COMMITTEE ASKS ENDORSEMENT OF BILLIARD PARLOR

Group Appointed by President
Graham Studies Situation at Request of Petitioners.

As a result of the petitions for and against the establishment in Chapel Hill of an amusement center with pool tables and bowling alleys, a committee was appointed at President Graham's suggestion to discuss the matter and make recommendations.

The committee, composed of three members from the University, D. D. Carroll, Francis Bradshaw, and H. F. Comer, and three from the board of aldermen, M. E. Hogan, Clyde Eubanks, and B. D. Sawyer, made a thorough inquiry and drew up a report recommending that President Graham give his written permission for the establishment of one recreation center and that town authorities grant a license for its operation.

Included in the recommendations were these: that a committee of three citizens appointed by the president and three appointed by aldermen be made responsible for the supervision of the center; that the committee approve all managers and employees in the establishment; that the manager post a $1,000 bond; and that hours of operation be from 7:00 o'clock a. m. until midnight except Sundays.

The petitions and discussions are founded on the opinion that, since pool tables were installed in Graham Memorial building, it is unfair for the pool-playing privilege to be extended to University students and at the same time denied to other people in Chapel Hill.

SOCIAL BILL FOR WEEK WILL CLOSE WITH GRAIL DANCE

Reunions of Graduates Planned
As Alumni Return to University for Tech Game.

Continuing the round of entertainments started last night with the fall co-ed dance, tonight the Order of the Grail will sponsor a dance in the Tin Can from 9:00 until 12:00 o'clock. A large crowd is expected to attend the affair, and admission for all will be $1.00. As in previous years freshmen will not be permitted to attend the dance.

The Tin Can will be decorated with purple and white, the colors of the Order of the Grail, while the couples will dance to the music of Jelly Leftwich and his orchestra.

The arrangement concerning the price of admission was made with the University, thereby avoiding the federal tax. Hereafter the price per person was quoted erroneously at $1.10. Use of the Tin Can has been secured by special arrangement with the athletic association when the gymnasium proved inadequate for the function.

Reunions Scheduled

Also scheduled on the week-end's program will be reunions of alumni who are expected to return in large numbers for the Carolina-Georgia Tech football game. These reunions, for the most part, will be conducted at the various fraternity houses.

Library Shows Works Of Christopher Wren

To commemorate the 300th anniversary of the birth of Sir Christopher Wren, famous English architect, the University library is exhibiting photographs of some of the best known buildings designed by him. These are being shown in the lobby at the main entrance of the library.

Wren, one of the greatest architects of all time, designed numerous churches, hospitals, theatres, palaces, and libraries. Probably his most famous structure is Saint Paul's Cathedral in London.

CHEROKEE INDIANS MAY PLAY TRIBAL BALL GAME HERE

Cherokee Ball Players Agree
To Play Here at Dogwood
Festival in Spring.

A unique and thoroughly native type of athletic contest may be seen in Chapel Hill next spring, if efforts to bring two teams of Cherokee ball players here during the Dogwood Festival next year are successful, according to an article by Phillips Russell in the Chapel Hill Weekly yesterday.

Efforts are being made to have two Cherokee teams play their game here in Kenan stadium during the proposed festival next April. Players have agreed to come and bring their Green Corn and Ghost dancers, if expenses for about thirty persons could be guaranteed them.

Game Is Unusual Mixture

The game, a mixture of lacrosse, hockey, basketball, and football, is of native Indian origin and is still practiced by the Cherokees on a reservation near Asheville. It is played on a grassy field having about the same dimensions as a football field, with goal posts at each end. The players, nine on a side, are naked except for a loin cloth and carry a wire-netted racquet in each hand.

The two teams line up as in football or basketball, with their forwards, centers, and goal guards. The ball is scarcely larger than a golf ball, and is caught and carried in the racquets. Though piling on is not permitted, the ball-carrier may be severely tackled and held to prevent his throwing the ball.

TAR HEEL STRAW VOTE ENDS TODAY

All Students Who Have Not Voted
Are Urged to Cast Their Ballots
For President Today.

Since the polls close today, all students who have not yet cast their ballots in the student straw presidential ballot which THE DAILY TAR HEEL has been conducting since Wednesday are urged to do so without delay. The polls are located in the lobbies of Graham Memorial and the Y. M. C. A., and in order to determine the true political sentiment of college student bodies, everyone is requested to fill out a ballot and drop it in the box at one of these places today.

During the first three days the voting has been heavy, but it is expected that ballots cast today by those who have not yet voted will increase the total vote greatly. Ballots will be counted by the editorial staff of THE DAILY TAR HEEL.

This poll is being conducted in conjunction with thirty-five outstanding college publications.

MUSIC TEACHERS OF STATE GATHER FOR CONFERENCE

Dr. Harold Dyer and T. S. McCorkle
Attend Music Meeting at Women's College.

The fourth annual conference of teachers and supervisors of music in this state, which convened yesterday and will end today, has been in progress at the Women's college of the University of North Carolina. Dr. Wade R. Brown, dean of music at the Women's college, is directing the work of the organization which was founded a few years ago for the purpose of raising the standards of efficiency of music teachers and supervisors.

Special speakers for the conference are Karl W. Gehrkens, of Oberlin college, Norval L. Church, of Columbia university, and Miss Ella H. Mason. Dr. Harold S. Dyer and Professor T. Smith McCorkle of the University are attending the conference.

Plans for the fourteenth annual state music contest, which will take place at the Women's college in the spring, will be made this morning at 9:00 o'clock. The conference will be adjourned at 12:00 o'clock.

NEW BIOGRAPHY OF JOHN SEVIER ISSUED BY PRESS

Dr. Carl S. Driver Describes Life of Well Known Pioneer of The Southwest.

The University of North Carolina Press has announced the publication of John Sevier: A Pioneer of the Old Southwest, by Dr. Carl S. Driver. This is an interesting new biography of the well known Tennessee pioneer by the assistant professor of history at Vanderbilt university.

John Sevier, an Indian fighter, governor, congressman, and adventurer, was a most interesting character in the early history of the United States. "All characteristics of the pioneers," says the author, "blended in the personality of this man." A contemporary of Andrew Jackson, he at one time engaged in a bitter feud with that other native of Tennessee. The author relates an account of a duel between Governor Sevier and Jackson, at that time a judge, during which neither of the "distinguished gentlemen" fired a shot.

This new publication of the University press made its appearance October 17.

Leaders Conduct Pep Meeting In Assembly

At the freshman-sophomore assembly yesterday morning the featured speaker was to have been Major L. P. McLendon, one of the most outstanding members of the bar in North Carolina, but because of unforeseen complications he was unable to speak as scheduled.

R. B. House, executive secretary of the University, turned the meeting over to the cheer leaders, who took advantage of this opportunity to conduct a short pep meeting in preparation for the big meeting last night.

DIRECTORY TO BE DISTRIBUTED FOR STUDENTS TODAY

Y. M. C. A. Finishes Work on
Master Directory and Begins
Distribution to Campus.

The long-heralded arrival of the master directory, annual publication of the campus Y. M. C. A., was announced yesterday by Edwin Lanier, self-help secretary of the local association.

The work was done completely by students and officers affiliated with the "Y". It contains a list of all students and the faculty members in the University with several other supplements. The publication is being distributed by a group of about a dozen students who have volunteered their services in the work, and a large part of them had been circulated yesterday.

Each student is admonished that only one directory will be given to dormitory room, and only three to each fraternity house; in other words a limited number is on hand and it would be too expensive to give a separate copy to each student. One copy is also sent to each office in the University; one to each student residing out in town; one to each business house; and one to each professor's home.

Students who volunteered to distribute the pamphlets are as follows: Charles Trexler, Frederick Ogburn, M. H. Latham, A. H. Suiter, Broadus Henderson, A. W. Lowe, T. H. Lingerfelt, John Paul Strother, Locke Craig, Jr., C. H. Fries, William A. Huston, H. C. Wimberley, C. C. Wagner, L. W. Wilson, and Francis Fairley.

COMER TO SPEAK TO BIBLE CLASS

Secretary of Y. M. C. A. Will Lecture
On "Christian Fundamentals"
At United Church.

Harry F. Comer, general secretary of the campus Y. M. C. A., will appear before the newly organized student Bible class of the United Church Sunday evening at 8:00 p. m. as the principal speaker in the second gathering of the current scholastic year. A large number of members of the groups are expected to be present, and all students who are interested are invited to attend.

The "Y" secretary will speak on "Christian Fundamentals," a subject which is of vital interest to all members of the Carolina student body. Dr. Raymond Adams spoke last Sunday evening on "A Practical Religion" before a large group.

There will be a social in the church parish house immediately after the meeting to which a cordial invitation is extended to the public.

ODUM IS HEAD OF SOCIAL RESEARCH WHILE ON LEAVE

University Professor of Sociology Is Director of Social
Study of South.

Dr. Howard W. Odum, professor of sociology and director of the Institute for Research in Social Science, is engaged during his leave of absence from the University this year in directing the Southern Regional Study of the Social Science Research Council.

The study emphasizes, among other features, the south's capacity for educational and social development. Dr. Benjamin B. Kendrick, of the Women's college, University of North Carolina, is chairman of the southern regional committee. Dr. Odum, in addition to this work, is also conducting his regular graduate class in an introduction to social research, and is still busy as director of the Institute for Research in Social Science.

The study has been active since January of this year, and will probably continue for two years. It entails much research in every phase of southern educational and social conditions, and, in characterizing its objectives and methods, will be descriptive, explanatory, comparative, and purposive. It will present statistics but it will also utilize culture charts, or composite social base maps, or whatever other technical devices may guarantee an appropriate, emerging regional portrait. The study will be made in two groupings, physical geography and natural resources, and population and cultural resources. It will attempt to present, first, the picture of the southern re-

COMPETITION FOR SUBSCRIPTIONS TO PAPER ENDS TODAY

Free Passes to Carolina Theatre
Given for Subscriptions to Daily Tar Heel.

THE DAILY TAR HEEL's campaign for subscriptions will be brought to a close today. A drive for increased circulation for the daily was begun more than two weeks ago, and many new subscriptions have been added. Spirited competition for show passes was begun when the business staff of the paper with the cooperation of the Carolina theatre announced that two passes to the theatre would be given for each new subscription.

The drive for increased circulation was begun when the business department of the publication launched a campaign with the idea of reaching every home in Chapel Hill and giving those who are not already receiving the paper an opportunity to subscribe for it. A thorough canvassing of the town by students seeking to win passes resulted in many new subscriptions being turned into the business office.

As an inducement to prospective subscribers, THE DAILY TAR HEEL and the Carolina theatre offered a free pass to the theatre during the latter part of the campaign, and through this arrangement the salesman was able to give each of those who subscribed one and also win two for himself.
