

NORMAN THOMAS PLEASED BY POLL ON LOCAL CAMPUS

Socialistic Candidate Expresses Gratitude for Interest Accorded Him in Vote.

Norman Thomas, for the second time socialistic candidate for the presidency, had little comment to make when questioned Sunday concerning the results of the DAILY TAR HEEL'S campus-wide poll. "There is nothing I can say," he stated to a DAILY TAR HEEL reporter, "except that I am gratified in the interest and appreciation which the University of North Carolina and the people of the state have accorded me."

Thomas, who is making an extended tour of the south on his presidential campaign, addressed 3,000 persons in the city auditorium at Raleigh Saturday night, outlining the basic principles of his American socialism. The first aim of socialism, Thomas said, is to change the present form of American government and substitute a socialistic government for a capitalist one.

Speaks of David Clark

Thomas was very pointed in his remarks towards David Clark, Charlotte editor, who has been severely criticizing the University for its liberalism, and for its reception of Norman Thomas, in particular. He repeatedly referred to Clark as the "editor of the power trust magazine."

The results of the University poll will be tabulated with those from other universities over the country and will be released in the DAILY TAR HEEL Friday.

Jackson Speaks in Oxford

Dean W. C. Jackson of the school of public administration was in Oxford to address the district meeting of the county board of public welfare yesterday.

University Students Contributed Generously To Y. M. C. A. Building

Campaign for Funds Instigated by Committee Headed by Dr. F. P. Venable Proved Successful for Erection of Club House For Members of Christian Order.

The building which houses the Young Men's Christian Association at Carolina stands as a monument to the generosity of University students. Inspired by Dr. Francis P. Venable, whose great ambition was to establish permanently upon the campus a Christian order, young men of the school themselves furnished over half the money required for a building. Dr. Venable, who was president of the University at the time, is largely responsible for the ten year campaign for funds which culminated in construction of the present building in 1904.

Building Needed

Need of a building was keenly felt. For almost twenty years after founding of the local Y. M. C. A., the organization faced a housing problem. It met in Swain hall, then called Commons hall and used as a gymnasium until converted into a dining hall. Old Memorial hall, now razed, was concurrently occupied. For a time a room in South building was used. However, all places were inconvenient and inadequate for all the necessary meetings and functions of a rapidly expanding association, and none might serve as a clubhouse.

A. H. Graham To Speak To Young Democrats

There will be a meeting of the Young Democratic club in Gerrard hall tonight at 8:30 o'clock. A. H. "Sandy" Graham of Hillsboro, popular Democrat, and candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, will be the speaker. Graham, who is an alumnus of the University, has represented Orange county several times in the state legislature, and in 1929 was speaker of the state house of representatives.

At the meeting November 3, Harold Cooley, prominent young Democrat from Nashville, N. C., will be the principal speaker.

MEETINGS OF PHI AND DI SOCIETIES PLANNED TONIGHT

Di Senate Will Accept New Men;
Phi Assembly Will Discuss
New Football Rules.

Both the Di and Phi societies will have their regular meetings tonight at 7:00 o'clock. The Phi will meet in the assembly hall on the fourth floor of New East, and the Di will meet in the assembly hall on the third floor of New West.

At tonight's meeting of the Di, new men will be accepted, and plans will be discussed for the initiation of members already accepted within the coming month. The dues of the members must be paid at this meeting, and it will be necessary to pay them in order to retain the privileges of the floor. The bills for discussion tonight are as follows:

Resolved: That the students of the University have too little control of extra-curricular activities.

Resolved: That the University should adopt a policy similar to that recently adopted by the University of Pennsylvania.

(Continued on last page)

SIX HUNDRED CAROLINA STUDENTS EAT ONLY TWO MEALS EACH DAY

Survey by Daily Tar Heel Shows That There Are Eighty-Four Different Eating Places in Chapel Hill; Many Managers Complain That Students Have No Manners.

By W. O. Marlowe

Hungry? With eighty-four different eating places in Chapel Hill? Eighty-four establishments, where from one to six hundred students are served at each meal, provide a means of diet variation guaranteed to satisfy the most exacting epicures. This number includes boarding houses, cafeterias, restaurants, fraternity house dining rooms, sandwich shops, and the two University dining rooms, Swain hall and Spencer hall.

This information is the result of a survey recently completed by the DAILY TAR HEEL. In the course of the investigation, every house in Chapel Hill was canvassed as a possible food dispensary. Although no official figures are available, it is evident from the study that the number of boarding houses shows a tremendous increase over last year.

Many Students Employed

In these eighty-four establishments, catering to the needs of 2886 students and guests, ninety student managers are employed. In addition to these, employment is furnished 195 students as waiters, dishwashers, sweepers, and the like.

The average charge for two meals per day is $20.60 per month. Check-put systems range from a straight check-out with a refund for all meals missed, down through a check-out at half-rate to no check-out at all.

The survey disclosed a number of interesting facts concerning the eating habits of the student body. Almost twenty-five per cent of the students here eat only two meals per day. That is, today, there are more than 600 students who habitually miss one meal each day; and that meal is, almost without exception, breakfast. Economic and social reasons have been advanced in explanation of this situation. It is probably true, however, that most of the students in this group, particularly those with classes beginning at 9:30, have a preference for sleep instead of oatmeal.

On the other hand, the manager of one boarding house stated that most students missed the morning meal in order to effect a saving that enables them to go to the movies more often or to buy an extra pack of cigarettes during the week. Another owner threatened to go out of business because his clients who missed breakfast so often ate so much at the other two meals that he was being forced into bankruptcy. The large scale consumption of "dopes" and crackers at 8:30 in the Book Exchange testify to the number who pass over ham and eggs in the morning.

In all places the money question appeared to be uppermost. One manager ventured that business was "lousy," that his place was "too good for the town and that "what this town needs is a flophouse." Collection of accounts trouble many establishments. One female operator solicited the aid of the campus daily in collecting her bills, and suggested that a blacklist might be published of those who are delinquent in the payment for meals already consumed.

Poor Table Manners

Not a few complaints were registered about the manners of the students. One lady declared that "students are anything but gentlemen and have no manners whatsoever." She added that the appearance of food on the table was always a signal for a free-for-all grabfest. Another manager stated that all her boarders had been driven away by medical students. Fresh from the dissecting room, their conversation at meal time was anything but conducive to a healthy appetite. The breaking point came when one of the would-be doctors proclaimed lamb chops to be cadaver meat.

Y.M.C.A. PETITION IS SENT TO DOAK

Protest Against Secretary of Labor's Ruling Also Sent to Bailey And Morrison.

The petition of the campus Y. M. C. A. against the ruling of Secretary of Labor Doak prohibiting foreign students in this country from working in vacation or part time in the regular scholastic year was dispatched yesterday from the main "Y" office.

A copy of the petition has been sent to the junior senator from North Carolina, Josiah William Bailey; to the senior senator, Cameron Morrison; and to Secretary of Labor Doak.

The students on the campus have given a fine response to the call for signers, and the protest includes some of the most prominent signatures on the campus both in the student body and faculty.

Mid-Term Reports

The names of all University students receiving grades of "X" and "W" on mid-term reports will be posted today at noon on the bulletin board in the registrar's office, South building.

Deans of the various schools will confer with failing students.

"Y" Deputation Trip Planned Tomorrow

The second deputation team of the year will be sent out tomorrow by the campus Y. M. C. A. The personnel has not been announced as yet.

They will appear before the N. C. State college Y. M. C. A. freshman friendship council tomorrow night at 6:00 o'clock, and they will later be guests of the various State college cabinets at their gatherings.

Ed King, general secretary of the State college Y. M. C. A., invited the team from the state University to give their program.

WEATHERFORD TO DELIVER SERMON AT CHURCH HERE

President of 'Y' Graduate School At Nashville Will Also Address Y.M.C.A. Cabinets.

Dr. Willis Duke Weatherford, president of the Y. M. C. A. graduate school in Nashville, Tenn., will visit this campus during the coming week-end.

Dr. Weatherford will be the guest of the campus "Y" during his visit here, and his appearances will be sponsored by the local association. He will be available for private conferences with any students desiring to meet him during his stay on the campus. He is widely known as an advisor to young men.

Will Speak in Church

Dr. Weatherford's main appearance will be in the University Methodist church Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock in which he will occupy the pulpit in a special sermon to University students. The subject of his sermon has not been announced as yet.

He will make several other speaking engagements while in

(Continued on last page)

PIERSON TO ACT AS DELEGATE AT ANNUAL MEETING

Graduate School Head to Attend Association of American Universities Meeting.

Dean W. W. Pierson of the graduate school will represent the University of North Carolina at the 34th annual meeting of the Association of American Universities. The meeting will take place in Iowa City, Iowa, November 10, 11, and 12. Delegates will be guests of the University of Iowa during their stay.

Dean Pierson will leave several days early in order to attend a meeting of the committee on classification of colleges and universities. This is one of the most important functions of the convention.

Carolina Admitted in 1922

The University of North Carolina was admitted into the association in 1922. At present, the organization consists of the twenty-nine outstanding universities of the United States, and is generally considered the foremost educational body in America.

Last year the University of North Carolina was host to the delegation in Chapel Hill. Sixty-seven representatives attended and met in the Dialectic Senate chamber. Dean John C. McLennan of the University of Toronto presided.

The association is founded "for the purpose of considering matters of common interest relating to graduate study." Texas and Virginia are the other two universities of the south that are members.

Meyer in Spring Hope

Dr. H. D. Meyer of the department of sociology was in Spring Hope yesterday, to address the parent-teachers' association.

Playmaker Presentation Will Have Many Different Scenes

More Different "Sets," Costumes, and Scenes Will Be Used in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Than Any Other Production Ever Given on Campus by University Dramatic Group.

Because in Uncle Tom's Cabin there will be no pause between scenes since the players shift around and the stage hands merely lower another drop to indicate a change of locale.

There are twenty-seven different scenes in this play, which is to be given November 3, 4, and 5. The most effective probably will be those showing Eliza, a runaway slave, escaping from the tavern window and leaping from block to block of the rapidly moving ice with her baby in her arms and the bloodhounds on her trail; the snow scene of Uncle Tom's cabin in the moonlight, and Little Eva going to Heaven on a milk-white dove, her arms outspread in benediction over her father and Uncle Tom who are kneeling below her will be equally as touching and emotional.

Among those who are working constantly in the scene shop are: Aron Krich, Neward, N. J.; Raymond Umstead, Chapel Hill; Brad White, Chapel Hill; Jobie Matthews, Goldsboro; Arnold Snider, Salisbury; Rene Prud'hommeaux, New Canaan, Conn.; Bob Proctor, Hales, L. I., N. Y.; Marion Tatum, Raleigh; Sylvia Stecher, Los Angeles; George Pierson, Gastonia; Wilbur Dorsett, Closs Peace, Henderson; and Ellen Stewart.

place. There will be no pause between scenes since the players shift around and the stage hands merely lower another drop to indicate a change of locale.

There are twenty-seven different scenes in this play, which is to be given November 3, 4, and 5. The most effective probably will be those showing Eliza, a runaway slave, escaping from the tavern window and leaping from block to block of the rapidly moving ice with her baby in her arms and the bloodhounds on her trail; the snow scene of Uncle Tom's cabin in the moonlight, and Little Eva going to Heaven on a milk-white dove, her arms outspread in benediction over her father and Uncle Tom who are kneeling below her will be equally as touching and emotional.

Among those who are working constantly in the scene shop are: Aron Krich, Neward, N. J.; Raymond Umstead, Chapel Hill; Brad White, Chapel Hill; Jobie Matthews, Goldsboro; Arnold Snider, Salisbury; Rene Prud'hommeaux, New Canaan, Conn.; Bob Proctor, Hales, L. I., N. Y.; Marion Tatum, Raleigh; Sylvia Stecher, Los Angeles; George Pierson, Gastonia; Wilbur Dorsett, Closs Peace, Henderson; and Ellen Stewart.