugurated. It is planned to conduct the symphony, with Lamar Stringfield at its head, in the western portion of the state in the summer time and in the central and eastern sections in the winter.

Many prominent musicians and music-lovers have signified their intention of joining the symphony association, among them Otto H. Kahn, millionaire New York philanthropist and banker, and Walter Damrosch, noted New York symphony conductor who is best known to millions through his weekly radio broadcasts. At least seventy-four more prominent figures in state and national music circles have joined symphony association.

Business at yesterday's meeting included the election of Colonel Joseph Hyde Pratt to the presidency and the selection of numerous other officials to guide the activities of the group for this year. Named as honorary vice-presidents were Mrs. Ruben Robinson, John Sprunt Hill of Durham, and John Small, Jr., of Charlotte. The executive committee included Mrs. J. M. Jobgood, Lamar Stringfield, Colonel Joseph Hyde Pratt, Earl M. Slocumb of Greensboro, Hugh McRae of Wilmington, Isaac L. Battin of Meredith college, Bishop Kenneth Phfol, Struthers Burt of Southern Pines, John Powell, Richmond, and Mrs. Joseph Hyde Pratt of Chapel Hill.

The steering committee includes Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Stringfield, Mr. and Mrs. Bob House, Tyre Taylor, Dr. R. S. Boggs, Felix Grissette, and Jack Dungan.

Music by the Salon Ensemble under the direction of Thor Johnson preceded the luncheon.

of the world. Should it do so the United States and Great Britain, with France and Italy, and other nations, could very easily settle the matter by dealing with the question on a trade basis.

Japan needs the balance of the world more than the world needs Japan, and it would not dare to put itself in a position where it would stop the flow of the international commerce on which it is largely dependent.

It must be remembered that China is not a unified nation. The situation there is very much like it was in the days of baronial control in the Middle Ages. Hundreds of so-called generals or mandarin chiefs each controlling comparatively a small territory, and many of them bandits, have for years been out gunning for one another. It is estimated that more than 150 million Chinese are out of employment as the result of the interecene warfare which has been going on since the overflow of the newly created national government. Neither life nor property has been safe under the general demoralization existing as the result of civil warfare.

In Manchuria the situation was the same, and in my opinion Japan had the right to protect her vast interests there from bandit or communistic plunder.

Stable Government Expected

Now that Japan has established her authority in Manchuria my prediction is that stable government will be promptly established, that peace will prevail, and that law and order will be generally enforced.

I do not believe that Japan harbors illwill towards this country, as the result of her Portsmouth treaty with Russia.

If we stand hands off in this controversy we will be in a very much better position to maintain our traditional friendly attitude with Japan than if we butted into a situation with which, as matters now stand, we have nothing to do.

Least of all should we involve ourselves in any possible danger of war expenditures running into the billions, and the loss of perhaps thousands of lives.

We have had enough of war!

"Choosey" People like the way they TASTE..

IT'S just what you'd expect. People who enjoy the good things of life... are constantly looking for something better to eat and drink... and smoke.

In cigarettes this better taste can come only from finer ingredients. Chesterfields are more satisfying to the cultivated palate. For one thing, there's never any attempt to skimp on Turkish leaf.

These richly flavored Turkish tobaccos are added with a generous hand.

In fact Chesterfield's new way of mingling tobacco flavors and aromas is really the equivalent of an entirely new kind of tobacco... one that combines the best qualities of Turkish and fine Domestic leaf.

Perhaps you've noticed too, that the paper in Chesterfields is whiter... purer. It burns without taste or odor.

Smoke Chesterfields whenever you like... They're mild and pure. They'll never tire you as an over-sweetened cigarette might easily do. Light up and see for yourself. They satisfy!

●Listen in... Hear the Chesterfield Radio Program. Nat Shilkret's brilliant orchestra and Alex Gray, popular baritone. Every night, except Sunday... Columbia Broadcasting System... 10:30 E. S. T.
