

READ EDITORIAL:
"BEARING A MUTUAL BURDEN"

The Daily Tar Heel

TAR HEEL SMOKER
10:00 P. M.
GRAHAM MEMORIAL

VOLUME XLI

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., FRIDAY, JANUARY 20, 1933

NUMBER 83

STRINGFIELD WILL PRESENT SOLO IN CONCERT TONIGHT

Program Will Be Presented by Carolina Playmakers and Folk Music Institute.

Lamar Stringfield, research associate to the institute of folk music, and musical director of the North Carolina Symphony society, will make his first appearance as soloist this season with the little symphony orchestra at 8:30 o'clock this evening at the Playmakers theatre. During past seasons Stringfield has appeared here as soloist in programs, presenting compositions for flute and piano.

Varied Program

This program is being sponsored by the Carolina Playmakers in cooperation with the institute of folk music. It will be composed of classical numbers, works of living American composers, and several novelty numbers.

Stringfield is the holder of the artist's diploma in flute playing from the Institute of Musical Arts in New York City, where he studied under George Barrere, nationally famous flute player and conductor of the Barrere Little Symphony. He has made numerous appearances in recital both as soloist and in ensemble groups. He appeared in New York as soloist with the New York Philharmonic Symphony and in programs of the New York flute club. His Stringfield Trio, composed of flute, piano, and cello, has appeared

(Continued on last page)

STUDENTS SEEK HIGHER DEGREES

Board of Graduate School Admits Fifty-Nine Candidates
For Advanced Degrees.

Fifty-four students were admitted to candidacy for higher degrees by the administrative board of the graduate school January 16. No specification as to when the candidates will be ready for the degrees has been made, as this is a matter dependent upon the completion of the full requirements. Those eligible for candidacy are:

Doctor of Philosophy: Viola Chittenden White and F. P. Cauble.

Master of Arts: T. C. Amick, D. B. Arnold, E. S. Barr, G. W. Blackwell, W. E. Boone, C. C. Cates, Jr., J. Y. Causey, Annie Leslie Chadbourne, H. E. Coleman, Jr., C. C. Couch, J. H. Cowles, C. J. Craven, Letitia Womack Currie, J. S. Frazer, G. E. French, Jr., G. C. Gaskin, R. E. Gee, Jr., Sherwood Githens, Jr., J. M. Grimes, Jr., J. W. C. Grottyhann.

N. H. Henry, J. H. Johnson, C. B. Kestler, W. S. McArthur, J. B. McFerrin, Jr., P. J. Miller, Jr., Vida Brown Miller, Leslie Mary Moss, S. G. Roth, Sabra Lore Royall, C. J. Shohan, W. W. Silliman, Jr., Elizabeth Anderson Strickland, B. R. Thurman, Jr., W. M. Treverton, Sarah Woodall Turlington, J. B. Ustry, Mary Linda Vardell, J. G. Wall, R. G. Walser, D. D. Wickens, Mary Catherine Williams, and Blanche Zorn.

Master of Science: W. G. Condrane, Jr., L. J. Felton, O. W. Kochtitzky, Jr., J. C. Lifton, W. T. Logan, Jr., J. S. Morrison, Laura Corbett Thomas, E. W. Winkler, and M. F. Wooten, Jr.

Organ Concert Sunday

Organ Professors of Other Schools
Scheduled to Appear Here in Series of Concerts.

Professor Nelson O. Kennedy will present his fourth vesper organ recital of this season at 4:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon, in Hill music hall.

This is the first of the regular monthly organ recitals by Professor Kennedy to be presented this quarter. In connection with these recitals there will be several concerts here by leading organists in the state in exchange for recitals by Professor Kennedy, who has already appeared this year at Duke and at Meredith. Lawrence Apgar of Duke, and Leslie Spelman of Meredith are expected to appear in exchange recitals here.

Sunday's program will consist of a processional by Gaul, three chorales by J. S. Bach, and two compositions of Guilman, Sonata No. 5 and Lamentation.

ENGINEERS LEAVE FOR THREE-DAY INSPECTION TRIP

Senior Class of Electrical Engineering
Department to Make Inspection
Trip to Charlotte.

The senior class of the electrical engineering department will make an inspection trip to Charlotte and other points in the vicinity in the near future. The group will leave here early in the afternoon of January 27, and will make the first stop in Norwood, where the Carolina Light and Power Company has a very modern plant which is almost entirely equipped with automatic material. After inspecting this plant, the group will go on to Charlotte where they will spend the night.

Saturday morning will be devoted to a tour of the Southern Bell Telephone building in Charlotte, and Saturday afternoon the plant of the Duke Power Company at Riverbend will be visited by the class. Tours of several switching stations are also planned.

Tentative plans are being made by the class to make a complete study of radio station WBT Sunday morning. The group will return to Chapel Hill late Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Ball Speaks Today

Editor of Charleston News and Courier
to Address Press Institute in Final Session Today.

Dr. W. W. Ball, editor of the Charleston News and Courier, will address the final session of the Press Institute on "Candles in Our Windows" at 10:00 o'clock this morning. The meeting will convene at 9:30 o'clock with the judging of a newspaper display in charge of B. A. Lowrance.

Following Dr. Ball's address, the newspapermen will discuss the live topics of the day. One of the topics suggested is: "Will the newspapers accept beer advertising?"

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM TO COMMEMORATE LEE

Mrs. Charles Lanier, daughter-in-law of Sidney Lanier, famous southern poet, will address the freshmen in assembly this morning on "Robert E. Lee," in commemoration of the celebrated southerner, whose birthday was yesterday.

Mrs. Lanier is a leader in the movement to make Lee's birthplace in Virginia a national shrine.

DRAMATIC READER TO APPEAR HERE TUESDAY EVENING

Max Montor, Impersonator, Will Present Varied German and English Readings.

Leading educators throughout the nation have commended the recitals of Max Montor, celebrated reader and dramatic impersonator, who is to appear here in a recital in the Carolina Playmakers theatre next Tuesday evening, January 24, at 8:45 o'clock. There will be no admission charge.

Montor, who is internationally known for his unusual interpretations of drama and poetry, is now on a tour of leading colleges and universities. He comes here from Davidson, where he will give a recital the previous night.

Among educators who have publicly praised Montor's work are President John Grier Hibben of Princeton University, Dr. R. A. Millikan of the California Institute of Technology, Dr. William Lyon Phelps of Yale University, and Dr. Robert Herndon Fife of Columbia University.

Montor is travelling under the auspices of the Carl Schurz Memorial Foundation of Philadelphia. The foundation has as its aim the development of cultural relationships between the United States and the German-speaking countries.

In his recital here, which is being arranged by a committee headed by Dr. W. D. Toy, head of the German department, Montor will render from memory selections in German and English. His selections in German will be from Prometheus by Goethe and Die Kaniche Des Ibykus by Schiller. His selections in English will be from Hamlet by Shakespeare, Minna Von Barnhelm by Lessing, and Lieutenant Gustl by Schnitzler.

Following the lecture Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Booker will entertain Mr. Montor at a small gathering in their home.

Montor was born in Vienna and studied at the Imperial Conservatory of Dramatic Art in his native city. He made his debut in Zurich, Switzerland, and has toured extensively in Austria, Germany and Switzerland. His American career began nine years ago on Broadway, and he has appeared on various stages in America in plays of Shakespeare, Strindberg, Ibsen, Sudermann and others.

Parker Announces New "Y" Programs

Plans are being made by Jesse Parker, president of the freshman friendship council, to have presented at the weekly meetings of the group an entirely new type of program. These new programs will include discussions led by members of the council and addressed by campus celebrities and faculty members.

In addition to the changes in programs, Parker announced yesterday that the meeting place of the council would probably be changed from Gerrard hall to a room in the Y. M. C. A. The change would afford a better chance for individual discussion and business transaction.

Chi Psi Announces Pledging

Chi Psi announces the pledging of Edmond Vincent Hally of Larchmont, New York.

NEWSPAPER MEN HEAR J. H. FURAY AND A. S. KEISTER

United Press Official Says That
Much of 1933 News Will Deal
With Search for Messiah.

A happy combination of work and entertainment featured yesterday's session of the ninth annual North Carolina Newspaper Institute, which got off to a flying start Wednesday night with Governor Ehringhaus' address.

Yesterday morning the editors and publishers listened to thoughtful and timely addresses by James H. Furay, vice-president of the United Press and general manager of foreign service, who outlined some of the high spots in the news in 1933, and by Dr. Albert S. Keister, professor of economics in the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, who suggested possible new sources of revenue by which the state budget may be balanced. John A. Park, president North Carolina Press Association, was presiding.

The morning session ended in a lively discussion of newspaper topics. In the afternoon there were separate meetings for the weekly and daily groups.

Presiding over the weekly group, R. E. Price, of Rutherfordton, vice-president of the North Carolina Press Association, conducted a round-table discussion. He urged more of the weeklies to join the Audit Bureau of Circulation, pointing out that an effort is being made to secure a representative in New York City to secure more foreign advertising for the weeklies.

With D. Hiden Ramsay of the Asheville Citizen-Times presiding, the daily group discussed the same problems as related to their particular field.

An impromptu feature of the morning session was a short address by Dean Francis F. Bradshaw of the University, who outlined the highlights of a movement just launched by the University with the view of putting thrift education in the public schools of North Carolina. He asked the editors to use their influence to help further such a movement.

At 4:30 o'clock came adjournment, and from then on until late last night the editors were guests of Duke University. Duke put on a program that for instruction and genuine hospitality could hardly have been excelled.

Geology Specimens Attract Attention

The case of quartz minerals, together with the reptile case and the collection dealing with early and fossil man, has been attracting the most attention in the new geological museum, according to Dr. W. F. Prouty, head of the geology department.

This collection of quartz exhibits includes over twenty-five varieties of mineral species and is about equally divided between the crystalline and the amorphous. The names of many gem stones are recognized in the list, such as, amethyst, bloodstone, citrine, chalcedony, agate, carnelian, chrysoprase, rose quartz, smoky quartz, opal, cat's eye, hyalite, and prase.

Twenty-four foreign countries and nearly every state in the union are represented by specimens in the collection.

Will Play Tonight

Pictured above is Lamar Stringfield, who will offer a flute solo of Bernard Roger's "Soliloquy" at the concert of the little symphony orchestra of the North Carolina Symphony Society.

DEAN DISCUSSES USES OF LIBERAL RELIGION TO MAN

Skinner Continues Lecture Series on
New Religious Concepts at Inn Last Night.

"What can liberal religion do for men and women?" asked Professor Clarence R. Skinner in his lecture on liberal religion at the Carolina Inn last night. "The first great service which liberal religion can render is to make their religion harmonious with the rest of their lives. The second great service is progressiveness. Religion is crawling along behind our material life," Skinner asserted. "Finally, liberal religion covers all phases of life, rather than being confined to simply the narrow aspects of individualism."

In elaborating on these points, Professor Skinner said that liberal religion makes possible certain concepts of religion to the modern world which finds it impossible to accept the old literal interpretations. A liberal religion gives a "more rational method of religious thinking to those students who have rejected the older doctrines and interpretations and offers a program for problems of the world," he said.

Debate Tryouts Monday

Tryouts for Team to Meet University
Of Pittsburgh Will Take Place
Monday Night.

Tryouts for the debate with the University of Pittsburgh will take place Monday night, January 23 at 9:00 o'clock in room 214 Graham Memorial. The subject for debate is "The Cancellation of War Debts." The Pittsburgh team will debate here January 31.

There will be a radio debate with the University of Virginia at Richmond in February. The subject will be "Resolved: That the safety-responsibility plan as revised by the American Automobile Association be adopted."

DAILY TAR HEEL STAFF MEMBERS GET PASSES

Members of the staff of THE DAILY TAR HEEL who received passes for meritorious work last week were: Milton Stoll, of the editorial board, and Robert Page, Phillip Hammer, and Nelson Lansdale, reporters. Two of the reporters had more than 100 inches of written matter in the paper. These passes are awarded every week through the courtesy of E. Carrington Smith.

FORUM ENDORSES NOMINATION FOR VICE-PRESIDENCY

Student Representative Organization
Ratifies Nomination of
Dr. Louis R. Wilson.

At the meeting of the Union Forum, Wednesday, a resolution to endorse Dr. Louis R. Wilson's nomination as vice-president of the University was unanimously passed.

Dr. Wilson was nominated for vice-presidency December 12, by a committee appointed by O. Max Gardner. If he accepts the nomination, he will take office July first of this year.

Discuss Entertainment Program

Student entertainment programs were discussed. E. C. Daniel, president of the forum, gave an account of the nature and expenditures of the programs this year and asked student advice for the programs of next year. Discussion of a variety show was postponed.

The text of the resolution, a copy of which was sent to Dr. Wilson, is as follows:

"Be it resolved that the Union Forum, the most representative student organization on the campus, recognize the nomination of Dr. Louis Round Wilson as vice-president as a fitting resumption of his association with the University. It is the earnest hope of this organization that he will accept this highly deserved tribute from those who have known and prospered by his rare abilities as a builder, counsellor, and executive."

STAFF SMOKER IS PLANNED TONIGHT

Daily Tar Heel Staff Members
To Make Brave Attempt to Do
Away With Very Dull Care.

Copy, headlines, ads, and typewriters, gosh, darn, and other mild words, and perhaps even puns, will be forgotten tonight, at least for several hours, as members of the DAILY TAR HEEL staff gather in Graham Memorial to enjoy the editorial and business staff's annual smoker. The affair is set for 10:00 o'clock.

Committee at Work

The smoker committee, chosen for its ability to do marvels seconds before the deadline, has been working two days in lining up an interesting fare, both intellectually and menu-ly.

Following the entertainment in Graham Memorial, the members of the staffs will be the guests of the Carolina theatre, through the courtesy of E. Carrington Smith, at a special showing of a feature movie, "Mummy."

The purpose of the affair is to get members of different divisions of the staff better acquainted and to make better contact than can be formed in the bustle of the office.

Nineteen in Infirmary

The infirmary list continued to hold a high mark yesterday with nineteen confined. Those confined were Walter Graham, G. H. Dirkinson, R. B. Hardison, L. T. Dildy, Edith Wladkowski, R. R. Aillsbrook, Lewis Barnes, W. S. Puckett, Joe N. Howard, W. J. McKinnon, B. W. Toler, Louise Pritchard, Lionel Melvin, Lee Ballentine, D. A. Brown, J. P. Beckwith, A. K. Froneberger, W. K. Wright, and Tom Walker.