

CAROLINA OFFERS 'GRAND HOTEL' AS OPENING PICTURE

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's Super-Production Will Run First Two Days of Week.

The closest approximation of a genuine "million dollar" cast is offered by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in bringing to the talking screen Vicki Baum's sensational novel and stage hit, Grand Hotel, which will head the program at the Carolina theatre Monday and Tuesday. Greta Garbo is cast as Grusinskaya, the Russian ballerina. Joan Crawford has the part of Flaemchen, the sex-appealing stenographer who finds that happiness and tragedy often go hand in hand. Wallace Beery essays the most dramatic role of his career as Preysing, the militaristic industrial magnate who trifles with dishonesty and unfaithfulness. Lionel Barrymore has the characterization of Kringle, a factory clerk who registers at the Grand Hotel to enjoy a brief period of splendor before he dies. John Barrymore, Lewis Stone, Jean Hersholt, and others are included in the cast.

Wednesday Brings Thriller
 "The Old Dark House," Universal's drama of one exciting night in a lonely Welsh manor, is Wednesday's feature. This production gives the story of travelers on a week-end vacation who are caught in a storm and forced to seek shelter for the night in an ancient, bleak house where an inherently insane family lives ruled by a servant of brutal character.

Thursday, Tallulah Bankhead and Robert Montgomery co-star in "Faithless," a story of the penniless rich, based on a novel by Mildred Cram. Hugh Herbert, Maurice Murphey, Louise Closser Hale, Anna Appel, Lawrence Grant and Henry Kolker compose the supporting cast.

A novel type of football picture, "Rackety Rax," is coming Friday. Victor McLaglen and Greta Nissen are starred in this production from Joel Sayre's story of the same name.

Presenting a picture of California in the days of the gold rush, "Wild Girl" plays at the Carolina Saturday, with such stars as Charles Farrell, Joan Bennett and Ralph Bellamy in the lead roles. The story deals with the coming to a remote mining camp of a mysterious stranger in Confederate uniform, with a secret purpose of his own. His arrival awakens the interest of the camp's belle, Salomy Jane, who heretofore has had no patience with the pleas of her various suitors. When he kills the camp's leading politician, the Vigilantes start after him, and despite the girl's efforts, he is captured and sentenced to hang.

Concerted Action Supports Drive For Better Cheering

Henry Betts, the present cheerleaders, and it is felt that there should be a recurrence of the former spirit at this time.

All Work Together

The cheerleaders, together with the aid of Alex Worth of Durham and other prominent alumni, interested students, President Frank P. Graham, Haywood Weeks, the music department and other individuals and groups are laying plans for the formation of this new cheering group.

Graduate Manager C. T. Woolen has promised to purchase megaphones for the use of the group which will sit in a special reserved section of the stadium. The group will wear the distinctive clothing which marked their appearance in the past.

In connection with this movement are the proposals of two new songs to be used at games. One is sponsored by the Grail and the other by an alumnus.

Alumni Opinions

Alumni are particularly urgent in the reorganization of the cheerios. Quoting one: "I would like to see the Cheerios reorganized. Not merely for the support that such an organization gives the team. The rah-rah spirit that ebbs with the score doesn't interest me. I would like to see every student have some way to express himself at games without making himself conspicuous by yelling at the top of his voice while the people around him maintain the silence of the tomb. A student giving encouragement to the team feels that he is a part of that team. By being loyal and faithful in a few things, unimportant or important, he will soon grow and develop into the larger and more noble loyalty to the Greater University, and he will strive to make it the ideal university."

Another says: "Carolina has a good team. It has been up against some of the best teams in the south this year, and with one possible exception, has acquitted itself in great style. The student body has not given its best, however. The cheering has been rotten."

A fair young lady from the better one-third of the University, expresses her comment: "Singing and organized cheering add color and excitement to the game. I like to see the people, and to feel the zest of the excitement of the crowd. And, the more excitement, the better."

down McCaskill's pass into the end zone was incomplete and the ball went over to State on the twenty yard line.

McQuage attempted a pass and it was intercepted by Barclay, who ran from the twenty-five yard line to the thirteen. On the tackle Barclay was hurt and forced to leave the game. With McCaskill paving the way by carrying the ball twice for eleven yards, Thompson sliced through left tackle for two yards and the first score of the game. Lassiter was substituted for Chandler and kicked the extra point. Score: North Carolina 7, State 0.

Carolina Scores Again

After playing see-saw ball throughout the third quarter, the Carolina regulars entered the game and proceeded to tear the Technician line to shreds. With the ball on State's forty yard line, the Tar Heels were penalized five yards on the first play for backs being in motion, but Daniels offset the penalty by weaving through the State line and secondary defense for twenty yards, carrying the ball to State's twenty-five yard line. Phipps, after losing three yards, passed to Chandler who was run out of bounds nine yards from the visitors' goal. Daniels plunged through center to the five yard line, from which point, Phipps took the ball over right tackle for the remaining distance. So good were the Tar Heels' blocking that on Phipps' run, not a man touched the Carolina back. Phipps failed to convert the extra point, making the score 13-0.

State Threatens

State threatened to score late in the final period when a run by McQuage on fourth down carried the ball from the visitors' twenty-seven to the forty. Here Lady Luck entered when McAdams' pass was juggled by three Carolina players and bounced directly into Espey's hands, giving State possession on Carolina's twenty-six yard line. The Tar Heels held for three downs and Chandler intercepted McAdams pass to end whatever chance State had for scoring.

Stars Galore

It would be hard to say who starred for the Tar Heels for every player, bar none, played heads up ball, but if commendation went to anybody, it would certainly go to Barclay, Kahn, Philpot, and Hodges in the line and to Phipps, Thompson, Burnett, Woolen, and McCaskill in the backfield. Espey, Cumiskey, and McQuage starred for the Wolfpack.

cabinets at 7:00 p. m. he will be the principal speaker. His subject has not been announced yet.

After his stay at the University Dr. Weatherford will journey to Raleigh for a four day stay at State college.

Brilliant Record

Dr. Weatherford, listed in Who's Who, has a record of many brilliant achievements behind him, both in college and after life. He graduated from Weatherford college in 1895 after distinguishing himself in many student activities and winning a Phi Beta Kappa key. He went to Vanderbilt university in 1899 and later received his master's and doctor's degrees there.

He was the founder and builder of Blue Ridge, southern Y. M. C. A. assembly grounds near Asheville. For many years he has been one of the moving spirits of the association in the south, being for quite a while a traveling secretary of the southern division of the Y. M. C. A.

ity; its capacity is purely to advise, comment, and express campus sentiment on topics of significance.

Studied Honor System

Last year the organization devoted considerable time to a detailed study of the workings of the honor system and attempted to rejuvenate its efficiency. Since the program of this work was not completed, the Forum intends to carry on the investigation this year and hopes to be able to offer concrete suggestions for the improvement of the system.

The founding of the group satisfies a long-felt need on this campus for a body wherein the problems and opinions of the students at large may be heard and receive direct attention. The Forum urges the electors of the representatives to present their sentiments on matters of general import to the members of the organization.

By virtue of its electing three students to the directorate of Graham Memorial, the Union Forum has a direct and sizeable voice in the operation of a building in which the students have manifested their deepest interest. As the association has successfully inaugurated and sponsored the weekly informal dances in the lounge, it aims to assist the manager of the student union in providing a fuller and more stimulating round of activities in Graham Memorial.

Chemistry Seminar Monday

At the regular meeting of the chemistry seminar, which will be conducted Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in Venable hall, C. F. Wilkinson will present a paper on "Thiele's Theory of Partial Valence."
