

SEGREGATION OF FRESHMEN TO BE DISCUSSED BY PHI

Di Senate Will Take Up Proposal Favoring Ruling of Secretary Doak.

The regular meeting of the Phi assembly tonight at 7:00 o'clock in New East will be of special interest to freshmen.

The first resolution to be discussed reads as follows: Resolved: That freshmen should be segregated in separate dormitories and should not be allowed to move out or be initiated into fraternities until their sophomore year. The floor will be open only to freshmen while this bill is being argued, since it is the purpose of this session to bring out more activity on the part of the new representatives.

The other resolution will be discussed by the entire assembly. They are: Resolved: That city-county consolidation be effected where it is possible in North Carolina. Resolved: That the low tariff advocated by the Democrats is a better policy for the United States than a high protective tariff as exemplified by the Smoot-Hawley bill which is sponsored by the Republicans.

Di Meeting

The Diectic senate at its regular meeting tonight at 7:00 o'clock in New West will discuss the following bills:

Resolved: That the Diectic senate go on record as favoring the ruling of Secretary of Labor Doak prohibiting foreign students in the country from working in vacation or part-time during the regular scholastic year.

Resolved: That the United States should adopt a minimum wage law.

At this meeting the formal initiation of new members is scheduled. New members are urged to attend.

ADDRESSES CLOSE BAPTIST STUDENT CONFERENCE HERE

Thirteen Institutions Send 275 Representatives to Meeting During Week-End.

The annual State Baptist Union convention, in session here over the week-end, closed Sunday afternoon with addresses by Reverend Eugene Olive, pastor of the Baptist church; Reverend E. N. Gardner of the Dunn Baptist church, and Frank H. Leavell of Nashville, Tenn., south-wide student secretary.

Olive stressed the importance of making Christianity vital for the nation and Gardner told of the importance of "lifting Christ up through vocational choice." Reports of committees featured the final session Sunday afternoon.

275 Attend

In attendance were 275 student representatives from thirteen institutions. The next meeting will take place at Wake Forest.

"We haven't lifted Christ up in the economic world," Leavell affirmed. "And the collapse of business has been due to the"

(Continued on last page)

Buccaneer Business Staff

There will be a meeting of the business staff of the Carolina Buccaneer tonight in the business office, 207 Graham Memorial, at 7:00 o'clock.

Holt Awards Will Be Granted Friday

The Holt scholarship committee, composed of several faculty members, will meet Friday afternoon to consider recommendations for the annual award of Holt scholarships.

Applications for these scholarships must be presented at Dean A. W. Hobbs' office in South building before Friday afternoon. Each must be accompanied by three recommendations, one of which must be from the applicant's home town.

The scholarships are awarded through a fund bequeathed to the University by Laurence S. Holt of the class of 1904. Four students who excel in scholarship and who need financial aid, will be awarded $100 according to the terms of the bequest.

Holt has also made available loan funds for needy and worthy students.

LOCAL VOTERS TO CAST BALLOTS IN LITTLE TIN CAN

Town, County, State, and National Candidates Will Be Chosen Today.

The public school athletic building, Little Tin Can, is the voting place for the Chapel Hill precinct. The polls will be open from 6:22 a. m. to 5:07 p. m.

This year there will be an extra unofficial ballot in Chapel Hill which will contain the names of the Democratic candidates for justice of the peace.

The Democratic candidates whose names appear on the county ballot are as follows: for the state senate, J. S. Hill and D. J. Walker; for the state house of representatives, S. M. Gattis; for county sheriff, W. T. Sloan; for register of deeds, S. W. Andrews; for county treasurer, G. G. Bivins; for coroner, S. A. Nathan; and for county commissioners, J. H. Hanner, W. P. Berry, and R. A. Eubanks.

The Republican candidates are listed as follows: for the state senate, J. C. McAdams; for the house of representatives, H. D. Carter; for county sheriff, H. G. Riley; for register of deeds, Frank Strowd; for treasurer, M. L. Cates; for coroner, B. B. Lloyd; for surveyor, J. R. Weaver; and for county commissioners, Lueco Lloyd, W. T. Roberts, and G. O. Reitzel.

The ballot for governor, other state officers, United States senator, and representatives in congress, will contain just two columns, Democratic and Republican.

UNION FORUM MEETING IS SET FOR TOMORROW

The Union Forum will conduct its second meeting of the year tomorrow night at 9:30 o'clock in room 215 Graham Memorial, to consider and discuss certain issues and proposals of the student council. The meeting will last an hour after which the members will have the privilege of using the game room until 11:00 o'clock. Cards will be sent to the members.

McRae Will Speak

Dr. Cameron McRae, Episcopal missionary to China, will address the freshman assembly this morning at 10:30 o'clock. He was secured by Reverend Tom Wright, assistant pastor of the Chapel of the Cross.

Henderson's Biography Of Shaw Called History Of British Drama

Dr. Walter Prichard Eaton, Member of the Pulitzer Prize Committee, Lauds Biographer's Material and Method of Approach in Review in New York Herald-Tribune.

Not the portrait of Bernard Shaw, the man, but the literary and social history of the England of his time is the most significant result of Archibald Henderson's recently published biography, Bernard Shaw: Play-boy and Prophet. This view is advanced by Dr. Walter Prichard Eaton in a review of the volume in the latest edition of Books, literary supplement of the New York Herald-Tribune.

Dr. Eaton, recognized as one of the foremost contemporary critics of the drama, is a member of the Pulitzer prize play committee and has written an authoritative history of the Theatre Guild.

Peers Over Shaw's Shoulder

"What he actually does," writes the critic in reference to Dr. Henderson's work, "is to write a history of modern English drama, and modern English social reform, and passions during the World War, peering over Shaw's shoulder, as he does so. His dragnet has been out in all directions, sometimes, into strange waters, exactly because he looked where Shaw looked."

As has been done before, Dr. Eaton compares the author of this official biography to James Boswell. "It is, in a sense, a Boswellian method, but has the advantage of supplying its own footnotes. Like Boswell's method, it builds up a portrait, builds up, rather an acquaintance with the subject just as we get to know and ultimately estimate anybody from observing his reactions to the world over a period of time. Is there any biographical method better?"

HAMILTON SPEAKS ON DEPRESSION AT ASSEMBLY PERIOD

Speaker Declares United States Is Despised Because It Did Not Tax Rich in World War.

The freshman and sophomore assembly was addressed yesterday by A. W. Hamilton of Charlotte, who is considered an authority on finance and debt. He has had fifteen years' experience with this problem.

Hamilton said that the real reason for the economic depression goes back to the time of the United States' entry into the World War. At that time we were the most respected nation in the world by virtue of our having been the melting pot of the world; now we are the most hated, most despised of all the nations. "The trouble was due," stated Hamilton, "to the fact that we did not conscript wealth and property instead of flesh and blood. We, our children and grandchildren must slave in order that the war profiteers might collect what is due them."

In conclusion Hamilton said that all men of the "Al Capone" type should be lined up against a stone wall and executed, thereby saving the people of the United States $400.00 per capita.

Freshmen Co-eds Meet

The freshmen co-eds had their regular monthly meeting last night in the woman's reception room of Graham Memorial at 7:00 o'clock. This was the second meeting of this group since its organization last month.

What Henderson thinks of Shaw as a dramatist, how high he ranks him, does not matter in this process. The biographer as a critic can have his say, and still leave us the picture, the acquaintance and we may do our own estimating."

Henderson's Collection Praised

Ample tribute is paid Dr. Henderson's use of his famous collection of Shaviana. Pictures, verbatim statements, information about first and subsequent performances of Shaw's plays in all foreign countries, and his letters are considered keenly interesting and valuable by Dr. Eaton.

"Here is the story of one of the alertest intellects of our time, ceaselessly at work for two generations," writes Dr. Eaton in reviewing the author's estimate of his subject, "one of the chief comic dramatists of our times fighting both an artistic and intellectual battle, one of the most puzzling personalities of our times, at once posing before the public as the most ardent egotist, the most flippant jester, and at the same time over and over demonstrating himself a man of deep social passion."

Reasons for Writing Biography

The critic states his personal justification for a biography of Shaw in three points. "The story of Shaw's battle is the story of the modern drama in English, and of much other modern literature beside." The very conflict of opinion over his personality, which has caused him to be likened to everybody from

(Continued on last page)

PLAYS WRITTEN BY STUDENTS TO BE SHOWN HERE

Ten Plays by Members of University Playwriting Class Will Be Produced This Week-End.

Ten plays written this quarter in the playwriting classes, English 55 and English 225, will be presented this week-end at the Playmakers theatre. The definite date will be announced later.

The plays and their authors are:

- The Shadow for Davie*, a play of the southwest frontier by Philip Milhous; And They Lived Happily, domestic comedy by Marion Tatum; Hell-bent for Honolulu, college comedy by W. A. L. Bonyon; Nothing Ever Happens, family comedy by Elmer Oettinger; Sour Fodder, a play of the Iowa small town by Burdette Kindig; Four on a Heath, a fantasy by Foster Fitz-Simmons; Old Ninety-Seven, tragedy of railroad life by Wilbur Dorsett; Gateway, an interlude by Eugenia Rawls; Creek Swamp Nigger, negro tragedy by Harry Coble; Stumbling in Dreams, a play of Tin Can Alley by George Brown.

Wilson Receives Degrees

Dr. Louis R. Wilson, former librarian of the University had the honorary degree of Doctor of Letters conferred on him at the University of Denver recently. He received this honor while he was there to make the dedication address for the new Denver library building that has just been completed.

Portrait Of Wilson Is Given To Library

A portrait of Dr. Louis R. Wilson, former librarian of the University, was presented last week at the University library by a member of the Friends of the Library of the University of North Carolina. Dr. Wilson is at present dean of the graduate library school at the University of Chicago.

The portrait was painted by William Steene, well known American artist. In recent years Steene has divided his time between Chapel Hill and New York City. During his visits to the south, he has painted portraits of a number of prominent Carolinians, among others Dr. Harry W. Chase, former president of the University and now president of Illinois University, Chief Justice Walter P. Stacy, and Dr. William P. Few, president of Duke University.

DEPUTATION TEAM VISITS HIGH POINT COLLEGE ON TRIP

Group Also Presents Program at N. C. C. W. and at High Point Public Schools.

After visiting the Women's College of the Greater University of North Carolina, High Point College, and High Point public schools, a half-dozen members of the latest deputation group sent out by the campus Y. M. C. A. returned last night to Chapel Hill reporting a very successful trip.

Billy McKee, president of the "Y," headed the delegation. McKee, together with Jack Poole, president of last year's Freshman Friendship Council, were the speech-makers on the trip. Amusement was furnished by a quartet composed of Jesse Parker, John Briggs, Raymond Brietz, and Charles Templeton.

Sunday evening the Tar Heel outfit had supper with the leaders in the Y. W. C. A. at the Women's College, after which they appeared at the regular Sunday night vespers of the Y. W. C. A. McKee and Poole were the speakers.

Visit at High Point

The Carolina group visited High Point College yesterday morning. They appeared at the chapel exercises in a thirty minute program with the same bill of entertainment that they had previously given Sunday night.

Throughout yesterday they appeared at the various public schools in High Point with their program. Each school was reported as having given the University delegation a fine hand at the end of each appearance.

MEETING OF A. S. M. E. IS PLANNED TONIGHT

The University Student's Branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will convene at its second meeting of the year tonight at 8:00 o'clock in room 319 Phillips hall. The feature of the program will be the showing of two moving pictures loaned by the photographic section of the United States air service. The titles of the films are "Aerial Bombing of the U. S. S. New Jersey and Virginia" and "Material Division, U. S. Army Air Corps." All members of the A. S. M. E. are urged to be present, and anyone who is interested in military aviation is invited to attend.

MUNCH RELEASES SCORES ON FROSH PLACEMENT TEST

No Perfect Marks Registered on Mathematics Examination Given to 596 Students.

In the mathematics column of the November issue of The High School Journal, Professor H. F. Munch of the school of education has tabulated the results of the mathematics placement tests given to 596 freshmen when they entered the University in September.

Professor Munch precedes his report with a statement that for some time the mathematics department has been aware that many first year students were deficient in a knowledge of the fundamentals of mathematics which were prerequisite for college mathematics. It did not seem fair to those who did have adequate knowledge of mathematics and skill in the use of the same to place them in classes with those who were not thus prepared. As a result it was decided to give each incoming freshman a very simple test prepared by certain men in the department and composed of six arithmetic problems, six algebra problems, and six geometry problems. The problems were short and did not involve long, complicated arithmetical or algebraic computation.

No Perfect Marks

The summary of the results of the tests shows that no one received a score above sixteen from the eighteen problems, and only four received a mark as high as that. Eight received a score of zero which means that they did not solve correctly a single one of the problems. The median score was 6.99 while the average grade was 7.2. Fifty-two of this group solved less than three of

(Continued on last page)

PICTURES OF ALL FRATERNITY MEN DUE NOVEMBER 15

No Pictures Will Be Admitted To Fraternity Section of Annual After This Date.

All fraternity pictures must be in the Yackety Yack office before November 15, the editor of the fraternity section announced yesterday. This will be the last and final chance for all classmen, this means freshmen and sophomores, to have their pictures in this year's annual.

The Yackety Yack feels under no obligation in getting these pictures in, because it is up to the individual fraternity. However, the Yackety Yack wants as complete a representation of the fraternities as possible. This is further important as the Yackety Yack is the only permanent record of the fraternal organizations.

All the pictures are being taken at Wootten-Moulton's down-town photographic studio at one dollar and a half a sitting.

Radio in Graham Memorial

Mayne Albright, manager of Graham Memorial, announced yesterday that a radio will be installed in the main lounge of the building tonight to afford everyone an opportunity to listen to the presidential election returns.