

The Daily Tar Heel

GRADUATION EXERCISES
KENAN STADIUM
7:30 P. M.

ALUMNI LUNCHEON
SWAIN HALL
1:00 P. M.

VOLUME XL

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., MONDAY, JUNE 6, 1932

NUMBER 182

CLASS EXERCISES ARE OPENED WITH SENIOR PRAYERS

Dr. Horace Williams Conducts
Opening of Commencement
Under Davie Poplar

Activities of the 137th commencement program at the University opened Saturday morning with senior prayers and class exercises, which were conducted under Davie Poplar by Dr. Horace H. Williams.

The program continued with an organ recital by Nelson O. Kennedy of the music department at Hill hall in the afternoon, and shortly after, the Mangum medal contest, in which representatives of the campus literary societies, the Dialectic senate and the Philanthropic assembly, took part.

A reception to members of the senior class, their parents, and friends, was conducted at President Graham's home from 5:30 until 6:30 p. m., and activities for the first day ended with the presentation of George Kaufman's The Butter and Egg Man by the Carolina Playmakers.

Baccalaureate Sermon

Yesterday morning members of the graduating class gathered at the Old Well in caps and gowns and marched to Memorial hall, where the Baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Dr. Franklin S. Hickman of the Duke University school of religion.

Nelson O. Kennedy presented a second organ recital at Hill hall at 5:00 in the afternoon, and there was a concert played on the Morehead-Patterson memorial bells at 6:00 o'clock.

The Y. M. C. A. conducted vespers at 7:30 to begin the evening program, with Dean Clyde A. Milner of Guilford College presiding, and at 8:30, a selected chorus of seventy-five presented the oratorio Elijah at Hill hall.

ADDITIONAL GIFTS RAISE LOAN FUND TO OVER $61,000

Goal Set at $200,000 Is Aimed at
By June 1, 1933; University
Officials Hopeful.

Advanced by $437.00 in miscellaneous gifts, the Emergency Student Loan Fund has reached a total of $61,610.46, according to announcements made Saturday.

These gifts, made since C. W. Toms and W. D. Carmichael had contributed $1,000 apiece during the latter part of May, included sums given by the May Frolic organization, a parent, and several alumni.

The emergency loan fund drive was begun late in January following a thirty per cent cut in University appropriations and an announcement that the regular loan fund had been exhausted. The aim of this campaign is to aid between four and five hundred students to stay in school through the loan fund in raising $100,000 a year in a two-year period. To reach this goal, an additional $138,490 must be raised.

From all reports, a large number of students have been enabled to remain in school through the support given by the contributions which have come in, and in addition it has aided materially in helping the

(Continued on next page)

SCENE OF GRADUATING EXERCISES

Pictured above is Kenan stadium, where Carolina graduates of 1932 will receive their degrees at sunset exercises to take place this evening at 7:30 o'clock and some of the figures who will take prominent parts in this year's finals. At this time Governor Gardner will deliver diplomas to more than 300 graduates and President Graham will deliver the parting address.

Dr. Franklin S. Hickman of the Duke University school of religion preached the baccalaureate sermon in Memorial hall yesterday. Kemp P. Lewis of Durham, president of the General Alumni Association, will preside over the alumni luncheon at 1:00 o'clock today. Judge John J. Parker is serving as chief alumni marshal, and Dr. Charles S. Mangum serves as faculty marshal.

LIBRARY GRANTED GIFT OF $30,000 BY EDUCATION BOARD

Foundation Announces Grant to University for Bibliographical
Apparatus; Hill Presides.

The General Education Board, one of the Rockefeller Foundations, has granted the University of North Carolina library the sum of $30,000 to provide bibliographical apparatus which will make available to scholars here and in this section the catalogues of several of the leading libraries of the world and which will be of distinctive significance to the University graduate school.

Announcement of the gift was made here last night by President Frank P. Graham, who spoke at a dinner at which an association to be known as "Friends of the Library of the University of North Carolina," similar in many respects to groups in other sections, was formally organized.

John Sprunt Hill of Durham, long one of the University library's greatest benefactors, who presided over the meeting, was elected chairman of the new organization. Dr. Fred M. Hanes of Winston-Salem was elected vice-chairman, and Felix A. Grisette, director of the Alumni Loyalty Fund, was named secretary-treasurer. Dr. J. G. deRoulhac Hamilton, who has been chiefly responsible for assembling the Southern History Collection, was named a member of the executive committee and Dr. Louis R. Wilson was elected to honorary life membership.

Memories Of Old Scenes Return As Alumni Pour Into Chapel Hill

Pleased With New Headquarters in Graham Memorial; Friendships
Of Yesteryear Renewed as Classmates Return to Take Part in Alumni Day.

Flushed with memories of yesteryears, the old grads poured into Chapel Hill Saturday and yesterday, anxious to renew friendships formed in bygone days, to swap yarns, and to contrast the old with the new.

They found Graham Memorial, being used as alumni headquarters this year for the first time, immensely to their liking. There they have plenty of room, comfortable chairs, and a congenial atmosphere.

Lead Alumni Parade

The fifty-year class of 1882 and the twenty-five-year class of 1907 are leading the alumni parade of fourteen classes and three generations heading back to Alma Mater for alumni reunions on Monday—Alumni Day. The Monday program will be replete with features, beginning with the reminiscence session at 10:30 o'clock, running through the Alumni Luncheon and the class suppers, and concluding with the graduation exercises at 7:30 and the alumni reception and ball at 10:00 o'clock.

Judge Francis D. Winston, '79, of Windsor will preside over the meeting of reunion classes at 10:30, as he has done for years, while Judge J. J. Parker, '07, will be chief alumni marshal.

Graham to Speak

President Frank P. Graham and President Howard Rondthaler of Salem College will be the speakers at the Alumni Luncheon, which will be presided over by Kemp P. Lewis of Durham, president of the General Alumni Association.

At the class suppers the generation of alumni in the classes between 1906 and 1909 will dine and meet together in the main banquet hall of Graham Memorial from 5:00 to 6:45 o'clock.

The "baby class" of 1931 will have its supper in the banquet room of the Carolina Inn at the same hour, and the generation of classes from 1925 to 1928 will have a buffet supper in the game room of Graham Memorial.

Alumni Luncheon

The Alumni Luncheon is regularly a high spot of Commencement, nothing much short of a football game having power to draw the old grads back in such numbers. Swain hall is being set to accommodate five to seven hundred this year. The University will install its public address system so that the speakers can be heard all over the big hall, and the class of '82 will occupy the honor seats.

A. W. McAlister of Greensboro, chairman of the board of the Pilot Life Insurance Co., has personally marshaled the class of '82, and indications are that the honor class will turn out in sizeable numbers, although the chairs of the late President Edwin A. Alderman and a number of the graduates of '82 will be vacant.

Dr. Collier Cobb, genial and veteran geologist and globe trotter of the University faculty, is

(Continued on last page)

Seniors Make Gift To Alumni Loyalty Fund

In addition to a gift already made to the student loan fund, the class of 1932 voted to give $400 of the class's funds to the Alumni loyalty fund, President Hamilton Hobgood announced last week.

This gift is made with the specific purpose of being used in connection with the work done by Dr. J. G. deR. Hamilton in gathering southern material for the library. The class contributed $100 to the loan fund this spring.

REGISTRATION FOR SUMMER SCHOOL BEGINS THURSDAY

Two Terms Will Be Conducted,
Beginning June 9 and Continuing
Through August 26.

Registration will begin Thursday of this week for the twenty-fifth annual session of the University summer school since re-opening of summer school in 1907. According to announcements made recently, there will be but slight curtailments in size of staff and in curriculum, due to the fact that University professors, meeting by department, have voted to accept thirty per cent salary cuts that the summer school might be projected along the usual lines.

Two terms will take place, June 9-July 19 and July 20-August 26, and the staff will be made up of 105 members of the regular faculty and twenty-one visiting instructors and professors. It will include many of the strongest men on the regular faculty as well as a number of distinguished visitors.

No Attendance Peak

Dean N. W. Walker, who will serve as director again, doesn't expect the summer school to reach the attendance peak of 1930, but he does expect a large attendance. The number of inquiries coming in daily is probably greater than ever before, and the number of reservations being made is holding up well, Dean Walker says.

The summer school will be organized into the college division, the library school, the graduate division, and the division of elementary education. Work will be offered in the colleges of liberal arts, education, commerce, applied science, public welfare and engineering. The courses are planned for teachers, principals, superintendents, college and graduate students, and librarians.

There will be a number of special features, including the Public Welfare Institute July 11-15, the Conference on Elementary Education July 14-15, the Parent-Teacher Institute August 15-19, the Adult Education training course August 8-20, and the Coaching School August 22-September 3.

Invitation to Alumni

Alumni are extended an invitation to visit the offices of THE DAILY TAR HEEL through commencement week. The new offices are located on the second floor of Graham Memorial where they were outfitted in September of this year.

Sorority Moves

The local chapter of Pi Beta Phi, social sorority, will move to 407 E. Rosemary street at the beginning of the fall term.

GRADUATION WILL CLIMAX ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

Over 300 Members of Senior
Class to Be Awarded Diplomas
At Graduating Exercises.

The 137th commencement of the University will be climaxed with the graduating exercises, which will be conducted in Kenan Memorial stadium this evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock. At this time 315 members of the graduating class will be awarded diplomas.

The conducting of the exercises outdoors marks a new precedent in the history of the University, as in former times they have taken place in the morning in Memorial hall.

Today's program begins with meetings of reunion classes in Gerrard hall at 10:30 this morning. Judge Francis D. Winston will preside.

The annual alumni luncheon, which as usual will be served in Swain hall, will begin at 1:00 o'clock, with Kemp P. Lewis presiding as toastmaster.

After a concert by the University band under Davie Poplar at 4:00, there will be class reunion suppers until 6:45. At 7:00 o'clock, the academic parade will form for the colorful sunset graduation exercises in the stadium at 7:30.

President's Reception

President Graham will receive alumni and visitors in the Tin Can at 11:00, and the annual alumni ball will be staged there until 1:00.

Only one event, the meeting of the board of trustees, has been scheduled for Tuesday. The gathering will take place at the President's office at 10:30 a. m.

Alumni headquarters during commencement will be at Graham Memorial, and any information desired by visitors may be gained there.

SELF-HELP GROUP CHOOSES MEN TO MANAGE STORES

Committee Reports Almost 500
Students Engaged in Part-
Time Jobs Last Year.

According to the report of the self-help committee as given out yesterday by Edwin Lanier, self-help secretary, between 465 and 500 University students were engaged in part-time jobs here last year. At the same time he announced service room managers.

Of this number about thirty-five students have taken care of 880 "call jobs" such as raking leaves, cutting wood, staying with children, waxing floors, painting, driving automobiles, etc. Besides scores of self-help students secured financial aid through the loan fund, thus enabling them to remain in college the spring quarter.

Up to September 1, 1931, 1310 prospective students inquired about self-help opportunities and 510 filed applications. To date 925 inquiries about help for the next year have been received.

Managers Appointed

The following students were approved and appointed as service room managers for the fall quarter 1932-33: Vance—James A. Shuford; Carr—C. P. Randolph and J. U. Gilbreath; Grimes—Dan Kelly and Hubert Taylor; Manly—Wesley McKei-

(Continued on last page)