

NELSON O. KENNEDY
VESPER CONCERT
HILL MUSIC HALL—4:00

The Daily Tar Heel

READ EDITORIAL:
"FOR GOOD WILL"

VOLUME XLI

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1933

NUMBER 109

Y TO HEAR ODUM SPEAK ON SOCIAL TRENDS SUBJECT

Assistant Director of Research
On Hoover's Committee to Address Cabinets.

Dr. Howard W. Odum, head of the sociology department and director of the Institute of Research in Social Science, will address a joint meeting of the Y.M.C.A. cabinets tomorrow at 7:00 o'clock in Garrard hall on "Recent Social Trends." The meeting is open to the public and all who are interested are urged to attend. Several classes are planning to attend the discussion as a body.

Appointed by President Hoover three years ago to serve as assistant director of research on a committee of sociologists whose aim was to study the social life of the United States for a period of three years in an effort to supply bases of policies in the future development of the country, Dr. Odum will present a comprehensive report of the findings of his committee. After Dr. Odum's address, an opportunity for informal discussion will be tendered.

Made Three-Year Survey
After a three-year national survey, President Hoover's research committee made a report in two volumes, and thirteen volumes of additional supporting data are to be published. A summary of the first part of the committee's report was published by the New York Times and has been the object of study by the Y. M. C. A. cabinets for the past several weeks.

Dr. H. D. Meyer and Dr. L. M. Brooks of the sociology department, and Harry F. Comer, local "Y" secretary, have given preparatory talks.

PRINTING DISPLAY IS ON AT RESERVE ROOM OF LIBRARY

Exhibition of Year's Best Commercial
Printing Arranged by American Institute of Graphic Arts.

An exhibition made up of the best commercial printing of the past year collected and loaned by the American Institute of Graphic Arts is being shown in the reserve room of the library. There are forty-seven panels in the collection, selected from hundreds of specimens submitted by more than 140 printers, designers, paper manufacturers, and advertisers throughout the country.

The American Institute of Graphic Arts, which selects the best examples of commercial printing each year, is maintained to stimulate and encourage work in graphic arts; to conduct exhibitions in the United States; and generally to do all things which will raise the standard and aid the extension and development toward perfection of the graphic arts in this country.

"Buc" Pulls Fast One

Buccaneer officials smiled yesterday as they announced the release of February issue of the campus comic two days ahead of the regular scheduled release date. This, they said, constitutes a new speed record for the publication.

Campus Greeks came in for it with this issue, which was the annual "Fraternity Number."

Rattlesnake Meat Is Latest Delicacy Offered To Public

Kennedy Will Present
Vesper Concert Today

Professor Nelson O. Kennedy, instructor in the music department, will present the second vesper organ recital of the quarter in Hill Music hall at 4:00 o'clock this afternoon.

Professor Kennedy will offer a program representing a variety of types of composition ranging from the eighteenth century operatic school to the modern works for organ by contemporary Americans. The program will include: Concert Overture in C. minor and Intermezzo, by Hollins; Largo, from the opera Xerxes, by Handel; Seraphic Chant, by Moline; Fanfare, by Lemmens; and Fireside Fancies, a descriptive suite by Joseph Clokey.

Dr. Beard Will Speak

Dr. Charles Beard, noted historian, will lecture to Dr. Edgar W. Knight's history of education class in Peabody 208 tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock.

ENGINEERING HEAD SHOWS PROGRESS IN RIVER SURVEY

A. M. White Reports on Investigation of Industrial Utility
Of Streams in State.

Excellent progress is being made in a survey of the streams of the state to determine the industrial utility of their waters, Dr. A. M. White, head of the chemical engineering division of the University of North Carolina School of Engineering, reported yesterday.

The purpose of this project, which is being done here by the University in co-operation with the State Department of Conservation and Development, which established a fellowship for this purpose, is to obtain information badly needed with respect to the utility of North Carolina waters.

The survey is being made "by a coordinated plan of sampling and analysis from representative sources of surface water supply, to establish their chemical quality with particular relation to industrial utility; to replace an impression as to their high excellence with authoritative proof; and in general to encourage their utilization to the bene-

(Continued on last page)

McConnell To Address Electrical Engineers

A regular meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers is scheduled in the physics auditorium of Phillips hall at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night. The principal speaker of the evening will be J. D. McConnell, who graduated from the school of engineering in 1931. McConnell will speak on some phase of electrical engineering.

While here McConnell was a member of the Playmakers and the Wigwag and Masque. Since his graduation he has appeared in several dramatic plays over station WBT in Charlotte. He was connected for a time with W. S. Lee and Company in Charlotte, later going to his present position of plant engineer of the Burlington Mills in Burlington.

The meeting is open to the public.

Louis Graves Reports Story
Brought From Florida on Snake Industry.

The latest delicacy offered to the American public is rattlesnake meat, according to Dr. W. C. Coker, University botanist, who brings here the first information about a vast enterprise in rattlesnakes down in Florida.

Here is the way Louis Graves tells the story in part, in the current issue of the Chapel Hill Weekly:

"The rattlesnake product now on the market bears this name: 'Genuine Diamondback Rattlesnake with Supreme Sauce, Position of the World's Most Delicious and De Luxe Foodstuff.'

"A little way inland from the famous resort is the plant of the Floridian Products corporation, and it is here that rattlesnake products are prepared; not only food, but skins and skulls, and various ornamental articles made with rattles; charms necklace, pendants, hat bands and ear rings. Then there are rattlesnake-oil, put up in bottles, 'excellent for reducing inflammation,' and rattlesnake-skin lamp shades.

"When I expressed astonishment at the use of rattlesnakes as food, Mr. Coker told me that there was good precedent for it. He took from one of his shelves a book containing records of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania, and here was a letter from Henry Laurens of South Carolina, the eminent planter and merchant whose son, John Laurens, as George Washington's aide-de-camp, received from a British aide-de-camp the sword of Cornwallis at Yorktown.

"Writing in 1764 to Andrew Williamson in the Carolina back country, Henry Laurens said: 'I acknowledge the chestnuts, hazelnuts, telonis, and puceon, for which I return thanks, as I do for the poor unfortunate rattlesnake whose body made an addition to my table today.'

"Did you eat any rattlesnake meat while you were in Florida?" I asked Mr. Coker.

"No, I didn't," he replied. "But I'm thinking of ordering some and asking Mrs. Klutz to prepare it for me. I'll let you know when it gets here, and maybe you'd like to come around and have a taste of it."

"Maybe; and maybe not. I have not quite decided. I have a long-standing prejudice to overcome before I try such a meal.

"Rattlesnake meat is said to resemble chicken-breast in appearance; its eulogists say it has a far better flavor.

"A Frenchman who had been wounded in the World War came to this country. He had little money and he was looking about for some way to earn a livelihood. Like so many of his countrymen, he had a keen interest in the preparation of food

(Continued on last page)

Fourteen in Infirmary

Fourteen persons were confined to the infirmary yesterday. They were: Craig Branch, Jr., D. J. Brawley, E. V. Conrad, L. M. Cromartie, J. H. Dellinger, Richard A. Harris, W. H. Monty, Russell Mickle, George Phillips, George Steele, T. M. Temple, Edith Wladkowsky, F. G. Wolke, and J. C. Gregory.

BAND WILL PLAY THIS EVENING AT SOUTHERN PINES

University Group, Directed by McCorkle, Will Offer First
Concert of Winter.

The University band, conducted by Professor T. Smith McCorkle, will appear in a concert tonight at the Church of the Wide Fellowship in Southern Pines at 7:30 o'clock.

This is the first of a series of concerts to be presented by the band on its schedule of winter and spring quarter appearances. The organization features a symphonic type of musical presentation on these programs and is recognized as a leading musical group in this respect. It has been chosen in a national survey as one of ten outstanding college bands in the country. The band will appear here early next month and again in the spring quarter in addition to several out of town concert engagements.

Program

Tonight's program will include Prelude from Suite Ancienne (opus 108) by the contemporary American composer Henry Hadley, a suite consisting of a prelude, chorale and four dances by Johann Sebastian Bach, Andante con moto from the Italian Symphony by Felix Mendelssohn - Bartholdy, Romance et Rondo by Henri Wieniawski arranged for violin solo with band accompaniment by Thor Martin Johnson, soloist with the group, Andante contabile from Symphony No. 5 in E minor by Peter I. Tchaikowsky, Dance Orientale by Lubomirsky, Serenade Roccoco by Meyer-Helmund, and Atlantis Suite by V. F. Safranek.

CHURCH WORKER COMES HERE FOR SERIES OF TALKS

Coleman Jennings Will Be at University Until Tuesday for Discussions With Groups.

Coleman Jennings, former Washington business man and now secretary for college work in the third province of the Episcopal church, will be in Chapel Hill today through Tuesday for a series of addresses and short talks to various college groups.

Educated partly in England and taking his bachelor's degree at Harvard University, Coleman is well versed in numerous fields, although his chief hobby and life occupation is work among college men. A frequenter of the Continent, he is known as well abroad as he is in his own country. For the last three years he has traveled through the United States, though spending most of his time in the states adjacent to the District of Columbia.

Speaks Before Forum

The student forum of the Episcopal church will hear Jennings tonight at 7:00 o'clock, and he will speak in chapel Monday at 10:30 a. m. He will also be heard Monday night by one of the "Y" cabinets and the Episcopal ministerial group. While in Chapel Hill, Coleman will stay at the Zeta Psi house where he may be reached for private conferences on both Monday and Tuesday.

Groups Named To Promote Work Of University Student Agencies

Speaks Tuesday

Dr. Chih Meng, associate director of the China Institute of America, who will speak here Tuesday evening on the first of a series of lectures and forum discussions of Sino-Japanese problems. Dr. Meng's lecture, sponsored by the Y.M.C.A., will begin at 7:00 o'clock.

AVIATION EXPERT WILL LECTURE ON FLYING ATLANTIC

British Aviator to Discuss Atlantic Seadromes in Gerrard
Hall Tomorrow Night.

Captain Hugh Duncan Grant, superintendent of the meteorological department of the British navy during the World War will lecture tomorrow night in Gerrard hall at 8:30 o'clock. Grant's address, which will be on "Wings, Weather, and Seadromes," is given under the auspices of the public lectures committee of the University faculty.

Grant served as the British admiralty meteorologist during naval raids on Zeebrugge and Ostend and was a delegate to the International Meteorological conference in Paris in 1919-20. He was later appointed a member of the International Maritime Meteorological commission. Grant is now in America as consultant to the Armstrong Seadromes Ocean Airways Company which is undertaking the feat of planting a series of floating steel islands across the Atlantic to facilitate trans-oceanic airplane traffic. In his lecture he will picture the developments of this achievement.

New Song Committee To Convene Tuesday

The committee handling the writing of the new Carolina song will meet Tuesday afternoon to discuss further plans in regard to its writing. Nothing of a definite nature has as yet been accomplished, although several songs have been submitted, no song has come up to the desired standard.

At present there is a tendency on the part of the committee to have some member of the University compose the song in order to make it a true Carolina work.

Mrs. Graham at Home

Mrs. Frank Porter Graham will be at home to the graduate and professional women students of the University Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Graham Appoints Administrative Body of Officials and Student Advisory Board.

HOUSE SETS FORTH NEED

Organization Is Established as
Means of Grouping Together
Agencies With Same Work.

An Administrative Board of fifteen University officials and a student Advisory Board of nine outstanding student figures have been appointed by President Frank P. Graham to coordinate and promote the work of all University agencies affecting student life. Dean F. F. Bradshaw has been appointed chairman of the group which will act as an administrative head for the University of student welfare.

The work of the boards is understood to embrace all University relationships with students other than formal instruction. These relationships all have an educational significance and are recognized as an integral part of the educational program on the campus.

R. B. House, executive secretary, explained the need for such groups in announcement to members of the groups last week.

According to House, in recent years of University growth many agencies have come into existence to promote in various ways the wholesome growth of students and student life. To relate most effectively the respective functions of such agencies and to focus the entire guidance resources of the institution on the particular needs of students both as individuals and as groups is the responsibility of this division through its Administrative Board. The Advis-

(Continued on last page)

INSTALLATION OF FRATERNITY WILL OCCUR TOMORROW

North Carolina Alpha of Beta Gamma Sigma, National Commerce Group,
To Be Installed at University.

Installation of the North Carolina Alpha chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, national honorary commerce fraternity, will take place here tomorrow. The initiation ceremonies will be in charge of Professor John W. Jenkins of the University of Georgia, national secretary and treasurer of the organization. Following the installation program, members and officers of the fraternity will gather for a luncheon in the banquet hall of Graham Memorial.

A charter establishing the local chapter was obtained through the efforts of a number of faculty members of the school of commerce. The constitution of the organization stipulates that not more than one-fifteenth of the junior class of the commerce school nor more than one-tenth of the senior class may be elected into the fraternity, and candidates must be in the upper one fifth of their class, scholastically.

Alpha of North Carolina is the thirty-sixth chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, the national organization having chapters in all but ten of the schools belonging to the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business. The association includes practically all of the higher ranking commerce schools in the country.