Monument Unveiled
The beautiful Meaux monument, a gift from the United States to France to commemorate the French victory at the Marne, was recently unveiled at Meaux. United States Ambassador Walter E. Edge made the presentation address.

Hoover Leaves for Des Moines
President Hoover left yesterday afternoon aboard a special train for Des Moines, where he will speak tonight. This is the first stop on his personally-conducted campaign for re-election.

Japan Stands Firm
Japan will not permit meddling in Manchuria. The nation is to pursue the already established policies in the new state regardless of the findings of the League body which are condemning the situation. This is due to the fact that many of the reports to the League contain many unfortunate misunderstandings and misconceptions.

Royal Wedding?
Persistent rumors have been circulated in Stockholm that Princess Ingrid is engaged to marry Prince George of England, who is now in Sweden. In the past the name of the princess has been linked frequently with the Prince of Wales.

CHESS PLAYERS ARE REQUESTED TO MEET TONIGHT

All chess players of the campus have been requested to meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in room 209, Graham Memorial. Novices, beginners, amateurs, and chess enthusiasts are welcomed to enroll as members of the Carolina Social Chess club.

At this meeting Paul J. Miller, Jr., national president of Chi Eta Sigma, honorary social chess fraternity, and of the Intercollegiate Chess Association of America, and Chess Editor of several southern periodicals, will speak for fifteen minutes on "Current Chess Literature in the World."

It is to be remembered that Duke university defeated the Carolina Chess team by the one-sided score of 16-2 in the 1932 Spring Tournament, the first chess match between these two universities. All chess players are urged to attend the lectures that will be offered by the Carolina Social Chess club during the present quarter. As quickly as the chessers can be whipped into match material, a challenge will be issued to the Duke club.

APPOINTMENTS TO SIT FOR PICTURES
BEING MADE NOW

H. N. Parsley, editor of the Yackety Yack, announces that all pictures of the junior and senior classes must be taken within the next few weeks.

Those students who have not had their appointments will please make them in the next few days. Booths for this purpose will be run at chapel period in the Y. M. C. A. lobby and in Pritchard-Lloyd's. Appointments can also be made direct by phone with Wootten-Moulton.

The system used this year is entirely different from that used previously. By class vote all fees for this purpose are paid from the class dues rather than from individual students. A number of the appointments were made at the time of registration and those pictures have been taken.

It is hoped that by the use of this method all photography work will be completed by the end of October.

Thief Foiled In Raid On The "Y" Treasury

Receipts and Papers Only Loot Discovered by Unapprehended Intruder.

A victim of the current epidemic of Hooveritis (sans Vargent), who decided that his pecuniary coffers needed replenishing, was foiled by circumstances Saturday night in an attempted robbery on the campus Y. M. C. A., the object of his ill-conceived action.

As the local association has a policy of depositing all funds at the close of each business day, the would-be pilferer found nothing but a lot of papers and receipts in the cash drawer.

A handy entrance was found via the window in the information office from which the main office was entered. Messrs. Comer and McKee, chief investigators in the local mystery act, have as yet discovered no finger or foot prints, or any other incriminating evidence.

pulling out of the line. This observance was of fundamental importance to the Vanderbilt defense because it telegraphed the whole Tar Heel play. What Coach Collins' attack needs more than anything else is deception and Gracey was able to diagnose the play by some defect in the guards' stance. Going down under one of the punts the Commodore center told the Tar Heel player that he was pointing. This act of Gracey's was an example of the spirit of the whole Vanderbilt team which was one of true sportsmanship, they wanted to win but not by taking advantage of some carelessness on the opponents part.

FRANK SMITH DID NOT show any signs of an injury in Saturday's game but Friday night Dr. Abernathy lanced a cleft wound in his right leg which had become infected. The doctor reported that Smith had a nasty looking leg but Frank showed no ill effects against the Commodores.

TOMMY HENDERSON, THE smart Vanderbilt quarterback was a second string quarter until "Mighty" Close was ruled ineligible and he certainly filled in well Saturday. Due to his excellent showing all around Coach McGugin said Saturday night that Henderson would be shifted to a halfback when Close returns this week. Close took a make-up examination Sunday in math and was expected to be eligible this week.

COACH WALLACE WADE'S Blue Devils swamped V. M. I. and look like real contenders but they will meet an acid test this week in the Auburn Tigers. The Tigers have scored two one-sided victories this year by piling up one hundred and forty-three points to their opponents' goose egg. Wade has been hit by injuries to Sink and Cornelius, star center and halfback respectively. Sink was advised to give up football due to a slight leakage of his heart and Cornelius is out for four or five weeks due to an ankle injury. Neither of these men played against V. M. I. but both starred in the season's opener against Davidson. Sink had been losing weight regularly for the past week and the examination disclosed the leakage. This was Sink's last year of eligibility while Cornelius is a sophomore.

ed the plate twice in this inning at the expense of McKerthan, rookie hurler, the over-worked freshman was relieved on the mound by Crouch who pitched exceptional ball, allowing only one more counter throughout the afternoon. Following the varsity's final run in the seventh inning, Terzini replaced Parker in the catcher's role for the reserves and turned in a performance to warrant praise from the usually closemouthed Bunn Hearn. The coach is expecting great things from this yearling catcher and is also enthused about the throwing ability of Zaizer, a new addition to the outfield. This afternoon the Tar Heel nine will be afforded a rest from the tedious playing grind since Hearn plans only a light batting and fielding workout for today's program.

With Contemporaries

only a month and a half away, every student on the campus should know the issues at stake and the platforms of both parties or at least that of his own preference; and yet out of three students questioned only one could name more than two planks of either platform.

Students, being the cream of the nation's intellectual crop, should be tearing their hair over political issues. Instead their most important topic of discussion is their last date or the next one.

Every student who feels that his future well-being is of any importance should understand the current political issues and should be supporting those that are worthwhile. Those who get into politics know the great attraction it has for its participants. Phrased pedantically, there is no more thrilling adventure in present day life than to enter into the political jumble.

Students can lobby at conventions, talk to friends, write their congressmen, and influence their parents to vote in favor of worthy projects. Make the Union Grill a meeting place to discuss political questions of the day after the manner of the English campus coffee shops. The least that can be done is for all students to take an interest in campus politics; they at least serve as a kindergarten to the politics of the nation.—Daily Northwestern.

CONSTANCE BENNETT STARS IN SHOW TODAY

"Two Against the World," starring Constance Bennett, playing at the Carolina theatre today, is taken from the novel by Marion Dix and Jerry Horwin. It has a scene in a courtroom trial in which a young girl perjures herself to save her brother from electrocution and her married sister from scandal. She confesses to a series of clandestine meetings with a man whom her brother has slain. Her own sister is guilty, but lets her shoulder the affair to evade a domestic tangle.

The supporting cast includes Neil Hamilton, Helen Vincent, Gavin Gordon, Allen Vincent, Walter Walker, Roscoe Karns, Alan Mowbray, and Hale Hamilton.

WALKS AND GROUNDS OF LAUNDRY TRANSFORMED

Through the efforts of Superintendent G. H. Paulsen and his staff of workers the grounds about the University laundry have been transformed from a barren waste-land to one of cultivated beauty. What was once a swamp is now a complete farm with corn, peas, potatoes and other vegetables growing throughout. The entrance, both for those that walk as well as those that have cars, has been re-surfaced.

The outside is now in harmony with the inside of the laundry proper, which is, in everybody's estimation, the cleanest, and brightest of all power laundries.

RECENT AUDIT OF
P. U. BOARD BOOKS

Of the entire income of the Publications Union Board, subscriptions accounted for $15,364.57 on the total income of $32,070.92. The remainder of this revenue was obtained from local and national advertising and sale of space in Yackety Yack.

The audit, which was made last spring at the close of the school, will be published in the next issue of THE DAILY TAR HEEL.

Season Ticket Sales On Playmakers Slow

George Pearson, representative of the Playmakers' current ticket sales campaign, estimated yesterday afternoon that not more than two hundred season tickets had been sold throughout the past week. He is anxious that the student body support the activities offered by the Playmakers for mutual benefit to themselves and the society. Season tickets will be obtainable upon the campus until the quota of 900 sales has been reached. The first scheduled production, one of a group of modern romantic comedies now under consideration, is only about three weeks in the offing.

CONSTANTINOPLE

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by Thomas Webb... inspired by the savage slaughter of 5000 Christian defenders—at the hands of the vengeful, barbaric horde of 250,000 men under the ruthless Mohammed II—1453!

—and raw tobaccos
have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, the neighbors will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON. Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?
