

LEO RIESMAN IS CHOSEN TO PLAY AT FINAL DANCES

Well Known Orchestra Is Secured by German Club After Jones Breaks Contract.

John A. Park, secretary-treasurer of the German Club, last night announced that Leo Riesman and his orchestra have been secured to play for the final dances instead of Isham Jones. Those in charge of the dances have considered several orchestras since the contract with Jones was broken last week, and they believe that Riesman is one of the best that can be secured.

Riesman is known best as the orchestra that plays for the Pond's Hour over the Columbia Broadcasting System. Variety, which is the trade magazine of radio, lists him as the only dance band in its first ten radio programs. This orchestra plays at the famous Central Park Casino in New York City, which is known as one of the finest night clubs in America. Playing in conjunction with him at the Casino have appeared such stars as Ethel Merman, of Girl Crazy and Kate Smith of radio fame.

Noted for Soft Music

The orchestra, which is composed of fourteen pieces, is noted for its marvelous violin section, its piano players, and its vocalists. Riesman's specialty is soft music, and that is what has made him famous, but there is no lack of good fast tunes in his repertoire. His band has proven a great success at college dances in the north.

THIRTEEN CHOSEN AS MEMBERS OF HONORARY CLUB

Sigma Xi Chooses New Men and Elects New Officers in Last Meeting.

The final meeting of the University of North Carolina chapter of the society of Sigma Xi for the session took place in the Graham Memorial banquet room Monday night. At the supper there were, besides the fourteen initiates who were guests of the society, thirty-two members present, including Dr. A. S. Pearse, and several other professors of Duke University.

Following the supper Thomas Luther King was promoted from associate to active membership. Those initiated into associate membership were: Allen L. Alexander, Kenneth R. Byerly, M. S. Campbell, Howard F. Chrisco, Bertram O. Cosby, Esther Greene, Nell Henry, Arthur R. Hollett, Bernard L. Johnson, J. Dodd Linker, Ralph H. Munch, Simpson D. Sumerford and John D. Watson.

Officers Elected

Immediately after the initiation the following officers were elected for the next session: Dr. A. S. Wheeler, president; Dr. E. T. Browne, vice-president; Dr. E. L. Mackie, secretary-treasurer; and Dr. A. McL. White, member of the executive committee.

Dr. Pearse, professor of biology at Duke University, then spoke on the subject, "Migrations of Animals from Sea to Land." This most interesting lecture was well illustrated with lantern slides taken by Dr. Pearse in all quarters of the

Final Production

Original Plays to Be Presented Before Playmaker Group Tonight And Tomorrow Afternoon.

The original plays which will be presented tonight at 7:30 and Thursday afternoon, mark the close of the Carolina Playmakers' work for the season. These productions, which are closed to the public will be given in the theatre.

The following plays will be presented this evening: Neighbors of the Dead, written by Vernon Crook and directed by John Parker; Ol' Honeycutt's Boy, by Jack Riley, directed by Sylvia Stecher; The Boss of the House is next on the program. It was written and will be directed by Lubin Legget. Chicken Money, written and directed by Winifred Tuttle, and The Battle of Shaw's Mill, written and directed by Charles Elledge and Malcolm Seawell, will bring the evening's entertainment to a close.

A two-act play called Snow White will be given tomorrow afternoon. This play was written by Sallie M. Ewing, and the cast is composed entirely of children.

DAVIS ANNOUNCES DISTRIBUTION OF NEW YEAR BOOKS

Students May Receive Annuals Tomorrow in Graham Memorial From 3:00 to 6:00.

J. Holmes Davis, editor of the 1932 Yackety Yack, announced yesterday that the new issue would be distributed to students from 3:00 until 6:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Only those students who have been in school three quarters this year are entitled to receive annuals. They may receive them at the Yackety Yack office, 203 Graham Memorial, until Friday afternoon.

The staff of the publication needs one hundred extra copies; if any students, who are entitled to get a Yackety Yack, wish to relinquish their right to the book, they can receive a refund of their Yackety Yack fee at the office this afternoon from 3:00 until 6:00 o'clock. Of the $6.00 publications fee that each student pays to the University, $1.60 is paid for the Yackety Yack. Therefore, any student wishing to sell his copy back to the staff for $1.60 may do so this afternoon.

COLUMBIA STUDENTS VOTE HARRIS APT TO SUCCEED

New York, N. Y., May 24.—(NSFA)—According to the traditional questionnaire answered by the senior class at Columbia University, the member of the class most likely to succeed after graduation is Reed Harris, whose feud with the college authorities and resulting expulsion from college recently caused nationwide comment.

Harris was also first as "head-wild and chivalrous assertionist," second as "disputant" and second on the list of those who had done the most for Columbia, as well as first on the list of those who had done Columbia the most. The prediction of earning-power was sanguine with an average expectation of salary after five years of $11,352. This expectation is all the more optimistic because the occupations elected by most of the seniors are medicine and law, which are tied in first choice, with teaching second.

PURPOSE OF MASS MEETING

In the interest of student government and student opinion, a mass meeting of the student body has been called to be held in Memorial hall Friday night at 8:00 o'clock.

At this meeting the change in the honor system which was proposed last quarter will be discussed, and a vote will be taken on the question.

This meeting has been called solely in the interest of the individuals who make up the student body. Everyone will be given the opportunity to express his own convictions; so it is important that every student be present in his own defense.

HAYWOOD WEEKS,
President of Student Body.

Former Commencement Speakers At University Form Imposing List

Wilson, War-Time President, Addressed Graduating Class in 1911; Noted Ambassadors, University Presidents, Statesmen, And Cabinet Members Have Also Spoken.

Leading Americans, distinguished in many fields—in science, in learning, and in statesmanship—have been speakers at the annual graduation exercises of the University of North Carolina.

Since 1900 there has been an increasing effort on the part of administrative officials to attempt to secure as speakers men whose characters symbolize the highest type of American citizenship. During these thirty years commencement speakers have steadily increased in importance not only as well-known citizens but as contributors to some part of our civilization.

Elaborate Affairs

The commencement of 1900, as were those preceding it, was characterized by general elaborateness. The ceremonies were replete with the usual presentation of rewards, debates and selection of the best speakers, class reunions, and alumni luncheons in old Commons Hall. There were three commencement speakers in addition to the Reverend Robert E. Caldwell, class of '75, who delivered the baccalaureate sermon on the Sunday preceding the week of graduation exercises. Ex-presidents of the University, George T. Winston and K. P. Battle were the principal speakers. The former spoke on "The First Faculty," and the latter on "The Struggle and the Story of the Rebirth of the University." W. J. Peele, an alumnus, gave a remembrance of "The Students of 1875."

Dr. J. H. Kirkland, chancellor of Vanderbilt University, was the commencement speaker of the following year, and in June of 1902 the graduation class heard E. W. Pou, who chose a somewhat different topic for his address, "Individual Responsibility in the Government."

In 1903 Dr. William J. Holland, at that time in charge of the Carnegie Museum, talked on a particularly fitting subject for graduates of the University, "The Opportunities and Duties of Educated Men in Relation to the Future of the South." Dr. Battle in his History says of it: "It was eminently practical and suggestive, and tending to infuse into the minds of the young the thoughts and aspirations necessary for best citizenship."

John Huston Finley

After John Houston Finley, then president of the College of the City of New York, had addressed the class of 1904 in that year, the next speaker was Henry Sherman Boutell of Chicago, a representative in Congress, who spoke on "The Obligation of Culture to Democracy."

The following year President Venable substituted as commencement speaker in the absence of Governor Robert B. Glenn who was ill. Andrew Fleming West, dean of the Princeton graduate school, delivered an unusual address in

Senior Conditions

Students Who Expect to Graduate Must Remove Conditions in Composition.

Tomorrow has been set for the last chance for seniors who expect to graduate this year to remove composition conditions attached to any grades. The examination will be given at 4:00 p. m. under the supervision of Professor Raymond Adams of the English department.

Unless these seniors remove the condition they will not be able to graduate. Those who took the examination May 6 may receive their papers for preparation at chapel period today and tomorrow. Only seniors expecting to graduate this year are eligible for this special examination and other students who have conditions may remove them next fall quarter.

Rushing Captains See Webb

Rushing captains of all fraternities are requested to turn in their summer addresses to Alex Webb at the S. A. E. house immediately.

DR. E. R. MOSHER RESIGNS AS HEAD OF TRAINING HERE

Accepts Position at City College Of New York With Double Increase in Salary.

Dr. E. R. Mosher, professor of education and director of training here, announced yesterday that he had turned in his resignation to accept a professorship of secondary education at the College of the City of New York at a salary nearly double that which he now receives.

In taking this position Dr. Mosher follows several other prominent members of the University's faculty in leaving the University; he makes the third member to leave in the past three months.

He will continue his work here during the summer, since his resignation is not effective until September 1. Next fall he will take up his work with graduate students only at the New York institution.

Dr. Mosher came to the University of North Carolina in 1923 as a professor of education and was attached to the extension division for three years. Then he was transferred to residence work in 1926 and made director of training. Since then he has been teaching regular courses in secondary education and exercising general supervision over all teacher-training work done in the Chapel Hill schools.

Henderson to Speak

Dr. Archibald Henderson is to deliver the commencement address at the Ogontz School for Women near Philadelphia May 31. His subject will be "Greatness, Genius, and Learning."

Dr. Henderson was invited to speak at this commencement more than two years ago to insure his being present at the occasion.

Band To Meet

The band has a very important duty to perform by playing for the ceremonies of awards night. All members are requested to meet at Person hall at 7:30 Thursday evening with their instruments and be prepared to stay until 8:00 o'clock.

COMIC SKITS TO BE FEATURES OF AWARDS PROGRAM

Many Entertainment Features To Be Presented in Thursday Night Affair.

A number of entertainment features have been prepared for the program of the annual Awards Night which is to take place tomorrow night at 8:00 o'clock in Memorial hall. Billy Arthur will be master of ceremonies for the occasion, and the University band will be present to provide band music.

The program will be opened by the singing of "Hark the Sound," and Eddie Hazelwood, chief cheer-leader, will lead the assembly in a number of yells. Earl Wolslagel and Lindy Cate will render a program of popular music as a violin duet.

Burlesque Feature

Probably one of the best features of the program will be a skit entitled "Julius Caesar," or "The Wop on the Spot," a musical burlesque participated in by a number of prominent students on the campus. Among those to take part in this are: Theron Brown, Nutt Parsley, J. C. Goodman, John Miller, E. C. Daniel, Vass Shepherd, and Steve Lynch.

Another event will be a group of comical readings by Professor W. O. Olsen of the English department. Brooks Friar will be at the piano to play some more popular numbers, and a trio composed of Wofford Humphries, John Miller, and Fred Laxton will sing several selections.

GRAHAM TO GIVE INSTRUCTIONS TO SENIOR STUDENTS

Seniors Expecting to Graduate To Gather in Gerrard Hall Tomorrow at 5:30.

There will be a meeting of the senior class in Gerrard hall Thursday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, at which time President Frank Graham and Dr. Charles Mangum will instruct the seniors in the various duties that they will have during commencement. It was announced that attendance at this meeting would be required of all those seniors who are expecting to graduate.

Hamilton Hobgood, president of the class, has announced that there are several requirements that seniors must comply with before they will be entitled to receive their degree. He urged that all men who are expecting to graduate be sure to comply with these regulations at once.

The business office has set May 27th as the last day to pay the diploma fee. They have announced that all students who expect to receive their diplomas at the graduation exercises must pay $5.00 by that date. Caps and gowns may be ordered from the Book-X any time this week.

According to the precedent set in past years, all men who are expecting to get a degree from the University must be present to receive them at the commencement exercises. There is a strict University rule to this effect, and only in extraordinary cases is permission granted to be absent from commencement. When it is absolutely necessary, permission must be received from the president and a special note sent to the registrar.
