THIRTEEN TAKEN INTO MONOGRAM CLUB YESTERDAY

Ten Players and Three Managers Inducted at Organization's First Initiation.

Ten varsity players and three managers were formally inducted into membership in the Monogram club last night in the first formal initiation since the club's re-organization two months ago. The ceremonies took place in Bynum gymnasium.

The ten player initiates were required to wear NC running shirts all day yesterday, and each man also carried a paddle. Members of the club administered frequent caresses whenever the new men were encountered on the campus. The managers did not wear the running shirts though they came in for quite a bit of caressing.

The formal part of the initiation was conducted last night in the gymnasium where the following men were officially taken in: Long, Aitken, Glace, Beale, Glover, Parsons, Quarles, Giddins, McIntosh, and Davis as the ten players; and Barnard, Kerr, and Cate, the managers.

Coach Bill Cerney worked with the executive committee of the Monogram club in drawing up the initiation which was conducted last night. It is the idea of the club to hold one of these initiations at the conclusion of every athletic season.

Bill Granting $760,240 For Greater University Approved By House

phy and held over until yesterday, which was hoped to start a reactionary move, sank without a record vote. Murphy asked for $832,000 for the University as against the $640,000 appropriation which the House passed as a Committee of the Whole.

"I resent anything that comes from the mind of Henry Burke," the veteran representative from Rowan shouted in his charge against the amendment signed by Bowie, Doughton and Thompson. The remark brought forth the applause of the gallery, and Speaker Harris was forced to threaten clearance if order was not restored.

Many Amendments
Yesterday's session saw the House met with a veritable avalanche of amendments, at least twenty of which were considered and discarded. The present figures represent a decided compromise on the part of both the administration and the opposition. Under this bill the Chapel Hill branch will receive $390,000; State College in Raleigh, $187,000; and the Greensboro unit, $182,000.

The adopted amendment was presented by five representatives led by Doughton of Alleghany, and was strangely enough supported by Tam Bowie, who on the preceding day had fought the Barden-Cherry compromise amendment

LARGE COLLEGES FACE FINANCIAL ATHLETIC CRISIS

Surveys by New York Times and Associated Press Reveal Grave Problem in Sports.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 23.—(NSFA)—Although the condition of college sports in the east is cause for concern, a nation-wide survey conducted by the New York Times shows that the eastern problem is not nearly as serious as that in most sections of the country. In every section except the Rocky Mountains, where there has never been any football inflation and where the falling off in revenue from the grid game has not been so serious, collegiate athletics are feeling the economic depression more than in this section.

The results of the Associated Press survey, which showed that schools remotely situated from the center by population suffered the most in the way of reduced gate receipts, was borne out in all sections of the country. For instance, the University of Southern California at Los Angeles had its biggest football receipts of its history in 1932, while Stanford, at Palo Alto, and California, at Berkeley, suffered a drop in revenue.

Purdue was the only team of the Big Ten which made more money last year from football than in 1931. Although Michigan's total attendance was within 4,000 of the preceding year, the income was far below normal because of the reduced price of admission. Northwestern was especially hard hit, its receipts being about $150,000 under that of 1931. Wisconsin has dropped its crew, and Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota have dropped hockey.

which called for only $716,800. It was rumored in newspaper circles Tuesday night that it was this opposition of Bowie to the Barden-Cherry substitute which caused the administration to ask for a recess until yesterday.

The bill as passed now goes over to the Senate for ratification where little opposition is expected unless the administration should not feel satisfied with its own compromise measure.

COACH COOMBS FEELS LOSS OF THREE HURLERS

Veteran Pitchers Cause Problem for Duke Coach as Team Faces Hard Grind.

Due to the loss of three veterans from last year's staff, Jack Coombs, former hurler for the Philadelphia Athletics, is for the first time in five years considerably worried about his Duke pitching staff. Duke's twenty-two game schedule, that opens on April 1 with Michigan State includes an annual northern trip of five games and ten Southern conference contests, and a complete round of two games each with state opponents. The outstanding attraction of the early season period is the Easter Monday double-header with the University of Maryland.

Following the annual game with Princeton that will open the northern trip, games will be played with Fordham and Manhattan during a two-day stay in New York. The trip will be closed with games at Maryland and George Washington. The game with George Washington is Duke's first night game.

STATE CLASS "A" RACE IN BASEBALL TO BEGIN

Rocky Mount high's baseball nine will invade Wilmington this afternoon for the season's opening game of the state class "A" competition. The teams are members of the eastern division of the state contest sponsored annually by the University.

Competition in the western section will not begin until April 7 when Greensboro and High Point clash at High Point. Charlotte of the western conference won the state title last year.

Several games have been played in the general baseball contest of North Carolina open to all except the larger high schools. A week's summary of the activities of this league will be announced later. Roanoke Rapids won the 1932 championship.

FRESHMAN COACH PUTS FROSH MEN IN SQUAD BATTLE

Call for Spring Football Practice Cuts Squad Down To Thirty Players.

Coach Cerney sent his freshman baseball team through a long work-out yesterday afternoon, ending with a practice battle.

The squad dropped off considerably due to practice football, to which all the freshman football players, regardless of baseball, are reporting. Only about thirty are out at present. The football players will be able to come out after April 8, at which time only two games will have been played.

In the practice battle the reserves held the upper hand most of the time, due to the hurling of McKeithan and Mills. Hutchison, southpaw, who pitched for the first team also showed lots of ability, although he was a little wild. No one got any outstanding hits.

Austin at Third

In the first string infield Austin was at third, Irwin at short and Orr at first. Montgomery will probably fill in at second after football practice. Both Irwin and Montgomery are beautiful fielders and throwers, while the former is also an outstanding hitter. Austin is a steady fielder and Orr, although not an outstanding man in the field, is a fairly good batter.

Coach Cerney is still unable to find a good combination for the outfield. In yesterday's practice game Glasgow, a star pitcher was sent to the outfield and will probably work there on the days that he is not pitching. Coach Cerney plans to play the Chapel Hill high school team this afternoon if the game can be arranged. If the contest is played, Glasgow or Spiers will likely work on the mound.

When a much-advertised young actor played Hamlet very atrociously in New York, a critic penned this: If there is still doubt as to which wrote Shakespeare, Bacon or Shakespeare, let the graves of the two men be opened. The man that turned over in his grave during last night's performance was Shakespeare.—Trojan.
