

Carolina Takes Advantage Of Breaks To Lick Virginia

Southpaw Luck Gives Tar Heels Only Five Hits But Walks Eight.

DUNLAP HITS FOR CIRCUIT IN SIXTH

Peacock Drives in Run With Triple, and Steinberg, Virginia, Clouts Homer.

Although out-hit, the Tar Heels came from behind to defeat the University of Virginia 4-3 in a hotly contested game yesterday afternoon.

Carolina was able to collect only five hits off the sidearm delivery of Luck, but the Virginia hurler gave eight walks to allow the Tar Heels their narrow margin of victory. George Hinton was touched for eight safeties, but he scattered them over seven innings, gave no walks, and was in serious danger only in the second inning.

Cavaliers Get Going

In this inning the Cavalier offensive began to function after two were down as a result of a double play. Brewer, first up, was safe on Dunlap's error and Luck hit into the double killing, Pattisall to Dunlap to Ferebee. Pinder slapped a double into right center and went to third when Drissel gained life on Dunlap's second error. Steinberg singled to center to score both men and Sippley struck out to end the inning.

The Tar Heels got one of the runs back in their half of the third. Hinton walked after Pattisall was out attempting to steal second and scored on Peacock's triple to the hurdles in centerfield.

Carolina Ties Count

This ended the scoring until the sixth when Carolina tied the count. Dunlap came to bat after two were down, fouled half a dozen times, and then slammed the ball into deep center for a homerun. Dixon walked, but Powell flew to Lee for the third out.

The Tar Heels went into the lead in the next inning, though they failed to connect safely. With one down, Pattisall drew a pass and stole second. Luck uncorked a wild pitch and Pattisall went to third as Hinton walked. Peacock was out as Drissel made a beautiful running catch of his long fly to center, but Pattisall scored on the throw-in.

Score Tied Again

The Virginians came back in the eighth to knot the count again as Steinberg, with two down and the bases empty, hammered the ball to the left-field fence for the circuit.

In their half the Tar Heels sent the winning run across, again having no hits to aid them. Dunlap got a free trip and went to third when Dixon was safe on Sippley's error at first. Both men advanced on Powell's neat sacrifice and Blythe, batting for Croom, walked to fill the bases. Pattisall lifted a fly to left and Dunlap crossed the plate several feet ahead of the ball. Hinton struck out to end the inning.

The Cavaliers could do nothing in the ninth, although Lee singled and got to second, dying there as Brewer rolled out to first.

Double Plays Help

Afield Carolina played their best ball of the season, making only three errors and twice getting Hinton out of trouble with double plays. Vergil Weathers led the team on the defensive, handling eight difficult chances without error. Dunlap also played a nice game at first except for the second inning when he was guilty of a brace of errors.

For the Virginians Drissel played a brilliant game in cen-

FRESHMAN STATE TRACK MEET WILL OPEN HERE TODAY

Tar Babies and Blue Imps Favored To Take Top Honors in Championship Events.

Today's freshman state track championships will be run off alternately with the varsity events, although the marks may not quite come up to the other performances. Carolina and Duke should wage a merry battle for top honors with the Tar Babies having the edge.

The sprints will offer some promising sprinters in Tarrel of Duke, and Childers and Gunter of Carolina. Tarrel and Childers have both been clocked in 10 flat for the century, and Gunter has approached that mark. Gunter ran a 22 second furlong in the Duke meet and looks good to hit the tape first in that event. Hawthorne, Tar Baby hurdler, has been taking the timbers in fast time and may come through to erase the old marks in both events.

In the field events several old standards may topple from the books as the meet which has not been held in several years offers some brilliant performers. The javelin, shot, and pole vault are certain to result in some good marks and will eliminate the mediocre standards of other years.

N. S. F. A. Backs Radio Forum On Prohibition

New York, N. Y., May 6—(N. S. F. A.)—"Prohibition Plainly Put," is the title of a series of six addresses to be broadcast over the Columbia network under the auspices of the National Student Federation during May and June. The first of the series, presenting Joy Elmer Morgan, editor of the Journal of the National Education Association, will take place Wednesday, May 4, from 5:45 to 6:00 p. m. Eastern Daylight Time. The others will follow on the succeeding five Wednesdays at the same hour.

In commenting on the plan, E. R. Murrow, director of the National Student Federation, said: "Believing that the students of the United States have not only the right but the obligation to undertake a serious discussion of the Prohibition situation, we have arranged this series of six weekly broadcasts on the subject 'Prohibition Plainly Put'. Opposing points of view will be presented alternately by prominent speakers at this same hour each week until the series is completed. It is our hope that these speeches may contribute in some degree to the clarification of the issue now facing the nation. The speakers have been chosen for their wide experience and familiarity with the subject under discussion. We believe that the majority of America's students have definite opinions concerning Prohibition. We are not interested in whether they are dry or wet, but we are interested in their convictions being founded on facts. In short, it is our purpose to create and not to direct an intelligent public opinion."

terfield and Lee turned in a nice day at short. Pinder led the stick-work for both teams with three hits, one a double, and was followed by Lee with a pair of singles, and Steinberg with a home-run and a single. No Carolina man got more than one hit, but Dunlap had a four-bagger and Peacock a triple.

The summary: R H E Va. 002 000 010—3 8 2 Car. 001 001 11x—4 5 3 Batteries: Luck and Poss; Hinton and Pattisall. Umpire: Stewart. Time of game: 1:48.

DUKE SPRINTER

Johnny Brownlee, pictured above, will carry the brunt of the Duke attack in the state championship meet today at Emerson field. Brownlee is conference record holder in the 220 low hurdles and may set a new standard today in his specialty. The Blue Devil athlete will also toe the mark with Charlie Farmer in the dashes.

HARVARD NETMEN BOW TO CAROLINA

Tar Heels Lose Three Singles Matches and Make Clean Sweep in Doubles.

Carolina's powerful tennis team met its most feared opponent yesterday and came out victorious to the tune of 6-3. Harvard netters scored their three wins in the singles, Lenoir Wright, Lucas Abels, and Dave Morgan, being the Carolina men defeated. This was the narrowest margin of victory that the Tar Heels have experienced since they began their northern invasion Saturday. The Tar Heels have been having a little difficulty winning their number one doubles match so far, but yesterday Hines and Shuford encountered no trouble and set the pace for a clean sweep in the last three matches.

The following are the individual results of the match with Harvard:

Singles: Grant (C) beat Frame (H), 1-6, 6-1, 6-3; Hines (C) defeated Bornaby (H), 7-5, 1-6, 6-4; Patterson (H) beat Wright (C), 2-6, 6-0, 6-4; Brioda (H) defeated Abels (C), 6-4, 1-6, 6-0; Davenport (H) beat Morgan (C), 6-4, 6-4; Shuford (C) defeated Hartford (H), 6-3, 4-6, 6-2.

Doubles: Hines-Shuford (C) beat Frame-Brioda (H), 6-2, 6-3; Grant-Wright (C) defeated Davenport-Ray (H), 7-5, 10-8; and Dillard-Morgan (C) beat Key-Patterson (H), 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

E. C. METZENTHIN APPROVES USE OF WORLD LANGUAGE

To illustrate this, Metzenthin wrote a sentence in Esperanto upon the blackboard: "Mia patrino estas bona," which means "My mother is good." All words are accented alike and pronunciation is strictly phonetic.

FETZER ASKS STUDENT CO-OPERATION

Coach R. A. Fetzer, director of athletics at the University, has made a special request that Carolina students co-operate with the officials in making the state track meet on Emerson field today the most orderly and best conducted meet ever held on a college campus.

Coach Fetzer first reminds the student body that it is host to trackmen of state institutions and asks full co-operation of the students in keeping off the field and in the stand during the events.

Coach Fetzer has provided jumping pits and field rings

FIVE NINES FROM EACH LEAGUE TO END MURAL PLAY

Teams With One Loss or Less Will Battle for Championship in Each Division.

With four weeks of play behind them, all intramural baseball teams have been eliminated from the race except five clubs in each league. The intramural department decided to let all the teams with one loss or less meet in a playoff which will continue until all the clubs but one in each league have lost two contests. These two remaining teams will play each other to decide the championship of the campus.

S. A. E. in the fraternity league and Aycock in the dormitory loop are the only teams which have not yet met with defeat. These clubs have played the strongest teams in their leagues and are favored to take the flag. Theta Chi in the frat loop and Ruffin in the dormitory league, however, have shown good form, after being beat early in the season, and are expected to give the leaders the hardest fight, while any of the other teams are capable of taking the title.

The standings for the teams in the playoff follow:

FRATERNITY LEAGUE
Team	W.	L.
S. A. E.	7	0
T. E. P.	5	1
Phi Alpha	5	1
Sigma Nu	5	1
Theta Chi	5	1
DORMITORY LEAGUE
Aycock	7	0
Best House	6	1
Grimes	5	1
Swain Hall	5	1
Ruffin	4	1

Press to Release Books

The University Press is expecting to release two new books next Tuesday. One book is about the frontier of Tennessee by Abernathy and the other is Color of Steel, a book of poems, by Louise C. Ray.

CAROLINA TRACK MEN FAVORED TO WIN STATE TITLE

Tar Heels Expected to Nose Out Duke and Davidson in Meet This Afternoon.

The annual state track and field championships which will be run off this afternoon starting at 1:30 promises to be the best of the long series of meets, which were begun in 1900.

The dashes will be the highlights of the meet with three of the fastest men in the south facing the starter in the two events. Brownlee, Farmer, and Fleagle have been clocked under 10 seconds in the hundred and better than 22 seconds in the furlong dash. Brownlee has beaten both Farmer and Fleagle in the century and each will be out to reverse the tables. The Tar Heel runner should cross the line first in the 220, and at the same time erase the mark of 21.7 set up by Currie of Davidson in 1927.

Fulmer Unbeaten in 440

Fulmer of Duke who runs the quarter as a sideline to his broad jumping activities, has not been beaten in this race all season. Marland and Weil of Carolina and Floyd of State, winner of last year's race, are certain to push Farmer hard all the way and the winner may not be sporting Duke's colors. The state mark in the 440 is 50.2 seconds and may be replaced by the winner's time in today's race.

The 880 will bring together a fast field led by Bradsher, Duke runner, who ran a 1:58.5 race against Washington and Lee. Tom Watkins, Wallace Case, and Mark Jones of Carolina will offer the most formidable opposition to the Blue Devil runner, and he will have to step to cross the line first.

Jensen May Win Mile

Galen Elliott's standard of 4:23.4 for the mile may go by the boards if Clarence Jensen comes through. The Tar Heel distance ace ran an easy 4:23 mile in the Duke meet and if pushed by Mark Jones and Red Lewis might break the tape in record time. Ed MacRae, Carolina sophomore, and Bill Earle will make the others run hard to win. The cinders are certain to fly in the two-mile event with Brannon of Davidson, Hubbard and Sullivan of Carolina, and Lewis and Bray, Blue Devil cross country athletes vying for premier honors in the grueling race. Brannon finished second in last year's run and has turned in several nice performances this season. Hubbard was clocked in 9:58.5 in the Carolina-Duke meet, crossing the white line in front of Lewis and Sullivan.

Close Hurdle Races

The hurdle races will offer no little excitement to the spectators as the entrants in both events have shown their ability in dual meets this season. The high hurdles will bring together McCallie of Davidson, who brought up second position in last year's race, Davis and Glenn, Carolina timber toppers, and Lybrook of Duke. These four men are the outstanding entries in the race and a close affair is certain to result. The lows will probably find Brownlee, Stafford, Slusser, and McCallie toeing the mark in the final. The Duke runner and Conference record holder in his event is one of the best hurdlers in the east and should win the event. Stafford, Tar Heel all-around athlete, will furnish him with his stiffest opposition and probably push Brownlee to a new record.

Heels Good in Field Events

Carolina has a slight advantage in the field events and several old marks may be in for a decided change. LeGore and

TAR HEELS MEET CAVALIERS TODAY AT GREENSBORO

Present Baseball Team Said to Be Strongest Virginia Has Had Since 1924.

The Tar Heels will seek their sixth victory at Greensboro since Virginia last won there in 1926, but the Tar Heels will have a tough job cut out for them.

Gus Tebell, Virginia coach and former mentor at State College, has saved his best pitchers to oppose Longest on the mound, and Virginia has a team that has won ten games and lost only two this year.

Both teams are packing many veterans and lots of strength. Seven of Virginia's starters, and six of Carolina's, were regulars when the Tar Heels slugged their way to a 15-4 victory over Virginia in Greensboro in 1931.

The 1932 Cavaliers are said to be the strongest team Virginia has had since 1924. They are anxious to win the big Carolina series this year, for Carolina holds a slight lead in number of series won.

Friday's second game of the series only heightened student interest, and indications are that a large number of students will follow the team, by bus and by car, to Greensboro to support their team today. The University's crack forty-five piece band will lead the invasion.

CHAPEL HILL HIGH WILL PLAY ROANOKE RAPIDS

Chapel Hill high school will meet Roanoke Rapids in Henderson Monday in the finals of the class B eastern championship of this state. The state finals will be played here next Friday between the winner of the contest Monday and one of three western teams, either Shelby, Cherryville, or Mount Airy.

Chandler have been tossing the javelin far and wide this season and should have little trouble in taking the first two places. LeGore looks good to break the state mark and also to establish a new field record for the event. Mullis has bettered the state record in the shot and should do it officially this afternoon. Stevens of Duke and Gurneau, Indian star from State, will make it interesting for the Tar Heel husky.

The discus looks like a nip and tuck affair between Brown, Mullis, Crawford of Duke, and Knox, Davidson athlete. The Carolina men should out-toss the others, but anything may happen. The jumps and the pole vault are quite uncertain except that competition will be very keen in each event. Fulmer, Duke broad jumper, who took individual honors in the Penn Relays, will be the favorite in his event and may better the standard of 23 feet 1/2 inch.

Carolina and Duke are the only entrants in the mile relay. The Tar Heel four will be composed of Weil, Marland, Case, and Higby, the same quartet that won the indoor relay race to give the championship to Carolina over L. S. U. The Blue Devil team of Fulmer, Hicks, Brownlee, and Bradsher will give plenty of competition to the Carolina four and a new record may be set up.

On the basis of past performances, Carolina should just nose out Duke and Davidson for championship honors.
