Capone Off to Prison

The last obstacle to prevent the removal of "Scarface Al" Capone to a federal penitentiary was removed yesterday when the United States circuit court of appeals vacated a writ of super-seedeas which had held the gangster in the Cook county jail while he appealed his conviction for evading income taxes. The appellate court vacated its writ after it had received a certified copy of the Supreme Court's decision refusing to review the case. A mittimus was made out ordering Capone to prison and it was thought that he would start his journey to Leavenworth, Kansas, within twenty-four hours.

Congress to Block Massie Freedom

Efforts to prevent a jury disagreement from freeing the four men charged with attacking Mrs. Thalia Massie in Honolulu were renewed yesterday in congress. It took the senate five minutes Monday to pass the bill which will block any possible legalistic escape for the attackers. The house is striving to speed its passage of the bill also. The bill repeals the law under which two successive jury disagreements in Hawaii criminal cases set the defendants free.

Fear Spinal Meningitis in State Prison

Three of the state's prisoners were dead yesterday of a sickness which was called by one physician as cerebo-spinal meningitis. State health officials were busy investigating the deaths and expressed doubt as to whether meningitis was the cause. Dr. Kemp Neal, Raleigh physician, in reporting the death of Van Sigman, one of the three, said that Sigman died of spinal-meningitis.

Blue Laws Overboard

In a special city vote yesterday which even overshadowed the presidential primary between President Hoover and former Senator Joseph L. France, the voters of Baltimore repealed the state's 200-year old blue laws insofar as that city is concerned. It was the most overwhelming vote ever registered on a question and now the people of Baltimore can go to movies and baseball games on Sunday legally.

ELISSA LANDI IS STAR AT CAROLINA TODAY

Today's feature at the Carolina theatre is "The Woman in Room 13," Elissa Landi's latest Fox drama. In addition to Miss Landi the list of principal players includes Ralph Bellamy, Neil Hamilton, Myrna Loy and Gilbert Roland.

The story of this production, which was directed by Henry King, has to do with a woman's sacrifice of her honor for her paramour. Miss Landi has the role of the beautiful murder suspect.

ARTICLE BY J. C. RUSSELL IS PUBLISHED IN REVIEW

In the April issue of the English Historical Review appears a short article by J. C. Russell of the University history department entitled "Alexander Neckam in England." It is an account of a professor who taught at Oxford about the year 1200. Russell wrote this article while he was a Guggenheim Fellow in England last year.

The junior-senior dance leaders will gather for an important meeting tomorrow night at 7:00 o'clock in Graham Memorial.

CLUB FORMED TO STIR INTEREST IN STUDENT MEETING

ers of the Bible study classes, Dean Frank Foster of Tusculum, Joe Brown Love of the Division of Life Service of the Methodist Church, George Noel Mayhew of the Vanderbilt School of Religion, and several others have been secured.

Recreational Diversions

One section of the daily routine will be devoted to discovering and handling the technique of dealing with student life in campus groups. For three days, under expert leadership, there will be groups on Christian internationalism, race, industry, association finance, work with freshmen, campus social life, and methods of religious work.

By way of recreation, group excursions to Mount Mitchell and other points of interest have been arranged, in addition to the regularly organized sports, hikes, and excursions. A recreation and fellowship hour follows supper under the direction of Roy Cooper of Clemson.

Those interested in attending the Blue Ridge Conference this year may secure full information from Ed Hamer at the Y, or from Tom Wright at the Episcopal church.

GUESTS OF MISS MARKS, ENTERTAINED AT PARTY

Miss Sallie B. Marks of the education department has returned from the meeting of administrative women in Greensboro last week-end with guests whom she entertained in Chapel Hill. Among the guests were Miss Ann Whitney, director of the child health association of New York City; Miss Catherine Cook of Washington, D. C., specialist in education with the department of interior; and Miss Sara Bought, librarian in the department of education at Washington. A tea was given in their honor Saturday.

CANDIDATE FOR PH.D. WILL TAKE ORAL EXAM

The oral examination of Charles Horace Hamilton, candidate for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in the department of sociology, will take place Monday evening, May 9, at 7:30 o'clock in room 104 Alumni building. All members of the graduate faculty in the division of philosophy and of political and social sciences are invited to be present at the examination.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION TO ENTERTAIN AT TEA

The Womans' Association will entertain at its weekly tea this afternoon in Spencer hall at 4:30. Students and townspeople are invited to attend.

It is also announced that the large reception room in the building has been completely redecorated with new furnishings.

Graham Memorial Receives Two Pictures Taken in 1881

Noah Goodridge, manager of Graham Memorial, has just received two new pictures to be hung in the building. One of these pictures, donated by Robert O. Holt, '31, is of the faculty of the University in 1779, and the other is of the graduating class of 1881. Holt was a member of this class and other prominent men are Charles Duncan McIver, founder of North Carolina College for Women, and William Jackson Adams, associate justice of the Supreme Court.

McIntosh to Speak

C. E. McIntosh of the education department will deliver an address at the commencement exercises at Aurelian Springs tonight.

EATON WILL REPRESENT U. N. C. AT ANNIVERSARY

William Clement Eaton, University alumnus of the class of 1919, has been appointed to represent the University of North Carolina at the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of LaFayette College May 17 to 21 at Easton, Pennsylvania.

Eaton received his A.B. and A.M. degrees from the University in 1919 and 1920, respectively, and is now an associate professor of history at LaFayette College.

TRACK STARS TO ASSAIL RECORDS AT TRACK MEET

Brewer, Blue Devil captain, and Cochran of Davidson have been heaving the discus in the vicinity of 130 feet all season and a merry free-for-all should result in that event. Oscar Mullis, Tar Heel weight man, tosses the shot as efficiently as the discus, having achieved the distance of 45 feet 8 1-2 inches in the Duke meet, which betters the state mark by more than two feet. Mullis improved in leaps and bounds this season and may set up a record which will be hard to beat. Harry Hodges of football fame is heaving the iron ball around 42 feet, but will find plenty of competition from the other entrants, especially in Sam Gurneau of State who won the event last year.

The high jump standard of 6 feet 1 3-4 inches seems to be in no immediate danger although Stafford, Carolina athlete, has leaped 5 feet 11 1-2 inches on two different occasions. Rhyme of Davidson has been doing some fancy jumping this season and has cleared 5 feet 11 inches, as has Smith of Duke. Reed, Hamlet, and Dockery have been finishing right behind Stafford and may reach the heights Saturday.

Broad Jumpers Strong

Fulmer, Duke ace, who won the broad jump in the Penn Carnival last Saturday with a leap of 23 feet 2 1-2 inches, will be out to break the state standard in the event of 23 feet 1-2 inch, which was set up by Kinsey of Wake Forest in 1929. Floyd Higby, Carolina jumper, will furnish the stiffest opposition to Fulmer and may spring a surprise at the same time. Phipps, another Tar Heel, has been leaping far and wide all season and is due for a good jump Saturday. Davidson has a good trio of broad jumpers and by sweeping that event against South Carolina last week, just nosed out the Gamecocks. Flynn is the best of the three and will make the others work to get first honors.

This meet will afford the spectators some keen competition and at the same time will give an indication of Carolina's chances in the forthcoming Conference championships at Atlanta, the 20th and 21st of this month.

THEATRE PASSES GIVEN TO MEMBERS OF STAFF

E. C. Daniel, Tom Walker, J. S. Cook, and Milton Baucher received passes yesterday for outstanding work on THE DAILY TAR HEEL staff during the past week. These passes are granted by the Carolina theatre through the courtesy of E. Carrington Smith, manager.

Campus Benches Painted

A number of benches are being painted and put in shape for use about the campus this summer. Most of these are the ones that were used last summer and which were kept in Kenan stadium last fall for use along the sidelines during football games. As soon as the benches are ready they will be placed in various places around the campus.

five run lead in the first two innings but Phi Kappa Sigma put on a rally in the fourth to take a three-point margin. Kappa Sigma, however, counted in all the last three frames to get their final lead. White and Hoffman led Kappa Sigma at bat while Young played headsup in the field. Markham and Queen were outstanding for Phi Kappa Sigma.

Score by innings:
K. Sigs 3 2 1 0 1 1 2—10
Phi K. S. 0 3 2 4 0 0 0—9

A Shutout

With Fitzgerald pitching almost hitless ball and the whole team performing well in the field, Phi Sigma Kappa downed Kappa Alpha 7 to 0. The winners started off fast and had the game well in hand throughout. Besides the pitching of Fitzgerald, Walker and Evans were best for the winners. Wiggs was the Kappa Alpha star.

K. A. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0
Phi S. K. 2 2 1 0 2 0 x—7

Aycock Wins

Weiner of Aycock and Kleitman of Lewis hooked up in a tight pitchers' battle, with Aycock coming out on top 4 to 2. Neither team counted during the first three innings, but in the fourth the winners crossed the plate twice and clinched the battle with another the following inning. Besides the pitchers, Cox and Thompson played headsup for Aycock, while Tucker and Roth were outstanding for Lewis.

Score by innings:
Aycock 0 0 0 2 1 1 0—4
Lewis 0 0 0 0 2 0 0—2

One Forfeit

Grimes won over Mangum in the only forfeit of the afternoon.

Walker to Deliver Address

Dr. N. W. Walker of the school of education will deliver the commencement address at Goldston high school in Chatham county tonight on the subject of "Education for a Change and Changing Social Order." He will also deliver the commencement address at the Appalachian State Teachers College next Friday.
