

TWO NEW ALUMNI CLUBS ORGANIZED

Groups Formed by Men in New Orleans and Dunn During Latter Part of April.

Two new alumni clubs, one in Harnett county, North Carolina, and the other in New Orleans, Louisiana, the first ever to be organized in that state, were formed during the latter part of April.

The Harnett county club raises the total of associations within the state to forty-four, whereas the Louisiana club is the fifteenth to be formed in other states.

Graham Speaks

The Louisiana branch was organized April 25 in New Orleans when nineteen Carolina men gathered at a dinner in the banquet room of the famous Arnaud restaurant, and heard President Graham speak on affairs in Chapel Hill and in North Carolina.

The following were chosen officers of the new club: J. M. Porter of New Orleans, president; J. A. Thompson of the University of Louisiana, vice-president; Dr. James A. Bradley of New Orleans, secretary. The officers plan to call a meeting three or four times each year, and are planning to make a contribution to the emergency student loan fund.

Officers Elected

The new Harnett county club was formed in Dunn April 23 when a dozen alumni met at a supper at which R. B. House was the principal speaker. Officers of the club were elected, and the group resolved to come together frequently and to try to induce other alumni to join them. R. L. Godwin, J. S. Bryan, and R. L. Cromartie, all of Dunn, were elected to the offices of president, vice-president, and secretary, respectively.

ANNIVERSARY TO BE OBSERVED BY ALPHA PSI DELTA

(Continued from first page) ing of the afternoon program. The papers to be read will include reports of experimental studies and statistical investigation as well as teaching methods and devices, according to Dr. J. F. Dashiell, head of the department of psychology, who is chairman of the afternoon program.

Dr. A. G. Bayroff, national research fellow, who is president of the local fraternity chapter, will preside at the evening dinner and will introduce the toastmaster, Dr. Harry W. Crane, professor of psychology here and head of the department of mental hygiene of the state board of charities and public welfare. Dinner arrangements will be in charge of Dr. English Bagby, professor of psychology here, and Mrs. A. H. Jordan.

The laboratory exhibit will be in charge of H. N. DeWick and G. G. Killinger, instructors, and W. M. Treverton, teaching fellow.

The Gamma chapter of the psychological fraternity, was organized in November, 1921, through the influence of Dr. Harry W. Crane, who was then a member of the national organization and the Beta chapter at Ohio State University.

Ehringhaus Favors Property Revaluation

(Continued from first page) determine, owner-operated farms of small areas—say twenty-five or fifty acres—and owner occupied homes to the extent say, of the homestead value, with a proviso to prevent duplications in the same occupying household.

"Such an amendment, followed by appropriate legislation which I would urge, would afford relief where most needed, diminish farm tenancy, encourage home ownership, help create a market for real estate, and check a tendency towards concentration which all history has proven dangerous."

Concerning the important question of the state's credit, Ehringhaus advocates a careful conservation and helpful supervision of local spending and bond issues. "There is no latent peril in 'centralization'. It is credit insurance. I regard the Local Government Act of the last assembly as an outstanding and constructive achievement. Its benefits must be preserved."

The Elizabeth City barrister frankly despairs of federal farm aid in placing the farm problems up to the state itself. A live-at-home program; profitable utilization of state waste areas, in timber growing, game breeding, public hunting preserves and like usages; a definite movement toward discovering new markets for state products, and an effort to reduce the fertilizer bill are the measures proposed for the farmers' self-relief.

Alumnus of University

An alumnus of the University, Ehringhaus promises to do all in his power to continue the state's progress in education. The principles and aims of Charles B. Aycock, former governor, are those of Ehringhaus. He opposes further reduction of teachers' salaries as detrimental to the educational system itself. He would not favor taking any part of the amount produced by the fifteen cent ad valorem land tax out of the present curtailed school budget.

"I for one," he wrote in The North Carolina Teacher, "shall do everything possible to prevent further crippling of our schools and shall always in my educational policies be dominated by the word 'forward'."

John C. B. Ehringhaus was born in 1882 at Elizabeth City where he now makes his home. He has long been active in state politics as well as in law circles. In the 1905 session of the legislature he started the movement for the establishment of the Eastern Carolina Teachers College, and in 1907 with Governor Jarvis and J. Y. Joyner, was joint author of the bill which made the institution possible.

His political career has carried him to every section of the state. He has campaigned in every contest since coming of age. During the campaigns of 1928 and 1930 he frequently spoke twice a day and in every part of the commonwealth.

If he is elected governor this year, he will be the chief executive from the Albemarle section of the state, "the Cradle of the Colony," since James Iredell retired in 1828 and the first from his congressional district since Jarvis in 1885.

RONALD COLMAN STARS IN 'ARROWSMITH' TODAY

"Arrowsmith," the work of Sinclair Lewis, the only American novelist ever to win a Nobel Prize, comes as a motion picture to the Carolina theatre today, in a production by Samuel Goldwyn, with Ronald Colman playing the title role of the crusading young doctor.

Helen Hayes plays opposite Colman.

HORN IN ON THIS $25,000!

WRITE A "BLURB"!

464 CASH PRIZES THIS MONTH—2 FIRST PRIZES OF $500 EACH

SEE those "blurbs" coming out of the men's mouths? Can you write one? We're putting up $25,000 in cash for those who can. Get your pencil out—now!

Here's the idea. In a field of 176 competing brands, Colgate's and Palmolive are the two outstanding leaders. They have won an overwhelming preference over all other shaving creams.

We know that Palmolive users swear there's nothing as good as Palmolive. And Colgate shavers claim that Colgate's beats 'em all in a walk.

What we want is your opinion. Do you side with Jim or his Dad in the big Palmolive vs. Colgate's argument? Are you a Colgate fan or a Palmolive booster. Let's hear from you!

In ONE of the empty "blurb" spaces, or on a separate sheet of paper, just say your say. In your own words, write your boost for Colgate's—or for Palmolive—not both. 464 cash prizes each month for the best "blurbs" sent to us!

CONTEST RULES

MAIL your "blurb" with name and address to Contest Editors, Dept. CN-253, P.O. Box 1133, Chicago, Illinois. The prize money (totaling $25,000) is divided into six sets of monthly prizes (each set totaling $4200). At the end of each month prizes are awarded (see list at right) for the best "blurbs" received during that month, as follows:

- Feb. 29, $4200 Mar. 31, $4200
 - April 30, $4200 May 31, $4200
 - June 30, $4200 July 31, $4200
- {Contest closes July 31, 1932}

Contest is open only to residents of the United States and Canada. Employees of the manufacturers and their families are not eligible to compete.

In event of a tie, each tying contestant will be awarded full amount of the prize tied for. Decision of the judges shall be final. All contributions shall become the property of the manufacturers, to be used in any way desired.

Some hints to help you win
Here are some facts about the world's two largest-selling shaving creams—Colgate's and Palmolive. Here are some of the reasons why men prefer these famous shaving creams.

- PALMOLIVE
 - Multiplies itself in lather 250 times.
 - Softens the beard in one minute.
 - Maintains its creamy fullness for 10 minutes.
 - Fine after-effects due to olive oil content.
- COLGATE'S
 - Breaks up oil film that covers each hair.
 - Small bubbles get down to the base of the beard, hold water against each hair at skin-line and soak it soft where the razor works.
 - Gives a close, skin-line shave due to small bubble action.
 - Gives a lasting, 24-hour shave.

Here's where you take your shot at some of that $25,000

Jim wants you Palmolive users to back him up. His Dad wants every Colgate shaver's help. If you haven't tried either of these famous shaving creams, start now and get into this $25,000 argument.

Here are the prizes for each month—464 in all!

For Best Colgate "blurbs"	For Best Palmolive "blurbs"
