ONE OF BANDITS IN PENN CASE IS HELD BY POLICE

Elwood Johnson of Siler City Caught in Charlotte Apartment House.

BULLETIN

According to a late bulletin issued to The Daily Tar Heel last night by Dr. Leonard, physician attending Ashby Penn, the condition of the University junior is decidedly better. No further signs of infection have been noticed while the patient's general condition and resistance are considered better. It was stated that he passed a comparatively restful day and was apparently suffering less.

Elwood Johnson of Siler City, one of the bandits in the car chased by Ashby Penn and Officer U. M. Rackley Thursday night, was apprehended in Charlotte Sunday, and since his arrest new light has been shed on the case by his revelations. Officers are busy now attempting to round up the other three men who participated in the hold-up.

Johnson was caught in a vacated apartment house under a warrant issued by Orange county officers. The arrested man, according to police, confessed to being a member of the group that attempted to hold up the weiner stand of George Coleman here, and which then shot Penn through the lung after being stopped by the student and Officer Rackley.

Names of Other Men

The other members of the bandit party were named by Johnson as Robert G. Thompson, former chief of police at Mount Holly, Lawrence Armstrong, and Jack Thomas, his first cousin. Johnson said that Thomas shot Penn after the son of the late Charles A. Penn, vice-president of the American Tobacco company of Reidsville, had fired into the bandit machine.

Claiming Thomas fired at Penn only after the student had shot, Johnson showed a wound in his arm, supporting his contention.

COMMENCEMENT MARSHALS TO BE PICKED THURSDAY

Junior Class Favors Motion of Reclaiming Right of Selecting Marshals.

The commencement marshals for this year will be elected Thursday night by the junior class. Such a decision was reached by the organization last night when the question of reclaiming the class's power of electing the marshals was brought up.

The members of the group favored this action by heavy vote after sentiment was expressed that the group should take definite action in reclaiming the right which was taken over by the German club several years ago.

This question was brought up before the German club several weeks ago and the executive committee decided upon a conference with the executive committee of the class. The class as a whole took action last night in voting to elect the marshals.
